PRESENTATION TO RETIRING S. S. TEACHER

On Wednesday afternoon, at the St. Andrew's Church picnic, Miss Jessie Mair, who has for many years been the teacher of the Primary Department, was remembered by the Sunday School, on the occasion of her resignation. Few people have had as long and as successful career in teaching the young people as Miss Mair, but she has lately felt the work increasingly difficult, and it was with reluctance that the charge was accepted her resignation.

The presentation address was read by Mr. Moffat, the Superintendent of the Sunday School, while Master Donald Laughland presented the Bible:

Dear Miss Mair,—The Sunday School Teachers and Officers of St. Andrew's Church have heard that you are about to resign as the teacher of the infant class. We feel that before severing your connection with the School you should be assured of the high esteem in which you are held by all.

You have brought to task of teaching religion to the primary class, a trained mind, a deep understanding of child psychology, a wide knowledge of Holy Scripture and a manner at once firm and attractive. These qualities have enabled you to exercise a profound influence on the spiritual life of the Church and Community for a long period of years. This is generally recognized not only by ourselves but as well by the whole town.

We would like you to accept from us as a slight mark of our esteem a little gift. It is a Bible—the Book from which you have drawn lessons for the lives of children for so many years. May this particular Book become your constant companion, with plenty of well worn and well thumbed pages to testify to its general use.

May we hope, too, that after a well earned rest, you may some time in the not distant future take up the work again for which you are so specially gifted and qualified.

Signed on behalf of the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church, Napanee.

JAMES H. MOFFAT,
Superintendent.

SAD DEATH AT TAMWORTH

Mr. Alf. Milligan, one of the best known and widely appreciated citizens of Tamworth, came to his death on Friday last, under particularly tragic circumstances.

Mr. Milligan operated a saw mill, which was run by water power. When not in use the machinery was held idle by a plank inserted in the mill race, and to start the machinery this plank had to be withdrawn quickly. For thirty years Mr. Milligan had started the mill in this way himself. On Friday Mr. Milligan and family were preparing to go to the Orangemen's celebration at Newburgh, and before starting he went to the mill to run a few pieces of wood through the planer. The big head of water put an exceptional strain on the wheel, and in withdrawing the plank it did not clear properly, and it was swept around with the fly wheel, pinning Mr. Milligan against the wall, where he was found later by his daughter, who went to see what delayed him.

The funeral was held at the United Church at Tamworth on Sunday afternoon, the Orangemen attending in a body. The very large and representative crowd from the town and countryside were unable to get into the church, a fitting tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Milligan was held. A man of quiet and sterling qualities, he will be much missed in the Church and community life at Tamworth. He leaves to mourn his loss an aged mother, a wife and six daughters, and three brothers.

REV. FATHER O'CONNOR LEAVES FOR ROME

PRESENTED WITH A PURSE BY THE CONGREGATION OF ST. PATRICK'S

The announcement that the Reverend Father O'Connor, Pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Napanee, was leaving for Rome on July 18th inst., to embrace the unique privilege of making the Pilgrimage and entering into the exercises of the Holy Year requested by the Holy Father, brought out an exceptionally large congregation which filled the beautiful and substantial Church of St. Patrick's to capacity on last Sunday, July 12th.

At the conclusion of the Mass the Church Committee waited on the Rev. Father O'Connor, and in the name of the congregation presented him with an address and very generous purse of gold. The address was read by Mr. P. Gleeson and presentation made by D. J. Hogan, supported by Mr. R. McNeill.

The Rev. Father has been Pastor of Napanee for 10 years, and has won the affection and esteem of his people, and is held in the highest respect by all Christian denominations in the town and country.

The address is as follows:

Napanee, July 12th, 1925.

Dear Father O'Connor,—

The congregation of St. Patrick's are assembled here this morning after assisting at the Divine Sacrifice on this, the eve of your departure on a voyage to the Holy City, to offer their best wishes for your safe and pleasant trip, and we hope and pray that you may realize your every wish and desire to meet the Holy Father and receive from him the Papal blessing and the privilege of imparting it to your devoted people here.

Your return will be looked for with trusting hearts that you may not be longer than will be ample time for you to obtain the much needed and well earned rest from your unceasing labors for both our temporal and spiritual welfare.

We would ask you also to accept this purse as a slight token of our appreciation of your kindness and interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare and contentment of your people.

Need we say more, dear Father, than repeat that our prayers go with you for a very pleasant and safe voyage and a realization of its every fondest hope and pray for many long years of good health for you to minister to your devoted people of St. Patrick's of Napanee.

Signed on behalf of the Congregation of St. Patrick's Church,

P. GLEASON,
D. J. HOGAN,
R. McNEILL,
Church Committee.

The reply of the Rev. Pastor was indeed an eloquent and feeling tribute to the united harmonious, well and self-sacrificing co-operation of the congregation under his spiritual charge.

He began by reminding his hearers that he was entirely ignorant of the seem and good will and loyal attachment to his person and office so sincerely expressed in their very nice address recalled very forcibly the words of David in the 132nd Psalm. Speaking of the happiness of Brotherly love, christian unity and concord, the prophet exclaims, "Behold how good and pleasant a thing it is for brethren to dwell in peace and unity". These words the Rev. Pastor thought admirably suited the splendid spirit that actuates this special occasion.

For nineteen years, he went on, I have had the pleasant experience of enjoying the quiet peace and happiness of that splendid spirit of unity and harmony not only as your Pastor but as a citizen among all classes and denominations in the town and country.

To-day, however, in the goodness of your hearts you have decided to give public expression of your good will in the kindest sentiments of sincere good wishes and prayers. I know that could only be inspired by the charity of christian hearts. This spirit of Derwich feeling of respect and esteem will have been to me the greatest consolation and encouragement in the anxieties common to all pastors of souls and in this public recognition and appreciation of my humble services, whether I am worthy or not God knows, you have indeed greatly honored me, but in so doing I am persuaded that the worthy motives which inspired your public and considerate action will redound eventually to your respect and honor in the Church you love and serve. Just now I am quite unable to express or convey adequately the deep sense of appreciation, joy and gratitude that fills my heart. The sincere expression of devotion, kind words, prayers and appreciation accompanied by so generous a gift of money I most thankfully receive with a heart filled with gratitude and thankfulness.

Reminiscing, the Rev. Father stated that when he accepted the appointment as Pastor of Napanee he did so very reluctantly, not as he said from any feeling of aversion nor from a conscious choice that rendered him falter in his decision, but as the congregation were well aware the Rev. Pastor's health was such that he feared he would be unable for the years of physical strength to discharge with any degree of success the important and responsible duties that fall to the lot of every Pastor of souls. The Rev. Father stated he had reason to suspect that the same opinion was very openly expressed and fairly generally among his friends here and elsewhere but his presence here to-day strong and well affords a striking example and a strong confirmation of the truth of how vain are the judgments of men, and how little we humans know.

He also expressed his admiration and satisfaction for the very pleasant relations existing among all denominations of Christian people in this community. That spirit of unity of Christian hearts admirably fitted in with the true conception of charity, and it is well known that the Rev. Pastor from pulpit and in social life has done his best during the years of his pastorate here to cultivate a spirit of good will and respect for all religious convictions of sincere and believing christians. He quoted the words of an American President who stated that "Just in so far as christians spend their time in quarrelling with christians of other churches, just so far are they helping to discredit Christianity in the eyes of the world."

Rev. Father closed by giving his blessing to all present, and expressing the wish that they would all be happy and enjoy good health during his absence.

The Choir supplied music befitting the occasion.

ORANGE CELEBRATION AT NEWBURGH

Newburgh is one of the oldest villages in this part of the Province, but there is a doubt in the minds of many if in its history it held a gathering as large, as orderly, as good natured and as happy as that which assembled to celebrate the Orange Anniversary on Friday last.

This is not to be wondered at for as the principles of the Order are becoming better known, it is attracting a far and more respectable following.

The twelfth of July is the Orangemen's day, they concentrate on this day, and while they are as a rule good citizens on all the days and are willing to bear the full share of the duties of citizenship, they seem to feel that this day should be given over to them to do on it something which will benefit the cause on which they have set their minds.

This year, in Newburgh, everything was in their favor. The weather was ideal. The grounds were all that could be desired, furnishing as they did ample space and shade, the splendid help that was given especially by the ladies in the way of stocking the lunch and in assisting in it, the fine co-operation and friendly spirit that was maintained between members of the joint committee, and indeed between the two communities of Camden East and Newburgh, all added much to the success and pleasure of the day.

The sports were carried out in schedule time. The procession formed up in good time, headed by the lady ladges, followed by strains of music from the Kilties Band of Kingston, and the fife and drum bands of the various lodges. With banners flying and martialled by J. C. McConnell, the County Director of Ceremonies, who with other representatives of King William, on white horses and gorgeously apparelled, completed a very attractive spectacle.

Too much credit cannot be given to the ladies who served in the lunch booth, for when the lodges arrived at the grove hundreds of hungry men and women made an onslaught on it, and it called for both patience and ability to meet the demand.

The speeches were of a high order, dealing largely with the history of the Order, its achievements, the necessity for its existance and its non-agressive principles.

The great ball game between the Wilton team and the Newburgh High School girls, which resulted in a win for the former by a score of 26-20, drew a large and enthusiastic crowd and thoroughly delighted the fans.

The League game of Baseball between Tamworth and Newburgh, was sharply contested but the large crowd seemed to stimulate the Newburgh boys and they pulled off a win, which by the way was a little over due in their contests with Tamworth.

This was especially a pleasant feature of the day was the large number of children present and they seemed to enjoy it all that was going on.

A feeling of shock and sadness went through the whole gathering when word came of the distressing accident at Tamworth, by which Brother Albert Milligan lost his life. An impressive scene took place when Rev. Mr. Nickle asked the brethren to remove their badges and spend a minute in silent prayer for the bereaved family. The flag at the entrance to the grounds was placed at half mast in memory of a deceased brother who expected in a few hours to join with his brethren in celebrating the day.

Aside from this sad incident there was nothing to mar the enjoyment of the day and everyone went home satisfied.

This was especially so with the committee who had the matters of the day in hand, and who wishes to thank most heartily and sincerely all who in any way, by their presence and help, contributed to the day's success. Among others, they wish to thank Mr. Ramsay for allowing the use of the very suitable grounds on favorable terms. The twelfth anniversary was rounded out by the local service held in Camden East and Newburgh attending Divine service on Sunday, at St. John's Church, Newburgh, when Rev. Mr. Nickle, Rev. Mr. Sayers, preached a sermon from these decided texts of scripture: "In the beginning God—". "In the fullness of time God sent His son", "The Church of the living God."

Jugo-Slav Tamburica Orchestra Unique Chautauqua Feature

The widely popular Jugo-Slav Tamburica Orchestra will be a delightful feature of the coming Dominion Chautauqua here. The music of Jugo-Slavia finds expression through a unique instrumentation. The national instrument is the small and delicate tamburica upon which the tones of the cornet, clarinet, flute and oboe are beautifully simulated. In the orchestra which will be heard here the tamburica will have a premier place. The one large instrument used is an oddly constructed bass viol which is plucked with the fingers. Selections ranging from overtures from great operas to light popular numbers played by this novel orchestra are replete with mellow and resonant loveliness.

Dr. Samuel Johnson disliked the Scots and took every occasion to manifest that dislike. Even in his Dictionary he defined "oats" thus: "In Scotland food for men; in England for horses." He asked a Scotch friend how he liked it. "Couldn't be better," said the friend, "and you might have added that there is no food equal to it, for where will you find such horses as in England and such men as in Scotland?"

Ruby—"I never could see why they call a boat 'she'."
Gerald—"Evidently you've never tried to steer one."

TWO MEN HURT, FIVE SHAKEN UP

Railway Auto Car Struck Baker's Wagon.

Wilfrid Turner, of Gananoque, and Bernard Beamish, of Toronto, were taken to the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, Friday evening last, from Napanee, suffering with serious injuries sustained when a railway auto car on which they, with four others, were riding, struck a baker's delivery wagon on a crossing near Napanee, and threw all six men into a heap by the side of the railway track, overturned and damaged the bakery wagon and wrecked up the driver and the horses. The other four men on the auto car escaped with scratches and slight bruises-up.

Wilfrid Turner is suffering from a badly crushed chest and back, an X-ray showing five broken bones. Bernard Beamish obtained a compound fracture of the left leg and severe cuts and bruises to his foot, and he suffered from loss of blood before first aid arrived at the scene of the accident and from shock.

The accident happened near the Napanee Golf Links, and it so came about that Dr. Galbraith was at the link and quickly reached the point where the injured men lay. He administered first aid to all of them, and called Martin & Son's ambulance in which Beamish and Turner were quickly transferred to Kingston. On arriving they were given extended medical attention and submitted to X-ray examinations.

The accident happened at a point where the railway passes through a deep cutting before emerging onto the highway crossing and the pilot of the auto car, Mr. Hunter, did not see the bakery wagon in time to avoid the crash. The injured men are members of a Geodetic surveying party which is working in the neighborhood, and they were returning after the day's work when the smash happened.

WEDDING BELLS.

Byers—McMullen.

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday, June 30th, at 4 p.m., at 64 Essa St., Allandale, the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. J. T. May, when Hazel May, public school teacher in King Edward School, Toronto, and only daughter of the Rev. J. S. and Mrs. McMullen, was united in marriage to Mr. Douglas Fergus Byers, Fhm.B., of Toronto, son of the late Lewis and Mrs. Byers, Bailieboro' Ont. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a score of the immediate relatives and friends of the family, by the bride's father, Rev. J. S. McMullen, assisted by Rev. S. M. Beach, of Bellefair United Church, Toronto.

The bride, who was given away by her Brother, Mr. Cecil E. McMullen, public school principal, Belleville, looked charming, gowned in maize georgette and carrying a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The groom was attended by Mr. Ivan Gray, of Peterboro', and the bride by Miss Delia McFadden, of Toronto. The bridal music was rendered by Miss Josephine McMaster, of Havelock.

After a buffet luncheon, the happy couple left on a short motor trip to Muskoka, the bride travelling in a smart ensemble suit of sand and navy with a satin and silk striped navy ribbon hat and wearing a red fox fur, a gift of the groom. The popularity of the bride was seen in her valuable presents, notably, an upright piano and a walnut bedroom suite from her parents.

On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Byers will reside at 990 Broadview Ave., Toronto. — The Barrie Examiner, Barrie, Ont., July 2nd, 1925.

SIZE OF EGG IMPORTANT

We have it on the authority of no less a person than the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, that the production of small eggs is becoming more and more pronounced the longer the breeding for high egg production is continued. This it becomes necessary, as he further says in his report for 1924, that the greatest care in selecting a male to head the flock should be taken to see that he is from large egg stock. Records do not show that a bird producing small is bound to lay a small egg, but they indicate that unless careful selection is followed there is a decided tendency for the size of eggs to decrease as production increases. A bird that does not lay eggs that average 24 ounces to the dozen cannot be registered no matter how many eggs she may lay. Attention to this matter of size, as well as to heavy yield, is being given by the Poultry Division at Ottawa and data is being collected that will be made public, as the report says, in due season.

(Issued by the Director of Publicity, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa).

Address and Presentation.

On June 23rd, 1925, about twenty of the friends and neighbors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Byrnes to celebrate the tenth anniversary of their marriage. Also a short address was read to them by Miss Bedore, and a complete set of aluminum cooking utensils was presented.

MAKE EXERCISE PLAY.

To Get the Best Results It Must Be Thoroughly Enjoyed.

When you exercise, play. That is one of the points most strongly urged to the attention of the public in recently published public-health reports.

No matter whether you are walking, gardening, exercising in a gymnasium or playing golf, keep your exercise free from the spirit of drudgery and make it all recreation. Make it as enjoyable as anything you may do throughout the entire day. If you don't much of the good that it might do you is lost. "The very best thing a man can do," says the report, "is to make a hobby of his exercise. No matter how good the hobby, if it induces outdoor exercise it is perfectly justifiable."

The woman who is obliged to take her baby out for a two hours' airing every day is far more fortunate than she often realizes.

The only advice the report offers the man who is going to take up a hobby for the benefit of the resulting exercise is to choose one that permits of its being followed the year round rather than one that depends upon seasons of the year. For that reason the amateur gardener or chicken fancier is far more fortunate in his choice than the amateur geologist, botanist or ornithologist. The latter must wait on the seasons and must find favorable locations for indulging their hobbies, while the former have year round pastimes.

His First "Invention."

Edison's fate for inventing began when he was quite a little boy, although the first time he attempted to be original he was a failure.

One day, when he was about five years old, his parents missed him for quite a long time. After a prolonged and fruitless search all over the house his elder sister happened to go into the fowl house, where she discovered the missing boy sitting on the floor, his clothes smothered in broken eggs.

"What on earth are you doing there, Tom?" she asked in astonishment.

"Well," replied the youthful genius gravely, "I thought if the hens could hatch eggs by sitting on them so could I."

Ancients and the Aurora Borealis.

Many people believe that the aurora borealis is a phenomenon peculiar to modern times. But this is not true. The ancients used to call it chasmata, bolides and trabes, names which expressed the different colors of the lights. The scarlet aurora was looked on by the superstitious barbarians as an omen of direful slaughter, so it is not unusual for descriptions of bloody battles to contain allusions to northern lights. In the annals of Clonmacnoise it is recorded that in 688 A. D., accompanying a terrible battle, between Leinster and Munster, Ireland, a purple aurora lit the northern skies, foretelling the slaughter.

Dark Stars.

It is reasonable to assume that the number of stars in space having a temperature so low that their radiations do not affect our eyes or photographic plates is extremely large. That these invisible stars are far more numerous than the luminous stars is suggested by F. A. Lindemann, who attempts in the Monthly Notices a rough calculation of their relative number based on the assumption that new stars (novae) are due to collisions. He concludes that there are about 4,000 times as many dark stars as bright ones.

Man's Will Is All His Own.

True education lies in learning to wish things to be as they actually are. It lies in learning to distinguish what is our own from what does not belong to us. But there is only one thing which is fully our own—that is our will or purpose. God, acting as a good king and a true father, has given us a will which cannot be restrained, compelled or thwarted. He has put it wholly in our power. * * * Nothing can ever force us to act against our will. If we are conquered it is because we have willed to be conquered.

"This rich relative of yours, is he a distant relative?"
"Yes, extremely distant since he became rich."

says Mother to little Sally, who is learning to bake

"My goodness, Sally! Think of the millions of germs that can collect on the tip of one little fingernail. Everything that many hands have touched is laden with germs. They get into the kitchen on vegetables, fruit, packages from the stores, milk bottles and such things. And those germs get into food unless people clean their hands of them.

"That's why I'm so careful of my hands during cooking hours. I must protect your health and daddy's too. And so I purify my hands often with Lifebuoy Health Soap.

"And Lifebuoy certainly keeps the skin in wonderful condition—soft, smooth and white."

For the sake of your family's health, place a cake of Lifebuoy at every place where there is running water.

What is Lifebuoy Health Soap?

Lifebuoy is a mild, pure soap, made from the soothing oils of palm fruit and cocoanut. It is a health soap because a gentle antiseptic is released in its big, creamy lather, which penetrates into every pore and purifies your skin. Use Lifebuoy often—it will not irritate the finest-textured skin. The cleanly odour vanishes quickly after use.

LOCAL HEALTH ADMINISTRATION.

Mr. Nevil Chamberlain, the Minister of Health, of England, in speaking of the local administration of public health in that country, refers to the "obsolete, cumbersome, illogical, wasteful and unjust" character of the machinery whereby such work is carried out. The remarks of the Minister might, with equal truth, be applied to the system of local health administration in operation in Ontario and the measures designed for improvement of this work in force in England, might with certain modifications be employed to advantage by the local governments of the province.

The Ontario system is briefly as follows: Each city, town, village and township has a local board of health and a medical officer of health. There are upwards of 900 of such local health governments in Ontario. In but eight of these, including the principal cities, can there be said to be an efficient health service. In all the others the organization consists chiefly of a part-time medical officer of health, who is a practising physician, with, as a rule, but small remuneration and subject to the various, well-known disabilities of such a local officer. Little money is provided for public health purposes and what little is expended is frequently used at the wrong end, in the cure, rather than in the prevention of unsanitary conditions. The public receives little or none of the instruction so necessary to the advancement of sanitary measures.

There are, of course, notable instances where the local health officer, despite the difficulties under which he labours, gives a much better service than might be expected. But as a rule the administration is poor, the funds for public health work scanty and the personal application of the principles of hygiene neglected. The former chief medical officer of the Local Government Board in England in speaking upon this subject in reference to England and Wales, says: "The inefficiency of the smaller sanitary authorities has been frequently exposed. There are in England and Wales 1727 sanitary authorities not including 82 county burroughs. The total of 1809 compares with 317 education authorities and 635 boards of guardians. No one has suggested that the efficiency of the work of either educational or relief authorities is lowered by the relatively large areas and population served by them, and every line of evidence points to the opposition conclusion."

In Ontario, in dealing with the subject of local school management of which there are often as many as a dozen to 20 in a rural municipality the Premier (as Minister of Education) has struck the keynote in his recommendation that local school areas should in the interest of efficiency and economy be combined. The same principle holds true in respect to local public health administration. Opportunity should be allowed for the local units of a county to combine for sanitary purposes.

The townships, towns and villages of Ontario annually spend in the aggregate considerable sums of money for this purpose, without much to show for it. The figures for the year 1924 show that there is spent on the salaries of part-time medical officers of health about $100,000.00 and for public health work in places with a part-time organization about $200,000.00 or a total of $300,000.00. For places with full-time health organizations the salaries of the medical officers of health aggregate about $44,000.00 and for public health work apart from this salary bill the sum of $1,053,606.00.

The total for local public health administration part-time and full-time in Ontario reaches the sum of approximately one and one-half millions of dollars ($1,500,000.00).

Outside the eight cities with satisfactory health administration, there is, with certain exceptions, little value gained for the expenditure of this large sum of money.

Much of this expenditure is wasted or at least mis-applied. There is no concerted effort to control diseases such as cancer, tuberculosis, or the venereal diseases. There is no adequate pre-natal care of mothers, and infant mortality and the incidence of tuberculosis range high. The medical inspection of school children is only beginning and education of the public in the principles of hygiene, without which no administration can successfully operate to the best advantage, is sadly needed. Government expenditures, for example, in the care of the tuberculous poor is steadily advancing being higher by $125,000 for the last year than that for 1923, despite the fact that year by year the government spends increasing amounts in the work of the Department of Health.

To return to the question of how local health administration may be improved. The experience of England, Wales and Scotland and of the United States has shown that the small town, village and township health unit is too small to bear the financial burden of a full-time public health organization and these countries are rather rapidly adopting the plan of combining municipalities for public health purposes. In Great Britain the unit is called a "combined area". In the United States the county is usually the unit. In Ontario where many of our counties are large in area one-half of a county might form the unit, or, where adjacent counties are small two or more might be combined. The advantages of such a plan are apparent. The aggregate funds now spent might be utilized in the employment for the area of a full-time organization. A notable example of such a combination is to be found at Windsor (Essex Border Municipalities) where under the direction of an energetic, well-trained medical officer of health there may be seen one of the most efficient health departments to be found on the continent, and where a couple of years ago virulent smallpox, instead of spreading, as it did in other communities, was limited to 67 cases.

Little legislative amendment is needed. Permission might be given to counties to substitute county control for the existing municipal health administration using the combined resources of the municipalities for this purpose. Instead of an army of 900 or more health officers, we would eventually have perhaps 60. These men would embrace public health work as their daily business and give to that business the supervision and enthusiasm at present lacking, and which is necessary to the success of any undertaking.

The work of public health depends chiefly on three factors, viz. sufficient funds, competent management and a receptive public. Health and thrift like other qualifications for good citizenship are virtues which have to be appreciated, striven for and acquired by each individual for himself. But there must first be trained and competent management to lead the way, and the provision of reasonable funds for expenses. Public Health is purchasable.

John W. S. McCullough,
Chief Officer of Health.

WHEN TURKEYS GET SICK

DISEASES WHICH OFTEN SPOIL PROFITS IN TURKEY-RAISING.

Pneumonia, Roup and Blackhead Cause Most Trouble — Timely Pointers In Dealing With These Maladies.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Three diseases, pneumonia, roup and blackhead are responsible for the greater part of the losses in turkey rearing.

Pneumonia.

Nature has not clothed the young turkey with a thick coat of down or baby feathers sufficiently to protect it from the cold rains that are quite common during May and June. Hence many young birds perish, dying of inflammation of the lungs shortly after experiencing the first cold rain. Little can be done to effect a cure. Everything lies in the direction of prevention. Do not let the young birds get wet, provide suitable shelter, and do not let them get too far away so that they may be quickly rounded up and protected from cold and wet until they are well-feathered.

Roup.

This trouble is due to an infectious organism gaining entrance to the nasal passages of the victim and setting up a catarrhal condition usually easily recognized by clogged nostrils, inflamed mucous membrane, of mouth, very offensive odor and swellings on sides of the head. Housing young turkeys in unsanitary, poorly ventilated or draughty quarters creates conditions which make the bird very susceptible to the infectious organism causing roup. If the disease gains a grip on young birds, it is best to kill them off at once and correct the hygienic conditions for such that remain apparently normal. Exposed birds that are to be kept should be given good nourishing food and a physic of salts once a week. Birds showing symptoms may be treated, if so desired, as follows: Massage as much of the material as possible out of the nostrils, clean out the eyes, and if swellings exist open with a sharp knife. Use Boracic Acid solution or potassium permanganate solution or argyrol solution (10 per cent.) as a wash for the nostrils and eyes. Such can be applied with a medicine dropper or the bird's head may be dipped in the solution. If birds do not make early recovery in a reasonable time it is best to destroy them as they will carry the infection along and may be the cause of more roup.

Blackhead.

This disease is the most common and destructive pest affecting turkeys. It has been the cause of many a farm giving up turkey raising. The cause has been attributed to a protozoan parasite, that is taken up by the bird in its feed and water. Soils become infected, breeding birds become carriers, so the young have little chance of escaping infection if feeding over ground that has previously supported turkeys. The young birds show signs of distress in the late summer or early autumn, become listless, drowsy, stop feeding, feathers become ruffled, wings droop, and they hang behind the flock. The droppings are yellowish in color and more fluid than normal. The head may become dark purple in color. The after-death symptoms generally noticed in blackhead cases are as follows: Liver spotted on surface with whitish yellow to faded green spots, the cecum, either one or both, are thickened and distended with a gray cheesy mass. Treatment for blackhead has not been successful and the control lies in prevention. If troubled now, clean out the entire flock and give up turkeys for three years. When starting again, secure eggs from healthy birds, wipe them with cloth moistened with 80 per cent. denatured alcohol to remove any possible contagion, then hatch in the incubator. When the young poults are ready to leave the incubator place them in a brooder or enclosed run ground and protect from other poultry or agents likely to carry the infection to the pen. Keep the house and its equipment clean and disinfected. Use sour milk or buttermilk liberally in the ration. Keep the birds confined all the time that infection may be prevented and treatment applied. Powdered ipecac administered in the mash, twice a week, at the rate of two teaspoonsful per 20 birds is considered a useful preventative. The use of ipecac should start when the birds are two weeks old and continue for three months.

What John K. costs you

If you are a "John K. McCarthy" this message is for you

John K. McCarthy drives to his summer home every Friday night and comes back Monday.

It's 98 miles, and he makes it in less than 3 hours. His roadster can turn over 60 miles an hour with ease, and it rides comfortably at 45.

John K. gets about 14 miles to the gallon on the road. As a careful business man, he figures that oil and gas cost him about $5.20 for each round trip.

No one could ever accuse John K. McCarthy of deliberately being careless with property, either his own or belonging to someone else. But every time his high-powered car gets above 25 miles an hour, it causes needless destruction to the road by grinding away the surface.

John K's trips to his summer home cost the people of Ontario more for road repairs than they cost John K. for gas and oil.

There are thousands of "John K. McCarthy's" in Ontario. They mean to be as careful with other people's property as with their own, but they do not know that speed laws are meant to preserve road surfaces.

If you are a "John K. McCarthy," this advertisement is addressed to you. The Government of the Province and the various County authorities have provided an extensive system of good highways over which you may travel without cost. They look to you to do your share in keeping these highways in good condition.

You wouldn't wilfully destroy property. Don't wilfully destroy the highways.

An advertisement issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists and truck drivers, Automobile Clubs, Good Roads Associations and all other public spirited bodies, in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

The HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister; S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Cutting Alfalfa.

Considerable injury may be done to alfalfa fields by late cutting or pasturing in the autumn. The alfalfa plants should be free to grow after September 25th. Cutting or pasturing after this date is not good practice. To stand the winter the crowns of the plant should be covered with a good vigorous growth of leaf and stem when the snow comes.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

OBITUARY

Mrs. J. W. Gordanier.

Morven has been called upon to sadly record the loss during the past its most highly respected and lifelong citizens in the person of the late Mrs. J. W. Gordanier, whose death took place at her residence, on Friday, June 19th, 1925, after a prolonged illness. She was the second daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell, of Ernestown Township, in the year 1857. Was married to Mr. J. W. Gordanier in April, 1883. Her personal connection with the Methodist Church dates back to 1876, when a series of revival services were held by the Rev. Thomas Stratton at the White Church, during the summer of 1876, and though it was a very busy season of the year, a very busy season for the farmers, Miss Bell was present at the meetings continued for weeks. The attendance and results were remarkable. It was during these services that the earlier christian influences of her home were brought to a happy climax in her decision to publicly declare her faith in Christ as her Saviour, and then joined the Church.

The genuineness of her conversion has been manifest in all her after life. As wife and mother she was an example of good works full of the spirit of perseverance and patience, and in order to maintain her ideals of a home, often laboured beyond her strength to make it a centre of helpfulness, comfort and cheer; and great is the void left by her death. Not only will she be missed from her home, but also from the Church services, which she loved to attend, because her religious interest was there, not only for her own spiritual uplift but she felt that the debt of love to her Lord who called her to follow Him demanded it, but the help she received from God in daily health and strength was here left her prepared to triumph over the fears of death and enabled her to look forward with a firm confidence to that Heavenly Home prepared for those who remain true to the end.

The memories of her quiet and helpful life will stimulate all of us who knew her to so live, that we too shall be missed when our work is done. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Mr. John W. Gordanier, one son Ernest, three sisters and three brothers.

MR. T. W. BRENNAND, of the Poultry Department, O.A.C., will be at the above-mentioned farms at the time specified to conduct demonstrations on culling hens. The proper method of killing and plucking a bird preparatory for market will also be shown. While the culling and dressing of poultry will be specially emphasized at these meetings, there will be an opportunity to discuss any local poultry problems that may be brought up.

I am endeavoring to make these demonstrations as helpful as possible, and I trust that every person within reach of them, will attend the nearest one.

SACRED MOUNT ATHOS

WOMEN ARE BARRED OUT OF THIS CURIOUS SPOT.

Historic Retreat of Seven Thousand Lonely Monks Is a Place of Exquisite Beauty and Is Full of Mystery and Charm—The Existence of the Celibate Inmates Would Not Appeal to Most Persons.

Among the possessions of disrupted Turkey in Europe there is none to which the Greeks have greater claim than the holy Mount of Athos, the most easterly prong of nature's trident—the three similarly shaped peninsulas that extend into the Aegean Sea a few miles east of Salonica. Among the inhabitants of the sacred mount, some 7,000 in all, the greater part are Greeks, men who have withdrawn, most of them voluntarily, from life to eke out a lonely existence among the rocky defiles of the peninsula, dividing their time between the cultivation of heaven and earth.

Mount Athos, situated at the extreme southern point of the peninsula, rears its snowcapped summit 6,350 feet above sea level. It looks for all the world like one of the pyramids of Egypt transplanted to a colder clime, and its history is replete with as much mystery and charm. Stand on the plain of old Troy—to-day swallowed up in the name Anatolia—and you may see the hoary peak of Athos against the setting sun. Or climb to the heights of Olympus, in old Thessaly, and there, among the once sacred groves which to-day are infested with bands of thieves who fear neither God nor man, you again see Athos. These two peaks, one famed as the abode of gods who are to-day but myths, and the other the abode of holy men, are soon to become Greek again, if Greek diplomacy can so turn the wheel of fortune.

Nothing perhaps is more interesting of the many peculiarities of Mount Athos than the fact that women and even female animals are barred from setting foot upon it by a decree issued about the middle of the 11th century, although now the rule has been modified to permit the Queen of Greece to visit the place, which probably will be ceded by Turkey to the Kingdom of the Hellenes. Lonely man lives there his miserable existence—for miserable it must be where no woman has a part—and dying disappears. Young monks come from the outside world to take the places of those who in their own belief are merely "translated," but the name or the monk remains but a memory. Life there is the downhill stumble to old age and the grave. Never a gay laugh and seldom a smile, so that the sun shines on this God chosen spot in vain.

There are twenty monasteries on Mount Athos, all belonging to the order of St. Basil and twelve affiliated monastic communities where live the lay brothers. Others of these religious devotees occupy hermitages far distant from each other, their goings and their comings guided by the ascetic principles of St. Athanasius.

Of the monasteries the largest is Russian, there are two Serbo-Bulgarian and the rest are Greek, so that the latter race is largely in the majority, and thus dominates the community and the Assembly which governs it. To this Assembly each monastery sends one representative.

The monastery libraries are vast stores of information, containing until comparatively recent times many priceless relics which the monks, their intellectual development having been left to its own devices, cared little or nothing for. Many of these documents tell in the language of Xenophon of the glories of a Greece that was. Indeed much of the history of the east is locked up in these dust-filled coffers for in which from time to time this or that wanderer has come across a priceless relic to carry off to the museums of Europe.

One of the most notable finds was a papyrus containing the fables of Aesop in Columbic verse. But so many curio collectors, attracted by the fabulous tales of voyagers, have taken passage for Mount Athos that the monks have become suspicious and now refuse entrance to nearly all strangers. The larger part of the monastic valuables, however, are in safe and more worthy hands.

The Turks destroyed much of the valuable papyri in the monasteries in making cartridges during the war of the Greek independence in 1820-29. Other valuable documents were torn up by the monks themselves for fishing bait. Such is the value of historical documents to those monks who spend their time apart from their religious devotions in fishing and tilling the land.

In 1760 an attempt was made to establish an academy on the mount. For a time it flourished, drawing the flower of the youth of the east, but the teaching was so primitive that the academy became deserted and to-day is a mass of ruins, over which tangled vines, lizards and other crawling things hold sway. When the star of the Byzantine empire was at its zenith Mount Athos was a chosen retreat for those in court disfavor. Many others, wealthy and noble, had their fling at life and then banished themselves to Mount Athos.

Viewed from the sea in the fall of the year Athos is a mountain of exquisite beauty, with its shades and tints of dying foliage. High up on the mountain the monasteries can be seen clustering in the niches scooped out by nature. They are all strongly fortified and with the exception of Rossikon, the Russian monastery, their architecture is a quaint representation of the Byzantine period which had so much influence on the sacred mount on its inhabitants. On the isthmus which separates the mount from the mainland traces can still be seen of the canal dug before the invasion of Greece in 480 B.C. It is the story that Xerxes dug the canal because he feared lest he lose his ships in doubling the cape.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"Poor Bill! 'E's so short-sighted 'e's working 'imself to death."

"Wot's 'is short sight got to do with it?"

"Well, 'e can't see when the boss ain't looking, so 'e 'as to keep on shovelling all the time!"

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

"What is the matter, little boy?" said the kind-hearted man. "Are you lost?"

"No," was the manful answer; "I ain't lost; I'm here. But I'd like to know where father and mother have wandered to."

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure a reliable remedy in Miller's Worm Powders which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

Visitor—"I say, youngster, can you direct me to the bank?"

Urchin—"I can for a shilling."

Visitor—"Well, there's a shilling, dear, you know."

Urchin—"Oh, is it? Well, you can't expect a fellow to be a bank director for nothing."

Asthma Victims. The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxyms of choking which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and prized in every section of this broad land.

Thorold Rogers, the scholarly author of that monumental work, "Six Centuries of Work and Wages," was as celebrated for his ready wit as for his wide learning. When a candidate for office he was told by one of the electors that he would "as soon vote for the devil." The professor rejoined, "Very good, sir, very good; but in case your friend is not nominated I hope for your support?"

A Japanese life insurance agent, famous for many applications, told a group of agents recently how he bagged em.

"I go out into country in my Ford car," he said, "and I say:

"I see Japanese boy in field."

"I say 'Come here.'

"I say, 'You carry life insurance policy?'

"He say, 'No.'

"I say, 'You d— fool, sign here."

Private Jones was summoned to appear before his captain.

"Jones," said the officer, frowning darkly, "this gentleman complains that you have killed his dog."

"A dastardly trick," interrupted the owner of the dog. "To kill a defenceless animal that would harm no one."

"Not much defenceless about him," chimed in the private, heatedly. "He fair freely into my leg, so I ran my bayonet into him."

"Nonsense," answered the owner angrily. "He was a docile creature. Why did you not defend yourself with the butt of your rifle."

"Why didn't he bite me with his tail?" asked Private Jones, with spirit.

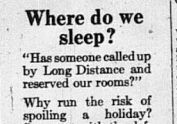
Where do we sleep?

"Has someone called up by Long Distance and reserved our rooms?"

Why run the risk of spoiling a holiday? Start out with the definite assurance that comfortable rooms and a good night's sleep await you.

Reserve your rooms by Long Distance! It will only take a few minutes, and what a difference it may make to you!

The evening rate on Station-to-Station calls (after 8.30, standard time) is only about half the day rate. The night rate (after midnight, standard time) is only about one quarter the day rate.



Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

She Said It All.

"What did father say when you asked for my hand?" asked the sweet young thing.

"Nothing at all," replied the man.

"Why, George, he must have said something."

"Not a word."

"You must be mistaken, George."

"No, I'm not. Your mother was there!"

He Couldn't Get Even.

"Here, here, little boy," said the benevolent person, "what makes you cry that way?"

"A feller poisoned my dog," was the reply.

"There, there," said the benevolent person, "don't take it so badly."

"But," responded the boy, "the feller that poisoned my dog has only got a cat."

Spoiled His Thoughts.

Little Billie was lying quietly with eyes wide open, but apparently seeing nothing. After awhile his mother asked, "Dreaming, Billie?" "Not dreaming; thinking," replied Billie impatiently, "and when anybody speaks to me it cuts the think right in two, and I have to begin all over again."

Not In His Line.

"I presume, my good fellow, you're a laborer?" said a lawyer to a plainly dressed witness. "You are right—I'm a workman, sir," replied the witness, who was a civil engineer. "Familiar with the use of the pick, shovel and spade, I presume?" "To some extent. Those are not the principal instruments of my trade, though." "Perhaps you will condescend to enlighten me as to your principal implements." "It is scarcely worth while. You don't understand their nature or use." Probably not, but I insist on knowing what they are." "Brains."

A Murder Tip.

"Excuse me," said the detective as he presented himself at the door of the music academy, "but I hope you'll give me a tip. Hamlin you have and not make any fuss."

"What do you mean," was the indignant inquiry.

"Why, that little affair, you know."

"I don't understand."

"Why, you see, we got a tip from the house next door that somebody here was murdering Richard Strauss, and the chief sent me down to work up the case."—London Mail.

The Drawback.

Mile. Victorine confides to the janitor's wife that her mistress, who is old and feeble, has promised to remember her in her will if she takes good care of her till she dies. The janitor's wife shrugs her shoulders.

"The worst of that is, my dear, that the better you take care of her the longer you'll have to wait for your legacy."

A Royal Trousseau.

The most expensive trousseau on record is that of the late Empress of China. The trousseau cost over $1,000,000.

Healthful Work.

Auto factories are said to be healthful places for workmen because of electricity employed.

Not Him Alone.

"And you refuse me a loan?"
"Oh, no, I don't refuse you alone. I refuse all panhandlers!"

Aiming to Please.

Husband—Why in the world do you have our bills come in weekly instead of monthly? Wife—You told me that you didn't want them so large, didn't you?

—J. G. Loucks, opposite The Marble Works, is selling beef from 8c. to 20c. Will be open Wednesday afternoons. 22-8t

TO PRESERVE THE EGG

MAY BE KEPT FRESH WITHOUT COLD STORAGE.

Water Glass and Lime Water May Be Used—When to Preserve—Packing—Don't Feed Carcases to Live Stock.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

A household economy well worth while may be practiced by all those who strive during the period when eggs are most abundant and cheap. The high prices generally ruling during the period October to March puts the extensive use of new laid eggs beyond the reach of people with limited incomes. However, all may have eggs for winter use by putting down a few dozen in a suitable preservative medium, and thereby supplying the need during the period of scarcity. It does not pay to put down more than enough to tide over the period of high prices.

Water Glass or Sodium Silicate.

Water Glass or Sodium Silicate is one of the most useful substances that can be used in preparing a suitable medium for preserving eggs in good condition for all household purposes. It is a pale yellow, odorless syrupy liquid that may be purchased at drug or grocery stores. The proper proportion is one part of water glass to ten parts of water. (Use water that has been boiled and cooled). Should the eggs float, and they all should be to be absolutely fresh, add a little more water.

Lime Water.

This is a very successful preservative medium, easily prepared by slaking three pounds of good lump lime in a small amount of water, then add the milk of lime thus formed to three gallons of water. One-quarter pound of salt may be added. Keep the mixture well stirred for the day and then allow to settle. Pour off and use the clear liquid only. Put the eggs into the clear liquid and store in a cool place, using as needed.

Time to Preserve Eggs.

During April and early May eggs are usually cheapest, and it also happens that the best quality eggs are produced in the spring. Spring laid eggs keep better than summer or autumn laid eggs.

What to Preserve.

Only the absolutely fresh, clean, unwashed, sound-shelled eggs will keep. If you have to buy eggs for preserving it is advisable to candle them before putting down, unless you have absolute confidence in the person supplying them. Any egg that floats should be discarded. Eggs with shrunken contents, cracked shells, watery content or dirty shells if put in the preservative will be useless when they come out, and they will also spoil everything that they touch while in the preservative.

Suitable Containers.

Earthenware, or glass crocks, wooden tubs or casks may be used. Avoid metal containers. A vessel of six gallons size will hold 20 dozen eggs, usually enough for a family. Whatever is used it must be clean and sweet, eggs will quickly take up any taint. Better scald vessel before the eggs go in.

Packing.

Place the eggs in the vessel, small end down, and pour the solution of waterglass or lime over them. If you are putting in a few each day then fill the crock half full of liquid and place the eggs when gathered, having at least two inches of liquid above the eggs at all times. Store in a cool well-ventilated basement.

Three gallons of either the lime or water glass solutions will preserve 20 dozen eggs. The water glass cost will be about two cents per dozen eggs, lime is a little cheaper.

Cooking Qualities.

Eggs preserved by lime or waterglass solutions can be used for nearly all cooking purposes as cakes, custards or omelettes.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extention, O. A. College, Guelph.

Losses From Feeding Carcases to Live Stock.

Failure to destroy by burning or burying deeply the carcasses of animals that die from various causes frequently results in considerable loss to the neighboring farms or other people of the district. Pigs, dogs, cats and carrion birds will carry infection from a carcass over the neighborhood, may become infected themselves and thereby widen the circle of infestation.

In a recent investigation it was brought to light that a man lost eighty chickens from disease. He admitted throwing the dead chickens into the pens where the brood sows were enclosed, and having dumped the cleanings from the chicken house in the hog yard. The sows and their progeny developed tuberculosis, which proved to be the avian type. A test for avian tuberculosis was applied to the poultry flock and it, too, was found to be infested.

If anything dies, don't use it for pig feed. Bury or burn. Keep the dog and cat away from all carcases and offal, as bacteria which may be virulent and parasitic eggs or larvae are almost sure to be present. The application of fire is the best means of destroying animals and birds that may die from any cause.

The Ewe and the Lamb.

If possible, keep the ewe and the lamb in a separate pen for a few days after lambing. If each ewe cannot be kept in a separate pen, only those having lambs at about the same time should be kept together.

Since milk is about 87 per cent. water, a cow should have access to all the pure water she will drink.

"Hot!" he exclaimed. "Well, I should say so. The least exertion makes me sweat."

And while his wife walked around with a crying baby, he wandered about and walked eight miles and forty-two laps around a billiard table.

How carefully you select your toilet soap! but you expose your hands to harsh kitchen soap in the dishpan an hour and a half every day

IT must be mild and pleasant—your toilet soap—even though your hands are in contact with it only ten minutes a day at the most. You can't bear to use a harsh, drying soap for washing your hands. So, naturally, you select it carefully.

Then you undo it all! By using strong, stinging kitchen soap in your dishpan. When you do the dishes—your hands are in these drying, coarsening suds a full hour and a half.

Your skin can't help getting drawn and rough—your finger-tips all scratchy.

Don't wash your dishes with just "any" soap. Use Lux in your dishpan. Lux has that softness and mildness that make it as easy on your hands as fine toilet soap. But of course you know that. Think of the things you just wouldn't trust to anything but Lux.

Your hands deserve as kind treatment as your chiffons—your fine woollens. Use Lux whenever you have to have your hands in soap and water for any length of time.

For breakfast or lunch dishes: a single teaspoonful

A level teaspoonful of Lux lasts through one entire dishwashing. That is, for breakfast or lunch dishes. When you've a lot of dinner dishes you sometimes need two teaspoonfuls.

Get the big new package of Lux—flip a teaspoonful of flakes into your dishpan. Then see how sparkling those quick suds make your glasses and silver—how speedily they wash all the dishes.

Buy Lux to-day—the big new size for kitchen use—the regular size for the bathroom. Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto. L-517

COCCIDIOSIS IN FOWL

WHY CHICKS FAIL WHEN SIX TO TWELVE WEEKS OLD.

Post Mortem Appearances — Symptoms, Cause and Treatment—Prevention — Ontario Boar Policy Meets Approval—Marl for Soil Acidity.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Symptoms.

In young chicks the symptoms are as follows: The chicks sit or stand in the same position, appetite diminished, they are drowsy, listless, ruffled and droopy. In some cases the droppings may be stained with blood. Birds under two months seldom survive a severe attack and, if they recover, are usually stunted. Older chickens have stronger resistance, more recover, but still the mortality is heavy. Droopiness, diarrhoea, dejection, wattles and comb pale, three weeks of misery, a short period of coma and then death are the more noticeable symptoms in older birds.

The Post Mortem Appearances.

In young chicks the ceca are filled with a bloody, semi-solid mass. In older birds the ceca are distended and contain a solid mass of a greyish color and cheesy consistency. The intestine may be inflamed and the liver enlarged.

Cause.

The presence of a protozoan parasite in the intestinal tract, "Eimeria avium." The disease is transmitted by means of feed, water and soil. It is especially present where chickens brooded on the same ground year after year, and where a second or third lot of chicks are reared on the same ground the same year. Chicks brooded in moderate numbers on new ground for each brood and frequently changed to clean soil, or soil covered with a good sod, will rarely be affected with coccidiosis. Infection may be brought in by purchase of new birds, or it may be carried by pigeons from infected yards.

Treatment.

For young birds, transfer to clean colony house located on fresh ground. Use a raised floor, no floor of house and also clean litter. Dose with Epsom salts at the rate of one pound to 400 pounds of chicks, repeat this in four days. Reduce the grain ration and feed buttermilk. Bran should be substituted for grain. The use of a disinfectant in the drinking water is recommended, as one ounce of copper sulphate to five gallons of water.

Prevention.

Houses should be thoroughly soaked with five per cent. compound solution of cresol. Yards should be dressed with lime and ploughed, used for crop every second year. The use of healthy breeding stock, keeping moderate numbers, clean yards and houses, and eternal vigilance against outside stock and birds bringing the organism in is good insurance against coccidiosis.

His Reward.

"While," called his mother from the head of the stairs, "will you wipe your feet before you come in?"

"Yessum," replied the young hopeful. "Did you close the door carefully behind you?"

"Yessum."

"Did you hang up your hat?"

"Yessum."

"Very well. Then you may practice your music lesson."

Rollicking Play, "Give and Take," Coming at the Chautauqua

"Give and Take," a feature dramatic offering of the coming Dominion Chautauqua, is one of the most laughable comedies produced in recent years. Among its many popular features is the fact that it tells a most unusual story.

"Give and Take" is a modern comedy based on a great industrial problem. So gripping is the plot and so replete with humorous scenes that it keeps the audience tense with keenest interest or convulsed with heartiest laughter.

BLEEDING A KING.

Louis XIV., a Grasping Doctor and an Ambitious Surgeon.

In 1693, when Louis XIV. began to feel the first touches of age, his physicians ordered him to be bled once a month. That duty was of course intrusted to Marechal, his Irish surgeon.

There was at the time in Paris, says the British Medical Journal, a young brother of the craft who conceived the idea of making his fortune by bleeding the king. The enterprise was difficult, but he knew that the most solid doors can often be opened with a golden key.

Following the advice of Iago, he put money in his purse and sought an introduction to Antoine Duquin, the King's chief physician. The negotiation was conducted on a strict business footing. Duquin, who was known to love money, was told that 10,000 crowns were deposited with a notary who had instructions to transfer the sum to him as soon as the surgeon had got the job.

It was not an easy thing to manage, as Marechal never left the king. One day, however, he asked permission to leave Versailles for three days. Duquin seized the opportunity to introduce his protégé, whom he had ready at hand for the purpose. Feeling the king's pulse one morning, as usual, he pretended to be alarmed at its stress, h and volume and offered the illustrious patient to be bled forthwith. As Marechal was away, the king hesitated, but fear soon made him yield to his physician's proposal. The young surgeon

A WORD TO ALL IN REGARD TO CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS

In order to bring Chautauqua to Napanee, the Local Committee have to guarantee the Redpath Chautauqua Co. $1250.00. They also have to take care of local expenses such as newspaper advertising, cartage of tents, etc., amounting to about $125.00. This means that the Committee have to sell 550 Season Tickets or else they are even. The agreement is that all Season Tickets sold previous to the opening of Chautauqua apply in full on the guarantee. Of the gate receipts, however, the local committee receives only 25 per cent. as its share. You can readily see therefore the necessity for the sale of the Season Tickets. If you buy $5.00 worth of gate tickets, the local committee are credited with only $1.25. If you buy a $2.50 Season's Ticket (which entitles you to every afternoon and evening performance) the full amount goes to the credit of the Local Committee on its guarantee. Please help the Local Committee.

Remember this is not a money-making proposition. A motion is on the books that if any profit accrues, it will be devoted to some charitable or patriotic purpose.

Chautauqua is recognized all over the continent as one of the greatest educative influences as well as the best kind of entertainment to be had. The Chautauqua brings to you the World's greatest talent. It costs money to do so, but where else, and in what other way can you possibly secure as much for the sum of $2.50 ?

In Napanee in the winter there are many and varied attractions, but in the summer we have very very few attractions for those who must remain at home, or for visitors in our community.

Napanee cannot continue to bring Chautauqua unless both its citizens and the people of the surrounding country rally to its help and buy Season Tickets. We must ask for your co-operation.

Yours very truly,
WILFRED S. WILSON,
Chairman.

ONE BIG SCHOOL MEET IN OCTOBER

The Ontario Athletic Commission has succeeded in bringing about a much-desired amalgamation of the school athletic activities to cover the entire Province. Western and Central Ontario and the Georgian Bay towns have been well organized for some years back, but have lacked the unanimity necessary to hold one big Provincial championship school meet —public, separate, high, and continuation schools.

At a meeting of these bodies at the Commission offices, the first step toward the holding of such an annual championship meet in Toronto was taken, a program arranged for such an event to be held about the first week in October this year, and the Province tentatively divided into sections.

The commission suggested that each of these sections hold meets within its own borders, and send the winner in each event to the Provincial Championships at the expense of the commission, who are also prepared to donate the prizes for these championships, as well as a limited number of medals as prizes for each sectional meet.

A second candidate may be entered for each event, but his expenses would have to be paid by the section.

Coach Walter Knox whose exclusive services were engaged by the commission for a year, will be in charge of all the details necessary to bring the matter to a successful issue.

He will also set standards for each event which it will be necessary for each winner to attain to in the sectional meets to qualify him for the championship gathering at the expense of the commission.

Students up to June 30th, 1924, will be eligible, and each section is responsible for the weights, ages, etc., of the candidates sent from its confines.

Proposed Sections.

The proposed sections are :—

1. Western—The present W. O. S. S. A., but including public and separate schools.
2. Central— Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Niagara Peninsula and North.
3. Georgian Bay—Midland, Orilla, Collingwood, Barrie, etc., to and including Lindsay.
4. Peterboro and Lake towns.
5. Kingston and St. Lawrence towns, including Belleville and Brockville.
6. Ottawa and district to Smith's Falls and Perth.
7. Northern Ontario.
8. Fort William and Port Arthur.

List of Events.

The list of events as agreed upon is :—

Public and Separate.

Boys, 14 and 15—100 yards, 220 yards, running high jump, running broad jump, pole vault, 440 yards relay.

MASONIC RITUAL AT BATH CHURCH

CORNER STONE OF ST. JOHN'S LAID WEDNESDAY MORNING WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

A very large number of visitors from all over Ontario were in the historic village of Bath on Wednesday for the ceremonies incidental upon the laying of the corner stone of the new St. John's Anglican Church, which is to be erected on the site of the old edifice which was destroyed by fire some months ago, after having stood for over 100 years.

The early hours of the morning were threatening, but as the hour for the ceremony approached the sun shone, beautiful weather prevailing for the occasion.

The service on the site of the church was conducted before an enormous throng of reverent and interested spectators by Rev. Canon F. D. Woodcock, Brockville, and Rev. W. M. Ponton, of Belleville, Past Grand Master of the Masonic Order, with the impressive Masonic ritual reserved for such occasions.

Col. Ponton also delivered a most impressive address on the completion of his task, in the course of which he congratulated Rev. Mr. Swayne and his parishioners on their initiative in immediately commencing a movement to rebuild the historic old church after its destruction by fire, and referred to all that St. John's Church, Bath, has stood for during the past century.

Many of the clergy of the Diocese were present at the ceremonies, among those noticed being Rural Dean Coleman, Napanee; Rev. Hilyard Smith, Portsmouth; Rev. W. E. Kidd, Kingston; Rev. R. W. Spencer, Camden East; Rev. A. O. Cook, Barrefield; Rev. F. C. Ware, Amherst Island; Rev. J. dePencier Wright and Rev. J. C. Dixon, Kingston; Rev. J. Cantrille, Wolfe Island, and Rev. Canon W. F. FitzGerald, Kingston.

Representatives from the various Masonic Lodges in this district were also present, including a number of Napaneeans.

Among the ladies present was Mrs. (Dr.) Tutzeit, of Toronto, a member of the old Bath field family, who were members of the pioneer Empire Loyalist stock, who originally founded St. John's congregation about 1787; Mrs. Tutzeit travelling to Bath from her home in Toronto to be present at a similar ceremony to that witnessed by her ancestors many years ago.

Following the morning ceremonies at the site of the historic church, the Rev. Canon Woodcock was presented with a beautiful cross as a memento of the occasion.

On the completion of the ceremonies the clergy, members of the Masonic Order and invited guests of the parish were guests at a sumptuous luncheon served in the Town Hall, following which further ceremonies took place on the site of the church in the afternoon, during which impressive addresses were delivered by Col. W. F. Ponton, Col. S. S. Lazier, H. F. Ketcheson, E. J. Sexsmith, M.P.P., and C. W. Hambly, M.P.P., a very large number again in attendance.

CONWAY'S WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The July meeting was held on the 14th of July, in Conway Church, with the new officers in attendance. The meeting opened in the usual way by singing the opening ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Two ladies were appointed to take charge of the rest room at Napanee the 2nd day of the fair. This rest room is to be provided by the Women's Institutes of this district. Further business was taken up, but owing to the absence of the convener of the buying committee not much could be decided on till the next meeting. This meeting will be on August 11th, the programme to be furnished by the Bath Musical Club.

Asked for a composition on "water," a schoolboy wrote : "Water is a liquid, so is beer and milk, but the first is called licker because its adulterated, that is sugar and hops are added. Water is very useful, ships float on it and men and boys swim in it, we also drink it and in the summer boys use it to wash their faces. Salt water is salt and is useful for all kinds of fish such as cod and wales and sometimes seals. Rain is water and is kept in old tubs and barrels to wash dirty clothes. Sometimes water is hard and then we have ice."

WEDDING BELLS.

Saylor—Redden

An ideal home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bell, 468 Simcoe St. North, Oshawa, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 8th, in the presence of about forty guests, when their niece, Miss Jennie May Redden, only daughter of C. H. Redden and the late Mrs. Redden, Kingston, Ont., became the bride of James Wilfred Saylor, B.Com., eldest son of Mr. G. W. Saylor and the late Mrs. Saylor, Trenton, Ont. Rev. C. W. DeMille, B.A., B.D., of King Street Church, officiated.

The beautiful home was a bower of flowers, while a path of white decorations led to the bridal arch. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a French creation of kitten's ear crepe with veil of white tulle studded with silver brilliants and held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a corsage bouquet of ophelia roses, lily of the valley and maiden hair fern. As the bridal party was descending the stairway, Mrs. J. W. Milne, Toronto, aunt of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. At the base of the stairs the party passed beneath a white arch decorated with chains of marguerites and white bells. From here they entered the drawing room, where the ceremony was conducted beneath a white arch in the spacious bay window banked with ferns, orange blossoms and American beauty roses. A beautiful picture of loveliness was presented during the solemn and impressive service.

The bridesmaid, Miss Laura G. Fraser, B.A., cousin of the bride, looked very winsome in a gown of Lanvin green georgette with gold shoes and stockings. Her corsage bouquet was of American beauty roses. "Little" Gloria Rogers, Oshawa, and Madeline Davy, Toronto, cousin of the bride, were flower girls, wearing dainty frocks of pearl crepe de chene, each had a wreath of rosebuds entwined in her hair. As these blithe little girls entered the drawing room they scattered rose petals from their baskets on the pathway of the bride. Masters Harry and John Davy, also cousins of the bride, acted as pages, wearing white suits. "Little" John was ring bearer, while Harry, Jr., very gracefully carried the bride's train. Mr. George Slade, Toronto, supported the groom. During the signing of the register Mrs. Milne rendered a piano solo.

Mrs. A. W. Bell received in a gown of poudre blue beaded French crepe. A high noon luncheon was then served at dainty tables. The bride's table, placed in the conservatory, was tastefully decorated with roses and centred by the wedding cake. Rev. C. W. DeMille acted as toast master. The toast of the bride was proposed by H. S. Davy, grandfather of the bride, and ably responded to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaid was proposed by Mr. A. W. Bell, and responded to by Mr. Slade, the groomsman, and Mr. G. W. Saylor, father of the groom. During the signing of the guest register Mrs. H. M. Davy, Toronto, gave a piano selection.

The groom's gifts were :—To the bride, an endowment policy; the bridesmaid, a tortoise shell bouillon clock; pianist, a necklace; flower girls, silver bracelet and string of pearls; groomsman, pair of gold cuff links; and to the pages, signet rings.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left for Buffalo and other American points, the bride travelling in an ensemble suit of coral and black crepe with hat to match. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Saylor will reside in Oshawa.

The deep esteem in which the bride and groom are held by their many friends was expressed by the numerous and expensive gifts which they received.—The Ontario Reformer, Oshawa, Ont.

Patterson—Keller.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Keller, Camrose, Alberta, was the scene of a very pretty June wedding on Monday morning, June 29th, when their daughter, Lucy May, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Lyle Franklin Patterson, of Ohaton, Rev. E. J. Tate officiating.

The bride, who was unattended, was charmingly gowned in Belgium blue satin de chene, with touches of gold lace, and carried a sheaf of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. She entered the living room on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by her sister, Mrs. Casey Anderson. During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Leadley sang, "Oh Promise Me". After the ceremony the guests, numbering about thirty, repaired to the dining room, where a bountiful wedding breakfast awaited them.

The bride's travelling costume was a smart ensemble suit in sand tones, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left by motor for Calgary, Banff and points West, into B. C., amid showers of confetti and the good wishes of their many friends.

Costly and numerous gifts indicated the high esteem in which the popular young couple are held. Mr. Patterson, who is a veteran of the Great War, is a general merchant at Ohaton. His bride is one of the most popular members of the town's younger set, and is widely known for her musical attainments. The heartiest good wishes of a large circle of friends will be extended for their happiness.

BULGARIA'S FUTURE.

Her Great Natural Resources Await Proper Development.

The principal wealth of Bulgaria to-day is in agriculture. The production of grain during the past twenty years has assumed such proportions that Bulgaria, small as it is, is eighth in the world's cereal producing countries. American machinery is in great demand for farms, and one sees everywhere American harvesters, mowers, windmills, traction engines and pumps. They are becoming as familiar as American sewing machines.

The greatest wealth of Bulgaria is in its forests and mines, but these have not as yet been exploited. Nowhere in Europe are there such forests of pine, hemlock, oak, walnut and birch.

Manufacturing is still in its infancy. Not more than $10,000,000 is as yet invested in manufactures, and the greater part of this capital is employed in the making of Bulgaria's one famous export — attar of roses, which comes from the region of Kazanlik. Only one-fourth of one per cent. of the population of Bulgaria is engaged all the year round in factory work.

Sofia and Varna are the only cities with tramways; but many cities are illuminated with electricity. Owing to its mountains, Bulgaria is possessed of tremendous water power, which is going to count in the future industrial and traction development. Except for her railways, the country is not dependent upon coal. Even these are beginning to use oil. Petroleum, coming from the adjacent oil fields of Roumania and by boat from Batoum, is plentiful and cheap.

The Bulgarians are noted for their industry, their ability to save and their foresight. Although naturally possessing many of the characteristics of the Turk, acquired through centuries of subjection and not to be shaken off in one generation, they have not his proverbial laziness. In working capacity they are like the German peasant, while in saving they are like the French. The wealth in the hands of the peasantry is an unknown quantity, for they have no faith in banks, but it must be considerable.

Among the bulk of the people the standard of living is still very much like that in Turkey, but education is spreading and prosperity increasing. If the Bulgarians secure an outlet to the Aegean Sea, the nation is bound to become one of the most important agriculturally in the whole world.

Artificial Eyes.

The use of glass for artificial eyes dates back to about 1818. The Greeks in the fourth century before Christ had a false eye which was practically a thin band of iron which passed around the head and held in place a thin sheet of metal, covered with a fine skin, on which was painted an eye with its eyelids and lashes. About 300 years before Christ a metal shell somewhat like the half of a walnut shell, on which were painted the iris, the pupil and the white of an eye, was forced into the cavity and held very much as our glass eyes are held. The trouble with this older method was the tremendous weight of the metal, and, of course, the painting was necessarily more or less ghastly. Yet, so far as there is any record to show, there was no substantial improvement in these metallic and painted eyes until within the last century.

Sulphur Bottom Whales.

Probably the largest of the whales, as well as the most gigantic of all living creatures, is the sulphur bottom. It attains a length of nearly or quite 100 feet and a weight of 150 tons. One individual measured 95 feet in length, 39 feet in girth, with a jaw (whalebone), 4 feet long; weight of baleen, 800 pounds; weight of entire whale, 147 tons, and it yielded 110 barrels of oil. The sulphur bottom seldom boils, as the whalery term the action of leaping diagonally from the sea, or breaches, as perpendicular springs are called, but when it does perform in this manner it presents a truly wonderful sight.

Visit the Capitals

See their Points of Historic and National Interest

Know historic Ontario, know its points of interest, know the two Capital cities—Toronto and Ottawa—that lie within its borders. All through the Province there's a wealth of national and historic interest which should be familiar to every man, woman and child.

An intimate knowledge of our seats of Government will result in a better appreciation of our country's institutions. It will make better citizens of the boys and girls.

This summer, get the family in the car and drive either to Ottawa or Toronto. Both cities are at their best in summer time. In each you will receive courtesy and attention from those who are in a position to give you information as to what you should see.

Good highways to the Capitals lead from every direction. They are in excellent condition, and in every case will take you through magnificent stretches of farm and orchard lands, or by lakes and rivers and woods.

Take your time and see the country as you go. Don't attempt any speed records. They have all been made. Fast driving is dangerous; it detracts from the pleasure of your trip because you cannot see the country; it destroys road surfaces and thus it makes your trip more expensive than it need be.

For your money is used to repair damaged roads in Ontario. The user must pay. In your own interest, you are requested to minimize this damage and you can do so by moderate driving. Your co-operation is confidently depended upon.

An advertisement issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists and truck drivers, Automobile Clubs, Good Roads Associations and all other public bodies, in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

DENBIGH

The United Church picnic held at Denbigh, on July 10th, was a great success, socially and financially. Long before noon the beautiful grove was alive with the largest gathering in many years. Upwards of three hundred sat down to the bountifully loaded tables, while supper was served to a crowd nearly as large.

Upwards of fifty autos were on the ground. Kitchner, Toronto, Buffalo, Rochester, Ottawa, Renfrew, Napanee, Newburgh and North Bay were represented, besides many places nearer by.

The programme, consisting of speeches, readings, solos and choruses was ably rendered and heartily received. Special mention is due Mr. Ben Stalker in his performance as contriquist. Mr. Stalker was born at Plevna, and is one of our community boys. He simply kept the crowd in a roar of laughter by his wit and humour. Many said he was the best they had ever heard.

Much credit is due the different committees as well as Rev. P. A. Scott, the Pastor. The total proceeds were $240.00. We are grateful to all who contributed in making the day so pleasant and so successful. Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, of Newburgh, accompanied by Rev. W. H. Pointen, who assumes charge of the Plevna Mission, were present at the picnic.—Donald Scott, Napanee, is spending his holidays with Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Scott, at the Denbigh Parsonage.

Mail Orders promptly filled at Wallace's Drug Store.

The minister in a little church that used natural gas for illumination announced his text in solemn tones: "Let there be light!" Immediately the church was plunged in total darkness, due to a failure in the supply.

"Brethren," said the minister, with scarcely a moment's pause, "in view of the sudden and startling fulfilment of this prophecy, we will spend a few minutes in silent prayer for the gas company."

NO LONGER GWN BOOKS.

Public Libraries Have Done Away Completely With Old-time Custom.

While t' last decade has witnessed a extraordinary growth in the number of public libraries throughout the country and while no one denies that these libraries confer many benefits they are no such unmitigated blessings as many would have us believe, argues a western publication. In the first place they are undermining the good old habit of owning books. Not, of course, among the well-to-do; but the well-to-do make relatively small use of public libraries. The usual plea is that most people cannot afford to buy books. This is flatly untrue, the fact is that the ubiquitous library has killed the demand in this country for editions of standard books at really popular prices. In France splendid literature volumes are sold at a uniform rate of 25 centimes (four and a half cents.) In this edition one can buy Homer complete for 27 cents, Milton's Paradise Lost for 9, Descartes' Discourse on Method for 4 1/2, and the works of over 100 other authors at corresponding rates. In Germany one may buy nicely bound volumes of every conceivable branch of science and art at the rate of 19 cents a book. When a man can buy the works of a great philosopher for the price of a glass of beer it is arrant nonsense to say that the public cannot afford books.

We are simply doing our best to pauperize readers. They know that they do not need to buy books; a benevolent fate will provide them gratis; and so they go without. Our publishers find no real demand for editions at prices within the reach of every one, and naturally the editions are not forthcoming. The resulting evil is obvious. A man knows his own books as he can never know those of a library. The books he owns have a double value to him; he has paid for them, which creates the pride of ownership; and he has them always about him which breeds familiarity. No impending fine compels him to hurry when he wants to read slowly.

This pauperizing of readers is the greatest, but not the only evil connected with the indiscriminate use of libraries. We seem to think that if people read anything they are necessarily better off than if they do not. The main business of libraries, especially of small ones, has come to be the circulation of "popular" fiction. Even in the large cities the demand for books of this class is demonstrated by the fact that most of them are listed as "five day" or "seven day" books. It is hard to see what good is accomplished by emptying thousands of rubbish on the heads of people for the most part unable to distinguish real literature from false. Were the libraries less active in discriminating useless and often demoralizing fiction, standard works would be far more widely read; but so long as every library in the land feels called upon to have the latest work, and often several copies of it, by the latest writer of trashy fiction, such books will continue to come out in their thousands and tens of thousands, and their betters will rest unread.

Chaplains for French Navy.

It will be news to most persons that the French navy does not employ chaplains afloat, although a moment's consideration would bring to remembrance the fact of the complete divorce between church and state in France. The subject has been prominently int- nodice by a petition signed by a great number of the mothers and widows of sailors who were victims of the accident on the Gloire or the Liberte. The petitioners can be found in the Midi, Brittany, Var and Finistere, and they pray the Senate to order the reappointment of chaplains on warships.—London Globe.

She Understood.

A young man who had a strong liking for poetry, but a rather mediocre talent for writing it, deluded himself into the belief that the world was determined to keep him down. He continued writing for years, confident that he would win fame in the end. Once in conversation with a clever girl he started in on his pet theme. "Like me, I get it in the neck," he said, "you don't understand me. But I can afford to laugh at present neglect, for I'm writing for posterity."

"Oh, I understand you now," replied the girl. "So that's the reason your poems are not published during your lifetime?"

Servian Army Drums.

A curious custom connected with the Servian army is the manner in which most of the regiments carry their big drum. It is not, as in most countries, slung in front of the man who plays it, but is placed upon a small two wheeled cart drawn by a large dog, which has been so trained that it keeps its place even through the longest and most tedious marches. The drummer takes up a position behind the cart and performs on the instrument as it moves along.—London Answers.

A Bride on the Minute.

It was a most ludicrous mistake. She imagined her wedding day was Wednesday, and in truth it wasn't to take place till the day after.

"Just like a woman. And every thing was in a hurry, and the bridegroom gnashed his teeth, I suppose?"

"Well, hardly. In fact, everything turned out beautifully. By making the error unconsciously she was dressed in time, and the ceremonies were pulled off according to schedule."

Learning.

Learning, like money, may be of so base a coin as to be utterly void of use or, if abused, may render the possessement to make it serves the purpose of sense and happiness.—Shenstone.

Enduring.

"I suppose you and your wife can remember your first quarrel," said the middlesome person.

"Remember it?" returned Mr. Growcher. "I should say so! It isn't over yet."

Sores Flee Before it. — There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Any similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

BROTHER MEETS SISTER AFTER 75 YEARS LAPSE

Mcravia, July 15.—It infrequently happens that a brother and sister meet for the first time after a lapse of 75 years, but that was the case in this village a few days ago, when Capt. Henry Davy, of Pewaukee, Wis., arrived to visit his sister, Mrs. Winey Wilson, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Henry E. Slone, in Park Street. Captain Davy is at present a guest at the Slone home. He is 80 years of age and his sister is two years older.

They were born in Napanee, Canada, and at an early age, when their parents died, the brother and sister were taken into different families to be reared. This separation has continued for nearly four score years. Captain Davy gained his title by service on a steamer. He recently retired from a hardware business that he conducted for 25 years.—Syracuse Herald.

Marl for Soil Acidity.

Marl deposits are not uncommon in the older farmed sections of Ontario. While discussing soil problems with many visitors to the O. A. College exhibit at the County Fairs many farmers mentioned that they knew of deposits of marl in their own districts that were lying unused. Many do not realize that marl is quite equal to the best grades of crushed limestone or hydrated lime as a corrective for soil acidity. The use of marl from a local deposit if such is available, will save the purchase price and the transportation costs on other forms of lime. October and November are usually good months in which to excavate and team marl to the fields where soil acids prevent the luxuriant growth of clovers.

All Male Calves Do Not Make Good Bulls.

No breeder should expect every calf dropped to develop into an animal suitable for the breeding herd, but too many insist on selling every male calf for a bull. The breeder who will ultimately produce the best, command the highest prices, and satisfy customers will keep only high-grade bulls.

Cultivation not only kills the weeds but it improves the physical condition of the soil.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA.

In addition to a full quota of unusually interesting stories and articles, the August number of Rod and Gun in Canada, the Canadian sportsman's magazine, contains a wealth of information for the outdoorsman, the fisherman and the gun crank in the regular articles and full synopses of the hunting and fishing seasons and laws, for the provinces of Canada and Newfoundland. It also includes the announcement of the annual amateur photographic contest in which $700 in prizes is being awarded.

Among the stories of general sporting interest, Basswood Lake to Windigo, an account of a canoe trip, which while it recounts the second part of the voyage, is a complete story, written in a swinging narrative; Sidelights of Nipigon tells of trout fishing and is written by Ozark Ripley, who wields a rod even better than a very finished pen. Judge A. B. Cain of Toledo, O., is enthusiastic over Canada as a sportsman's paradise in recounting his most exciting experiences at Temiskaming under the caption A Judge Goes Hunting. Other articles equally good contribute to make the, issue a highly attractive one.

Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

AN OUTLAWED CANINE.

Timid by Day, Coyote Can Fight Well When Cornered.

Stalking along the hillside, or sneaking through the canyon, the coyote is a lonely, rather pitiful figure in the light of day, hated and humiliated, despised and despoiled, hunted and shot at, with a price upon his head, an outlaw without redress. But when the darkness of night has settled over the land, then does he gather courage as he steps along the trails or through the brush. Taking his station on a hilltop, he yelps and howls defiance at the ranchman's answering dogs, at the ranchman himself and his men, and all whom in the light of day he has so feared, but whom he now challenges and mocks in the safety of the dark night hills. So vociferous, so multitarious, so penetrating is his clamor that the listener is led to believe that there is a dozen or more of him voicing his independence, his contempt and his resentment, instead of one lone, solitary animal who but a few hours before feared to raise his voice above a whisper.

The coyote is a species of wolf, evidently a link between the wolf and the dog. He has the cunning of the wolf, the intelligence of the dog, and in spite of his reputation of a coward, he has the courage to put up a good fight when cornered. He is exceedingly fleet of foot and seems to realize it, I appreciate the fact. On it he depends for safety, and pursued by dogs, knowing his superior pedal advantage, he seems to take pleasure in telling them on. He will lead them a merry chase through the brush and over the hills, and when weary—not likely long before—will stop in some spot where the view of the chase is good, and wait and watch his pursuers with a smile of contempt and derision on his face. The time never for some of his pack, however, when the dogs get him at a disadvantage, but their contempt he will make a defiant fight with teeth and claws, and some, if not all, of the dogs will learn that they have no mean adversary to contend with.

At one time, some years ago, the coyote was hunted by horsemen and hounds, as the fox is hunted in other places. Packs of fine greyhounds were kept for that purpose, though foxhounds were also used. In recent years the cutting up of a great deal of territory into small ranches, and the building of towns and villages has put an end to organized coyote hunts with horses. Near the towns the coyote stays well back in the hills during the daytime and only descends into the valleys when darkness has obscured the land and he may in his friendly shelter enter the precincts of man unnoticed. Then is he stealthy, making no noise, for he realizes his danger, and knows that if he would be safe he must be quiet.

A Storm From Above the Clouds.

The view of a storm-cloud from above is one of the most interesting sights ever beheld by mortal man. A storm viewed from above the clouds has the appearance of ebullition. The upper surface of the cloud is bulged upward and outward and has the resemblance of a vast sea of boiling, upheaving snow. Immediately above the storm cloud the air is not as cold as it is in the clearer atmosphere above or in the cloud itself. The falling of rain can be distinctly heard above a storm, a noise like a waterfall over a precipice. The lightning appears above a storm cloud is not loud, and the flashes of lightning appear like streaks of intensely white light on the gray colored vapor.

They keep the child in a constant state of unrest, and, if not attended to, endanger life. Nerves Gave Little Rest

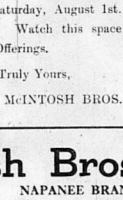
Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowsmith, Ontario.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to publish this good medicine. I lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others."—MRS. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowsmith, Ontario.



In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 100,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use. This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

Although the St. Pats team were beaten 15-14, they were not disgraced, as the opposing club have niggers that would give credit to any ball team. In the coffee room of the hotel there were two men and one fire. In front of the fire one of the men stood firmly planted, his legs apart like scissors, his hands behind his back.

For half an hour the other man watched the fire twinkling between his spread legs. At last, exasperated, he rang for the waiter.

"Waiter," he said, "kindly turn that gentleman. I think he's done on that side."

The Siamese Topknot.

A Siamese child, whether boy or girl, wears its hair in a little topknot until it has attained the age of eleven or twelve years. On reaching this age the topknot cutting ceremony takes place. The child is dressed in its best, and maid meets rejoicing of relatives and friends the topknot is cut, one lock at a time. The head is then completely shaved by the priests. All guests invited to the ceremony bring presents, usually money, which is carefully invested for the child by its parents or guardians. A young prince or princess will sometimes receive as much as $25,000 in presents at his or her topknot cutting ceremony, while a poor child may get $10 or $15.—Wide World Magazine.

The Red Squirrel.

When the red squirrel begins tapping maple trees for the sap the animal makes an incision in the bark and waits until the sap has trickled a short distance down the trunk of the tree. He then gnaws at the bottom of the stream and licks up until he has reached the source of the flow, when he again waits and repeats the performance until satisfied.

BASEBALL

Napanee 5, Gananoque 3.

A very snappy game of baseball was played in the Napanee Driving Park on Wednesday afternoon before a small crowd, and those who did not attend missed the best game of the season, the score being 5-3 in favor of the local team.

R. Loucks pitched the nine innings for Napanee and turned in a wonderful game, it being his first start this season. Cook, for Gananoque, started in the box, but was relieved by Kenney in the fourth. Both teams played splendid ball, especially the outfielders.

OBITUARY

George Sams.

On Sunday morning, July 12th, 1925, just after midnight, there passed away at his home near Bath, Geo. Sams, aged 68 years. He came to Canada from England, when about 20 years of age, and returned to England a number of years ago to see his parents and brothers and sisters. His brother, James, came to Canada and returned twice and is there now staying with his mother, who is in very frail health. Mr. Sams has had poor health for over two years and last fall became very ill and continued so all winter, but when spring came and he was able to be out doors he improved considerably, but the summer weather seemed to weaken him and the end came suddenly and peacefully on July 12th. He was a man of very kindly disposition and always ready to help a neighbor and do his part. He will be sadly missed by many friends and neighbors. There remain to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father, his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Rattan, Bath; and two sons, Arthur, of Bath, and Fred, at home, and three grandchildren; his second son having died overseas in August, 1919. He leaves a mother, three sisters and five brothers in England.

Mr. Sams was a very energetic man, and a successful farmer, always patient in every way, doing his best. He was a member of the Methodist Church. The funeral service was held at the home on Tuesday morning, at 11 o'clock, by Rev. Mr. Ross, of Bath, assisted by Rev. Mr. Burgess, of Kingston, and Rev. Mr. Swayne, of Bath, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family. The body was buried in the Methodist cemetery to await the resurrection day. The floral gifts were many and beautiful.

Thomas W. Thompson.

The death occurred in Napanee on Monday last of Thomas W. Thompson, a young man well liked and respected by those with whom he was associated. Deceased was employed by the Maple Leaf Milkware Co. for a number of years, when his health failed him some sixteen months ago. He made every effort to regain his health, but to no avail.

He leaves surviving, besides his parents, two brothers, Fred, of Napanee, and Carman, of Oshawa; and two sisters, Mrs. Harold Brown, of Castleton, and Mrs. Clifford Moore, of Bethany.

A large number of friends attended the funeral service, which was held at the house and conducted by the Rev. Mr. Merriam, on Tuesday afternoon. Burial took place in Riverview cemetery.

"Boy, is this the field on which the great battle was fought?" asked the tourist.

"Dear, dear!" exclaimed the tourist; "what must be a mile away. Why didn't they fight it in this field?"

"I suppose because this 'ere field belongs to Farmer Johnson. He never would lend his land for anything, not even for the village sports."

TRACK AND FIELD MEETS FOR SCHOOLS

Plans for the organization of this district in readiness for the track and field meets arranged for the coming fall for the pupils of Public, Separate, Continuation and High Schools and Collegiate Institutes were made at a meeting at the home of T. A. McGinnis, Kingston, on Friday afternoon, called by the Ontario Athletic Commission.

The Commission was appointed by the Ontario Government recently to organize athletics in the schools in the province. T. A. Murphy, is chairman, Walter Knox, the noted all-round athlete, is head coach; James Fitzgerald is secretary, and the other members include Mr. McGinnis, Harry Price, R. Robinson, and Harvey Pulford. At Friday afternoon's meeting Mr. McGinnis and Mr. Knox met representatives from this district including Trustees T. G. Bishop, Rev. Father Nicholson and Dean Matheson, of Kingston, Dr. E. J. Bracken and S. Mackenzie, of Gananoque, G. C. Howison, of Brockville, H. Daly and A. Wood, of Napanee.

Provincial Meet.

The date for the provincial meet is not yet fixed but it will likely be in the first week in October. This district includes from Brockville to Trenton and north to, but not including, Smith's Falls. The meeting considered that no more central or better place for the meet in this district could be found than Kingston, and they hope to hold it in the Richardson Stadium.

The commission plans, too, a great deal of educational and demonstration work throughout the schools of the province. Mr. Knox himself has visited, and hopes to visit many more, places in Ontario, while literature is being prepared for circulation, such as the standard rules for competitions, and hints on training. Nothing is more promising than the slow motion pictures which Mr. Knox has just had prepared to illustrate correct training methods. These are to be distributed through the schools, or if latter do not possess a picture machine, a man may possibly travel around with such equipment.

In thus encouraging track sports, a thing which has been going on for five years in the west, the commission does not aim at creating champions but at developing the physique and health of the youth of the province. Speaking personally Mr. Knox thought field sports were better than games to develop individuality. In games an ordinary athlete could carry on with a championship team because he had someone to think for him, but in track sports he had to depend on himself.

Mr. Knox assured the representatives from Napanee that he would visit the town in connection with the scheme.

TAUGHT BY THE KING.

A Lesson Given by Frederick William III. to His Steward.

King Frederick William III. of Prussia was a man of few words. Whatever he had to say was always brief and to the point, as the following anecdote from a foreign journal shows:

The king, who was accustomed to interest himself in all the details of court management, ordered his steward to take special pains to see that all the carriages were amply supplied with food and drink whenever they left for a journey of a day or so, but it sometimes happened that the steward dispatched the drivers without any food, giving them a coin, perhaps, to buy what they wanted. That usually meant that the driver went hungry, as he did not have much opportunity to leave his horses and dine at a restaurant.

At length the king became aware of his steward's failure to carry out his orders and swatted the next opportunity to bring the fact to his attention. He had not long to wait. That night the king stopped his coachman as he entered the courtyard and upon inquiry found that the man had had nothing to eat since breakfast. He held out a dollar in his hand that the steward had given him to buy food with. Without a word the king took the dollar.

He went into the castle and summoned the steward. That worthy appeared immediately and made a profound bow, but as he raised himself up he was surprised to feel a coin placed against his mouth.

"Eat it!" ordered the king.

"But, your majesty, I—"

"Eat it!" the king again roared.

"Why, your majesty, I can't eat it!"

"Oh, you can't? But you expected the coachman to! Well, in the future just remember that—that people eat food, not money. Do you understand?"

The steward understood. In the future the king's coachmen were amply supplied with provisions whenever they went upon a journey.

MAPS ON GLOBES.

The Spheres, Made of Brown Paper, Are Wonderfully Strong.

Few people could say of what substance globe maps are made and would be astonished to hear that brown paper is the chief material used. A matrix of wood is covered with strips of brown paper which have been well smeared with paste. The paper is laid on the matrix until it is about a sixteenth of an inch thick and the globe looks like a round football. When this paper covering is dry it is cut midway between what will be the two poles, removed from the matrix and the north axis has been fixed in it the two hemispheres are glued together. Then this globe of brown paper is coated with a composition plaster, the ingredients of which are a trade secret, and again left to dry.

After being tested to see that it is an exact sphere the meridians are marked on the globe to guide the girls who finish the work. The globe is then fixed in a clamp, which holds its axis, and a girl takes the engraved gores, first ready for use, and pastes them on without overlapping. If the globe is exact the gores should fit so exactly that you cannot see where they are in the completed globe.

When the gores have dried on the globe is colored by a hand process, which is also done by girls, and then polished. The globe is now ready to be mounted on its stand and to have its meridian fitted. Formerly, says the World's Work, when the industry was most flourishing, the metal and wood work connected with the fittings formed separate industries, but today the globe maker does the whole work on his own premises.

It might be mentioned that globes thus made are so strong that a man could stand on one and not break it. Indeed, one cannot break one without using great violence.

Wills in Argentina.

In Argentina the laws provide that a father must leave his children four-fifths of his fortune, and a husband, if he has no children, has to leave half of his property to his wife. An unmarried son is compelled to leave his parents two-thirds of his property, and only unmarried persons without parents or descendants can make wills disposing of their possessions as they see fit.

How Bamboos Bloom.

Bamboo plants are said to have the peculiarity of blooming at exactly the same time, whether in Europe or Africa, the difference in climate and surroundings seeming to make no change in the plants bursting into flower. They bloom rarely, but as they die immediately afterward this cannot be deplored. The plant is said to be extremely graceful and is easily cultivated.

That Sinking Feeling.

Sometimes a simple phrase will tell more than a volume of description. In such a phrase a soldier describes his sensations in going under fire for the first time. "It was," he says, "as if some one had given me a smack below the chest with the flat of a heavy spade."

His Title.

"If it were customary in this country to confer titles upon men who go in for literature, what would I be?" asked a conceited journalist of his senior.

"Baron of Ideas," was the terse reply.

If we could learn to forget by forgiving many a heartache would cease today.

A TRAGIC RETREAT

When the Afghans Lured the British Into the Jaws of Death.

THE EVACUATION OF KABUL.

Of 16,000 Persons Who Left the City Under Pledge of Safety Only One Man, Except a Few Prisoners Taken, Escaped Massacre.

In this wondrous day of wire and wireless we learn, half across the world, the events of the day almost instantaneously, and the very elements carry abroad the news. It is more than romance; it is miracle, but a miracle that may banish forever from the pages of the future historian and romancer one of the most dramatic figures of the past—the messenger bringing first news from the battlefield.

Long even before Pheidippides of Marathon ran to Athens from the immortal battlefield, cried "Victory!" and fell dead the messenger held a place in myth and chronicle that he has maintained for centuries. Sometimes he is merely the swiftest rider or runner, sometimes a hero of the fight, chosen as an honor or bear glad tidings; sometimes a hard pressed refugee, sometimes even a lone survivor.

Lady Elizabeth Thompson, painter of the distinguished woman painter of wartime scenes, of which "The Roll Call" is most famous, once illustrated in her known paintings one of the most tragic episodes in the history of modern England—the arrival of Dr. William Brydon at Jalalabad, Jan. 13, 1842. Her terrible little picture shows the young Scotch surgeon, dazed, desperate, exhausted, clinging half unconscious to his wearied horse as the walls of the city loom in sight.

He had come from Kabul, through the mountains, in midwinter, one of a retreating army of British and native troops, accompanied by swarms of attendants and camp followers. With them at first were also nine English-women, wives of officers, including Florentia, Lady Sale, wife of Sir Robert Sale, the commander at Jalalabad, and his daughter. There were also fourteen children. A long, intricate and hideous series of Afghan treacheries and murders had brought the tremendously outnumbered British in Kabul to the point where evacuation of the city and acceptance of a promised safe conduct to Jalalabad seemed to their leaders the best that could be hoped for, and the retreat began.

But the Afghans did not keep their word, and soon there were no leaders. Before the march was half over there were slain and conditions were so hopeless that the others yielded to a promise to surrender and accepting General himself, General Elphinstone, together with the women and children, into the care of the Afghan chief, Akbar Khan, as hostages, but not until the Kurd Kabul was passed.

The gorge of the Kurd Kabul is a five mile ravine between high mountains, so narrow, lofty and grim that in winter the sun scarcely reaches its depths. That January it was deep in snow, the rocks were glazed with ice, and upon every mountain slope, in every crevasse, behind every boulder, lurked the fanatic Afghan tribesmen, with their long guns and long knives. Weary, crowded, half crippled by frost, the confused and formless masses struggling through the gloomy canyon soon lost all semblance of an army, as the slaughter soon lost all semblance of battle. It became simply the massacre of a rabble, and the snow grew red.

"Three thousand men," says the historian Sir J. W. Kaye, "fell under the fire of the enemy or dropped down perished and exhausted to be slaughtered by Afghan knives. And amid these fearful scenes of carnage, through a shower of matchlock balls, rode English ladies on horseback or in camel panniers, sometimes vainly endeavoring to keep their children beneath their eyes and then losing them in the confusion and bewilderment of the desolating march."

After the general became a captive with the women the rout and slaughter increased in horror. "The Jugdulluk pass—known as the Khurd Kabul—a dark, steep, winding track ascending high among frowning crags, and barricaded at its narrowest point. It was a trap. The fugitives were caught beyond escape. A mere handful emerged alive.

Within sixteen miles of Jalalabad only six of these remained. Before those sixteen miles were covered five of the six had been killed by straggling marauders.

Dr. Brydon alone, one man out of 16,000, reached the goal and bore the awful news.

Later, when England awoke and avenged, the women and children and a few prisoners were rescued. Lady Brydon himself lived to share and survive the famous siege of Lucknow, another terrible episode in British India's history, but one as honorable and inspiring as the retreat from Kabul was humiliating and disastrous Concentrated Sun Rays.

Archimedes once arranged a number of mirrors so as to bring the rays of the sun to a point called a focus, which means a hearth. The heat thus gathered together from the whole horizon is said to have been sufficent to set fire to the Roman ships, which were besieging the harbor of Syracuse.

NAPANEE CHAUTAUQUA

Everett Kemp, Reader-Entertainer, at the Chautauqua

EVERETT KEMP

Everett Kemp, noted reader-entertainer, will be one of the enjoyable attractions at the coming Dominion Chautauqua. He is known for his outstanding ability both as an interpreter of an entire play or book and as a reader of shorter numbers. His reputation extends from coast to coast.

In Mr. Kemp's repertoire are included such favorites as "Sevenoaks," by J. G. Holland; "The Music Master," by Klein and "That Printer of Udell's," by Harold Bell Wright. A program of miscellaneous readings is also among Mr. Kemp's offerings.

Whether in the presentation of an entire play, a reading of a well-known book, or a miscellaneous program, Everett Kemp is always enthusiastically acclaimed.

Mr. Kemp appeared on this great Chautauqua circuit two years ago, and was so popular that, in response to numerous requests, he is making a second tour of the circuit. His program this year will be entirely different to that which he presented before.

Police-Sergeant—"Is the man dangerously wounded?"

Constable—"Two of the wounds are fatal, but the other one isn't so bad."

"With the object of becoming a naturalized citizen, one Jacob Provinsky filled out a naturalization form. Three of the questions he answered thus:

"Name—Jacob Provinsky.
"Born—Yes.
"Business—Rotten."

Mistress—"Now, Bridget, there's no use in further argument as to how the dish should be prepared. But our ideas on the subject are so different that it is evident one or the other of us is crazy."

Bridget—"I'll be for you, mum; an' shure it isn't yerself would be kaping a crazy cook."

The orator was holding forth at the street corner. He was trying to convince the crowd that drought was a punishment for the sins of the people.

"What would you say," he asked, "if I were to assure you that very soon all the rivers of the world will dry up?"

"Go thou and do likewise," came a voice from the back of the crowd.

A prisoner was in the dock on a serious charge of stealing, and the case having been presented to the court by the prosecuting solicitor, he was ordered to stand up.

"Have you a lawyer" asked the court.

"No, sir."

"Are you able to employ one?"

"No, sir."

"Do you want a lawyer to defend the case?"

"Not particular, sir."

"Well, what did you propose to do about the case?"

"We—ll—ll," with a yawn, as if wearied of the theme, "I'm willin' to drop the case, far's I'm concerned."

GIBRALTAR.

The Rock That Guards the Mouth of the Mediterranean.

Gibraltar was captured by the British July 24, 1704, and from that day has not been out of British hands.

At first little was thought of the importance of this stronghold. For the succeeding nine years the Spaniards made repeated attempts to recapture it. On one occasion they nearly succeeded.

A French and Spanish force having been collected on the isthmus that joins the rock to the mainland, a gunherd offered to show them a path up the sloping sides of the rock, which he had reason to believe was unknown to the British. This offer was accepted.

Five hundred troops ascended quietly one night and took shelter in a hollow called by the Spaniards "the little chair." At daybreak next morning they ascended higher, took the signal station, killed the guard and anxiously looked for expected re-enforcements. The re-enforcements failed to arrive. The armed garrison sallied out and drove the invaders down the rock. The "little chair" was filled up and the place made stronger than ever.

All subsequent attempts to capture the rock have failed. One of them was a siege by Spain and France, beginning in 1779 and not terminating until September, 1783.

The rock of Gibraltar takes on a more important bearing than ever in these days of big guns because of its commanding position at the mouth of the Mediterranean, where that sea is little more than twenty miles wide.—Exchange.

LITTLE ANDORRA.

The Tiny Republic That Nestles In a Nook In the Pyrenees.

Andorra is a republic of 175 square miles situated in the valley of the same name in the Eastern Pyrenees. It forms an irregular little square plug between France and Spain and is a hotbed for smugglers plying between the two countries. It needs a semi-independent existence under the protectorate of France and the Bishop of Urgel, Spain. Charlemagne declared it independent in return for its services against the Moors.

In 1278 it was transferred to the Comte de Foix and the Bishopric of Urgel. During the French revolution, relations between it and France were interrupted, on account of the refusal of France to accept the annual tribute, which was considered incompatible with a republican form of government. In 1806, however, the former relations were renewed, and free importation of cereals, made necessary by the limited area of Andorra, was allowed by the French on payment of a small tribute of 960 francs.

Andorra is governed by a council of twenty-four members elected for four years by the heads of the communities. The revenue is derived from loads and a few taxes. The manner of life is very simple. Every alcoholded male is liable to military service between the ages of sixteen and sixty. The capital is Andorra, with about 3,000 inhabitants. The total population is about 6,000 and remains practically stationary.

Expecting Another Drop.

Some time ago Mrs. Green called on her friend, Mrs. White, and, after clutching, kissing and saying how dreadfully delighted they were to see each other, they turned to the interesting topics of the day.

"By the way," said Mrs. Green after a time, "I haven't heard anything about Eva's divorce lately. I wonder what has become of it?"

"I heard a few days ago that she had dropped all proceedings," answered Mrs. White.

"Dropped all proceedings?" was the wondering rejoinder of Mrs. Green. "You don't really mean it?"

"Yes," returned Mrs. White. "Her husband has taken to aeroplaning, and she has decided to let the thing adjust itself."

Interesting Comparison.

"It beats all how some folks play favorites," remarked Farmer Corntossel. "I jes' been to see Ezra Hankins."

"How's he gettin' along since he hurt his foot?"

"He's purty glum. The doctor charged him $100 for cuttin' his foot off. An' when the railroad cut off Uncle Jake's foot the company paid him $800 in cash. Maybe these great corporations don't as grapple as some people says."

Force of Habit.

"See here, boss, I ordered tripe and beans, with coffee, and the waitress has brought me a lettuce sandwich and a cup of weak tea."

"You must excuse her, sir. All due to absentmindedness. She's a former society girl, and she can't seem to grasp the idea that a quick lunch is not a function."

Presence of Mind.

"That woman over there looks as if she were painted."

"Sir, that is my wife."

"I had not finished my sentence. She looks as if she were painted by Raphael and had just stepped out of the frame."—Exchange.

Risky.

COWS FOR THE SETTLER

THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT IS HELPING NORTHERN FARMERS

The Northland Produces Much Hay —It Is Best Sold on the Hoof or In Milk — Settlers May Purchase Cattle Cheaply—Wireworm Poison.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Few people in Old Ontario who have not travelled through the northern part of the province realize that there is a territory lying north of New Liskeard and west of Cochrane that will in the near future become one of the most important producing agricultural areas of the province. The country adjacent to the railway is now cleared or being cleared to such an extent that the settlers are no longer dependent upon their timber or pulp wood for revenue, but are now engaged in farming proper. Many farms, especially in the New Liskeard section, are entirely cleared of bush and the while acreage is either under cultivation or in hay and pasture.

Northland Produces Much Hay.

With the wonderful producing power of this new land there is an exceptionally rapid growth of vegetation and hay is now being produced in such quantities that it is with difficulty that a market can be found for the entire production. So much is this so that every year in June, stacks of 1924 hay may be seen as one travels along the railway. Similar conditions have been producing hay alone, but have been getting into live stock raising as rapidly as circumstances and conditions would permit. This is evidenced by the fact that between New Liskeard and Cochrane there are creameries at the following points: New Liskeard, Ramore, Earlton, Matheson, Val Gagne and Cochrane.

Ready Money Scarce With Settlers.

As was the case with settlers in Old Ontario so it is in most cases with settlers in Northern Ontario—they have very little ready cash as their earnings have been used in clearing the land consequently the Ontario Government is assisting the settlers financially in the building of creameries and in the purchase of cows. Such assistance is being given on business principles only, that is, the money for the building of creameries and the purchase of cows is being loaned to the settlers at a moderate rate of interest and under certain conditions.

Purchase of Cows.

Briefly speaking, the new policy of the Department of Lands and Forests, through the Northern Development Branch, is co-operating with the Department of Agriculture through the Live Stock Branch, is as follows:—Cattle are to be purchased in carload lots only.

Settlers are to appoint a Representative to select the animals, and are to authorize him to act on their behalf in such selection and in deciding as to price.

Settlers are required to sign an application form to this effect agreeing to pay for the animals and liens against their farm for unpaid balances.

Government will appoint a representative of the Department of Agriculture to accompany settlers' representative and assist him in selection of cattle.

Government will advance full amount of money to pay for cattle at Ontario points, plus cost of shipping and time of purchase and to prepay transportation charges and to pay expenses of settlers' representative.

Settlers will be charged $12 per cow to defray the transportation charges and the cost of their own representative. This flat rate will mean a saving of several dollars per cow to the settlers, and will give them the advantage of knowing exactly what these costs will amount to.

The total cost to the settler will be the amount paid for the stock purchased for his plus $12 per head for each other animal.

Upon delivery the settlers will be required to pay at least 25 per cent. of this total cost and as much more as he is able.

Interest at 6 per cent. will be charged on unpaid balances and payments are required at the rate of $3 per cow per month, and the settler shall give a promissory note to this effect and a lien against his farm.

Repayments may be made to the creamery or to such other local office as may be designated in the community.—L. E. O'Neill, Live Stock Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Cut-Worm Poison.

Bran, 25 lbs.
Paris Green or White Arsenic, 1 lb.
Molasses, 1 gal.
Water, 2 gals.

Mix the bran and poison together dry in a large vessel. Add the molasses to water. Stir well and then pour the liquid over the poison bran mixture and stir well. The mixture will fall through the fingers. Apply half a teaspoonful near each plant at dusk and early next morning. Chickens keep away.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

Sweet Clover Hay.

A recent press bulletin from the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster states that where any other suitable crop can be grown it is best not to use sweet clover hay. As it is a hollow stemmed, coarse growing plant, it is rather hard to cure sweet clover hay enough to get the best results at the right moment, which is usually during the rainy period of early summer. As a soil builder, however, sweet clover is one of our most valuable plants, while few legumes exceed it as a soil builder.

KEEP COW FEELING FIT

SUMMER DISEASES IT IS NECESSARY TO GUARD AGAINST.

Method of Detection and Methods of Treatment Are Herein Outlined—Black Leg Is From Soil Germ—Methods of Vaccination.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Black Leg, Black Water, Quarter Ill and Quarter Evil are common names applied to a disease that takes its toll in young cattle from many herds each year. From July to October fatalities are most numerous. Vigorous young animals, physically in good condition one day may be found lying stiff and cold the next. When post mortem is performed and the swellings opened the affected tissues present a dirty brown or dark red color and a frothy liquid with a peculiar sickly odor is exuded. The tissue surrounding the swellings show a straw-colored appearance and the lymph glands are congested. Previous to death the swellings occurring in the region of the hind quarters, or over the shoulders or along the neck are very painful and the animal manifests severe lameness.

The Disease.

Black Leg is caused by the Bacillus Chauvei, an organism that inhabits the soil, and is most troublesome on low lying, poorly drained pasture lands. Fields with small areas of swamp, and scrubby shrub growth seem to harbor the organism in greater numbers and to favor the conditions for its destructive work.

Animals Attacked.

Susceptibility under natural pasture conditions is confined to cattle from three months to three years old. Yearlings are most affected. Calves fed on milk and not allowed to graze are rarely affected. Calves at pasture are readily affected. Sheep are susceptible but not as much so as cattle. Humans, horses and pigs are virtually immune. Stabled cattle are rarely affected. The bacillus gains entrance into the animal body through a small wound or scratch or by ingestion with feed.

Symptoms.

Once the organism gains entrance into the tissues and successfully establishes itself it develops the diseased condition very rapidly. The course and duration are very short, death occurring in from one-half to three days. The first noticed symptom is the animal standing away from the herd or the flock. If moved it shows a severe lameness. Soon after lameness appears, swellings develop in the region of the hips and shoulders and over the neck. Swellings may develop anywhere, but usually where the muscles are large. At first the swellings are hot and painful, but subsequently become less tender. The skin in the centre of the swollen area becomes cold, dark colored and dry like a piece of leather. These swellings when pressed give a crackling sound, due to the air or gas present. Swellings may form on the throat and thoracic wall or may be confined to the head and throat. In addition to the characteristic swellings, systematic disturbances, as loud beating of the heart, labored breathing, high fever and abdominal pain may be noticeable. Finally the affected animal becomes prostrated, lies on its side and appears greatly bloated. Once prostrated, death usually follows in a few hours.

Treatment.

Once an animal is infected, treatment is unsuccessful, because the disease is so rapidly fatal. Many stock owners, especially those that have suffered loss, have proved the value of protective vaccination and practice the method of protective immunization on all cattle under three years of age, every spring before the animals are turned out to pasture. The vaccination of a herd with a reliable Black Leg vaccine can be done in a very small cost, and it gives perfect protection during the pasture season. Immunization against the Black Leg disease is strongly recommended to all stock owners living in districts where young cattle have died, as it wipe overnight, while at pasture.

Methods of Vaccination In Use.

(1) Pellet, Cord and Powder forms of vaccine.
(2) Standardized liquid vaccine.
(3) Natural Black Leg agressin.
(4) Black Leg Filtrate—or artificial agressin.

All are effective. The pellet form is the most convenient. The Natural Black Leg Agressin is most favored for its higher efficiency.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Feeding the Boar.

The quantity of meal to feed a boar will vary with circumstances. During the season when he is used most, he will require liberal treatment. He should be liberally fed more than he will eat up clean before leaving the trough. During comparatively idle seasons a very light meal ration will be sufficient, and if on good pasture he will require but little meal in addition. It is entirely a matter of judgment, and the feeder must be guided by the condition of the boar. It is never wise to make sudden changes in the ration —that is, to change suddenly from a heavy ration to a light one, or from a heavy ration to a light one. Changes should be made gradually, and if the boar is allowed to run when the heaviest season commences should start in plenty of time to procure the boar for it.

A Banknote 4,000 Years Old.

Banknotes have been current in Europe only within the last three centuries, but the Chinese have used them for over 4,000 years. The Asiatic museum of St. Petersburg has just retired a banknote issued in Pekin in the year 2800 B.C., in many respects similar to those now in use. It is of thick white paper, inscribed in blue ink, with the number of the note, the name of the bank and the date of issue, the cashier's signature and the value in words as well as in figures. In addition the following sage counsel is engraved round the border: "However much you may possess, strive to be thrifty."

Agreed With Her.

After an all night session with the boys, a husband wended his way home, arriving there at about 5 a.m. He found his wife waiting for him in the dining room, the confusion of furniture indicated that she had been having an unhappy time.

"This is a nice time for you to be coming home!" snapped the wife.

"Yes," assented the erring husband; "it's a lovely morning."

"I haven't slept a wink this blessed night!" with a severe look.

"Neither have I," said the husband.

Why a Cat's Eyes Shine In the Dark.

The cat's eyes shine in the dark not because they produce light, but because they reflect all the light that may exist. In the case of a cat in a totally dark room one cannot see its eyes; this is only when there is at least a glimmer of light that these glow. The cat's eyes is a powerful lens with a reflector behind. This gathers the rays and concentrates them in a horizontal beam. It is possible that these shining eyes exercise a sort of hypnotic fascination over mice and rats.

Properly Situated.

"No, sir; that be at the top of the hill," replied the native boy.

"Dear, dear!" exclaimed the tourist; "that must be a mile away. Why didn't they fight it in this field?"

"I suppose because this 'ere field belongs to Farmer Johnson. He never would lend his land for anything, not even for the village sports."

those of the Sahara. He will deliver this unusual lecture clad in typical Moorish costume.

Mr. Arnold is peculiarly familiar with his subject. He has lived many years in the deserts of Asia and Africa and studied the Arab in many lands. He has a rarely intimate understanding of the Arab mind. He is, moreover, a speaker of startling clarity who presents, through the eyes of a cultured gentleman, a thrilling panorama of the subtle and enthralling lands of caravans and desert sheiks.

HAREM SYSTEM OF MOROCCO.

Cruelty and Oppression Almost Beyond Human Imagination.

Remarkable revelations of the extent of the Moorish slave trade and of harem life were made recently by Mme Legey, a French doctor, who lives at Marrakesh, Morocco. That plenum the centre of Moorish slavery and there is a great slave market authorized and controlled by the Makhzen, the Moorish parliament, thousands of men, women and children are bought and sold like cattle. Babies are frequently torn from the arms of sobbing mothers, who never see them again.

"None can form an idea of the Moorish harem and the number of women concealed behind the walls," says Mme Legey. "I have seen a single harem of more than 500 women. Moulay Hafid, the late Sultan of Morocco, even men of small means possessing sometimes more than 20 wives.

"The Sultan's harem surpasses the imagination. Besides the women she possesses at Fez, he has at Marrakesh in reserve more than 3,000 females. The royal harem at Marrakesh has a special organization of its own. Each town and each tribe has its debt to pay in women to this modern Minotaur. The women are classed according to their place of origin. They live in groups in separate pavilions under the control of female wardens. This enormous female population is constantly added to by the contributions from Kaids who have offended the Sultan and wish to propitiate him.

"I can personally testify to the silent misery of the poor creatures who swarm in the Moorish harems and the revoltingly cruel treatment they undergo for the smallest offences. They have absolutely no real protection from the most savage treatment. They have no work to do except in the case of domestic servants, and in accordance with Moorish traditions, receive no education. There are one long round of unbroken monotony, whereof, to my knowledge, they suffer cruelly. It is the duty of France as soon as possible to abolish slavery in Morocco. Then the harems will be deprived of the supply of women and will disappear gradually, as was the case in Algeria."

Better Than the "Verses."

Children, as a rule, have a natural sense of courtesy too often misunderstood or depreciated by the unthinking adult. For some strange and incomprehensible reason the child who is brusque and blunt is apt to be dubbed "natural," while the budding man or woman of gentle tact and sweet politeness sometimes is discouraged by the prevailing belief that such conduct must be insincere. Yet the simplest little citizen often infrequently rise to an unexpected or trying situation with surprising, but quite untutored, grace and dignity. A pretty little tale is told, for instance, of the time when the present Dowager Queen Marghere of Italy, then a young bride of the youthful crown prince, Victor Emmanuel, was passing down one of the hill towns, was accorded the usual reception by the residents. A little boy was in charge of the usual bouquet, and he, coming of fine literary family, had been taught a brief poem composed in useful praise of princess. But when the moment came for delivering flowers and verses the little fellow, overcome by nervousness or some similar emotion, stood mutely gazing at the great lady, saying never a word. After a few moments the sympathetic princess, seeking to relieve the situation, extended her hand for the flowers.

The little fellow, waking to life suddenly, handed them gracefully, explaining confidentially the while:

"There were verses to be said, but you are so beautiful that I can't remember a line!"

Greedy Dogfish.

A story is going the rounds in which four anglers were occupied with one fish, a big mackerel. It took the bait of one of them and then proceeded to entangle the four lines, so that it seems the lines were four fish. I dare say it came in for some hard sayings when the truth was made manifest. But it is not uncommon for fish to take two different baits. I have known it to happen with both parch and pike. Dogfish, of course, will often do it. In fact, I doubt if there is a limit to the number of baits one fish would take if you only gave him the baits and the time and the opportunity.—London Telegraph.

A Rapid Heart Beat.

Along with many other discoveries of greater or less importance scientific research have proved the law that the rapidity of the heart beat is in inverse ratio to an animal's size. Thus, in a man it is about seventy-two to the minute, whereas in the elephant it is only thirty, and in the horse forty. The dog's pulse, on the other hand, shows about ninety beats to the minute, and the rabbit's over 150. Most remarkable of all, the heart pulsation of a mouse have recently been counted and recorded by an ingenious machine and found to number nearly 700 every minute.

Easy Way.

An attendant at a certain institute for the deaf and dumb was undergoing a pointless rapid fire inquisition at the hands of a female visitor.

"But how do you summon these poor children to church?" she asked finally, with what was meant to be a pitying glance at the inmates near by.

"By ringing the dumb bells, madam," answered the interpreted attendant.—London Answers.

Swiss as They Talk.

Many of the Swiss regard themselves as great linguists. I asked one gentleman the reason for this, and he replied to tell me. He seemed, for some reason, to be offended at the question. Another native I met told me he spoke seven languages; to me it seemed as if he spoke them all at once. I knew a little of German myself and was quite interested in listening to him. For some reason I had in mind of a patchwork quilt trying to talk—one of those crazy ones.—Wide World Magazine.

POISON IVY.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Year after year as folks fare forth to camp or summer cottage in quest of poison ivy revives. Many have yet to learn to recognize these low, bushy, slightly woody-stemmed plants, rising from long rootstocks at or just below ground level, and bearing the characteristic leaves of triple, smoothish, pointed leaflets, and frequently the old clusters of round, whitish fruits beneath them.

Failing to recognize and avoid the plants, many people, susceptible to poisoning, find themselves presently interested in remedies. Few seem to be aware that on contact with the sap, or even with shoes, tools, etc., that have been in contact, they should promptly remove all traces of its virulent oil by freely lathering the skin with strong soap, and rinsing under hot running, or constantly changed water. Inflammation resulting from unsuspected exposure, or neglect of the precautions, may be relieved by applying solutions of baking soda or Epsom salts, one or two teaspoonfuls to a cup of water, and bandaging. Various elaborate treatments are offered which are seldom any more helpful, or so readily available.

It is surprising how few efforts are made to clean up ivy from constantly frequented public and private grounds. Though eradication is bound to be laborious, there are plenty of people who could safely work at it. In hard or rocky ground, wherever injury to the soil does not matter, dry salt or strong brine might be applied before growth becomes too dense, or after mowing it with a scythe. Caustic soda and other poisonous chemicals are also recommended. As a rule, however, direct removal of the rootstocks from the soil, by means of grubbing hoe, potato hook, digging or ploughing, when possible, is preferable. Sometimes when growing in leaf mold or rich soil, astonishingly long strands of rootstocks can be dragged out intact. This is most safely and easily done when spring growth commences. Small patches have thus been cleared up at one operation, which would have required repeated spraying.

Special Music at St. Andrew's.

Last Sunday morning at St. Andrew's, a male sixtette led in the service of song, much to the edification and pleasure of the united congregation. For an anthem they sang Ham's "I heard the Voice of Jesus Say". The sixtette consisted of Mr. H. Rathbun, Mr. Pierce and Mr. Tumcliff, of Deseronto, and Mr. J. Caldwell, Mr. Reginald Wiseman and Mr. Jas. Craig, of Napanee. The voices blended beautifully, and the whole was splendidly balanced.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Harry Johnston.

Mrs. Harry Johnston, of Adolphustown, passed suddenly away on Wednesday morning, at the home of Mrs. W. C. Scott, Napanee. Mrs. Johnston came to Napanee Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Allison, to meet a visitor who was coming on the East-bound train. Before going to the train they called at the home of Mrs. W. C. Scott meet Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Scott's daughter who is home on a visit. From there she, along with Mrs. Allison, went to the station, promising to return for lunch.

While waiting for the train to come in Mrs. Johnston took what at the time seemed a fainting spell and became unconscious. She was taken back to Mrs. Scott's, and medical aid immediately secured. But from the first the Doctors held out no hope for her recovery, and without regaining consciousness she passed away on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Johnston had been apparently in the best of health and had no warning whatsoever of the pending trouble. The attack which was diagnosed as acute sugar diabetes, took her with remarkable suddenness.

The body was taken to the home of Miss Clara Johnston, sister-in-law of the deceased, and from there the funeral is to be held on Friday morning.

Among those left to survive are her husband, Harry Johnston, Isaac Brisco, her brother, her mother, Mrs. Brisco, and her sister-in-law, Miss Clara Johnston, of Napanee.

BASEBALL

This was the Circle Six's first defeat of the season, having won all their League games, and also beaten such good teams as Gananoque and Kingston St. Lawrence League teams, as well as the C. O. B. Seniors.

Daverne and Prout pitched for the home team and did good work. Lawless and Smith pitched for Kingston. Lawless had one bad innings, five runs scoring, including a home run by C. Daverne with two on. Smith was touched up for three runs. In the last innings he forced in the winning run by hitting two batsmen with two men on bases. This game will put Adolphustown on edge for their home game against Tamworth, on Saturday, the 25th.

HUFF FAMILY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA

Paul and Solomon Huff were two U. E. Loyalists who came over to this country after the War of Independence, and settled in Adolphustown, June 16th, 1784. Paul Huff is entitled to a great deal of the credit for the erection of the first Methodist Church in Upper Canada. He gave the land upon which to erect it, off his farm at Adolphustown, contributed ten pounds and personally assisted in its erection, in 1792, and the old church is still standing, a monument to the piety, self sacrifice and loyalty of the early pioneers.

J. B. Huff of Brighton, was appointed as special representative of the Association to attend the celebration at Belleville next August of the 110 years of peace between Canada and the United States. Plans are being made for a big re-union of the Huff Family at Belleville during the Peace Celebration on Tuesday evening, August 4th, on the Court House grounds.

THE GIRLS' CAMP AT VARTY LAKE

In spite of rather disagreeable weather, punctuated by two thunder storms, camp life went on in the daily routine. Work had to be done even if it did rain, and where there are a lot of young people together, a bit of bad weather does not dampen their ardor.

The bell rang at seven o'clock and the camp was humming in a few minutes with busy people preparing for the day's work. Breakfast over, the girls made ready their tents for inspection. This was attended to so carefully as possible because a pennant was given for the neatest tent, and everyone was anxious to carry home a trophy.

Each day was fully occupied with what is called the four-fold life. The motto of C. G. I. T. work is taken from the passage in Scripture, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." The work was arranged in such a way as to give a portion of time to each side of the motto and so train the girls to follow in the steps of Jesus and the motto mentioned.

An hour in the morning was devoted to Bible study, which was interesting and instructive. The intellectual side was taken up by nature study and camp craft. The physical was carried on by swimming, hiking and morning exercises. The girls met in social activities all through the day, culminating in the big camp fire at night, where each and every girl took an active part in the evening entertainment. Skits, songs, plays, stories and recitations were part of the programme, while even a circus was put on Friday night. The group from each tent provided an act for this circus. This was most enjoyable, as some of the acts were really very clever, and one wondered where all the circus attire hailed from, and at the ability of these young people to meet any programme assigned to them.

On Saturday morning everyone was busy making down tents, packing luggage and "hunting up" lost articles. Every girl was rather downhearted to see the tents go down and camp break up, because everyone had such an enjoyable time. The sentiment and good spirit which prevailed through a camp, run on such basis, cannot help but make the girls who attend, leave, feeling that they have learned something more and that there is something more to live for.

Automobile Caught Fire

The occupants of a Ford car had an experience that they won't forget for some time. The owner of the car, Mr. Ruttan, when passing through the village, stopped at Foster's garage for gasoline, and while the tank was being filled, the driver smoked a cigarette, with the result that the cushions and top of the car were burned. It was only by the quick work of willing hands the car would have been a total wreck. The ladies in the car escaped with a bad scare.

TAMWORTH

Excitement ran high at Tamworth on Wednesday at the ball game between Odessa and Tamworth, the score being 9-7 in favor of the latter. The game was over about 5 p.m., when a fight took place between one of the Odessa players and one of our town boys over an old grudge from the last game. Schuyler Kennedy, acting as High County Constable, tried to part them, and in the excitement he was taken very ill and died from heart failure. Dr. Burrows, of Marlbank, and Dr. Hellowell, of Arden, worked for an hour or more, more, but life was extinct. There were about five hundred people on the grounds.—Patrick Murphy died on Friday, aged 87 years. The funeral was held on Sunday at the R. C. Church.—Mr. and Mrs. E. A number of sacred musical selections will be rendered by special talent.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH SPORT IN NAPANEE?

To the Editor of The Beaver:

The sporting fans in Napanee have been growing less every year, and unless something is done to encourage the boys, sport in the little "burg" will become a thing of the past.

Now take the case of our baseball club. Personally I think it was premature to enter Napanee in the St. Lawrence League, where I think I am safe in saying the majority of the opposition are "semi pros." I don't say our boys are not in their class as ball players, for I am confident if they were given the same support and encouragement as some working conditions they would give any team in the league a run for their money. I think I can prove this statement by drawing your attention to the last two games our boys played; the last game in particular, when they shut out their opponents on their own grounds. The game at the Driving Park was considered one of the best, if not the best, game of ball seen in Napanee for years, unfortunately, however, played before the poorest attendance I have ever seen. The gate receipts being about $7.00. Now this is poor encouragement for the boys, who endeavor to give their services for the benefit of sport. Is it any wonder then that the club in question should find themselves in financial difficulties before the end of the season? Where are the remedies? True, they come to our assistance when we call on them for a donation to aid us out of our financial difficulties; but that is not sport, that is charity, and no club wants to be classed as an object of charity. The merchants may not think so, but I can prove it, that a good ball team is the best advertisement any town could have. We have the material, all we want is your support. If you fail us now, I can see it coming that the best of our boys will be offered inducements to play in some other town where they encourage sport.

Let me now draw your attention to lacrosse. I hear some of you ask—"What is Lacrosse?" Well, we have been trying to revive Canada's National Game in Napanee. Unfortunately, however, like baseball, we lack the support, and were it not for the enthusiasm of the boys themselves and a few of the sports of Napanee, I am afraid it would die a natural death. We are very fortunate, more so than our baseball brothers, in the matter of outside support. You can start to-night by attending the ball game at the Driving Park at 5.30, between Brockville and Napanee.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor.

BELL PRESENTED TO BATH CHURCH

Historic Building to Contain Bell Originally Hung in Napanee Church. — Ceremonies at Laying of Corner Stone Concluded With Program of Addresses.

Following the luncheon in the Town Hall, Bath, on Thursday of last week, to which over 500 persons participated in the impressive ceremonies held that morning at the laying of the corner stone of St. John's Church, sat down, addresses were delivered on the school lawn, from a platform erected for the occasion, to a very large number of people.

The first speaker on the afternoon's program was Rev. W. E. Kidd, who represented St. George's Cathedral Parish. Mr. Kidd congratulated the Parish of Bath and the rector on their efforts to rebuild their church, and called attention to the fact that the history of St. John's and that of the Cathedral of St. George's, were very similar in many respects. Both congregations were originally organized by United Empire Loyalists; both had suffered heavy losses through fire; and the year 1925 saw St. John's commencing the work of re-construction, while St. George's is making an effort to pay off a heavy building debt.

Mr. E. J. Sexsmith, M.P., was the next speaker, and he also complimented and congratulated the rector and people of St. John's Church. Mr. Sexsmith spoke on the duties of "good citizenship", calling attention to the influence exerted in this connection by the Church.

Rev. Canon Woodcock, Bishop's Commissary in the Diocese of Ontario, was the next speaker, who added still further words of congratulation and encouragement for the rector and people of St. John's in the great work they have undertaken.

Mr. Aylesworth, of Deseronto, was another speaker, who dealt with the history of the United Empire Loyalist settlements, paying a great tribute to the pioneer stock who did so much towards the development of the Dominion.

Presented With a Church Bell.

The last speaker on the afternoon's program was Rev. Rural Dean Coleman, of Napanee, who called attention to the fact that the Parish of Napanee was founded by the first rector of St. John's, Bath, Rev. John Langhorne.

Dean Coleman presented St. John's Church, Bath, with a bell, the gift of the Napanee Church. This bell was originally placed in the Napanee Church in memory of the Rev. F. T. Dibb, at one time rector of Bath, and later vicar of Napanee, and will hang in St. John's Church, Bath, on its completion.

A splendid program of music was rendered during the afternoon by the Napanee Male Quartette, the proceedings, for which a great throng of people from all over the country gathered in the village, being concluded by the singing of "God Save the King".

ELLEN GRACE McDONALD.

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the sufferer. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation, so that besides being an effective vermifuge they are tonical and health-giving in their effects.

There are all sorts of ways of putting things, and some sound much better than others. For example, there is the case of the man of whom Lord Coleridge used to tell, whose father was hanged for highway robbery. Some one asked him how his father died.

"Sir," said he, "he fell from a scaffold outside Newgate while he was talking to a clergyman."

VALUABLE RUBBISH.

Fortunes Made Now in What Was Once Looked Upon as Refuse.

A gold mine in a refuse heap may sound strange, but it is a fact, for many things once considered mere waste are now a source of more wealth than an ordinary gold mine would yield.

In the earlier days of gas lighting the coal tar was regarded as a horrible nuisance and surreptitiously got rid of. Then the great discovery was made that all the hose of the rainbow dwelt in this dirty looking stuff which men despised and threw away, and it is sold at various prices for different purposes some one began collecting it and refining it. The result was pure glycerin.—London Answers.

INDIA'S GREAT POET.

Plain Living and High Thinking Rule His Existence.

In "Rabindranath Tagore," by Basanta Koomar Roy, is this picture of the simple life of the great poet and seer of India, who won the Nobel prize for literature:

"Tagore himself lives alone in a house. He gets up with the morning bell, sometimes before, and takes his morning bath, goes on the roof and loses himself in meditation for hours at a time. In this house he quite often cooks his own meals in an 'economic cooker.' He does not eat much. Boiled rice, boiled potatoes, cauliflower or beans, enough of butter are all that he cares to eat. He is not fond of milk or sweets. He takes long walks for exercise and is fond of gardening.

"Plain living and high thinking is the keynote of his life at Bolpur. He preaches to the boys and to the teachers twice a week in the temple. His love for the children is of an idealistic nature. At times one of them will steal into his room and watch him smile and move his head to and fro as he writes or thinks over a poem. One such boy startled him by exclaiming, 'That's how the madmen do.'

"'Yes, my child, poets are worse than madmen. When did you come into the room?'

"'Testing an Explosive.

One of the most dangerous of explosives is iodide of nitrogen, a black powder which the slightest touch will cause to explode when dry with great violence. In experiments to determine the cause of its extreme explosiveness some damp iodide of nitrogen was rubbed on the strings of a bass viol. It is known that the strings of such an instrument will vibrate when those of a similar instrument having an equal tension are played upon. In this case, after the explosive had become thoroughly dry upon the strings, another bass viol was brought near and the strings sounded. At a certain note the iodide of nitrogen on the prepared instrument exploded. It was found that the explosion occurred only when a rate of vibration of sixty a second was communicated to the prepared strings. Vibration of the G string caused an explosion, while that of the F string had no effect.

Rub It In for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

A few years ago the slogan was, "Swat the Fly". Now nearly everyone just sprays with Fly Tox or Liquid Suppho, and almost instantly the flies disappear. A sprayer free with each bottle. For sale at Wallace's.

Archie was telling his mother about a telephone call he had answered while she was out. "I think it was an old man, mother," he said, "cause his voice sounded wrinkled."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Elmer D. MacArthur, who departed this life on August 5th, 1924.

In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave;
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
Tried so hard but could not save.
Days of sorrow still come o'er us,
Tears of sadness often flow;
When we think of you, dear Elmer,
Whom we lost one year ago.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Man has one advantage. As the weather grows warmer he can discard something.

Sophie—"Did you hear about the woman who had triplets one day and twins the next?

Sophie—"Yeh; one of 'em died."

Teacher — George Washington would not tell a lie. Don't you want to be like him, Tommy?
Tommy—No, miss.
Teacher—Why not?
Tommy—He's dead.

She—"But, George, I can't marry you at once. You see, if I did I should have to give up my situation, and I'm getting £4 a week there."
He—"No, my darling; I wouldn't dream of asking you to do that! I'm only getting £2 a week—I'll give up mine."

Smith—"You say the speculation has proved a failure?"
Jones—"A total failure."
Smith—"But I thought you said there was a fortune in it?"
Jones (with a groan)—"So there is. Mine!"

"Come, now," said the teacher, "Tommy, will you point out Australia to the class?"
Tommy did so.
"Who discovered Australia, George?" asked the teacher.
"Tommy did," was the reply.

Teacher—"Now, Billy, will five go into one?"
Billy—"Yes, sir."
Teacher—"How do you mean, you stupid boy?"
Billy—"Well, I put five toes into one stocking every morning."

Kaydet—"How old are you, Percy?"
Penuce—"Why I am eighteen, Jack."
Kaydet—"Eighteen! Why you told me that five years ago."

Weather Pranks

Oddities of Atmosphere, Clouds, Fogs and Lightning.

THIRSTY WINDS OF THE ALPS.

They Drink Up All Moisture So Quickly That Everything Becomes as Dry as Tinder—Andes Lightning and the Fire Ship of the Bay of Chaleur.

Cloud caps form on mountain tops when a current of moist air ascends the slope of the mountain, for the air cools as it rises and the moisture in it condenses.

On the flat top of Table mountain, near Cape Town, a strong southeast wind produces a horizontal sheet of cloud known as the "tablecloth." This cloud often appears to pour over the steep leeward side of the mountain like a mighty cataract. The "spreading of the tablecloth" is a sign of fine weather. At a little distance from the mountain a second cloud often forms.

A similar pair of clouds often seen near Cross fell, in England, are known as the "helm and hat." The helm, or helmet, forms over the mountain when a violent wind known as the "helm wind" is blowing. The hat appears a mile or two to leeward.

At Callao, on the coast of Peru, sailors often encounter a foul smelling fog that deposits a brown slimy coating on white paint and metal and bruce is called the "painter."

Another remarkable fog on the Peruvian coast is known as the "garua." It occurs in a region where rain is unknown and supplies sufficient moisture to support vegetation.

Red fogs frequently occur off the northwest coast of Africa, between the Canaries and the Cape Verde Islands. They are sometimes so dense as to make navigation difficult. The color is owing to dust that the trade wind brings from the Sahara desert.

Certain valleys in the Alps are often visited by a very warm and dry wind known as the "fohn." The effects of this wind are particularly striking in winter. The snow melts and evaporates as if by magic; woodwork becomes as dry as tinder, and great precautions are necessary to prevent the occurrence of the disastrous fires known as "fohn fires" that often destroy whole towns and villages. No cooking is permitted while the fohn is blowing, and not even a pipe or a cigarette may be lighted. Many persons suffer with "fohn sickness" when ever this wind prevails. The chinook of the western United States is similar in character and origin to the fohn.

Over the waters of the bay of Chaleur, in Canada, a mysterious phenomenon known as the "fire ship" is sometimes seen by night. It is a roughly hemispherical mass of luminosity, with its flat side to the water, but sometimes it rises in slender moving columns that resemble the flaming rigging of a ship. It is supposed to foretell a storm. No satisfactory explanation of this phenomenon has ever been given.

"Andes lightning" is the name given to a very striking luminous discharge of electricity seen over the crest of the Andes, in Chile, in a region where ordinary thunderstorms are almost unknown. The mountains appear to act as gigantic lightning rods, between which and the clouds silent discharges take place on a vast scale. A continuous glow is seen about the summits, with occasional outbursts like the beams of a great searchlight. These displays have been seen by vessels 300 miles from the coast.

Among the snow clad Alps a curious and beautiful phenomenon is sometimes observed at the close of the day. The rosy illumination of the mountain summits passes away, from below upward, as the sun sinks below the opposite horizon, and for a few minutes the peaks, with their rocks and snows, have a vivid appearance; then gradually they are lighted up with a second rosy glow, and this may last for as much as an hour after sunset. This is called the "recolonation of the Alps," or, in the case of the giant of the group, the "resurrection of Mont Blanc." The whole series of phenomena is called the "alpenglow."—Youth's Companion.

MAD RIOT OF COLORS.

Grotesque Native Fashions on the West Coast of Africa.

A somewhat amusing description of the arrival of a ship on the African coast near Sierra Leone is given by Mrs. Horace Trenbett in her book "With the Tin Gods." She says the ship was met by a multitude of primitive native canoes manned by naked savages, but evidences of civilization were not lacking in the later arrivals.

"They were followed in a more leisurely and decorous fashion by boats, also containing colored people, but clothed and apparently in their right mind, and these climbed up the companionway and swarmed in dozens all over the decks and into the saloons, taking possession of the ship. No one appeared to resent their behavior, and they crowded into the drawing room, lolling about on the settees and chairs. Some of them thumped out hymns and cakewalks with merciless enthusiasm on the piano, while the others whistled or sang the tune in various and divergent keys. They had evidently come on board to enjoy themselves, and every black face was decorated with an expansive and genial grin of pleasure.

"The men were dressed in decent ready made suits of dark tweed or cloth and, though adorned with a good deal of jewelry in the way of watch chains, pins and rings, were quite presentable. But their womenfolk were the most ludicrous caricature of civilization it is possible to imagine. Many of them were silk and satin dresses, frilled, gathered and draped about their bulky figures. Red and yellow appeared to be the most popular colors, although purple and green were a close second, and I remember a very striking costume of emerald green velvet with bright pink satin facings and frills of deep coffee colored lace that surely must have been the envy of all beholders. Huge hats of grotesque shapes were perched indifferently on their black woolly heads. Magenta feathers strove with scarlet poppies, and vivid blue roses wrestled with yellow ribbons on a mauve hat.

"Bangles and chains composed of everything from cut glass to fine gold jingled and rattled as they moved about and glistened equally with their coal black eyes and gleaming white teeth. They chattered and gibbered like a troop of monkeys, and pandemonium reigned on board for several hours. It transpired that they were the native aristocracy of Sar' Leone, merchants and traders with their ladies, who made a point of boarding the mail boat whenever possible, generally to bid farewell to one of their number who is traveling down the coast. They look upon it as a legitimate excuse for a spree, and as a large proportion of the ship's cargo depends upon their good will they are encouraged to make the most of the occasion."

Lean and Lend.

Many errors are committed in the name of usage. That's why, today, the dictionaries permit one to use "loan" as a verb instead of "lend."

The highest philological authorities, among whom is Richard Grant White, say that "loan" is absolutely the noun form of the word.

"Lend me a dollar" is correct. Further, when the man has lent you the dollar you have obtained the loan and presumably will repay it. We negotiate for loans and obtain them if the person is willing to lend them to us. One cannot loan a loan any more than one can lend a lend. If we insist in using loan as a verb the word "lend" is so much excess matter in the lexicon.

To the College Boy.

When you enter college keep in mind the sound advice that a wise college president has offered to such as you. "Follow the preparatory school rules for the first year," he says. "Keep up the momentum that the school has given you rather than take advantage of your new liberty all at once. Watch the upper class men. See how they have improved or abused the freedom of the college life and the opportunities at the college and then deliberately make up your mind what kind of man you want to be."

A Curious Funeral Ceremony.

It is said that when Alaric, the conqueror of Rome, died "a river was turned aside to make place in its bed for his grace, and when he was buried the water was again let into its former channel and the prisoners who had helped to bury him were killed so that no one might find out where the conqueror of Rome was buried." The river turned was the Busento and the place near Cosenta, Italy.

Perfectly Natural.

"Why does that young man reach in his pocket and draw out a package of papers as soon as he begins to talk to any one?"

"That's a mere matter of habit. You see, he is a life insurance agent."

In the Modern Flat.

Prospective Tenant (cautiously)—Well, I'd take the place—it has modern improvements, and so forth, as you say—but I don't like that ugly crack in the wall over there. Janitor hastily)—Crack, sir? Why, that's the private hall.

Explained.

"Always thought you were too lazy to run like this for a cent," said the guy.
"It's all right, old top. Laziness runs in our family!".

The man that lives and laughs most sure do well.—Pope.

Just around the bend

See the great picture gallery of Ontario's natural beauty

Just around the bend of the road, a land of rolling hills, sapphire lakes and silver streams awaits you; a land of orchards and grain fields — of trim villages and beautiful cities and towns.

It's a great picture gallery—and it's yours, because it's in your own Province. There's a masterpiece at every turn. See this gallery from the highways of Ontario. Take the family with you.

Drive moderately, and you will enjoy all the more the constant panorama which breaks on your view.

The law of Ontario sets a maximum speed of 25 miles an hour to preserve you and other users of the road from accident and to prevent needless damage to road surfaces by reckless driving. Remember, the road is yours to use, not to abuse—yours to enjoy, not to destroy.

The Government and the Counties are building a splendid and extensive system of highways. They are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars a year in maintaining it. If these roads get in poor repair, who's to blame those who build and maintain them, or those who misuse them?

To you and all other intelligent motorists, the Government makes this appeal to conserve the highways in a commonsense way. To "the speed hound" who will not heed, it gives notice that the enforcement of the law regarding fast driving will be more rigorous than before.

An advertisement issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists and truck drivers, Automobile Clubs, Good Roads Associations and all other public spirited bodies, in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

The HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister; S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

A TRAMP

He was a knight of the road,
And cared little for work;
Garbed in scare-crow raiment,
With the filth of a turk.
He thus mused as he plodded,
Along the highway,
There's the taxes on income
That I don't have to pay;
Let those people work
That have the ambition,
The fruits of their labour
Will keep me in condition.

While they sweat and grumble
About their hard luck,
I'll smile in contentment
And eat of their chuck.
While they're working late hours
Their mortgage to pay,
I'll sleep soundly all night
And through the heat of the day.
If a job's looming in sight,
I will make a detour,
I might blister my hands,
That I could never endure.

Let them work that are willing
And soil their good clothes,
While I eat of the fat
Of the land as it grows.
Chilly frosts of November,
Is the wanderlust sign,
Then I'll hike for the city
And stand in bread-line.
Partake of soup and hot coffee,
As a guest of the city;
I know the Salvation Army
On me will take pity.

His musing here ended,
He had hiked a long way;
The hand-outs were numerous,
Was in luck all the day.
And his stomach so full,
As he closed the last gate,
He figured, lunches consumed,
The last one made forth-eight.
But darkness was falling,
As he spied a straw stack,
"Ha, a fitting pallet", he cried,
"Though money I lack".

There in that straw stack,
Stowed safely from harm,
Where the pigs and the cows
On a frugal man's farm,
Had tunneled a hole,
Now the abode of the mice,
A straw fortification,
'Twas a tramp's paradise,
With the door of his chamber
Wide ope' to the breeze,
There in blissful oblivion
Of mosquitoes and fleas.

He dreamed of veal cutlet,
Pork chop, fat and lean;
There was deep apple pie
Served up in whipped cream;
Lots of turkey and chicken,
It was there at his will;
Of beefsteak and onions
He was eating his fill.
And lager beer followed
From a bubbling spring,
He cried "Landlord, your health"
And began for to sing.

With a start he awoke
At the sound of his voice;
He grumbled at day-break,
That dream was so choice.
I could have slept, like Van Winkle
Right on for years twenty.
By that bubbling spring
Where lager was plenty.
You can talk of your banquets,
To him none was more real;
He had never partaken
Of more bounteous a meal.

Cause of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from factories, from grain and various other irritants, may set up a trouble impossible to irradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

THE TONKA BEAN.

From It We Get the Perfume Known as New Mown Hay.

Grass, freshly cut or otherwise, has had nothing to do with the production of the perfume labeled "New Mown Hay." The source of the essence is really the tonka bean, found in the tropical countries of South America, chiefly in the valleys of the Orinoco, Caura and Cuchivero rivers in Venezuela and certain sections of Colombia and Brazil.

The tonka bean tree in some cases reaches a height of sixty feet. It has pinnate leaves and large panicles of flowers, which are succeeded by a pod containing a single seed. The odor, which is remarkably strong, resembles that of sweet clover new mown hay and is due to the presence of cumarin, a crystallizable, volatile, neutral substance which is soluble in alcohol or ether and somewhat so in boiling water, from which it crystallizes on cooling. The beans are often frosted with crystals of this substance, giving them the appearance of being sugar coated. The collectors in Venezuela and Colombia usually set out for the forests in February, when the fruit begins to ripen. They go up the rivers in canoes or skiffs by the hundreds, stopping wherever the trees are plentiful, and when the fruit begins to fall the pods are gathered and taken to some open space where sunshine is plentiful and there carefully crushed and the beans extracted and then spread out to dry. When thoroughly dried they are loaded into the boats and transported to Ciudad Bolivar or some other convenient port, where they are sold to the exporting merchants. Here they go through the process of crystallization by being steeped in strong rum or alcohol for about twenty-four hours and then again dried.

They lend their fragrance to high grade tobacco, fine toilet soaps, to "brilliantine" and other hair dressings and dyes, to cosmetics, to flavoring extracts used in confections and to many other things that gratify the sense of smell.

FINANCIAL SENSE.

Take Care of What You Earn and Then Invest It Wisely.

The greatest financial genius I ever knew and the richest man I ever knew personally once said to me:

"There is no greater financial genius possible than to take care of what you earn and there is no better or surer way of taking care of your surplus than to invest it in sound securities paying 6 or 7 per cent. And such securities are easy to find any day of any year. So any man may be a financial genius if he will exercise the simplest common sense."

I protested that it would be said of such a man that he was narrow and selfish.

"Nonsense," the financial genius replied. "I have money invested in railroads, in packing houses and in manufacturing enterprises. Could money be invested more usefully? Yet it is as safe as government bonds and pays a better rate of interest. I invest my own money, but a man without financial experience may secure safe investments without difficulty. If a man has a bank account his banker will find safe investments for him. Bankers are men of financial experience, and 99 per cent of them are intelligent and honorable. There is no excuse for a busy man losing his savings. Many women, when they come into possession of money, lose it because they invest it in schemes bankers would not trust, or else the women loan their money to men who could not borrow money at a bank. Everything in life is simple and easy if we would only accept experience and be careful of big and sentimental notions. Financial sense is knowing that certain men will promise to do certain things and fail. Therefore when you invest your savings get security, and it is no more trouble to get good security than it is to get bad if you are guided by common sense and experience."

Fat Crystals.

If small quantities of butter, lard and beef fat be separately boiled and slowly cooled for, say, twenty-four hours the resulting crystals will show very marked differences under the microscope. The normal butter crystal is large and globular. It polarizes brilliantly and shows a well marked St. Andrew's cross. That of lard shows a sheliy form, while that of beef fat has a foliated appearance. In course of time, as the butter loses its freshness, the globular crystal degenerates and gradually merges into peculiar rosette-like forms.

Instinct of the Mudfish.

The remarkable instinct which causes the mudfish to roll himself in a ball of mud when the dry season approaches, is a wonderful provision of nature, intended solely, it would seem, to prevent the extinction of the species. The most interesting fact about this fish is that it breathes by means of its gills when in its native element and by means of its lungs during the voluntary imprisonment in the mud cocoon.

Strictly Business.

"I always read one of Thackeray's novels two or three times."

"Oh," said the visitor, "I must read that way." said the compiler of best sellers. "By the time you finish one of my novels I have another ready at a dollar fifty."

In No Time.

Mary—Mrs. Delmey says her little girl has learned to play the piano in no time. Alice—Yes, I heard her playing just that way the other day.

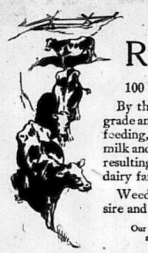
One Good Cow is worth Two Poor Ones



RELIABLE statistics show that the average cow produces only 3,000 lbs. of milk and 100 lbs. of butter in a year.

By the careful selection of better-grade animals for your herd and better feeding, the yearly production of milk and butter can be doubled easily, resulting in increased profit to the dairy farmer.

Mount Forest, Ont.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt weak and miserable, and had ailments all through me. I was living in Alisa Craig at the time and one day a friend came in and told me her experience of using the Vegetable Compound and advised me to take a bottle, which I finally did. I began to get stronger and stronger and those terrible spells left me. I am glad I found out about this medicine as I think there is equal to it for women who have symptoms of this kind. I cannot praise Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done me. Whenever I hear of a woman suffering I am glad to tell her of it."—Mrs. W. RIDSDALE, R. No. 1, Mount Forest, Ontario.

MOVING BEES

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Moving bees consists not only in transporting them to the new location, but in making them stay there. As bees range two to three miles from the hive in search of nectar, they will, if the new location is within this area, likely return to the old home; if, however, it is outside they will remain where placed.

The best time to move bees is in the spring or fall when the weather is cooler and the homing instinct weaker than in the summer.

To move in summer time to a point inside the range of flight, first move the bees to a point outside of it, or down cellar for a week, then to the ultimate location.

If the move is a short one, use a wheel barrow and bump the bees well, place an object to attract their attention in front of the entrance and change the appearance of the old location as much as possible.

The colony should be prepared for transportation in the evening or early morning to prevent loss of field bees.

The bottom-board and cover should be fastened to the hive body by staples sold for the purpose or by wooden cleats and nails.

To close the entrance and give ventilation, take a piece of wire gauze six inches wide and as long as the entrance is wide, and fold it along its longer centre line. Thrust the "V" edge into the entrance and fasten one leg of the "V" to the bottom-board and the other to the face of the hive by laths and nails.

Should the weather be hot, make a two-inch frame of dimensions similar to the hive body, and cover or roof it with wire gauze. This stapled to the hive in place of a cover gives top ventilation and clustering space.

If transportation is by wagon or automobile, place the hive so that the frames will be parallel to the axles of the vehicle; if by railroad, let them be parallel to the rails.

"Why is it," asked the man in the restaurant, "that you pay men usually give larger tips than rich men?"

"Well, sir," said the waiter, "it looks to me as though a poor man don't want anyone to find out he's poor, and the rich man don't want anyone to find out he's rich."

A city man on a visit to a remote village which did not boast a movie or even a reading room said to one of the inhabitants: "Whatever do you do here when it rains?"

"Oh," replied the man, "we let it rain."

Death of a Former Collegiate Teacher

Word has been received of the death at Victoria Hospital, London, Ont., on July 24th, 1925, of Miss Margaret Smith, a former highly esteemed teacher of the Napanee Collegiate. Miss Smith came to Napanee in 1893, shortly after the present Collegiate was opened, and remained until 1907. She was most thorough and successful in her work, being an inspiration to many who after took up the profession. She will be remembered as a leading member of Trinity Methodist Church, to which she devoted not only her talent but her liberal support. From Napanee she went to Collingwood, where she remained a number of years, and more recently was connected with the Brockville Collegiate. Surviving her is a sister in London, Ont., who has been with her during her recent year's illness.

Stratford Highly Pleased With Chautauqua Held There This Week

Popular magic amused and entertained some 325 persons who attended the Chautauqua at the Collegiate Flats last night. Laurant, the "Man of Mystery" and his company put on a magic demonstration that was amusing in many cases, and interesting at all times.

One of the outstanding incidents of the evening's exhibition was the "trunk" trick. The magician took a young woman from what he had previously demonstrated was an absolutely empty trunk. Another demonstration, more startling, was a "cremation" scene. A woman was apparently burned on the stage, only to reappear in the midst of the audience.

Taking yards of silk from what appeared to be nothingness, the magician formed them into an immense Union Jack for the closing number.

This morning an interesting lecture was given to a large gathering of children on the subject, "Across Africa," by Julian B. Arnold. Mr. Arnold is the son of Sir Edwin Arnold, prominent proprietor of the "London Daily Telegram". He is a noted explorer, and has circled the globe seven times. The traveller is a personal friend of well known explorers, and was one of the men who helped identify the body of Livingstone when it was brought from Africa. He has lived with Arabs and is an accredited Arab Sheik. Speaking from his vast fund of personal knowledge he this afternoon delivered an entertaining discourse on the heart and mind of the Arab, predicting that his part in world politics in the future would be much greater.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

Tamworth, Ont.

To Mrs. A. E. Milligan and Family.

We, the members of L.O.L. No. 159 extend to you our deepest sympathy in the loss of your husband and father. The loss of a husband and father is irreparable indeed, yet we have the promise of the Great Master that He will be a father to the orphan and a husband to the widow, and in Him only can we trust.

A good and loving husband you have lost. We, in the Lodge, have lost a brother, whose counsel and influence will be sadly missed. In the lodge, in the church and in the community his was an example we might all be proud to follow.

Praying that God may be your guide and help in the future.

Yours on behalf of L.O.L. No. 159.

Comedy Drew a Large Crowd to Chautauqua

"Give and Take", a clever comedy was the attraction on the Chautauqua program last night and it drew the largest attendance thus far. The play, which is a well known one, was smoothly presented by a good cast and proved highly pleasing to the large audience.

This afternoon there will be a concert by the Chicago Lyric Singers and to-night in addition to the musical numbers there will be a lecture by William R. Bennett on "Pathways to Power".

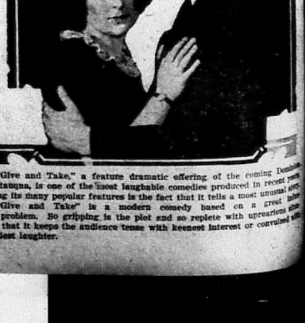
Rollicking Play, "Give and Take," Coming at the Chautauqua



"Give and Take," a feature dramatic offering of the coming Dominion Chautauqua, is one of the most laughable comedies produced in recent years. Among its many popular features is the fact that it tells a most unusual story. "Give and Take" is a modern comedy based on a great industrial problem. Its gripping is the plot and so replete with unreal situations that it keeps the audience tense with keenest interest or convulsed with heartiest laughter.

OBITUARY

Mrs. W. A. Steacy.

Universal sorrow was heard on all sides when it became known that Mrs. W. A. Steacy had passed away on Sunday afternoon. The deceased, who was very highly respected and esteemed by hundreds of friends, had been ill since last fall, and notwithstanding the best medical care, owing to a weak heart little hope was held out for her recovery. The late Mrs. Steacy had been a resident of Napanee for many years, and was a faithful member of Trinity Church. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to her bereaved husband, Mr. W. A. Steacy, and family, Messrs. Harry and Hawley and daughter, Miss May Steacy.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held at Trinity Church, on Tuesday afternoon, the Pastor, Rev. W. R. Tanton, taking the service.

Pearl Hoselton.

There occurred suddenly at Orillia, Ont., on July 27th, 1925, where she was attending Normal school, death of Pearl Hoselton, eldest daughter of Charles J. and the late Pearl Smith Hoselton. Pearl was born on June 16th, 1914, in Picton, where she lived until five years of age, when her mother died and she came to Bath to live with Mrs. Lavenia Hoselton, where the remains were brought on Wednesday afternoon. Pearl was of kind and loving disposition. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at 5 p.m., Rev. Mr. Swayne officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in St. John's cemetery. Pearl is survived by her father, Charles Hoselton, Grand Haven, Mich., and one sister, Edith, living with her grandmother Hoselton. There were many beautiful floral tributes from friends and relatives.—Picton papers please copy.

Cyrus Franklin Roblin

Died at Vancouver, July 8th, from paralysis. He was born at Adolphustown on June 2nd, 1864, the youngest son of Cyrus and Mary C. Roblin. He left Adolphustown in 1891, and took up his residence in California. After residing there for some time he moved to Vancouver. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife (nee Mabel Mallory) and three children, Kenneth, Helen and Lyle, and two brothers, John N. Roblin, of Sacket Harbour, N.Y., and W. D. Roblin of Adolphustown.

Address and Presentation

An interesting event occurred at the home of Mr. Arthur A. Finley, on Thursday evening, when his friends and neighbors gathered at his beautiful home on the bay shore, near Collins Bay, to which he has recently brought a bride from Elgin, Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley were taken by surprise, but extended a hearty welcome to their uninvited guests, and the spacious rooms rang with music and laughter. Later refreshments were served, but not before the host and hostess were presented with a handsome library table of solid walnut. The presentation was made by Mrs. Murray Wemp, Vice President of the Bay View Women's Institute.

Mr. Finley responded for himself and wife, expressing their appreciation in a few well chosen words.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Finley.

Dear Friends,—We, your neighbors and friends, feel that we cannot allow you to wander as an event as your marriage to pass without taking this opportunity of expressing our good will and extending to yourself and the charming bride you have brought into our midst, our sincerest wishes for your future happiness and good fortune.

We hope that you, Mrs. Finlay, will find in the beauty of Ontario's rolling waves some compensation for the miles of rolling prairie you have left behind you, and will come to realize that there are warm hearts in the East as well as the West. As you make new friends here you will doubtless have things to teach us with the broader outlook and more demonstrative friendliness of the West, but we feel sure, please, that Old Ontario has good points also, if she does appear a bit rugged and forbidding at first.

Mr. Finley, we shall reserve all the nice things we might say about your public services and private virtues for an occasion that we hope is many decades away, and so save you blushes and embarrassment to make only remind you of our magnanimous conduct in forgiving you for your desire to take a charming young ladies in your own province.

Considering how well you have chosen, we have decided to punish you only by asking you both to accept this library table as a token of good wishes and determination to make your wife welcome amongst us.

Please accept this slight gift on behalf of your friends through the Women's Institute.

Signed by the committee,

MRS. GEO. SMITH.

Varty Lake Girls' Camp News

FOREWORD

In the early Spring many predicted that in view of the fact that there was to be no Boys' Camp the Girls' Camp would fall through. The Committee in charge met many, what seemed, unsurmountable barriers, but perseverance conquered and success followed our every effort. However, we were disappointed in the loyalty and support we thought we should have had from the districts immediately surrounding Napanee.

We would like to take this opportunity of thanking all those whose untiring efforts helped to make the Camp the success it was. Next year we will look for the support and co-operation of the whole community.

One of the features of the Campfire, which the girls looked forward to every night, was our newspaper, "Wocsom Jokes." The name originated from the fact that the Camp was situated near Moscow, and that the dog, who was our Camp Mascot, was called "Joke." The following are extracts from our newspaper:

EDITORIAL

We are here, girls, for ten days. What do you think of our Camp? Here are the thoughts of one of the campers: "We are in one of the most beautiful spots in God's great out-of-doors. Lake, sky, land and trees all work together, blending exquisitely with their God-given beauty. Slender reeds nod and bow when the refreshing breezes dictate. Water lilies, with their waxy white petals and their large leaves lined with red, fringe the shores of our abode. An excellent grove lends shade to all the girls, while their recreation may be exercised by hikes in the immense grounds given freely and so willingly. But soon white clouds, in the form of tents, dotted the horizon, and did in no wise seem out of keeping with the natural beauties." All afternoon and evening cars arrived filled with girls and luggage (mostly latter), registrations were paid and the girls began to settle themselves for the night. The Camp opened officially at the Campfire when the officers were introduced. We trust that every evening and all the Camp programme will be as successful as the first.

SOME WONDERS IN CAMP

Two "Whales" at Varty Lake.

One living "Monogram," but several on girls' middies.

Great convenience to farmers—we have "Mills" in Camp.

Ice cold drinking water always on hand, for we have "Brooks" in Camp.

Flowers "Daly", home grown, "Violets" and "Marguerites."

Fresh eggs and pork every day, as we have two "Drakes" and one "Ham."

There was only one "Paul" in the Bible; we boast of two.

We are safe from all dangers, owing to the "Garrison" on the premises.

The wants of anybody needing overalls will be satisfied by applying to Box 11 and 7 of "Wocsom Jokes," where a pair and a half of "Jeans" will be found.

There was no use for anyone to bring shoes, because we already had a fully equipped "Kitchen" in Camp, with an electric "Spanker" attached.

Talk about your prowlers in Camp; we have something worse, a "Stalker."

There's no danger of getting lost around this Camp; just look up the "Sine" at Tent 2.

What is the sense of Miss Rock well hunting for an hour and a half for the dinner bell, when there are two "Bells" right at hand.

We need never starve, because we have a "Fisher" among us.

Although this is a Girls' Camp, we have many sons in Camp: Ex-Robert's sons," one of the "Peer's sons," and three of "Tom's sons."

FAVORITE SAYINGS OF DIFFERENT PEOPLE

Marion Thompson—Oh, fluey, not insinuating anything.

Miss Rockwell (after lights out) —Clare! is there anything wrong?

Mrs. Smith—Now, girls, just look and see.

Neva Sine (the Editor)—Alright! I'll write that up. You tell me what to say.

Marion Wales — Well, lands sakes!

Mildred Loucks—Mr. Doffippy or Mr. Thingamabob.

Alma Wales—Now I ask you, is that nice?

Marion Exley—Good gravy!

A MILLION A WEEK

Press despatches sent out of Ottawa within the last few days state that during the past twelve months, from June 30th 1924, to June 30th, 1925, the public debt has been reduced by $11,000,000. Characterizing the statement as Government pre-election propaganda, the Ottawa Journal shows that it is entirely misleading and that the debt of the Dominion has been increasing at the rate of practically a million dollars a week since the present Government came into office. It declares that millions of expenditure contracted in the last two months cannot be shown in the prepared statement handed out by the Government. There is but one reliable way to test the Government's financial position says the Journal:

"Take the public debt at the close of the twelve fiscal months of last year and compare it with the public debt at the close of the twelve fiscal months this year. In other words, the figures for March 31st, 1924, with the figures for March 31st, 1925. Then, if further evidence be required, take the Government's own estimates and money votes for the coming year, and compare them with the Government's estimate of revenue.

"If that be done two things will be found:

"1. That last year this Government increased the public debt by close on $30,000,000; and

"2. That this coming year, with estimates and money bills passed by Parliament totalling over $425,000,000, against an estimated revenue of less than $375,000,000, the certain increase in the debt this coming year (not taking account of railway losses) will be well over $50,000,000.

"If, therefore, not very many days' loss be as great as this year's, the almost certain increase in the debt next year will be another $100,000,000.

"The cold truth is that under the King Government the debt obligations of the Dominion have increased by over $200,000,000, practically a million dollars a week for every week that the Government has been in power.

"Press agencies that send out statements giving the impression that the debt has been reduced, without elucidating vital facts, or without explaining that these statements are handed out by the Government, are but making themselves the vehicles of party propaganda."

PROTECTION AGAINST MOSQUITOES

Certain protective mixtures applied to the skin are of great value in warding off mosquitoes, black flies and similar pests, especially when the insects are very numerous. A number of formulae for such mixtures are given in a pamphlet on the methods of protection against mosquitoes and black-flies, just issued by the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. A mixture recommended by the author is composed of 3 ounces of oil of citronella, 1 of spirits of camphor, 1 of oil of tar, ¼ an ounce of oil of pennyroyal and from 4 to 6 ounces of castor oil. Another mixture also found 2 ounces of oil of citronella, ¼ an ounce of pennyroyal and 2 ounces of castor oil. A teaspoonful of soda is added to prevent injury to the skin. Tallow may be used instead if it is desired to have the mixture in the form of a paste.

When the insects are abundant it is necessary to apply the mixture at least once every half hour, using liberal quantities and rubbing it thoroughly over the hands and face. Care should be taken to have a sufficient quantity of a mixture with one for an extended trip in the woods. At least an ounce per person per day is necessary if the flies are anywhere abundant. The mixture should be carried in a small aluminum flask or screw top tin, but not in a glass bottle as it is apt to break.

Wienecke, of Rochester, N.Y., also enjoyed a few days with his parents for his old home.—A party of four gentlemen from Ottawa enjoyed a pleasant motor trip to Denbigh, and were welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Stein. They enjoyed a pleasant fishing excursion on White Lake, and returned to the city well pleased with their first visit to our back woods village.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Youmans, of Weed, are here for a few days, also renewing old acquaintances and visiting relatives and former neighbors.—Miss Bertha Stein has left for Kitchener to enjoy a few weeks of city life, and a pleasant visit with her sisters and other relatives there.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Emma J. Paige.

Mrs. Emma J. Paige, aged 47 years, of No. 415 East Main street, Watertown, N.Y., died at her home early Friday morning of last week, following a long illness. She had been ill for the past year.

She was born at Napanee, Ont., on April 16th, 1878, daughter of the late J. P. and Mrs. Ellison. She had resided in Watertown for the last twenty-nine years. She was the wife of E. B. Paige.

She was a member of the Eastern Star of this city, of the Orientals, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canton Ridgley, and of the Rebekah Lodge.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Ross E. Pidlar, Watertown; step-son, Paul P. Paige, Watertown; three brothers, W. C. Ellison and Arthur Ellison, of Buffalo, and Clarence Ellison, of Napanee, and a step-mother, Mrs. J. P. Ellison, of Napanee.

The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be made in North Watertown cemetery.

WHY RIVERS OVERFLOW.

Some Streams Make Their Beds Too Small For Flood Tides.

"A river is not made to order. It is nothing more nor less than the accidental path made by water in following the line of least resistance," writes Arthur E. Morgan in an article on "Why Rivers Overflow," published in the Scientific American. Mr. Morgan goes on to show that the average river has found or made a channel that suffices for it in ordinary times, but that in flood tide is not large enough to carry off the water. Some of the figures he gives explain perfectly certain freaks are in the habit of overflowing.

The Coldwater river, where it enters the flat lands from the hills in northern Mississippi, has a maximum flood cubic feet per second when full to the top of its banks. At maximum flood, however, 100,000 cubic feet per second pour down it, and it has to overflow.

The St. Francis river on the boundary between Arkansas and Missouri can take care of from 500 to 5,000 cubic feet per second, but in flood time it has 160,000, and the surplus must overflow. The Miami river in Ohio has a normal capacity, varying at different points from 0 per cent to 5 per cent of its maximum overflow. The Mississippi, near the mouth of the Red river, has a normal flow of 200,000 cubic feet a second; when full to the top of its banks it can carry about 1,000,000 cubic feet. When all its tributaries are in flood it has to carry 2,500,000 cubic feet a second. As its banks are higher than the surrounding plains, these inevitably receive the overflow.

Homemade Silver Polish.

To make the best silver polisher and cleaner known, take a bottle of ammonia as sold in most grocery stores, and to this add two ounces of whiting, and just a few drops of oxalic acid. In this way you will procure for the expenditure of 15 cents as much of the best silver polish as can be purchased for $1 in most of the prominent drug stores. This same polish is so cheap when homemade that the housewife will not find it too expensive to use it in polishing all of the cutlery and also the brass doorknobs or any other bright metal fixtures about the house.—National Magazine.

A Woman's Strategy.

"I once heard of a sadly henpecked man who made friends with a mouse, and by keeping the little animal always about him he succeeded in getting the upper hand."

"A strange story. How long did that state of affairs continue?"

"Only a short while. The man's wife introduced a cat, and the moment the cat pounced on the mouse she pounced on her husband."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Getting Along.

"Lemme see, how old is your daughter?"

"I always have to stop and think, her relatives and friends number so many. Yesterday I heard her contemptuously refer to the youngsters at a nearby preparatory school as a parcel of little boys."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cars Required.

"Good heavens," said the impatient friend, "are you writing yet? Does it take four pages to tell her you will see her Saturday night?"

"No," said the weary writer, "but it takes eight pages to tell her I can't."—New York Times.

Tight.

"He's close fisted, isn't he?"

"I should say he is. I say, man, he won't even give up any of his bad habits."—Detroit Free Press.

Caught.

"How is it I didn't see you at the charity meeting last night?"

"It was I who passed the plate around."—Judge.

Other men are lenses through which we read our own minds.—Emerson.

Ignorance of the Bible.

One thing is undeniable—knowledge of the Bible is far less general now than it was in the days of my childhood. That amazing familiarity with the sacred book with which John Richard Green credits the people of England in the days of the commonwealth had persisted until my boyhood among the sons of the Puritans and the Scotch Irish in New England and in New York state. It was not universal, but it was general. The child of tests by which college students and students in secondary schools are frequently in these days made to display an ignorance of the Bible which is astounding could have been passed with credit by the majority of country boys and girls sixty or seventy years ago. But this thorough acquaintance of earlier generations with the Bible was not due to any considerable extent to the public school. All that we learned about the Bible in school would not have added very little to our store of religious knowledge. It was in our churches and our Sunday schools, but chiefly in our homes, that most of us learned what we knew about the Bible.—Washington Gladden in Atlantic.

"Literary Style."

A high school student writes this office inquiring what constitutes a "literary style." Without trying to answer this interesting and difficult question, two remarks may be cited that throw light on it.

When Charles James Fox was told that his speech read well he retorted, "Then it was a bad speech." "When one of my compositions would tell me at the end of a service that the sermon was fine," Dr. Lyman Abbott has said, "I knew I had made a failure."

In general the style is good when it fits the thought so well that the style itself does not attract attention. As soon as you begin to be conscious of the style—unless of course you are reading with that end in view—you may be pretty sure it's a bad style. Style is something like clothes or furniture. The well dressed man is the man whose clothes do not attract attention. The well furnished room is the one you go out of satisfied, but unable to describe the furniture.—Kansas City Star.

Short and Sharp Justice.

It was short and sharp justice that was meted out to the communists in the Paris of the seventies. Sir William Butler in "An Autobiography" tells of a visit to the prison of La Roquette: "We were shown into a small courtyard by a young naval lieutenant, who coolly explained to us the processes of the execution of the communists. 'We strip their right shoulders,' he said. 'If the skin of the neck and shoulders shows the dark mark produced by the kick of the chassepot rifle the court pronounces the single word 'Release.' If there is no mark of discoloration on the shoulder the president says 'passe' and the man is released. Those to whom 'release' is said are shot. One hundred and fifty were shot at daybreak this morning in this courtyard.'"

False Good Opinion.

Few persons do not value the good opinion of others. Pulling down the character of some one else is not the way to build up your own; the ruin of another does not mean your building up. There are some who unwear to think another's possessions something taken from themselves. This is a mistake. To point out an error in another's character it is not to prove a corresponding virtue in one's own. Let your chief aim be to make yourself worthy of the good opinion of others. Belittling them is a plain acknowledgment of a conscious fault of your own. The way to win the good opinion of others is to be worthy of it. If you are you will not need to call attention to it.—Milwaukee Journal.

Racket or Racquette.

When you use the racket in playing tennis you do not stop to think what it means and how difficult it has been to trace the word. Some thought that it was so called because of the noise made by the ball striking it, but this is impossible. The real origin is from the French raquette, the palm of the hand, which was certainly used in the game before the racket was invented. It's all very simple when you know.—Exchange.

Cured by Suggestion.

"And you say that Jorkins was cured of an extremely bad case of insomnia by suggestion?"

"Yes, purely by suggestion. His wife suggested that since he could not be quiet as well sit up and amuse the baby. It worked like a charm."

All Through.

"Your friend appears to think that life has nothing more to teach him."

"Yes; he seems to imagine—Life is the only living alumnus of the school of experience."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

As He Saw It.

Wife—Please hurry up. Haven't you ever buttoned a dress behind before? Hubby—No; you never had a dress that buttoned before behind.—Life.

China's Jean of Arc.

China has had a Jean of Arc. Tradition tells of a maiden, Mou Lan, who, in the garb of a man, led the armies of the empire to victory.

Ancient Earrings.

The great Juvenal is authority for the statement that earrings were worn by all the males residing in the imperiates provinces.

Toronto Mother Found Relief Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be just the medicine I need. A small book telling about advertising this medicine, and as I did at the time I went through the change of life I took the Compound and began to notice a great improvement in my health. I was in my forties and had a terrible pain in my side and back and I knew it was caused from my condition. I also was sick headed and could only give it a fair trial. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and for constipation. You are welcome to use my letter if you think it will help any one."—Mrs. HARRY [illegible], 1 Queen Street, Toronto, Ontario.

Every expectant mother is wise if she takes carefully to the statement of Mrs. Hartwood. It is but one of a great many telling the same story—beneficial results.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for use during this period. The experience of other women has proved this medicine a real friend of its great merit. Why not try it now yourself?

FLIGHT OF A COMET

Its Wild Race Through Space and the Speed It Attains.

CRASHING INTO THE EARTH.

What the Result Would Be if One of These Light but Massive Wanderers of the Sky Were to Be Hurled Into a Head-on Collision With Our Planet.

A large part of the fear that great comets have always inspired is due to an instinctive dread of their tremendous power for evil. They look like beams of destruction, and those who know nothing about astronomy accept them at their apparent face value.

And, in truth, if they could come within hitting distance of the earth they would do an enormous amount of damage, and some of them might be capable of putting the earth temporarily out of commission as an inhabited globe.

The terror that was aroused in many quarters by Halley's comet in 1910 is sure to recur on the appearance of any new comet, so that it is worth while to consider what an evilly disposed comet could do to the earth if it got a chance.

There are two ways in which a comet could cause damage to the earth—first, by running straight into it with 15,000 times the velocity of an express train and, second, by infecting the atmosphere with the poisonous or stifling gases contained in its tail.

Let us consider the first case of a comet shock.

Two things have to be taken into account—namely, the velocity and the weight of the colliding comet, considered as a gigantic projectile shot against the earth as a target.

Comets are very deceptive in regard to weight or mass. They are enormously large, but relatively very light. The comet that appeared in 1861 first crossed the sun and then swept the earth with its tail.

Halley's comet also occupied vastly more space than the earth, but a careful estimate has shown that it probably did not weigh more than 20,000,000 tons, which is much less than the weight of the material excavated to make the Panama canal.

It might be thought, then, that the earth is in no more danger from such a comet than a battleship is from a boy's bean shooter. But now the velocity comes to come into play. The speed of a comet at the earth's distance from the sun would be about twenty-six miles per second.

A mass of 20,000,000 tons shooting through space at a velocity of twenty-six miles per second would develop in round numbers twenty-seven quintillion foot pounds of energy, equivalent to the development in one second of thirty-six thousand million million horsepower.

Where the comet struck everything —rock, soil, vegetation—would be melted, vitrified and vaporized in an instant, for all this tremendous energy would be turned into heat through the sudden and complete arrest of the swift motion of the comet. The 600 quintillions of "absolute units of energy" developed by the stopping of the comet would furnish enough heat to liquefy more than a million million tons of solid iron!

The result would be a very big and a very deep hole in the earth. Thousands of square miles would be more or less directly affected by the terrific impact, for the shock would be greater than that of the mightiest earthquake, and perhaps buildings would tumble into ruin and mountains would shake off their fringes of rock in all parts of the globe, while the sea would hurl itself in whelming tidal waves upon every coast and drown all the low lying islands.

The atmospheric disturbances would also be enormous. The sudden development of great heat at the point of collision would unbalance the air currents and destructive and capricious winds would blow to and fro over the earth.

We have only a little space left to consider the effect of a collision between the earth and the tail of a comet. This is something that has actually occurred, and more than once within a century. As already said, the comet of 1861 enveloped the earth with the spreading end of its tail for a few hours, and in 1910 Halley's comet brushed its tail over the earth, but apparently the electric repulsion developed prevented the gases of the tail from entering the atmosphere. It is possible that in every case this would occur, so that electricity may be our effective guardian against deleterious substances that might otherwise be introduced into the atmosphere from the trailing skirts of close passing comets.—Garret P. Serviss in Spokane Spokesman-Review.

ARCHIMEDES AND HIS LEVER.

The Feat of Raising the Earth From a Scientific Viewpoint.

"Give me a fulcrum and a place on which to stand and I will raise the earth from its place." That is a saying popularly attributed to Archimedes. If the required conditions were possible the feat might be performed, but in addition to providing a fulcrum and a place on which to stand Archimedes would also have to be furnished an indefinite lease of life.

To raise the earth a height of one inch by the force which Archimedes would have been capable of exerting would take not only an extremely long lever, but an extremely long time, as can be readily shown.

We shall assume the following data in our calculation: That the earth is a sphere 7,926 miles in diameter and that 5.5 is its mean density, also that the lever has no weight. Should we design a real lever it would be of such enormous size and weight that Archimedes' weight would be a negligible quantity.

If the earth is 7,926 miles in diameter the volume is about 261,000,000,000 cubic miles, or 38,400,000,000,000,000,000,000 cubic feet, and if the density is 5.5 the weight per cubic foot would be about 344 pounds, which multiplied by the volume would give as the weight of the earth 13,200,000,000,000,000,000,000 pounds. We shall assume, further, that Archimedes weighed 150 pounds and that "the place on which to stand" was some distant star; then, if the fulcrum is one mile from the point of application of the lever to the earth the length of the power arm of the lever, or the distance of Archimedes' "standing place," would have to be 88,004,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles.

To make the earth a distance of one inch Archimedes' end of the lever would have to move through a distance of 1,858,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles. Now, if Archimedes should take hold of the end of the lever and apply his weight of 150 pounds to it and should move off into space with this velocity of light, or 186,000 miles a second, it would take him 227,000 years to finish the job he proposed, so that now, nearly 2,200 years after making the famous dictum, he would barely have started the undertaking.—C. O. Sandstrom in Scientific American.

Unnecessary Alarm.

When Frederick the Great, at the beginning of the Seven Years' war, was in possession of Dresden he went to view the works of art in the royal picture gallery. The gallery director, Heidel, took the king through all the rooms and explained each picture as they went along. Frederick expressed his unreserved admiration for all the pictures, but when he came before a certain painting by Correggio he stopped, viewing it with particular interest.

"If you are willing," he said suddenly, "I should like to have that picture"—

Heidel gasped, for he expected the king to say that he wished the picture for himself. But the king noticed his anxiety and, striking him on the shoulder, said, laughing:

Bore and Caliber.

The bore of a shotgun is determined by the circumference of any one of a given number of lead balls of equal weight, the total weight of which is one pound. For instance, the circumference of the barrel of a ten bore shotgun is equal to the circumference of any one of ten lead balls of equal weight the total weight of which is one pound.

The caliber of a rifle is the diameter of the bore of its barrel measured in hundredths of an inch. The diameter of the bore of a .32 caliber rifle is thirty-two hundredths of an inch.—Philadelphia Press.

A Musical Tyrant.

Gluck as a conductor is said to have been an unmerciful tyrant. Frequently the musicians would have to repeat a passage twenty times before he was satisfied. The members of the Vienna court orchestra complained of this hard usage to the emperor, Joseph II., who promised them by agreeing to give them 2 ducats instead of 1 ducat for every performance at which Gluck should conduct.

A Prophetic Writer.

In practical science the most marvelously prophetic writer was the Marquis of Worcester, who in his "Century of Inventions," published in 1663, described the steam engine, the telegraph, the torpedo, the range finder, the hydraulic press, portable military pontoons, matches and many other things which have come into use within the last hundred years.—St. James Gazette.

Politeness.

FALLING A MILE.

Curious Effect of Dropping Rocks Down a Deep Mine Shaft.

In reference to the deep mine shafts at Calumet mine experiments conducted by members of the faculty of the Michigan College of Mines are interesting. It had been noticed that in the vertical shafts at the Tamarack mine if some ore or rock were spilled near the surface men working in the bottom of the shaft a mile below were not much bothered and sometimes only observed "a little dust." It is stated that a car of broken rock could be dumped into the shaft without injury to a man standing directly under neath a mile down.

The reason is that the rock would never reach the bottom, but would lodge in the sides of the shaft on the timbers that protrude a few inches at intervals—that is, the rock would not fall straight, since these shafts are exactly vertical.

In the experiments conducted two round metal balls were dropped into the center of a shaft by burning threads by which they were suspended, so as to give them no lateral motion. It was found in order to catch the balls in a box of clay in the bottom of the shaft. None of them was caught. One ball was never found afterward. The other was found to be east wall of the shaft only a few hundred feet below the surface.

The explanation is that the earth is revolving from west to east, which gave the ball an eastward component in its fall because a particle on the surface of the earth is traveling at a higher rate of speed than one nearer the center, although at the same angular velocity. Thus a ball or rock dropped in the shaft will strike the east wall a few hundred feet from the surface, possibly then rebounding several times in its drop until it lodges on a timber or on a level.—Engineering Magazine.

THE FREEZING OF LIGHT.

Radium Rays Congeal at a Temperature of Minus 312 Degrees.

The world stood with gaping mouth and baited breath when science announced the phenomenon of frozen air, but wonderment has probably reached its limit when one learns that such an intangible and weightless thing as light has been frozen.

It is customary to speak of the enormous generative power of heat, but more astounding still is the fact that by means of cold a force may be imprisoned and retained which when liberated traverses space at a velocity of 186,000 miles per second.

Like all great discoveries, the process is exceedingly simple and based upon formulas that one marvels at not having found out long ago. Radium emits light which is called "emanation," and this "emanation" is nothing more or less than a gas. It is possible to freeze all gases, and when "emanation" is subjected to a temper ature of 312 degrees below zero it becomes congealed.

The strangest feature of the phenomenon, however, is to be observed when the "emanation" commences to thaw, when from the surface of the surrounding liquid air brilliant spangles of light stream upward, producing a most beautiful and dazzling effect.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

An Appeal to Vanity.

A Mussulman general gained a victory over the Greeks and captured their leader. Having summoned the prisoner into his tent, he asked him what treatment he expected from his conqueror. "If you make war like a king," replied the Greek, "you treat me. If you make it like a trader, sell me, if you make it like a butcher, slaughter me." The Mussulman general set him free.

Abram-man.

It was at one time the practice to allow the inmates of the Abraham ward of Bethlehem hospital, London, to go about begging for the benefit of the hospital. Certain servants imposed on the charitably inclined by pretending to be actual inmates and were therefore termed as Abram-men; hence the term Abram-man, one who obtains money by shamming sickness.—London Express.

HOLDING THE BREATH.

Simple Heart Test Used In Administering Anaesthetics.

Dr. W. A. Schtange describes in the Rousaky Vratch an easy test which he has devised to determine whether a patient who has been told that he must undergo surgical treatment is in condition to survive the administration of an anaesthetic. If the patient is unable to hold his breath for twenty seconds the indications are that his heart is so weak that he could not be subjected to the strain likely to be imposed by the anaesthetic.

General anaesthesia is particularly dangerous to persons suffering from myocardial changes, a condition which does not permit of ready recognition. For this reason the simple test suggested by Dr. W. A. Schtange will be welcome by the anaesthetist if extended experience should verify the doctor's assertions.

The test is based on the fact that a healthy person can suspend breathing from thirty to forty seconds. This, the author states, depends not on the lung capacity, but on the vigor of the heart muscle. In persons with weak hearts the time is shortened to twenty or even ten seconds. The patient, seated in a chair, is told to take a moderately deep inspiration and with the mouth closed to hold his breath as long as he can. The shorter the time the patient can suspend breathing the greater the danger of an anaesthetic, the latter being contraindicated if the time is less than twenty seconds.—New York Medical Journal.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Mr. Simeon C. Storms, who departed this life on August 3rd, 1924.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past;
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,

MONTENEGRO AN ODD LAND.

Scratch a Native There and You Will Find a "Superintendent."

Montenegro is one of the oldest countries in the world. There the women are the producers, clothes make the man, the king is greater than the ministry, the chamber or the constitution, and a man may be imprisoned for eating bedgehog. A man who is drunk may kill the striker provided it be done at once. If he delays he is punished as a murderer.

A Montenegrin's habit is as costly as his purse can buy, and there the apparel proclaims the man. The bunny blue trousers are the same for the king or the peasant, as is the bright sash which holds the invariable revolver. But from the red jacket and the red sagote one connotes whether the wearer be a man of substance and consequence or not. Among the women there are slighter distinctions.

The women engage in the productive pursuits, and yet the man has capacity and when taken from his bellicose environment of his mountain home becomes one of the best of workers. His 500 years of freedom have given the Montenegrin a fine sense of order, and it is a current saying along the Dalmatian coast that when a Montenegrin applying for a job is asked what he can do he invariably answers, "Superintend."

Respect for age is enjoined by law, and in the articles regulating public conveyances it is provided that the traveler may have the seat indicated by his ticket, but it is added, "The deference due by youth to age requires that the former yield the better place to their seniors." Another article declares the equality of all before the law and lays down the democratic principle of the universal ownership of land and the equal right of all to hold office.

Quick Relief for Rheumatics

Local Druggists Sell Rheuma on Money-Back Plan

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, swollen, twisted joints, and suffer intensely because your system is full of uric acid, that dangerous poison that makes thousands helpless and kills thousands years before their time, then you need Rheuma, and need it now.

Start taking it to-day. Rheuma acts at once on kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and you can sincerely exclaim; "Good riddance to bad rubbish."

Many people, the most skeptical of skeptics right in this city and in the country hereabouts, bless the day when Wallace's Drug Store and other good druggists offered Rheuma to the afflicted at a small price and guaranteed money refunded if not satisfied. If you have rheumatism get a bottle of Rheuma to-day.

Honorable.

Marjorie, aged four, was in the library with her father while her mother was superintending the preparation of dinner. The attention of the head of the house was attracted by a scratching sound, and he looked up to find his daughter at work with a pair of scissors on the top of a polished table.

"Marjorie," he said sternly, "no tell your mother what you've been doing!"

"I won't do it, papa," she said. "Do you think I'm a tattletale?"—Judge.

EDITORIAL
"Camp Spirit"

We do not believe in ghosts, but there is something very much akin to ghosts; in fact their first cousin, which exists, an invisible power, throughout this Camp. It sits beside us in our Bible Study groups especially, and makes us smile at the girl across the way whose face we know quite well, but whose name just flits away on the breeze, a very will-of-the-wisp. This ghost-cousin even accompanies us to our meals and prohibits the two tables from throwing water at each other, although he does not prevent former best pals from engaging in friendly duels. But when the Campfire is lit and the shadows flit and dance about our circle, that same ghost-cousin hovers completely o'er us, and the farther we shrink from it the closer it crouches, until we all happily recognize the unbroken chain that links us into perfect harmony, that is our Camp Spirit.

Never before had a Camp such a wonderful spirit. There are no vs.'s here, we are all on the same side. Moscow, Roblin and Napanee shall soon forget their existence and henceforth we shall consider ourselves just Varty Lake Camp Girls.

Though the storm clouds gather and heaven's artillery flashes and booms, and showers of blessings fall on the unjust as well as the just, we are holding our own, and if the fates become more favorably disposed during the succeeding days we will yet get our reward for coming here to spend a ten days' outing with Nature. Let this Camp Spirit, which has hovered over us from the very first day, spread its wings more widely and lead the way to the highest ideal of Camp Life.

Climbs to a table set with more than flowers.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"What is the best way to approach you for a loan?"

"If you are at all sensitive you had better write—and when you get the answer tear it up without reading it."

Many have been relieved of corns by Holloway's Corn Remover. It has a power of its own that will be found effective.

A West Ham woman, complaining of her lodger in the New Country Court, said : "He's a grave-digger, and tells me he is anxiously waiting for me."

Worms in children, if they be not attended to, cause convulsions, and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will protect the children from these distressing afflictions.

A man and a woman were saying a few words. "If I had a husband like you," said the woman, "I'd give him poison."

"And if I had a wife like you," was the reply, "I'd take it."

To Asthma Sufferers. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy comes like a helping hand to a sinking swimmer. It gives new life and hope — something he has come to believe impossible. Its benefit is too evident to be questioned—it is its own best argument—its own best advertisement. If you suffer from asthma get this time-tried remedy and find help like thousands of others.

"Are you a messenger boy?" asked the near-sighted man of a boy in the street.

"No, sir," was the indignant reply, "it's my sore toe that makes me walk so slowly."

A Corrector of Pulmonary Troubles.—Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in correcting disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

Backwards and forwards he paced, this man wild and rolling, a face of fare hazgrad. "Will she never come? Never—never!! He pressed his hands to his brow and mutted. Hark! What was that? Yes, it was she. "You have come, then?" he gasped, dizzy with delight and excitement. So he grabbed his hat. The typist and returned, and it was now his turn to go out to lunch.

It Has Many Qualities.—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores, and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself.

Father—"So you've already begun to find that married life has its troubles?"

Daughter—"Yes, Mr. Bill's a dear old thing, but sometimes he won't listen to reason."

"He ought to be ashamed of himself. Not every married man has the chance."

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

SLANG IS HARDY.

Some Supposedly Modern Phrases Are Really Centuries Old.

Much of the current slang supposed to be modern is not new. For instance, "kid" (child) goes back no far at least as Masslinger's "Old Law" (1500).

"I am old, you say. Yes; parlous old, kids, and you mark me well." Kidnap (to nab a kid) was certainly not a new word to De Foe or Bunyan.

"To skip out" is accounted slang, but in Wycliff's translation of the Bible we read, "Whanne hirnaskus gad pou herden this, thei skipten out."

In "Ralph Roister Doister," the first English comedy, about the middle of the sixteenth century, an actor says, "Nay dame, I will fire thee out of my house," which certainly has a modern ring.

Goldsmith in "The Good Natured Man" (1768) says, "If the man comes from the Cornish borough you mention him," and this will require no gloss for the modern reader.

"Not in it" is found in Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale." "They have a dance which the wenches say is a gallimaufry of gambols, because they are not in it."

"Cut it out" goes back as far at least as Sheridan's "Critic" (1779). "The performers have cut it out."

The optimistic workman who had both legs cut off by a train and who, when a bystander tried to console him by saying he ought to be thankful he wasn't killed outright, replied, "I'm not kicking," was only using a Biblical expression. "Wherefore kick ye at my sacrifice?"—Edward A. Allen in Forum.

SAWING GRANITE ROCKS.

Steel Wires and Sand and Water Are the Apparatus Used.

Stone is still sawed by hand, even in great cities, where the latest appliances of the mechanical art are to be found. Yet the mechanical sawing of rock is at least sixteen centuries old and in recent years has reached a stage of perfection.

The idea of using a metal cord and a mixture of sand and water for sawing stone was patented by Eugene Chevallier in France in 1854. His apparatus, with scarcely any change, was used not long ago in cutting a tunnel through the Pont-Neuf, in Paris.

The principle upon which the mechanical stone saw works is described by Victor Reynaud in La Science et la Vie as follows:

An endless rope composed of three steel wires twisted together is set in movement and draws with it a grinding granular substance, pressing this hard upon the stone that is to be sawed. The moistened substance is first mixed with water. The stream of water renders the movement easy and prevents the parting of the cable. The ends of the cable are joined by splicing.

The hardest rocks, such as porphyry, are now sawed more easily than the softer, such as marble, but not so rapidly. Marble is sawed at the rate of nearly nine inches an hour, granite at from six to seven inches an hour.

Can't Be Cut Off With a Shilling.

French parents (or, at all events, those with more than 2 shillings to dispose of by will) are precluded from the gratification of cutting a mutinous child off with a shilling. A reserve is established by law which no testator can bequeath away from his offspring. A Frenchman with one child can dispose of half his property according to his pleasure; the other half must inevitably pass to the child. Those with two children can dispose of only one-third of their property; those with three children of one-fourth, and so on according to the size of the family. Stern parents occasionally seek to evade the law by subterfuge, but the disposal of property in France is hedged round with so many provisions that family black sheep are rarely mulcted of their legal inheritances.—London Mail.

Victor Hugo.

Victor Hugo, was born in Besancon, France, in 1802. He was the son of a colonel in the French army and received a classical education. After the revolution of 1830 his plays "Marion de Lorme" and "The King Amuses Himself" were performed at the Theatre Francais. He was created by Louis Philippe a peer of France, with the title of viscount, but he arose above this honor in being the author of "Les Miserables." He opposed Napoleon III. and was banished from France, but returned on the fall of the empire. He died in Paris in 1885 and was buried in the Pantheon.

She Liked Whist.

The modern whist fiend seems colorless beside that enthusiastic exponent of the game, Sarah Battle, whom Charles Lamb described as a "Essay of Elia." He says she was "none of your lukewarm gamesters, your half and half players." To one her own language, all she desired was "a clear fire, a clean hearth and the rigor of the game."

A Slow Sleeper.

The servant girl in a suburban family was taken to task for oversleeping herself.

"Well, ma'am," she said, "I sleep very slow, and so it takes me a long while to get a good night's rest."—Boston Transcript.

A Slight Mistake.

"The patient who was so badly cut on the head is mending."

"I thought it was the doctor who was mending. I saw him sewing the patient up."—Baltimore American.

A few years ago the slogan was, "Swat the Fly". Now nearly every one just sprays with Fly Tox or Liquid Suppho, and almost instantly the flies disappear. A few sprays with each bottle. For sale at Wallace's.

Mail Orders promptly filled at Wallace's Drug Store.

PLAYING GOLF.

The Game Demands Concentration, Yet Invites Sociability.

"One thing at a time, and that done well," is a very good rule in golf, as in many other lines of either work or play. I speak of this because golf is a game in which the relationship between players is a bit different from what it is in any other game that comes to my mind. It is a game which to reap the best results demands great concentration and yet a game which at times is played wonderfully well by those who seem to be paying scant attention to the task in hand.

The game one moment brings men together and next sends them apart, according to the direction in which they happen to hit the ball. Two men can start from the same tee, be two hundred or more yards apart after their drives and both be on the same green, after playing their second shots.

It is a game which invites sociability and yet does not either demand or require it. One man can go out and play all by himself and thoroughly enjoy his game, or two men can go out, play a round together, neither speak a word between the first tee and the last green, yet both go into the clubhouse and declare they had seldom or never spent a more enjoyable time.—Francis Outmet in St. Nicholas.

ATLANTIC OCEAN RECORDS.

Vessels That Won Fame by Reducing the Time of the Trips.

In the early days of Atlantic steam navigation anywhere from ten days to a fortnight was used up between New York and England, and on the eastward voyage it was by no means unusual for some of the sailing packets of Grinnell and Minturn, red, white and blue swallowtail burgee, and of Tommy Tapscott, black ball on burgee and foretopsail, to beat the lumbering sidewheelers.

The first steamer to cut under the ten day voyage was the Persia in 1856, with 9 days, 1 hour and 45 minutes. This remained a record for ten years, until the Scotia in 1866, 8 days, 2 hours and 48 minutes, lopped off a whole day. Three years later the City of Brussels in 1869 established the seven day class, with 7 days, 22 hours and 3 minutes.

It was not until 1882 that the six day boat claimed the record, the Alaska, with 6 days, 18 hours and 37 minutes. The five day class was opened in 1889 by the City of Paris, with 5 days 19 hours 18 minutes. The first of the four day class was the Lusitania in 1908, with 4 days 12 hours. The record is now held by the Mauretania, with a passage in 1910 of 4 days, 10 hours and 21 minutes.—New York Sun.

Care of Pearls.

One of the representatives of a famous jewelry firm has given out a notice upon the preservation and treatment of pearls. Upon no account, he said, should they be locked up in a safe or other dark place for lengthy periods, since such treatment soon causes them to lose their "life" and become dull. If their owners find that for some reason or other they cannot wear them outside their garments they should make a point of wearing them underneath the dress next to the skin. Constant contact with the human skin gives to the stones light, luster, gloss and sheen. The best possible way to keep the pearls in a perfect state of preservation so as to prolong their life, is to wear them always, both by night and by day.—London Tit-Bits.

The Cruel Lie.

When Disraeli was nearing his end a young disciple said to him: "Master, what is the unpardonable sin? Is it not a lie?" The astute and subtle statesman, in the shadow of the grave, where he saw with the clearer vision, looked at the young man with deep, unfathomable eyes and answered:

"No, a lie is not the unpardonable sin. The unpardonable sin is the cruel lie."

On the borders of that shadowy land where great things grow small and little things loom large on the horizon he had come to know that the crime that is not forgiven is the brutal instinct that impels us to wound, to embitter, to mortify.

Emerson's Style.

Emerson's style was tersely summed up in the words of his dear friend Thomas Carlyle. He wrote the "Sage of Chelsea" of his friend's way of writing: "It is pure, genuine Saxon; strong and simple; of a clearness, of a beauty, but does not sometimes tightly stick together. The paragraphs are not beaten ingots, but beautiful square bars of backsheet held together by canvas."

His Safety Deposit Vault.

"Yes, my son is going to spend a few days in the city."

"He'll get bunkoed sure."

An Innocent Victim.

"Still harping on the high cost of living?"

"No; my wife has decided to reduce her weight. I wouldn't care what food cost if she would only consent to buy it."—Washington Star.

Somewhat Alike.

D'Amber—I have come to the conclusion that art doesn't pay. Wigwag—I don't know about art, but I know lots of artists who don't.—Pittsburgh Press.

Alabastine and Muresco, for sale at Wallace's.

Baxter—"I can't stand this money—money—money business much longer. Be sure next time you mention money, I'll leave you."
Mrs. Baxter—"How much, dear?"

CHLOROFORM IN FICTION.

It Acts in a Manner That Surprises the Medical Experts.

Every now and then stories appear about individuals and even whole households being chloroformed by enterprising burglars. A report of that kind in New York city induced the New York Herald to interview a number of experts on the subject with the result of obtaining a verdict that should effectively dispose of that sort of fiction for all time, but probably will not, as previous exposures have failed.

These medical witnesses pointed out it generally requires the undivided attention of two surgeons and several nurses to induce a willing patient to yield to the fumes. If, it is suggested, the burglars have found a more expeditious mode of administration the medical world would be glad to hear of it. Dr. James J. Walsh, an authority on anaesthesia, said that the application of a chloroform soaked cloth to a victim's nostrils would produce a burning sensation that would at once arouse the sleeper.

Dr. J. T. Gwathmey, author of a text book on anaesthesia, said bluntly that it is not possible to chloroform a grown person while asleep. Another expert said he could not see how a person could be anaesthetized without realizing the fact and instances a stight woman patient who required four attendants to hold her while being put under the influence of chloroform on the operating table.

"Lots of chloroformed chloroforming, either by saturated cloths or atomizers, may therefore, in view of this testimony, be relegated to the realm of the imaginary."

The famous musician, staying at the seaside, endured agonies through the night because of the howlings of the lodging-house cat. When he told the landlady she was unsympathetic. "I suppose you are going to ask me to have the poor thing killed," she said disdainfully.

"Oh, no madam," replied the musician. "But I wonder if you would be good enough to have it tuned?"

"There is nothing, in the world I wouldn't do for you."

"Would you really put yourself out for me?"

"Certainly I would."

"Well, please do. It's late, and I'm very tired."

Insurance Inspector (suspiciously) —"How did your husband happen to die so soon after getting insured for a large amount?"

Widow—"He worked himself to death trying to pay the premiums."

Automobile Accidents

Almost every newspaper you read has an account of one or more Auto accidents. People are killed or injured and property destroyed. In every case some person is held responsible and must pay the damages.

Many drivers say, "Oh, I am a careful driver, and I will never cause an accident". It may not be YOUR fault but it will be YOUR car and YOU will pay the damage.

Why take the risk? We can sell you a policy which indemnifies you against liability imposed by Law, defends you in every law-suit and pays all damage up to a very large amount. No inconvenience for you, no anxiety, and the cost, in most cases, is not more than $1.50 per month. Let us give you the exact cost for Policy on your Car.

CULLODEN MOOR.

The Last Battle Fought on the Soil of Great Britain.

The last battle fought on the soil of Great Britain took place in the middle of the eighteenth century.

While George II. of England was engaged in the war of the Austrian succession Charles Edward, who was called the Young Pretender, a grand son of King James II. of England, landed in Scotland and made two attempts to obtain the throne of his ancestors. He was victorious in the battle of Falkirk, but the Duke of Cumberland, son of George II., having been recalled from the continent to take command of the king's forces, the Pretender was entirely defeated at Culloden moor, a plain in Scotland, four miles from Inverness. This was the last battle fought on the island of Great Britain and took place April 16, 1746, and it was also the last attempt on the part of the Stuart family to recover the throne of Great Britain.

Charles Edward Stuart escaped to France after he had wandered for five months in the highlands, pursued by his enemies. He died in Rome Jan. 30, 1788. The Duke of Cumberland gave no quarter. The wounded were all slain, and the jails of England were filled with prisoners, many of whom were executed. Among the latter number were Lords Balmerino, Kilmarnock and Lovat—Lovat being the last person who was beheaded in England.—Philadelphia Press.

Women Who Make Living Dearer.

Woman's abuse of a shopping privilege adds tremendously to the cost of operating department stores, and places a needless burden upon every buyer. One of the large merchants of New York city is authority for the statement that 25 per cent of the articles sent out to charge patrons are returned, not occasionally, but habitually. We are not thinking of the woman who returns garments that have been worn and declares they have never been used. She belongs in a class by herself and demands special treatment. But the woman who orders goods sent home without considering whether she needs them or not ought to be amenable to reason.—Francis Frear in Leslie's.

Suffocated.

To the grouchy looking person who had boarded his car the conductor said as he returned him his transfer:

"This transfer expired ten minutes ago."

Whereupon, with a growl, the man dug for a nickel and as he handed it to the conductor observed:

Mechanical Bread Raiser.

"Oh, dear," groaned the young wife, "I don't know what to use to raise my bread. I've tried everything."

"A derrick and a couple of jackscrews ought to do it," thought her husband, but he didn't say it aloud.—Boston Transcript.

Nobleman, Probably.

Howell—I see that the heiress has put her money into the lumber business. Powell—That so? Howell—Yes. She has married a wooden man.—New York Press.

Tipped.

"Doesn't this boat tip a great deal?" asked a timid young woman of the steward.

"The vessel, ma'am," said the steward, "is trying to set a good example to the passengers."

An Attraction.

Mrs. Gillet—So there is a tablet in your transept to her memory. Did she do anything to bring people into the church? Mrs. Perry—Well, she wore a new hat every Sunday for three years.

Practice.

"New Clerk—I should like two weeks' vacation, sir. Boss—What! Why, this is only your first week with us. New Clerk—Yes, sir, but once I get accustomed to the position I may be able to stand it longer.

An Infliction.

"Your tickets were complimentary, were they not?"

"Well," replied the man who had been a painfully amateur entertainment, "I thought they were until I saw the show."

Spelling.

On a member of parliament being accused of bad spelling Disraeli humorously defended him by declaring that "a man must be an idiot who could not spell a word more ways than one."

Going Out.

Mr. B.—There, I've let my cigar go out. Do you know that it spoils a cigar no matter how good it is, if you allow it to go out? Mrs. B.—Yes; a cigar is a good deal like a man in that respect.

The Realistic Drama.

The Ghost—I could a tale unfold to you whose slightest word would make each particular hair stand on end. Hamlet—Useless labor, old chap; my hair's naturally pompadour.

An Improved Outlook.

"Jones is looking much better these days."

"What has he done—bought a new suit of clothes?"

"No, a new pair of glasses."

Will hen-pecked husbands please note that one of the windows of a big store which specializes in vacuum cleaners displays the following notice:

"Don't kill your wife. Let us do the dirty work."

DIRECTING A BATTLE.

How the General Staff Keeps in Touch With the Firing Line.

In wartime the many threads leading from the long battle line at length reach a common point, which is the headquarters of the general staff. The activity of each officer attached to the general staff is therefore of the greatest importance for the success of every military enterprise.

During the action every officer of the staff is at the immediate disposal of the commanding general and assists him in the carrying out of orders.

Among the duties of the staff officer during action belong the gathering and compilation of reports, which are constantly pouring in to headquarters and which give intimation of the progress of the battle. The staff officer must observe the needs of the troops in action. He must keep a close watch on their supply of ammunition. He must see that their commanders properly execute the orders of the commanding general. He must look after the wounded, see that they are properly treated and sent to lazarets. He must see to it that prisoners are properly cared for and that the commissariat is adequately provided for and the provisioning of the troops.

Sometimes the commanding general entrusts a staff officer with the observation of the action of the opposing forces which may be beyond the view of headquarters, or he may be sent to the firing line with important orders to commanders there, which, however, the staff officer has authority to alter if in his judgment this is necessary.

During defense movements it is of particular importance to observe closely the movements of the opposing forces in order to make preparation for counted moves, such as advances, retreats, the sending of re-enforcements and other movements of troops. The execution of these movements falls within the province of the staff officer.

The training of the staff officer is very thorough. A complete practical course in military science, extending over many years' of active service with various bodies of troops, is augmented by years of study at the war college, which embraces the last word in the theoretical science of modern warfare. —New York Tribune.

BEARD OF THE TURK.

It Is Sacred, For by It He Pledges His Word and Honor.

Some years ago the German Colonel von Schlichting, instructor to the Ottoman army, was shot dead on parade at Tildiz kiosk by a young Albanian soldier, Hadji Bairam, because the German in correcting the faulty pose of the soldier's head touched his chin with his riding whip.

Unfortunately the colonel did not know or did not remember that to touch a Mussulman's chin is a grave offense from a religious viewpoint. It is by the beard of the prophet or his own beard that he swears allegiance and makes his vows and promises. According to a Turkish general, an Albanian would kill his own father if he laid hands upon his son's head in so disrespectful a manner. A Mohammedan military service is simply a religious duty, and it implies a voluntary submission to discipline. But Turkish officers know better than to touch their men rudely or even to shout at them.

Of course it was a very regretable misunderstanding, and the sultan sent a telegram to the kaiser to express his sorrow, and an imperial Ottoman prince and three Turkish ministers followed the victim's hearse to the cemetery. But in the interests of discipline the murderer had to die despite an appeal for a reprieve from the colonel's widow.

The Albanian was shot by ten men of his own battalion, and when he was asked before the execution if he repented of the deed he replied twice in a firm voice, "No!"—Washington Star.

Some Forgotten Slang.

The cheese. It is the forgotten slang. But there were days when the proper man was not the Champagne Charlie or Gaythling of the "nineties." And the negative was "Oh, cheese it!" as a request to refrain from anything. And the origin of a song:

Ain't I the cheese,
Walking in the park
With my happy Louise?

Brunette—In what way?

"The other day the young man she is trying to land for a husband called her attention to a spot of powder on her nose."

"Well, well"—

"And Gerty said, 'I always do that, every time I eat marshmallows.'"—Youngstown Telegram.

He Rode.

While walking along a dusty road in Illinois in his circuit days Lincoln was overtaken by a stranger driving a cart to town. "Will you have the goodness to take my overcoat to town for me?" asked Lincoln.

"With pleasure. But how will you get it again?"

"Oh, very readily! I intend to remain in it," was Lincoln's prompt reply.

Cause of His Pessimism.

Orator — On the surface things are often right, but it is when we explore the depths of things that we see the deceptions of our fellow creatures. One of the Crowd — Guv'nor, you've been buying a barrel of apples, haven't you?—London Tit-Bits.

On Thursday of last week a friendly and interesting game of softball was played at the Napanee College grounds between Newburgh and Napanee, resulting in a victory for the visiting team by a score of 19-10. After the game the visiting team was entertained by the Napanee girls, who provided a very dainty luncheon and a pleasant evening's entertainment.

BASEBALL

Napanee 15, Kingston 4

The Napanee team visited Kingston on Thursday afternoon of last week and won out by a score of 15-4, making their third consecutive win in the St. Lawrence League schedule. Fraser, pitching for Napanee, turned in a nice game and was never in trouble, only allowing five hits. The feature of the game was a home run in the eighth by Richardson.

Score by innings:

Napanee	2	0	0	5	2	5	0	1	0—15

The line up:

Kingston—Blomely, l.f. and p.; Bird, s.s.; Twigg, 2b.; Gourdier, 1b.; Purdy, c.f.; Miller, r.f.; Ada, 3b. and l.f.; Stone, c.; Moore, p.

Umpires—Smith and McCulla.

Brockville 9, Napanee 7.

There was something doing every minute at the baseball game in the Driving Park on Friday evening last, when the locals were defeated by Brockville in a St. Lawrence League fixture by a score of 9-7, after one of the fastest battles ever seen here.

The locals had a grand chance to win out in the ninth. Naphin and Hudgins each reached first on an error, D. Fraser hit safely and Naphin scored, Huffman struck out, Scrimshaw reached first as D. Fraser was thrown out at the plate, Hudgins scored on Stewart's nice single to right, and Johnston advanced Stewart and reached first himself on a single. With two men out, two men on bases and two runs needed to tie up the game, C. Fraser struck out when a single would have done the trick. Perhaps it was a case of too many "twos", as Claude is not in the habit of fanning.

The attendance, while a great deal better than on the previous Wednesday, was not by any means what it should have been. The locals have won three games out of their last four starts, and, anyway, the gate receipts here will not keep the team going. Let's hope for a better attendance at the next game.

Brockville has one of the fastest teams in Eastern Ontario, and they are hard hitters as well. Draggett is a wonderful batter, as also is the diminutive Coderre, and, by the way, the latter is one of the niftiest fielders ever seen on a local diamond. Lightford, their first string catcher, is crafty and is the main stay of the team.

For Napanee, Stewart and Johnston had the best of the batting, each making three hits; Claude Fraser got a two-bagger, and the rest of the players each got one hit with the exception of Huffman and Scrimshaw.

Following is the score:

ORANGE CELEBRATION AT LIME LAKE

The Orange Celebration in Mr. George Tyner's Grove, Lime Lake, on Wednesday, August 12th, was greet- ed with fine weather and one of the largest crowds that ever attended a rural picnic in this district, over two thousand people being in attendance. The grove was ideal for picnic pur- poses and those who were present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Booths were interspersed through- out the grounds and were well pat- ronized, ice cream, candy and cold drinks being dispensed by capable and willing hands.

The Highlanders' Band, of King- ston, furnished excellent music throughout the day, and Scotch reels were danced to the tune of the bag- pipes, much to the delight of the spectators.

Among the sports provided was a baseball game between Sulphide and Tamworth, the former winning the game.

Dinner was served to all who did not prefer their own lunch.

Speeches were delivered by promin- ent members of the Orange Order and were listened to with rapt atten- tion by all.

The celebration was held under the auspices of Lime Lake Lodge and was a grand success, financially and otherwise.

TOWN COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday night.

Those present were Reeve Graham, Councillors Dunbar, Jewell, Howitt, Roy and Simpson.

His Worship Mayor Ming presided.

A communication was received, from J. D. Hedrig, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Belleville, calling atten- tion to a resolution passed by that body, suggesting that the Provincial Highway from Toronto to the Quebec boundary be called "The Bay of Quinte Trail", because it traverses for 80 miles a district adjacent to the historic Bay of Quinte. The Council was asked to endorse the resolution and forward same to the Minister of Highways.

From W. A. Charlton, Kingston, asking permission to sell balloons, fancy paper hats, etc., on the streets during the Fall Fair. On motion re- quest granted on payment of a fee of $10.00.

John M. Pringle, South River Road, complained of the continual bad odor from the Disposal Works, and asked the Council to in some way remedy the evil. Referred to Town Property Committee.

From Dr. Cowan, Medical Health Officer, calling the attention of the Council Board to the condition of the creek that runs through the property of William Rankin and Mrs. Arthur Plumley. The creek at this point is open and the M. H. O. claims it is a receptacle for animal and vegetable matter. This contaminates the wells in that district, and is the probable cause of typhoid fever. A number of cases happened in that neighborhood this summer. The doctor suggests the covering of the creek as a sani- tary measure.

On account of the fir, engine being out of commission for an indefinite period, it was decided to dispense with the engineer's services after Sept. 30th.

The amount of insurance to be placed on the biscuit factory was left to the Town Property Committee to decide.

LENNOX AND ADDINGTON BASEBALL LEAGUE

Adolphustown 9, Odessa 10.

The final of the Lennox and Addington League championship was played on Newburgh diamond on Monday afternoon, Adolphustown and Odessa participating. As both teams have been playing well of late a keen tussle was looked for by the many spectators, and few went home disappointed. The spectators were on their toes all the time, and especially during the last half of the ninth, when Odessa made four runs and won the championship. Several changes were made in the Adolphustown team B. Roblin playing 1st base until the third inning, G. Prout then taking the first sack, Roblin going to the bench. In the fourth innings Davern took 1st base, and Prout went on to the mound for the remainder of the game.

The game analysed :—

Adolphustown batted first, the only play of interest being a nice catch by Burley. Odessa also failed to score in the first. Adolphustown was again blanked in the second; Odessa's fielding in this innings being a feature of the game. O'Neil singled for Odessa in the second, a three-bagger by Cairns bringing him in; Cairns also tallied, and the innings closed without further score.

Adolphustown failed to score again in the third. Two men were down and two on bases when a splendid catch by Emmons closed the innings. McConnell made a three-bagger for Odessa, an error by Smith scoring McConnell. The innings closed without further score. Adolphustown went on a batting bee in the fourth. Pollard and Prout scored, leaving Allison and Davern on bases; Smith coming to bat made a three-bagger, scoring Allison and Davern. Kilgannon struck out the next two batters, closing the innings. Davern walked O'Neil. Pitchers were here changed, Davern going to first and G. Prout coming into the box. Burley then came to bat, driving out a long single, taking O'Neil to second. Kilgannon then made a three-bagger, scoring O'Neil and Burley. Emmons struck out. McConnell coming to bat next, knocked out a fly which was well caught by Allen. L. Davern batting first for Adolphustown in the fifth struck out. J. Prout batting next made a single. Pollard was then caught out by Smith, Prout stole second, an overthrow taking him to third. G. Prout was caught out at first, closing the innings. Lee coming up for Odessa was out at first, Smith then singled. Heath knocked a long single taking Smith to third. Heath stole second; O'Neil sacrificed scoring Smith. Burley was out at first, closing the innings. Allison came up first for Adolphustown and smashed out a two-bagger. The next batter, C. Davern, being out at first; Allison going to third. Kilgannon then made a three-bagger, scoring Allison and Davern. Kilgannon struck out the next batter, Ham, also singled taking Allan to third, an overthrow took Ham to second and scored Allan. L. Davern fanned, closing the innings. Cairns came to bat for Odessa and knocked a long fly to left field, Allison making a great catch. Kilgannon was then caught by Davern. Emmons was out at first, closing the innings. The seventh opened with J. Prout singling. Pollard was caught out by Heath. G. Prout singled, J. Prout going on to third. Prout got too far off first and Kilgannon threw him out. Allison also scored on J. Prout. The innings closed, when Allison was caught out stealing second. McConnell at bat singled for Odessa. Lee made a mighty clout to left field but again Allen was on the job, making a brilliant catch. McConnell was caught out stealing second, and Smith, the next batter, was out at first. C. Davern came up for Adolphustown in the eighth and was out at first. Smith singled. Allen singled making second on an error, Smith going to third. Ham made a long single scoring Smith, Allen going to third. L. Davern was out at first; Allan scoring. Prout being out at first closed the innings. Heath batting first for Odessa was out at first, O'Neil fanned, Burley singled, Cairns then made a two-bagger bringing Burley to third. Kilgannon being out at first closed the innings. Pollard at bat first for Adolphustown in the ninth was put out at first. G. Prout singled. Allison coming to bat was caught on a fly by Smith who slung the ball to first catching Prout off the bag and closing the innings. Emmons, Odessa's first batter, singled. McConnell was caught out by J. Prout. Lee, at bat, singled taking Emmons to second. Smith at bat singled taking Emmons to third and Lee to second. Heath was then caught out by J. Prout. O'Neil drove out a long single scoring Emmons and Lee and taking Smith to third. Burley singled scoring Smith. Cairns coming to bat smashed out a beauty, amidst great cheering, bringing in O'Neil and winning one of the best games ever witnessed in this county.

Odessa—Kilgannon p., Cairns c., Lee 1b., Smith 2b., Burley 3b., Heath ss., McConnell l.f., O'Neil c.f., Emmons r.f.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCabe, on Monday, August 3rd, when a number of friends gathered together and presented Mr. Freddie Terry with the following address and presentation. The address was read by Miss Edna Funnell, and the presentation was made by Miss Pearl Perry.

Dear Freddie,—We have gathered here to-night to say good-bye before you leave us for your new home. You have made many friends by your cheerfull jovial manner, and we shall not soon forget your sunny smile.

You were always ready and willing to help in any way you could, and we shall miss the sound of your cornet.

We wish you good luck in your new neighbourhood, and know you will find many kind friends. Do not forget the old ones, and there will always be a welcome for you in this community.

Before you leave we wish to show in some tangible way that our good wishes are sincere, and ask you to accept these remembrances. Write to us with your fountain pen and may this New Testament help to solve your difficulties through life.

Signed on behalf of the community.

S. P. SPROULE,
MRS. E. O. McCABE.

In a few selected words Mr. Terry thanked his many friends of Sand Hill for their kindness.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

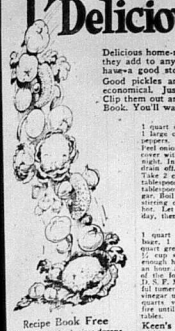
How to make Delicious Pickles



Delicious home-made pickles! What delight they add to any meal! How convenient to have a good stock of them on hand.

Good pickles are simple to make — and economical. Just try these two recipes. Clip them out and keep them in your Cook Book. You'll want them again.

Mustard Pickles

Peel onions, cut vegetables in small pieces, cover with weak brine and let stand overnight. In the morning bring to a boil and drain off.

Take 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup flour, 6 tablespoonfuls Keen's D.S.F. Mustard, 1 tablespoonful turmeric and 2 quarts vinegar. Boil this mixture for twenty minutes, stirring continually. Pour over vegetables hot. Let stand ten days, stirring every day, then bottle.

Dutch Pickle

1 quart green cucumbers, 1 small cabbage, 1 quart onions, 2 red peppers, 1 quart green tomatoes, 1 large cauliflower, ½ cup salt. Chop all fine and pour on enough hot water to cover. Let stand half an hour and drain. Then make a dressing of the following: 8 tablespoonfuls Keen's D.S.F. Mustard, 3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoonful tumeric, 1 cup flour, Mix with a little vinegar until smooth, add mixture to two quarts vinegar, stirring constantly over fire until thickened, then pour over vegetables.

Keen's Mustard brings out all the hidden flavour and adds a zesty tang.

Say Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Napanee, N.S. — "I took your medicine before confinement and inward pains, and my right side ached at times but I could not walk about. I thought about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and have taken five bottles of it and it has done me a world of good. I have my letter to help other women." — Mrs. ALVITA M. PERRY, Napanee, N.S.

Nervous Breakdown Relieved

Berlin, Ontario. — "It is pretty hard to describe your feelings in nervous breakdown. I felt low spirited, had pains in my head and eyes, always crying, and did not go anywhere. I do not like fancy work, and I would get irritable after a few minutes of it. I have been in Canada five years and this was the first time since I left that I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sleep better and can eat, and I must say I feel feeling more jolly. I have recommended it to many in your medicine because of what it has done for my husband's sister and she recommended it to me." — Mrs. A. SMITH, 30 Burleigh Avenue, Berlin, Toronto, Ontario.

A grand community picnic from Camden East and district was held at Cedar Crest, Varty Lake, on Wednesday, August 12th, a large crowd being present. WOMAN'S INSTITUTE

The Woman's Institute met and were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jas. Donovan, on Tuesday of last week. The meeting was to have been in the form of a picnic along the river bank, but owing to threatened showers it was thought better to remain indoors.

The meeting was well represented by the members and a few visitors.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. McCallum, and the First Vice, the chair was ably filled by Mrs. Tucker, Second Vice President, who opened the meeting, after which the minutes were read by the Recording Secretary, Miss Hattie Reid, which brought to mind the lecture by Miss Collins, of Ancaster, which took place at the June meeting, to which we will refer later. After business was amply discussed, all were free to exercise their conversational powers and needle craft. The roll call was answered by conundrums, some of which were extremely amusing.

A dainty and substantial lunch was then served, and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

Miss Collins, of Ancaster, gave a lecture on behalf of the work of the Woman's Institute, in the Town Hall, Tamworth, on June 25th.

During the few sprinkles of rain, the attendance was not large, but those who were present enjoyed an intellectual treat, which we trust will be both beneficial and lasting.

Miss Collins spoke of the origin of the Institute and its object, and proved it out by quoting several instances that more sanitary conditions, better cooking, better health, and better morals are the result.

"If we would catch the vision of what is needed and what might be accomplished the work is almost done. One lives to himself and no man dieth to himself" she quoted, which shows us our responsibility toward the future of the enlightened women of the home is responsible only for her own, but in a measure for those of the community who have not the same advantages. Eighty per cent of the committee, she said, are due to inefficient home training. What a field of labor is open to the conscientious, cultured and trained leaders on behalf of the uncared for little ones!

Since the organization of our Institute at Tamworth, we have had Presidents of no mean ability, Mesdames Piper, Lockridge, and now Mrs. McCallum, under whose leadership we hope to do good and worthy work.

Three years ago we enjoyed a ten days' cooking course, taught by Miss Hopkins, of Lindsay; two years ago a home nursing and first aid course by Miss Harrison and last year a sewing course.

One interesting feature of our Institute is the arranging of the programs, which are planned a year ahead by the Executive committee, thus giving the participants the chance for thorough preparation of her subject, and is a medium through which otherwise hidden talents are brought forth and cultivated.

If every guardian of the home would only open her eyes to the advantages gained by becoming a member of the Institute, exchanging ideas in home-making, etc., we believe the results would be better homes, and what object could be more worthy?

MIGHTY MAUNA LOA.

The lofty volcanoes of the Hawaiian Islands, rising above the ocean from 6,000 to nearly 14,000 feet, are only the summits of gigantic mountain masses that rise abruptly from the bottom of the Pacific. Mauna Loa, on the island of Hawaii, stands 13,675 feet above sea level, but its slopes descend beneath the sea, as shown by deep sea soundings, with a grade fully equal to if not greater than that of the visible slopes. The same is generally true of the submarine slopes of other islands, and the depths attained by these continuous slopes, within thirty to fifty miles of the shores, vary from 14,000 to 19,000 feet. Mauna Loa and Mount Kea, if their true bases are considered to be at the bottom of the Pacific, are therefore mountains of as great an altitude as Mount Everest, or approximately 30,000 feet. In general the Hawaiian island group consists of summits of a gigantic submarine mountain chain which projects only its loftier peaks and domes above the water. On the island of Hawaii the volcanic forces are still in operation.

The one continuously active volcano vent of the island is Kilauea, far down on the eastern flank of Mauna Loa, "the great mountain." No other volcano in the world approaches Mauna Loa in the vastness of its mass or in the magnitude of its eruptive activity. There are many volcanic peaks higher in the air, but most of them are planted upon elevated platforms, where they appear as mere cones of greater or less size. It is not yet known at what level the base of Mauna Loa is situated, but it is below the sea, probably far below.

Mauna Kea—"the white mountain"—is also a colossus among volcanoes. Its summit, 13,825 feet, is a trifle higher than that of Mauna Loa, but its slopes are steeper, and its base is therefore much smaller. The magnitude of Mauna Loa is due chiefly to the great area of its bulk, which is nearly elliptical in shape, with a major diameter of seventy-four miles and a minor diameter of fifty-three miles, measured at sea level.

In the aggregate of its eruptions Mauna Loa is also unrivaled. Some of the volcanoes of Iceland have been known to disgorge at a single outbreak masses of lava fully equal to those of Mauna Loa. But such outbursts are infrequent in Iceland, and a century has elapsed since any of such magnitude have occurred, though there have been several minor eruptions. The eruptions of Mauna Loa are all of great volume and occur irregularly, at an average interval of about eight years. In view of the total quantity of material it has discharged during the last century no other volcano is at all comparable to it.—From a Bulletin of the United States Geological Survey.

Casting Metals.

As is well known, some metals are unsuitable for casting, while others, like iron, can readily be cast in any desired shape. The property of casting well is said to depend upon whether the metal contracts or expands on solidifying from the liquid form. Iron, like water, expands in solidifying, and hence the solid metal may be seen floating in the liquid iron about it. The expansion causes it to fill the die into which it is poured, and so it can be cast easily. Gold and silver contract in cooling and therefore are not suitable for casting.—Exchange.

"Valley of Dried Bones."

The island of Jamaica possesses a "valley of dried bones." It is near the Cunecuna gap, in the Maroon county. This valley, though in the heart of the "wet country," is bare of soil and life. The limestone rock is hot. Giant trees, which seem to have been blighted suddenly, stand up gaunt and dead. Although vegetation seems to have been dense here in former years, nothing will grow now. During the hot season the temperature is almost unbearable. It is visited by seismic disturbances, which cause the dead trees and hot stones to rattle like dry bones.

Old Pension Plan.

They had a roundabout way of bestowing military pensions in the old days. Witness this official communication from the war office in the reign of Queen Anne. Her majesty, it runs, has been pleased to grant Fitton Mansbull, a child, a commission as ensign in consequence of the loss of his father, who died in the service. And Fitton was at the same time granted fuzelough until further order, his army pay being sent regularly to his mother. —London Graphic.

Paradoxical Proposition.

"Do you use the word politics as singular or plural?" asked the person who is always wanting to know something.

"That has always puzzled me," replied Senator Bottletop. "There is nothing more singular than some of the pluralities that politics develops." —Washington Star.

The Wrong Place.

Lawyer—My client did not understand your honor, as he is very deaf. Magistrate—And he has come to this court for a hearing. Lawyer—Yes, your honor. Magistrate—Then tell him he had better go to a specialist.—Baltimore American.

The Cure.

"I thought Skinflint was dying?"

"He was, until he heard the doctor say something about paying the debt of nature, and he called for his clothes and got well."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sin writes history, goodness is silent.—Goethe.

Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

It is a wonder-worker; it never falters, never gives up until every vestiges of poison is expelled from the body.

SWISS MILITARY SYSTEM.

With No Standing Army Every Citizen is a Trained Soldier.

The republic of Switzerland furnishes an example in the way of military preparedness well worth study. It has no standing army, and yet every man is a trained soldier and can be at any time be called upon to defend his country.

Military training in Switzerland begins at the age of eight years. From the ages of seventeen to forty-nine service is compulsory at the call of the state. All males not incapacitated serve thirteen years in the aufzug. twelve years in the landwehr and six years in the landsturm. From eight years to seventeen the boys receive military instruction in the public schools, and when they enter the aufzug they are prepared for actual training in arms. In the first year of their service they spend from sixty-seven to ninety-two days in camp or maneuvers, depending upon whether they belong to cavalry, infantry, artillery or engineers. In each subsequent year they serve thirteen days.

The total service for the thirteen years is 141 days for infantry, 146 for engineers, 160 for cavalry and 163 for artillery. This makes a total of less than six months for the thirteen years, but the training is that of actual warfare and the product is trained and seasoned soldiers.

This Swiss force can only be called for defense against invasion. For an offensive campaign a new army must be raised by volunteering.—Newark News.

SPAIN'S WOMAN WARRIOR.

The Maid of Saragossa and How She Saved Her City.

In July, 1808, the French were pressing hard upon Saragossa. The hardest fighting occurred at Portillo gate, where the assulting batteries more than once reached the dilapidated earthworks. The gunners of the Spanish battery were shot down one after another, the survivors falling before they could discharge the last loaded gun.

The infantry flinched, and the French were closing in when a young woman betrothed to a young sergeant of artillery who had just fallen rushed in, snatched the lighted match from her dying lover's hand and fired the andle charged twenty-four pounder into the head of the advancing column.

The enemy was thrown back. The citizens with a cheer rushed forward, unscrupled the battery and the assault was checked.

Augustina Zaragoza received from her government a commission as sub-lieutenant of the artillery and a life pension. A few years later she was seen by an English traveler serving with her battery in Andalusia. She was a fine artillery nurse, on the sleeve of which was a shield of honor.—Washington Star.

WEDDING BELLS.

Herrington—Fair.

St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, was the scene of an exceedingly smart wedding at seven o'clock on Saturday evening, when Lillian Florence, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allred Hewton Fair, became the bride of Mr. Walter Harold Herrington, Kingston, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Herrington, Napanee. The Rev. W. E. Kidd performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Coleman, of Napanee. The church was lovely, with quantities of tall pink and white gladioli arranged on the altar and also on the chancel steps, and together with ferns and palms formed a most attractive setting for the bridal party. Bouquets of colored asters marked the guests' pews. While the guests were assembling, Mr. R. R. F. Harvey, the Cathedral organist, played delightfully, and promptly at seven the soft notes of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin pealed forth, as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. And a radiant vision of girlish loveliness she was as she came up the aisle, wearing an exquisite hand-made imported gown of ivory kitten's ear crepe, made on straight lines with a flounce of chantilly lace, and long sleeves made of satin and lace. The long court train, which hung gracefully from the shoulders, was of chantilly lace embroidered in true lovers' knots in silver, and lined with palest pink georgette and silver. Her veil, which reached beyond her train, was inset with medallions of chantilly lace and embroidered in silver, and was caught to her fair hair with a coronet of lace finished with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses, sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley, and wore the groom's gift, a platinum bar pin set with diamonds and sapphires. Miss Helen Herrington, of Napanee, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a dainty frock of pink georgette and chantilly lace. She wore a white tulle veil caught with a bandeau of brilliants and mauve ostrich feathers, mauve stockings and silver shoes, and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses, sweetheart roses, sweet peas in pastel shades, and bachelor's buttons, tied with mauve tulle. The bridesmaids were Miss Isobel Minnes, Miss Marjory Fair, Miss Grace Mooers and Miss Alice Lazier, of Belleville. Miss Minnes and Miss Fair wore blue, and Miss Mooers and Miss Lazier wore mauve. The frocks were all made alike of georgette, with straight bodices, and the skirts with flounces of georgette, and a large bow of silver ribbon at the side. They all wore white tulle veils, caught with brilliants and ostrich feathers to match their frocks, stockings to match and silver shoes. Their bouquets were ophelia and sweetheart roses, and sweet peas tied with tulle to match. Mr. John W. Milne, D.C.M., M.M., of Toronto, was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Theodore Gould, Baltimore, Maryland; Capt. Douglas Ham, Indian Army; Mr. Bert Grange, Toronto; Mr. Robert F. Vair, Kingston; Mr. Kenneth Ham, Napanee, and Mr. Thomas Day, Toronto. During the signing of the register, Miss Harriette Gardiner sang, "All Joy Be Thine," by Sanderson. She wore a dainty frock of rose flowered georgette with deep rose fringe and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses and sweet peas.

As the guests came into the church they were handed dainty little white books with the marriage service to keep in remembrance of the occasion. After the ceremony the guests went out to the Golf Club, where a reception was held, and the bride and groom received the good wishes of their friends. Quantities of summer flowers were arranged about the spacious rooms. The wedding cake, adorned with pink roses in silver vases, centered the bride's table, which was further ornamented with pink roses in silver vases, surrounded with pink tulle. After the supper had been partaken of and the toasts drunk, the table was cleared away and the bride and groom led off in a dance. Sid Fox and his Serenaders, upstairs in the gallery, played a delightful program. Soon everybody was dancing and the scene was indeed a merry one. Gay colored balloons and streamers of colored paper were thrown from the gallery and added to the fun. But before long the bride disappeared and soon reappeared in her travelling costume. Her gown was of pansy blue satin with gauntlets and trimmed with yellow, a pansy blue velvet hat with silk plume to match and a smart fawn kasha cloth coat trimmed with dyed fox to match. Before leaving the bride threw her bouquet over the gallery and it was caught by Miss Marjory Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Herrington left on a motor trip in a new Hupmobile roadster, a wedding gift to the bride from her father. After the departure of the bride and groom dancing went on until midnight. To the maid of honor, the bridesmaids and Miss Harriette Gardiner, the groom gave gold bracelets with his name and that of the bride engraved inside, and to the groomsman he gave a set of pearl cuff links and studs.

Mrs. A. H. Fair, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of sequins embroidered in gold over blue satin, with cascades of black chantilly lace on one side and silver lace on the other, a large black velvet hat trimmed with blue and gold lace, a black lace wrap lined with white and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. W. S. Herrington, of Napanee, mother of the groom, wore a lovely gown of beige georgette embroidered in gold beads, beige stockings and gold shoes, and a black picture hat

Mrs. W. J. Fair, aunt of the bride, handsome gown of black satin and jet, large hat of black velvet and leghorn and blue rose.

Miss Virginia Fair, frock of green flowered georgette, black picture hat with single pink rose, wrap of gold color satin.

DIET AND GOOD HEALTH.

Food Should Be Carefully Selected and Properly Varied.

The eminent American physiologist Lusk says that nature, through the device of appetite, usually provides against the use of improper food, but that reason must play a part in food selections. A glass of milk and a piece of pie are poor materials for the brain of an active business man whose sedentary life requires 2,500 heat units of calories to maintain his body machinery.

We need also water, salts, proteins and certain newly discovered substances called vitamines. All these materials are to be found in milk, beans, bread and other great fundamentals of nutrition. Solutions of cane sugar or of glucose are not the excessive mainstays of life, and yet glucose taken alone yields 2,500 heat units at a cost of 4 1-4 cents, and 2,500 calories in the form of cane sugar cost 8 1-3 cents.

Glucose is the cheapest food fuel known, but, like cane sugar or butter fat, is not a complete food in that it does not contain everything necessary for life. Commercial glucose is absolutely harmless. A man must have sufficient calories in his diet if he is to live properly and perform labor satisfactorily.—New York World.

COROT, THE ARTIST.

His Whole Life Was a Song, and Melody Permeated His Works.

Those painters who also have the feeling and some of the proficiency of a musician reveal it in their work. They are usually colorists, with more eye for the colors and tones of nature than her shapes and forms.

Such a one was Corot. He had a good tenor voice and played on the violin. He sang at his work and sang, too, when he was not painting, but wandering through the forest of Fontainebleau or around the village of Ville d'Avray, absorbing the beauty of the scene and storing up impressions for future pictures. In fact, his whole long life of seventy-nine years was to Le Pere Corot, as his friends loved to call him, a song.

And one feels it in his pictures, at least in his later ones, by which he is best known. Their coloring is subdued, like a lullaby or waking song, for it was the dawn or twilight that he preferred to paint. His work vibrates with the hum of melody, and here and there is an accent of effect that trembles like the string of his violin.

Corot's long life was a remarkable instance of a man being able to continue to the end the springtime of his youth.

Power of Falling Water.

Still water gives no power, no energy. Falling water has only as much power as is represented by its weight. A gallon of falling water will develop a pressure of .43 pounds per square inch of pipe. The same amount of water falling 100 feet will develop a pressure of 43.31 pounds per square inch of pipe. Falling 1,000 feet it would produce a pressure of 433.09 pounds per square inch of pipe. To compute the power of falling water it is necessary to multiply the volume of flowing water in cubic feet per minute by its weight, 62.5 pounds, and this product by the vertical height of the fall in feet, and divide by 33,000, the number of foot pounds representing one horsepower for one minute.—New York World.

Military Files.

"Files on parade" means a body of soldiers, a troop or company marching in a file or line, not abreast, but one after another. We speak of the "rank and file," meaning soldiers who are formed so that they march abreast and also in ranks, following each other. The term in general means the common soldiers below the rank of noncommissioned officers. There are other file terms in military tactics, such as "file right" and "file left." As Kipling uses the term it means the common soldiers who have been called out for the purpose described in the poem of "Danny Deever."—Philadelphia Press.

Pa's Explanation.

"Pa, what do people mean when they talk of laying up something for a rainy day?"

"A rainy day means hard times, my son."

"Why so, pa?"

"Because, I suppose, on a rainy day there is no dust in sight!"—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

British Coronation.

No other coronation rite in Europe reaches back to so early a period as that of Great Britain. From the Anglo-Saxon order of the coronation of Egbert was derived the ancient form of the coronations of the kings of France.—London Express.

Difference of Opinion.

"It takes two to start a quarrel," said Mrs. Gabb.

"Oh, no, it doesn't," replied Mr. Gabb. "A man and his wife are one."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Two Ideas.

The optimist rejoiced in the glorious days of summer. The pessimist remarked said. "Ain't it a little too sudden?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Such as thy thoughts and ordinary cogitations are, such will thy mind be in time.—Marcus Aurelius.

THE NAPANEE BEAVER

FLINGING THE CHAKRI.

One of the Dexterous Feats of the Clever Hindus of Gwalior.

There is a curious custom in Hindostan, India, the seat of Jain and early Hindu antiquities. In front of the mausoleum of a holy saint—Mohammed Ghouse—a fair is held annually on the outskirts of Gwalior town about the middle of the rainy season. The most noticeable feature of the fair is the chakri throw.

A chakri is a piece of iron something like a spindle, over which a long piece of string or thread is rolled. The player throws the chakri in the air the iron chakri (literally a roll), holding one end of the string in his hand, and gives it a swing and jerk in such a clever manner that the chakri on coming down rolls up the thread again on itself and is caught in the hands of the thrower.

The art has been dexterously practiced by a class of people for ages past, and some members are so renowned that they cut a good figure at the scene. It is most interesting to watch the thrower fling the chakri up high, see the chakri hands on return and continue sending it up again and again till the rope becomes as high as seventy feet above the ground. To be absolutely no spring or lever attachment in the chakri. Nabbo is the champion thrower.—London Strand Magazine.

TORTURE OF THE "PICKET."

A Form of Military Punishment in England in Bygone Days.

The "picket," an ingenious form of punishment in use in England in the days of old, was generally inflicted on cavalry and artillery men and was a singularly brutal bit of torture.

A long post, near which stood a stool, was driven into the ground. The delinquent was ordered to mount the stool, and his right hand was fastened to a hook in the post by a noose, drawn up as high as it could be stretched round his wrist. A stump the height of the stool, with its end cut to a round and blunt point, was also driven into the earth close to the post.

Then the stool was taken away, and the sufferer had nothing to rest his bare feet upon but the stump, "which, though it did not usually break the skin," says Captain Grose, "put him in great torture, his only means of relief being by resting his weight on his wrist, the pain of which soon became intolerable."

One can very well believe him, especially when he makes the addition that a man was not infrequently left to stand in this position for half an hour, although the orthodox period of endurance was fifteen minutes.—London Graphic.

Sleeplessness.

A favorite dictum of the physiologists, emphasized in their latest works, relates to the dangers of sleeplessness. "Sleep is more important to life than nutrition, and insomnia kills sooner than starvation," to quote the exact words of one. This has been a kind of tradition in medicine and is reiterated again and again in these books without any evidence, so far as I know, to support it. Taught to every medical man of older generations, and to every medical fledgling of to-day, it finds its way to general public acceptance, begetting in the lay mind terrors of insanity and death which haunt every unfortunate victim of insomnia. The fear of not sleeping is one of the commonest causes of insomnia. Yet I do not know of any medical evidence anywhere of disastrous results from insomnia and have myself never seen any harm arise from sleeplessness apart from the harm done by the fears and worries associated with the condition.—Atlantic Monthly.

Making a New Nose.

In a German medical journal Professor Max Joseph of Berlin describes a method of making a new nose where the original member has been destroyed by disease or accident. An arm is fixed above the head and encased in plaster of paris so that it cannot be moved. A piece of the skin oval in outline is then cut partially free from the arm and sewn to one side of the face. The flap is taken next to this new position the flap is cut free from the arm, which is now removed from the plaster of paris encasement, and is sewn to the other side of the nose by its remaining edge. This gives sufficient skin covering. The nose is now built up by strips of bone taken from the shin and a straight profile is obtained.

Took Her Breath Away.

A very talkative little girl, who had been chattering away like a magpie all morning, suddenly became silent when a lady, dressed in the extreme of the fashion, called on her mother. Wishing to be amiable, the visitor said to the chatterbox:

"Have you lost your tongue, my dear?"

"Oh, no, ma'am," was the reply; "only my breath."—New York Tribune.

Goods In Bond.

A bonded warehouse is one in which imported goods liable to customs duty or manufactured articles liable to internal revenue duty are stored until the duty or tax is paid. Goods so stored pending the payment of duty are said to be in bond.

Decidedly Small.

Learning without thought is labor lost; thought without learning is perilous.—Chinese.

First Farmer—"How do you find your new hired man, Zery?"

Vast Forests of Alaska.

We hear much concerning the rapid disappearance of our forests. The vast timbered area of the eastern and central portions of the United States is fast being transformed into a woodless country, becoming very thickly populated, and doubtless will never grow much timber again. In Alaska, which is one of our territories, the timber area is estimated to be somewhere near 30 per cent of the entire land, and there is considerably more than 100,000,000 acres of good woodland, with timber that is of such a value as to be worth cansidering at present. It will require years to even make any marked impression on such a vast forest.—Philadelphia North American.

Mamma's Kiss.

This pretty child story is from the French:

A mother tells her little girl that because she has been naughty she will not kiss her for a week. Before two days have gone by the child's lips hunger so for her mother's kiss that she begs her not to punish her any more.

The mother says: "No, my dear. I told you that I should not kiss you, and I must keep my word."

"But, mamma, mamma," says the little girl, "would it be breaking your word if you should kiss me just once tonight when I'm asleep?"

Wedding Presents.

Weddine presents originated in a feudal tribute from the vassals to their lord. When feudalism ceased the presents became voluntary. In the days of Queen Elizabeth a pair of knives or scissors was a common gift and symbolized the cutting of unfaithful love.

With a String.

"Mamma, can't we have anything we want?"

"Yes, my dear, but be careful and don't want anything you can't have."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tie That Binds.

Wife — I am a bundle of nerves. Sympathetic Husband—Well, so long as the string doesn't break you will be all right, my dear.—Judge.

"Yes – Rinso washes cottons so beautifully"

"See how spotlessly clean it made this dress! No rubbing or boiling either—just soaking in Rinso. Washday holds no more terrors for me!"

Soaking clothes in Rinso takes the place of the hard rubbing that used to wear you out. The Rinso suds are so rich in cleansing power that they loosen even ground-in dirt. Play clothes, collar bands and cuff edges now come clean with a sprinkle of dry Rinso and only a light rubbing between your fingers—after their Rinso bath.

Be sure to use enough Rinso to get lasting suds after the clothes have been put in. Then, thorough soaking in Rinso floats the dirt out.

The Right Way to Boil Potatoes

Put the potatoes in an SMP Enameled Potato Pot. Cover with water. Add salt to taste. Boil until soft. When finished, drain off all the boiling water through the strainer spout. No danger of steam scalding the hands because the handle securely locks the cover on. If your family uses potatoes, you require one of these.

YARKER

(For last week.)

With a heavy heart we record the death of a loving mother, a christian woman and a true friend, in the person of Helen Lindsay, wife of James Freeman, a life long resident of our village. Mrs. Freeman was taken ill on Tuesday, August 4th, and was taken to the K. G. Hospital for an operation in Thursday, from which she failed to recover, and passed peacefully away on Monday morning about 8 o'clock. It will be hard to fill her place in the social part of this community, as she was a faithful worker, always ready to do her part in any good work. The many wreaths which completely covered her casket, and as many more carried by six little girls, also the large assembly which gathered to pay their last respects to the departed one, all testify to the great number of friends which she enjoyed. That she will be missed is putting it very mildly. Rev. Mr. Farnsworth preached the funeral sermon, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth, of Sydenham. Mrs. Freeman is survived by her husband, James Freeman, one daughter, Marion, and one son, Harold, besides a number of brothers and sisters.—Mrs. Ora Lee is very low at time of writing.—The hail storm of a week ago did quite a lot of damage through this district.—Henry Hart and family, of Syracuse, are visiting at S. "Dolphin" Wins Trophy.

The regatta, held at Kingston on Monday, August 10th, at which the "Dolphin", owned by Skinner Mills, competed successfully, was a great disappointment in regard to numbers as many yachts that attended the Belleville regatta were expected, to compete, but only three or four entries were made in each class and some of the yachts failed to face the music, as a strong increasing wind was blowing and the water was already very rough. These conditions, however, were just to the Dolphin's liking and she ran the course with perfect ease and comfort, romping in over the seas many minutes in advance of her class, winning first place and bringing home the flag and the silverware. The Dolphin also attended the L. Y. R. A. regatta held at Belleville, on the 5th, 6th, and 7th, but owing to many breaks in her luck did not succeed in bringing home a trophy, although she fairly won the race on the last day, having crossed the line in third place, eight minutes ahead of her next competitor. In the run home from the regatta she, however, got some satisfaction in showing a clean pair of heels to a bunch of six or eight racers, who tried their best to overcome a ten-minute start which Dolphin had, and which she held with increasing gain, reaching Prince Island, her summer home, thirty minutes ahead of the Scrapper, her nearest competitor, and many more against the others, among whom were two Class "P" boats. This week she has a party of Glen Islanders on board for a cruise to the 1000 Islands.

TAMWORTH

The extreme heat of the past week and frequent showers have ripened the grain, which is a good crop. — Mr. James Wheeler received a telegram on Friday, announcing the death of Mr. W. D. Mace, of Winnipeg. He owned and operated the grist and saw mills here for years, and took a keen interest in the welfare of the village, and his passing away caused general regret. His funeral was held in Christ Church, on Tuesday, Canon Jones, an old friend of Kingston, being in charge, assisted by Rev. Mr. Poston.—Mr. W. J. Paul and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Paul, of Toronto, and Mrs. Schryver are camping at Beaver Lake.—Mrs. L. Wells is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hall, in Toronto. — A special meeting was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening to discuss the purchasing of a fire apparatus, which is much needed.—Miss Coulter and her nephew, Edmund Wheeler, spent a day recently at Major Amey's, Moscow.—Mrs. Haines, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. S. Shields.

His Own Medicine.

A certain barrister named Jones who practiced in Lord Brougham's time was in the habit of commencing the examination of a witness with these words, "Now, sir, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it."

Brougham, like many others, was growing tired of the monotonous formula, and one morning, meeting Jones near the temple, he addressed him thus: "Now, Jones, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it. How are you?"—London Express.

Mrs. Bacon—I see it is stated that the average length of life rose from twenty and one-quarter years in the sixteenth century to forty and one-half years in the nineteenth century.

Mr. Bacon—I suppose the latter time was when the women began telling the truth about their ages.—Yonkers Statesman.

Use in Beauty.

Strike out all the beautiful from the world, leave us only the useful—the eminently useful—and we should lose all elasticity out of our lives, all strength out of our purpose, all energy out of our arms. It is the thousandfold beauty, meeting our eyes at every turn, that saves us.—Charles Force Deems.

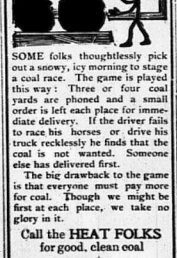
HEAT FOLKS



TODAY'S PROBLEM
How can we convince the people that ordering coal from several yards at once increases the price sooner or later

SOME folks thoughtlessly pick out a snowy, icy morning to stage a coal race. The game is played this way: Three or four coal yards are phoned and a small order is left each place for immediate delivery. If the driver fails to race his horses or drive his truck recklessly he finds that the coal is not wanted. Someone else has delivered first.

The big drawback to the game is that everyone must pay more for coal. Though we might be first at each place, we take no glory in it.

Call the HEAT FOLKS for good, clean coal

Lennox Agricultural Fair Records Its Greatest Success

Fine Weather and Big Crowds Every Day and Night

Management Deserves to Have Their Names Enrolled on the Scroll of Fame

To one who can remember what the Napanee Fair was like in the old days when the fair was held in the old palace and grounds across the river, one can hardly realize that such a magnificent and prepossessing location as we have had the pleasure of witnessing during the past few days would be possible in Napanee. Yet we enjoyed those old fairs too.

To the care, thought and energy of the capable Secretary of the Society, Mr. J. Lester Boyes, this metamorphosis is most due, and this meed of praise does not detract in any way from the credit due to the gallant band of directors, other officers and loyal farmers and other exhibitors, who by the display of such fine exhibits are not only helping the Society but helping themselves to success.

"The Beaver" takes pleasure in publishing the names of the people, who have given of their time and talents to bring about such results.

Following this is Arthur Allen's Bellevilla exhibit of Linoleum flooring. The fine exhibit of the Haines' Shoe Houses is next, right up in the corner, where the finest of footwear and travelling equipment can be seen to best advantage. (See "The Exhibits").

This brings you to the Western end of the building, where in cases on the wall and on the end of the centre table will be found the most delectable display of home-made delicacies which appeal to the inner man, woman and child, there are bread and buns and cake and canned fruit and chickens and eggs and pies, etc., etc.

Continuing around the palace in an Easterly direction we find an admirable display of School Children's work, which is well worthy of careful study and highly creditable to the authors of the exhibits. Then comes the grand display of furs by McKay of Kingston, who has earned a world-wide reputation for splendid quality of the garment he produces. (See "The Exhibits").

Next to McKay's is a fine display of Pianos and other musical instruments by our enterprising townsman, VanLuven, Harry L. to be exact, of musical fame and noted for a square deal. (See "The Exhibits"). Then comes the Art Gallery, where will be found many beautiful drawings, paintings and other works of art.

In the next booth are housed the ladies of the Church Woman's Guild of St. Mary Magdalene Church, who have useful and ornamental goods for sale, and also running a dispensary for ice cream. Then there is the fine display of Furs by Goudier, of Kingston, whose wares are charmingly displayed in a miniature store front with plate glass windows, a door with plate glass and a fine bright brass handle to it.

Now we are back to the place where we started, and ready for a trip around the great centre table, where will be found a beautiful display of fruit, flowers, pickles, honey, etc. A big showing of apples was there, but some of the later varieties are not yet fit to show. Amongst the fine display were fine specimens of gladioli, pansies, nasturtiums, phlox, lobelia, snap-dragon, petunias, sweet peas, dahlias, asters, cosmos, zinnias, marigolds, etc. In potted plants there were some excellent exhibits amongst which may be mentioned begonias, flowering and foliage, Jerusalem cherry, fuchias, geraniums, phlox, Coleus, etc. Also some magnificent plants of sword and other ferns.

Altogether it is not too much to say that the palace was a bower of charm and beauty; doubtless this was due largely to the fact that so many ladies were in the building most of the time.

TUESDAY

The Fair opened at 8 a.m. and thereafter there was a busy time getting the exhibits in place.

The Cobourg Highlanders' Band arrived on the morning train, dined and marched to the Driving Park about one o'clock, drawing the crowd with them to the martial strains of fine music. Everybody wants to follow the pipes, even it they cannot detect music in the bagpipes.

Horse Races.

As usual the horse races attracted a very large portion of the people, assembled on the grounds, and the onlookers were well rewarded by two well-run racing events. Senator Webster, of Brockville, was judge, and Jesse Johnston, of Adolphustown, was starter.

In the game, Gananoque versus Napanee, Napanee was victorious by a score of 13 to 7.

Tuesday Evening.

Of course, as in former years, the great event of the Fair is the Baby Show on the first night. This year there were more babies than formerly.

E. J. Sexsmith, M.P., was chairman, and gave a brief and appropriate address. In the course of his remarks he said the people throughout the country were more and more coming to a realization of the value of the County Fairs. He spoke of the good feeling between the urban and rural population and of the interdependence of all for the good of the whole community.

Referring to the Baby Show, the speaker said he had predicted three years ago an increase in the number of babies each year, and he was right. Last year there were six more than on the previous year, and this year there were nearly double the number of last year. He said that next year there would be at least thirty babies.

He then took pleasure in announcing that Nurses Miss Bartley and Miss Baker would be the judges.

There were twenty of our newest citizens to be judged, and the judges were equal to the occasion. The result of their judgment follows:

Girls, 3 months to 1 year—5 entries.

1. Mona Mae Smith, 11 months.
2. Mildred Walsh, 9 months.

Boys, 3 months to 1 year—8 entries.

1. Wilmit Duane Whitmarsh, 3 months.
2. Clarence Wilbur Jayne, 11 months.

Girls, 1 year to 18 months—5 entries.

1. Joan Walker, 14 months.
2. Peggy Francis Fox, 11 months.

Boys, 1 year to 18 months—2 entries.

1. Sidney Alphonso Thompson, 12 months.
2. Alfred Peter Hill, 12 months.

A grand concert was given by Albert David, tenor; Percy David, baritone and comedian, and Malcolm Wood, in musical specialties. Probably the best concert ever given at a Napanee Fair. The music by the Highlanders' Band was splendid, as was the display of fireworks by Prof. Hand.

WEDNESDAY

The attendance at the Fair on this day was estimated at six thousand people, and the weather being fine and warm, with something doing all the time, it was a day of great enjoyment. The Midway did a thriving business and the kids, of all ages, thronged the tents containing the wonders of the world, the Ferris wheel, the switchback, and the hot dog and pop stands.

Judging of horses and cattle took place on this day; also of driving and general purpose horses.

The game of Ladies' Soft Ball between the Y. W. C. A., Kingston, and the St. Pats, of Napanee, was won by Kingston by a score of 17 to 12.

There was also a Men's Soft Ball game in the Central Ontario League between the Tenth Canadians and the All Stars, both teams hailing from Trenton. The Frenchmen won by a score of 13 to 12.

Music by the Kilties' Band throughout the afternoon.

Best time, 2.19¼.

The evening entertainment was most enjoyable. A grand concert was rendered by Ye Olde Time Village Quartette, of Toronto, in costume, by the following artists: A. C. Chapman, leader and director; Daisy LaRush McAdam, soprano; Ruth Hamilton, contralto; W. H. Norris, bass. Fine musical selections by the Highlanders' Band. Grounds beautifully illuminated with an abundance of electric lights, many of them colored. Performance in front of grand stand. Programme concluded by a brilliant fireworks display by Prof. Hand.

THURSDAY

There was a very large attendance on the grounds all day and evening, and it is safe to say that there were not less than seven thousand people present to enjoy the day's doings and the fine programme of events provided for the third day of the Fair. The judging of sheep and pigs was completed on this day, and owing to the large number of entries the judges had an arduous task. The high quality of the exhibits made their duties a pleasure.

In the afternoon in front of the grand stand the judging of single and double horses took place, and the animals were much admired, for it is seldom one sees such a large number of beautiful horses together.

Horse Races.

Two well run races drew a large crowd throughout the afternoon.

2.22 Class—Purse $250.00.

Casey and Riley agreed to settle their disputes by a fight, and it was understood that whoever wanted to stop should say "Enough."

As Casey paid no attention, but kept on administering punishment, a bystander said: "Why don't you let him get up? Don't you hear him say he's had enough?"

"I do," said Casey, "but he's such a liar, you can't believe him."

DEPARTMENT SHOWS HOW TO TURN CORNERS

As a measure for the rendering of street traffic more safe, and at the same time expediting it, the Minister of Highways, the Hon. Geo. S. Henry, has issued the following directions for turning corners by motorists:

Right turn—Drivers intending to turn to the right into an intersecting street shall first turn their vehicles in close to the curb on the right and turn the corner as sharply as possible.

The safety of motor travel is a prime consideration with the Minister who is insistent in the warnings and advice he has issued on subjects such as non-glare lights and head and tail lights which are not constantly illuminated.

Records show an appreciable decrease in accidents on the highways during the current season, due to the conformance of motorists to the rules of the road. Motorists are paying sincere attention to the requests for same driving as expressed by the Department in its advertising campaign which is appearing in the weekly papers throughout the province.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA

In Rod and Gun in Canada for September, a new series of British Columbia sporting articles from the pen of A. Bryan Williams commences. This series is entitled Breezes from the West, and the first part in the new issue promises a number of hunting and outdoor yarns of the first water. A mature story of a more juvenile nature for the magazine, Shuffepaw's First Fishing by H. R. Evans is a most graphic account of a young bear's first lone season.

In addition to the regular staff articles covering all phases of hunting, angling, shooting and outdoor life, September Rod and Gun contains a large number of very good stories adapted to the late summer.

Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

"Never had an accident, you say," murmured the doctor to the man he was examining for life insurance. "What about the time a bull tossed you over the hedge?"

"That wasn't an accident," replied the other. "He did it on purpose."

OBITUARY

Miss Amy A. Davis.

In the Adolphustown community there still live a few of the third generation of U. E. Loyalist descendants, but Miss Amy A. Davis, who passed away on Sunday, August 16th, 1925, was one of the elder of the fourth generation. She was a girl of seven when the Hay Bay Methodist Church was abandoned and the new white frame church succeeding it was opened within sight of her home in the second concession. Outside that home her chief activities for the next quarter of a century were centred about that church and the school-house on the opposite side of the road.

Amy was the fourth child of Archibald C. Davis and Amy Ann Huffnail, there being nine in all. Archibald's grandfather, Henry Davis, homesteaded lot 16 in the second concession of Adolphustown, on which Amy was born and spent her whole life. Her mother was a daughter of Jacob Huffnail, of South Fredericksburgh, whose Dutch U. E. Loyalist father, Andrew, homesteaded about a mile to the East of the Davis homestead. Thus the British and Dutch families intermarried in those early days in this country and produced a hardy race of people. The Huffnail family name has entirely disappeared, but the descendants under other names are scattered far and wide over the whole district.

In Centennial year, 1884, Amy saw the present brick U. E. L. Memorial church erected on the site of the log white church, and from that time to the present she has been closely identified with every form and movement of the Christian life of her beloved neighbors, and many intimate friends.

In the home of a large family of brothers and a sister, she always faithfully performed her part, freely giving her time and energies for the welfare of others, her only reward being the satisfaction of knowing that her many intimate friends, old and young, were enjoying the benefits of her unselfish devotion.

Outside, a couple of visits with a brother in Manitoba, her whole life was spent quietly in her rural home.

Some weeks prior to her decease Amy selected her pall-bearers from the large circle of church associates in her native township and Fredericksburgh. They were Messrs. Geo. Phippen, John Magee, Duncan Hough, John Humphrey, George Ruttan and Blake Harrison.

Many friends gathered at the home on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, and proceeded to the church, where Rev. H. B. Neal, a former pastor, motoring down for the service in the district, conducted the service and burial.

The choir, of which the deceased had been a member for many years, rendered suitable music. Beautiful flowers strewed the casket and table, one spray being from the local W. M. S. with which Miss Davis had long been identified.

The brief address of the minister feelingly referred to the many Christian virtues of the deceased, her good influence in the community as well as her unselfish devotion in the home and the sweet fragrance of an unblemished Christian life. He read a beautiful poem to which his attention had been called by Amy at his last visit to her bedside few weeks ago, which she had pinned to her Bible.

Amy Davis was laid to rest in the family plot at the rear of the church where she had toiled for years in helping with the weeds in the earnest endeavor to keep green the graves of her people. Her memory will be kept green in the minds and hearts of the people of that community, owing to her kindly smile and word of good cheer to every one she met or greet along the pilgrimage of the years. The journey has ended at last for her in this world, but the only just begun in that better land where mansions have been prepared along the way for those who have proved faithful here.

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders, the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy, and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS

Woman to Bed. Great Change after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

... "After my girlie was born I was a wreck. My nerves were so terrible I could not stand or walk without ... I suffered with fainting spells so I was not safe to be left alone with my baby and had to take to my bed. I would have a fainting spell if I sat up in a sit position ... My mother said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do for all who use those doctor's bills I paid my husband after I had him about it. THE NEW BRUNSWICK RESULT

Apologists for the Mackenzie King Government are endeavouring to counteract the effect of the overwhelming defeat of the Liberals in New Brunswick, following closely on the virtual obliteration of the party in Nova Scotia, by contending that it has no significance in relation to federal politics. They send forth the word that in New Brunswick and in Nova Scotia the elections were decided on purely local issues. But if the Government and its apologists believe such arguments—and undoubtedly they must want to believe it—it deceives nobody else. The overthrow of the Liberal administrations in the two great Maritime provinces is unmistakable sign of the trend of public opinion throughout the Dominion. The country is experiencing unsatisfactory conditions. Industry and business have been depressed for years, and the people have looked in vain to the Governments in power for relief, for solution of the national problems. They are turning away from those who have failed them. As they have turned in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick so, without doubt, will they turn when opportunity comes in federal affairs. And they are waiting impatiently for that opportunity.

The people of Canada are weary of impotence and confusion in their Government. They want leadership for the country in its difficulties. They are determined that men, not purpose, or policy, and of decision shall replace those whose incapacity has been proved by four years of failure. As always when the need was greatest, Canada is turning to the party that has brought it through its greatest crises, the Conservative Party.

Everywhere but among those whose only comfort is in blindness to the fact the election of Conservative Governments in the Maritime provinces is recognized as the forerunner of the greater change when Premier King consents to give the electors of the Dominion a chance. The Montreal Gazette's comment on the New Brunswick result will be confirmed by all who are in touch with public opinion. It says:

"There is much significance in this happening, the more so as following upon the almost literal extinction of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia. It is true both were merely provincial elections, and the theory—now obsolete in fact—may be preached that the defeated party that only local issues were at stake. This pretension should deceive no one. Rightly or wrongly, provincial and federal parties have been closely linked for many a year past, and the same party cry has been sounded by both whenever elections occur, so that Conservatives the country over have the same cause for rejoicing over the New Brunswick victory as would the Liberals had the result been otherwise. In the three Maritime Provinces Conservatives are now in power, and when the federal contest comes the presumption is that the delegation from those provinces will be of Conservative persuasion . . . "

"We have reached a critical situation, needing strong men and definite policy to bring relief. Men in office are being submerged by the indignation of public discontent, and as the Maritime Provinces have gone, so will go the Dominion when opportunity is given the electors to place in office men of fixed purpose and of strong determination, ready to grapple with the situation and test out a real Canadian policy . . . "

Zam-Buk SAVES POISONED LIMBS!

It was just a bad ankle that might happen anyone. But it serves to show how quickly blood-poison develops unless broken tissues have the protection of antiseptic Zam-Buk.

Mrs. A. Harrison, Place-de-Armes, Kingston, Ont., writes: "During household duties my left ankle was injured by a sharp projection. Stocking dye got into the wound and its poisoned condition alarmed me. My ankle took a turn for the better, almost as soon as I began with Zam-Buk. This powerful healer dispelled all pain, suppuration and inflammation. It healed perfectly."

REMEMBERING DATES.

Mark Twain Had a Good Scheme and He Didn't Patent it.

"Dates are hard to remember because they consist of figures. Figures are monotonously unstriking in appearance, and they don't take hold. They form no picture, and so they give the eye no chance to help. Pictures are the thing. Pictures can make dates stick. They can make nearly anything stick, particularly if you make the pictures preposterous. Indeed that is the great point—make the pictures yourself. I know about this from experience. Time 15 years ago I was delivering a memorized lecture every night, and every night I had to help myself with a page of notes to keep from getting myself mixed. The notes consisted of beginnings of sentences and were eleven in number, and they ran something like this:

"'In that region the weather'—

"'At that time it was a custom'—

"'That in California one never heard'—

"Eleven of them. They initiated the brief divisions of the lecture and protected me against skipping. But they all looked about alike on the page. They formed no picture. I had them by heart, but I could never with certainty remember the order of their succession. Therefore I always had to keep these notes by me and to look at them every little while. Once I mislaid them. You will not be able to imagine the terrors of that evening. I now saw that I must invent some other protection. So I got ten of the initial letters by heart in their proper order—I, A, B, and so on—and I went on the platform the next night with these marked in ink on my ten finger nails.

"But it didn't answer. I kept track of the fingers for awhile; then I lost it, and after that I was never quite sure which finger I had used last. I couldn't tick off a letter after using it, for while that would have made success certain, it would also have provoked too much curiosity. There was curiosity enough without that. To the audience I seemed more interested in my finger nails than I was in my subject. One or two persons asked me afterward what was the matter with my hands.

"It was now that the idea of pictures occurred to me; then my troubles passed away. In two minutes I made six pictures with a pen, and they did the work of the eleven catch sentences, and did it perfectly. I threw the pictures away as soon as they were made, for I was sure I could shut my eyes and see them any time. That was a quarter of a century ago. The lecture vanished out of my head more than twenty years ago, but I could rewrite it from the pictures, for they remain." —Harper's Magazine.

COWED THE BAD MEN.

A General Who Didn't Fear Risking a Shot In His Back.

General Franks, a leader of many a dashing charge in India, held a unique position among his soldiers. They loved him for his courage, but were sometimes irritated by his strictness. Yet in spite of this exacting severity he was unexpectedly lenient when a large occasion demanded it.

One day when the regiment was "firing blank" a bullet whistled by him. He did not stop the firing, but when the number of rounds ordered had been completed he rode up to the line and said:

"Boys, there's a bad shot in the Tenth. He nearly shot my trumpeter, and what should I have said to the boy's mother? I don't want to know the blackguard's name. The officers will not examine the men's pouches."

This was on the eve of a campaign, and before action the senior major came to him and said: "Don't put your self in front of the regiment tomorrow, sir. You know there are always one or two bad men in a regiment."

"Thank you, major," was the reply "It's very kind of you. I might have given you a step."

When the Tenth was drawn up for the final advance he put himself at its head and called:

"Boys, I'm loath ye mane to shoot me today. Take my advice and don't shoot Tom Franks until the fighting's done, for ye won't find a better man to lade ye!"

The regiment answered with a cheer and carried the Sikh batteries with the bayonet rather than run the risk of shooting the beloved old fire eater at their head.—Washington Star.

More to Be Feared.

"Don't you get tired of finding fault?"

"No," replied the patient man of responsibilities. "I suppose people have a right to discover faults. What I object to is the man who assumes that faults exist and never troubles himself to investigate."—Washington Star.

SAVING SILO FODDERS

HOW TO CONTROL FERMENTATIVE ACTION IN THE SILO.

Use Lactic Acid Culture. But Only If Needed—Moisture In Silage Making — Weeds — Corn as a Fodder Crop.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Attempts have been made to control or direct the fermentative action within the silo. The lactic acid bacteria (bacillus lactis acidi) has been known to be beneficial in silage making, and its product, lactic acid, is found to the extent of one per cent. in well-made silage.

Add Bacillus Lactus Acid.

Experience has demonstrated that the addition of bacillus lactis acidi in quantity to the fodder as the silos were being filled gave good results, particularly so when the fodder was past the best stage for making high grade silage. The addition of the bacillus lactis acidi in quantity to the more or less spoiled fodder provides an active agent to check and override the other bacteria present and thereby control the fermentative process and bring the silage mass to a fairly uniform condition with lactic acid predominant in the silage.

How to Add the Culture.

This addition of lactic acid culture to the fodder at the time of silo filling is easily accomplished by securing a small quantity of pure culture for lactic acid from a creamery as a beginning. The pure culture is placed in a three-gallon can of clean skim milk and allowed to ripen for three days. This can be added to more skim milk and a quantity of culture developed that there may be at least one gallon for each ton of fodder that goes into the silo. This skim milk culture, carrying vast numbers of bacillus lactis acidi is sprinkled over the cut fodder as the silo filling proceeds.

Do Not Use Culture Unnecessarily.

If the corn is in prime condition for silage making at the time of ensiling, nothing is to be gained by adding culture. However, its use is strongly advised if the corn or other fodder is a bit off in condition, due to damage through unseasonable weather, delays, etc.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

Moisture In Fodder for Silo.

It is essential that there should be sufficient moisture present in fodder at the time it is being placed in the silo to provide the water requirements for the vasiling process and leave the surplus necessary to have amply moist, well made silage. Dry fodder fermentative and cooling processes have taken place. With sufficient moisture present in the ensiled mass there is little danger of the fermentation temperatures running too high. Corn in the glazed stage or dried out through freezing, or long delays in harvesting will require liberal watering. The shortage in plant juices can be made up by the application of water in quantity sufficient to thoroughly wet the fodder. Water is best applied by running a small stream directly into the fodder cutter while the fodder is being cut, chopped through and blown up into the silo. With water under pressure, a valve to control the flow, and a section of garden hose the process of wetting the cut fodder is easy.—L. Stevenson, O. A. C., Guelph.

Weeds.

The crop producing capacity of many an acre in Ontario has during the past season been reduced by twenty-five per cent. This is too heavy a charge against the land and only the rich fellow can stand the losses occasioned by weeds.

Keep weeds off the farm by ploughing all the land that you intend to ploughing immediately after harvest. Cultivate as frequently as possible with the springtooth up to the end of October. In early November fit up the land that the weed roots may be exposed to the weather. Ribbing attachments can be placed on the springtooth cultivator which makes it possible to cover a large area in a day.

Insist on careful cleaning of the threshing machine before it comes to your farm. See that all farm machinery is free from the roots of perennial weeds before going to another field.

Use only clean seed. A few thistle seed balls or couch grass seeds will add to and multiply your troubles in future years, so be sure that you sow clean seed and nothing but seed.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

Corn.

The unusual weather conditions that have been experienced in southwestern Ontario this year emphasize the value of the corn plant as a fodder crop to a greater extent than in former years. Corn will fill the silos as in past years even if the hay crops have failed to fill the mows. It is then that the many farms would be short of cattle feed for the coming winter. Corn is certainly worth retaining as a crop for Ontario stock farms. There is no real substitute. Do your fall ploughing in creating conditions unfavorable to the corn borer, and so drive the menace to corn from Ontario farms.—L. Stevenson, O. A. C., Guelph.

The Profitable Hens.

It is not always the hen that lays the most eggs that is most profitable. It is the hen that lays the most eggs that brings prices and the highest that shows the highest profit. In one of the laying competitions a hen that stood first in the number of eggs she laid stood first in the value of her eggs.

The small headmoulding hat of felt, velvet and velour, is beautifully expressed in a gorgeous aray of Autumnal colors. The hat with a brim is the established mode. These come in a wide gamut of diversified variations, each portraying originality and exclusiveness.

We particularly stress popular priced Millinery. Our present values cannot be duplicated. Featured are beautiful members priced from $5.00 to $7.50. Many are less. Others are more. We invite your inspection.

Enter,—The Long-Sleeve Afternoon Dress

Invariably contrasting colored collars are used for a finish. Strikingly new this season are the new color sleeve treatments.

Materials—Soft, drapy materials, as Crepe Satins, Crepe Romains, Cantons, Satin-faced Crepes, and Rayons are outstanding favorites in the eyes of Fashion.

Dress prices are more reasonable than ever. We invite your inspection.

How to Know Hemlock.

The occasionnt reports in the papers of children or animals being poisoned by eating some umbelliferous plant emphasizes the importance of being able to distinguish the dangerous ones in the case of hemlock itself, the most poisonous of all, this is not difficult. Notice first the dark green, much cut and divided leaves and the peculiar odor which botanists call fetid. But perhaps the most obvious thing and that which most easily distinguishes the hemlock from all other umbelliferous plants is the stem. This is smooth, polished, slightly furrowed and of a green color blotched and spotted with purple. No other member of the order has a stem in the least like it.—London Globe.

Early Horseless Carriage.

The archives of Antwerp show that in 1479 the communal treasurer was authorized by the magistrates of the town to pay a bonus of 24 livres d'artois to a man named Gilles de Bom as an appreciation of his gift to the city of a "carrinze set in motion by mechanicel means only."

Baseball.

A great crowd of lovers of baseball witnessed a fine game of ball between Picton and Point Anne teams. The result of the game was Point Anne 3, Picton 2.

The evening entertainment was a great success. A splendid program was given by Ye Old Time Village Quartette, of Toronto, and some exquisite selections by Cobourg Kilties' Band. The concluding episode of the proceedings was the magnificent fireworks display by Prof. Hand.

FRIDAY

Unfortunately it is impossible for The Beaver to report the good things provided for the last day of the Fair. Suffice to say that there will be two fine horse races, a lacrosse game between Deseronto and Napanee, a base ball game between two County League teams. Showing of ponies and saddle horses on the track. At 3 p.m. there will be a grand parade of live stock on the track.

Do not forget the Big Community Dance in the Armouries to-night, under the patronage of the Fair Directors. Music by the Highlanders' 9-piece orchestra.

The 1925 Fair has been a splendid success.

THE EXHIBITS

The following special reports of some of the finest displays at the Fair will prove interesting reading and should repay readers for the time expended upon their perusal:

The J. J. Haines Shoe Houses

As usual this dependable firm have a fine display of all varieties of the goods they carry in their fine and convenient store on Dundas street. They have a fine line of all the latest and best makes of boots, shoes, slippers, for men, women and children; also all the different styles of rubbers. Their travelling equipment is complete in trunks, suit cases, club bags, hat boxes, etc., a larger stock and variety than most dealers in the large cities carry. Prices will compare favorably with those charged by dealers anywhere. Be sure and see the latest thing in trunks, "The Cedarign", then get one and you will have a receptacle that will keep your furs and woolen clothing free from moths.

The Graham Company

Once again it is a pleasure to us to call attention to the fine and artistic display shown by this reliable firm. Twentieth Century, Cambridge, and other good makes of men's clothing. Graham's make a specialty of shirts, and handle Forsyth's, Tooke's, Unity, and many other noted brands. The latest styles and best quality hats and caps always in stock. All kinds of men's furnishings, collars, cuffs, belts, ties, etc., always obtainable at their up-to-date store. Good value for your money every time. Prompt and courteous attention and no trouble to show goods.

Monarch Storage Battery

The first thing that catches the eye on entering the Palace is the fine display of the Monarch Battery, manufactured in Kingston, and the display is in the charge of Captain Hughson, of Napanee. There is no better battery made and it is interesting to note that all the parts are manufactured in Canada or Canadian material. Its good qualities are already admitted and the output and sales are steadily increasing. There seems to be a great future for this all Canadian made Monarch Battery.

The following description of various parts and materials making up the Monarch Battery will explain why it has all these qualities.

It is well known that the single most important constituent of a storage battery is the plate. This is composed of the grid and the active material. In process, the first is moulded from lead alloy, which is then filled with a mixture made of lead oxide and other chemicals to form the latter.

The grid has very important functions. It holds the active material, and besides, conducts and distributes the electric current.

The Monarch grid is expressly adapted for these purposes. It is a heavy one, which means many more bars to hold the active material; and the current is more evenly distributed. Therefore no breaking, buckling or falling out of active material.

The active material is the life of the battery. More of it means more pep. Weigh a monarch and get some information about its life and power. Remember too that material, fallen out does not furnish energy, but helps to form a short-circuit. That's where our grid comes in; it 'holds the active material". Our formulae are special, and insure maximum porosity, etc.

All insulators used in Monarch batteries are made from best grade Port Orford Cedar, used because it is the finest material for its purpose; to withstand the action of the acid electrolyte to circulate freely. Notice the extra rib in the centre of our insulators which prevents cracking.

The Monarch case is a rubber composite. Comparatively light, it is also strong as iron, absolutely acid, frost and water proof, and lasts indefinitely. (It is always worth its first cost.)

It is interesting and a feather in our cap that we were among the first few manufacturers with sufficient research wisdom and enterprise to use the new rubber case; and we are sure that ours is the best on the continent.

Purity of all materials is exceedingly important, for foreign elements in the electrolyte and in the active material, necessitate a frequent recharge of the battery, accompanied by a charge on the pocket book of the owner and the reputation of the manufacturer. Further, if the metal from which the grids are moulded is not of the highest purity, they will rot untimely and fall to pieces. To guard against any of these, we analyze and test all of the materials used in our storage batteries, and make sure they are the very best.

It is on account of all the above facts that Monarch batteries are being shipped all over Canada, and are giving wonderful service to thousands of users.

We are certain that you would become one of these if you would ask your friends whose cars are Monarch equipped, of the satisfaction they are getting.

Sills Motors (Studebaker)

This enterprising firm was represented by a very attractive display of the new series Studebaker cars, featuring the new Coach Sedans and Phaetons and the new famous Standard Six Special and Big Six Classic. The boom in the beefsteak is of no value but you pay for it just the same. There is a "boom" in the beefsteak in most automobile prices.

He is also carrying Singer Sewing Machines, Saxaphones, and Phonographs.

The Song Shoppe.

This fine display under the management of Mr. Martin, Proprietor of The Song Shoppe, Dundas Street, attracted great attention throughout the Fair, for the fine display of musical instruments and accessories, as well as sheet music. The excellent musical selections given at intervals were highly appreciated.

The Song Shoppe deals in all sorts of musical instruments, including the Willis Piano, the Brunswick Phonograph, Saxaphones, Cornets, Band Instruments, Mandolins, Guitars, Banjos, Violins, Cellos and everything musical to be found in a first class musical emporium. Anyone requiring anything in the musical line should call and see Mr. Martin's fine stock.

Paul's Book Store.

One of the best exhibits was the display of Wallpapers in the booth of this firm. All the latest patterns and styles were to be seen there, and they were of highly artistic merit and of pleasing colors and design, the quality of these papers will ensure good wear and the prices are right. In addition to the Wallpapers there were on display a variety of articles to be found in a bookstore stock. This concern also handles plate glass, room mouldings, mouldings for picture framing. They also do fine work in the framing of pictures. Be sure and give Paul's Bookstore a call when you want anything in their line of business.

Also chokers and stoles in Foxes and all the fashionable furs.

On the walls are hung skins of Alaska Seal, Kolinsky, Hudson Seal, Mink, Fisher, Martins and Foxes in natural and colors, from Labrador Reds to fine Canadian Silvers.

Overland Display.

R. H. Paul, owner of Paul's Garage, Napanee, had in their own the Willis Overland Cars, exhibited one of the finest automobile displays ever seen at the Napanee Fair. His booth was very prettily decorated and was lighted by power supplied by the Napanee Lighting Plant, for which he has the agency, and states he will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. The display of cars was exceedingly good, showing a four-cylinder Coupe Sedan, a beautiful little car, finished in a dark blue, with the new Duco Paint balloon tires, bumpers front and rear, making a most desirable buy for those interested, at $1200.09. Also the famous Overland six-cylinder Coaches was on exhibition, and it is almost impossible to describe or name the amount of praise and comment this car brought. This car is finished in two shades of Duco Grey, with heavy Crown fenders polished in black, all colors blending beautifully. The interior upholstering is an expensive Grey plush, as durable as it is beautiful. Exceptionally wide doors allow easy access to rear compartment. This car is equipped with the full balloon tires, Duco finish and rear spare tire and tube, and is priced at $1560.90.

Mr. Paul states that he is in a position to give demonstrations at any time of the day or night, and extends a cordial invitation to the public to visit his salesroom on Dundas St. East Napanee.

There are many more expensive varnishes than Copalline, but none that combine the hard wearing, water resisting surface with the beautiful glossy finish. For sale in Napanee only at Wallace's.

She Didn't Say.

If a Maori wishes to speak words of insult to another Maori he calls his adversary some kind of food. Any kind will do, living or dead. One Maori chief once told another that he was a roast veal. Then he fled to the bush, hid in a cave, was tracked, captured and beheaded. The cave is still shown to visitors, and when Lord Kitchener was in New Zealand he was taken to it by a pretty Maori girl acting as guide. She told him the whole story, and at the conclusion the stern soldier's face softened into a smile as he said:

"Ah, then, I suppose it would be highly dangerous to call a Maori lady a little duck?"—London Mail.

Compulsory Change of Name.

A notable instance of compulsory change of name occurred in Scotland in the seventeenth century, when the clan Macgregor was ordered to abandon and forget its ancient patronymic. The English government thought by this means to stamp out the spirit of Rob Roy's redoubtable kinsmen, and so sternly was the decree enforced that the use of the old name was treated as a capital offense. For the time the clansmen submitted and took other names; but, so far from forgetting the old designation, later generations proudly reverted to it, and today there are more Macgregors in the world—to the world's gain—than ever before.—London Standard.

The Art of Fly Tying.

A scrap of red flannel, cut from the ever useful shirt of the real woodsman, tied with thread to the shank of a bare hook and twitched through the swirl of a north country river—the latter for the less simplest, more comprehensible form. Crude though the device is, the man who prepares it is gaining his first experience in the art of fly tying. If he persists and learns to make the regular winged, hackled and tailed artificials with which his book was stocked when his trip to that trout river began a new recreation will be discovered to which he will often turn with pleasure in its practice. —Outing.

The Largest Frog.

Among the rare specimens not open to public inspection in the Harvard zoological museum is what is claimed to be the largest frog in the world. It weighs about six pounds, is twenty-seven inches long from tip to toe and of a misty black color. Its web feet are equal in size to those of a large swan. But three of its kind have ever reached the United States. Dr. Boulenger of the British museum was the discoverer of the new species in 1909 while on an expedition in central Africa. All known specimens have been found in two districts, called Kribi and Efulan, of the German colony Kamerun.

A Fue to Asthma...Give Asthma half a chance and it gains ground rapidly. But give it repeated treatments of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and it will fall back even faster. There is no half way measure about this remedy. It goes right to work and drives asthma out. It reaches the inmost breathing passages and leaves no place for the trouble to lurk. Have it by you for ready use.

BUTTER READY FOR FAIR

POINTS TO BE REMEMBERED BY THOSE WHO WOULD WIN.

How to Control the Green Cabbage Worm—Dusting Is the Most Satisfactory Treatment—Precautions In the Use of Paris Green.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

What about the Butter Exhibits at the local Autumn fair? Did you win or lose the last time when competing with the people of your own township? To win as a buttermaker you must produce and exhibit a quality of butter that will measure up to the following score:

Flavor	45
Texture	15
Incorporation of moisture	10
Color	10
Salt	10
	100

A lot of the butter exhibited at the rural fairs is made from cream insufficiently cooled and churned at too high a temperature. This practice gives a weak-bodied pale butter that may also be streaky. If the weather is warm, get some ice and cool the cream, also the wash water. Butter made from well-cooled cream and washed with ice-water will be firm enough to stand sufficient working to give an even distribution of salt, a good color and firm texture. If color is needed, be careful not to add a drop too much. Churn the "Exhibit" two or three days before the fair. This will give time to set and blending of flavor and salt.

The packages should be as neat as possible. Always wrap prints in a clear, good quality, butter wrapper. See that the prints are well made, clean-cut and firm. Most judges want a butter churned from a cream that is sweet or of low acidity. Good flavor in butter comes from cream obtained from cows that are kept in clean stables, fed on clean feeds and attended to clean people.—L. Stevenson, O.A.C., Guelph.

The Green Cabbage Worm—Artificial Control.

Control experiments, involving the treatment in three series of 5,000 early and late cabbages, with Pyrethrum powder and lead and calcium arsenate dusts and sprays, lead to the conviction that under local conditions dusting with lead arsenate and hydrated or air-slaked lime in the proportion of one part to fifteen parts is the most satisfactory form of treatment. The dusts were found more satisfactory than the sprays in that they can be mixed and applied with the aid of ordinary hand dusters, in one-fourth the time occupied in spraying. They spread and adhere well if applied when the leaves are wet with dew, whereas sprays to which soap has been added as a sticker have a low surface tension and much of the liquid is lost in the soil, says the Department of Horticulture, O. A. College.

In these experiments calcium arsenate dusts gave less satisfactory results than the arsenate of lead dust, the latter giving perfect control. Calcium arsenate applied in the liquid form gave extremely poor results as well as causing some burning to the foliage. Pyrethrum powder used with four times its weight of hydrated lime proved satisfactory, but can hardly be used on a commercial scale as it costs ten times as much as the arsenate of lead dust.

Judging by this season's observations early market cabbages escape serious injury and whether treatment is ordinarily necessary or not must be left to the grower's discretion. For late cabbages and cauliflowers two applications should be sufficient in a normal season, the first about the middle of July and the second four or five weeks later. When the butterflies are very abundant a third application may be necessary early in September.

Precautions In the Use of Paris Green.

If a double quantity of good, freshly slaked lime or hydrated lime be mixed with the Paris green and then the mixture made into a paste with water and allowed to stand in this form some little time before diluting and spraying, the lime will combine with the greater part of the free arsenious oxide and remove its leaf scorching property to a great extent. So says Prof. H. Pulmer, O.A.C., Guelph.

Minerals.

Mineral supplements are of value when there is a deficiency of such minerals in the feed. The usual deficient elements are calcium, iodin and phosphorous. It is wasteful to feed a mineral mixture containing elements that are abundant in the feeds used. Try and find out what the shortage is, and then pay out your good cash for it alone. Many mineral mixtures offered contain a variety of unnecessary and in some instances expensive ingredients.

There are entirely too many stale eggs sold. How few eggs reach the consumer that are actually fresh! The fault is not with the hen. She produces a fresh egg, but too many people do not seem to realize that an egg is one thing that does not improve with age, otherwise they would not hold eggs any longer than necessary.

"Great thoughts hallow any labor. To-day I earned 75 cents heaving manure out of a pen, and made a good bargain of it. If the ditcher muses the while how he may live uprightly, the ditching spade and turf knife may be engraved on the cost-of-arms of his posterity."—Thoreau.

Motor Cop (after hard chase) — Why didn't you stop when I shouted back there?

Driver (with only $5, but presence of mind)—I thought you just said "Good morning, Senator."

Cop—Well, you see, Senator, I wanted to warn you about driving fast through the next township.

WINTER WHEAT FACTS

SUPERPHOSPHATE IS AN ESSENTIAL FOR BEST RESULTS.

The Cost Is More Than Repaid—The Hessian Fly In Ontario—O. A. C. No. 104 Winter Wheat—Growing Huban Sweet Clover With Oats.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The department of chemistry, Ontario Agricultural College, during the past year carried on experiments in eight counties to show the effect of lime and phosphates on fall wheat seeded with clover.

Phosphates Essential for Fall Wheat.

From observation during the growing season and from yields the following points are noted:

(1) Phosphates gave an increased yield in every case, averaging fifty per cent.

(2) The catch of clover was wonderfully improved by the phosphates.

(3) Size and quality of grain was increased, as well as yield, by phosphates.

(4) The cost of 400 pounds of acid phosphate per acre was more than covered, leaving a substantial profit in every case.

(5) It is estimated that approximately half of the phosphate remains in the soil for succeeding crops.

(6) Liming made little difference to the growth and yield of fall wheat. Its effect will undoubtedly be seen on the stand of clover the following year.

Farmers are well advised to apply cold phosphate (superphosphate) to their fall wheat at from two hundred to four hundred pounds per acre.

The Hessian Fly In Ontario.

In each of the past four years the Hessian fly has been working more or less in the winter wheat crops of Ontario. In the Field Husbandry Department at the Ontario Agricultural College the ravages of this pest have been studied in each of forty varieties of winter wheat. The estimated average percentage of plants containing Hessian fly was 2 in 1920, 26 in 1921, 7 in 1922, and 15 in 1923. The susceptibility of the different varieties varies considerably. The Imperial Amber, O.A.C. No. 104, Dawson's Golden Chaff, and Red Rock were below the average, and the Early Red Clawson, Kanred, Gold Coin or No. 6, and Early Genesee Giant were above the average for infested plants in the last four years, the percentage being 4 for the first and 22 for the last of the above named varieties.

O. A. C. No. 104 Winter Wheat.

The O. A. C. No. 104 variety of winter wheat originated at the Agricultural College by crossing the Dawson's Golden Chaff and the Bulgarian varieties, and has made the highest record of the leading varieties tested on one hundred and twenty-eight farms throughout Ontario. Not only is it a high yielder, but from equal quantities of flour it has produced more bread than the Dawson's Golden Chaff. It is interesting to know also that it has been more hardy even than the Dawson's Golden Chaff, and almost as stiff in the straw, and seems to be less susceptible to smut.

Growing Huban Sweet Clover With Oats.

In the field crop experiments at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in the past three years, Biennial White Flowering Sweet Clover has given a greater yield per acre, although later, than the White Flowering annual or Hubam in the first year's growth when both kinds were sown alone under similar conditions and at the same date in the spring of the year. When Sweet Clover has been grown with Oats, the Biennial variety has given good returns for autumn pasture. The Annual Sweet Clover when sown with Oats, either at the time of seeding or when the Oats were 2 or 4 inches high, has been a nuisance in the grain crop. A number of O. A. C. No. 72 Oats and Annual White Flowering Sweet Clover, however, is being cut this year as a hay crop, and in the future this combination will be studied more particularly from the standpoint of green fodder and of hay production. So says Dr. C. A. Zavitz, Department of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

Heavy Pruning Waste of Energy.

Very little difference was noted in the behavior of heavily-pruned plum trees and trees receiving much less pruning in tests conducted over a number of years, with the usual standard varieties of plums on the grounds of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva. In the opinion of the station horticulturists, most varieties of plums require but little pruning following the proper shaping of the trees after they are planted. Since little pruning gives just as good, if not better trees, it is regarded as a waste of time and effort to pay too much attention to the pruning of plum trees. The chief recommendation is to thin out thick growths where necessary and to remove broken or injured branches.

When the orchard has not been pruned in the winter, a time should be taken to do this work in the summer, but not later than the middle of July. It is not good to prune as heavily in the summer as in the dormant season. Summer pruning is said to aid in fruit bud formation, but this has been disputed more or less by experimental stations.

Approximately 20 per cent. of each potato pared by ordinary household methods is lost in the process. Potatoes that are boiled and baked in their skins lose practically none of their food value.

Field Marshall Earl Haig in Jasper Park

DURING his recent visit to Canada, Field Marshall Earl Haig and the Countess Haig spent several days at Jasper Park Lodge in the heart of the Canadian Rocky Mountains. During their stay there they rode the trails, played golf on the new course beside the lodge, and in the words of the Field Marshall, "had one of the most enjoyable times of our entire visit to Canada." The photographs which were taken at Jasper Park Lodge show from left to right (top) the Countess Haig, dressed in an Indian costume; the golf ball used by the Field Marshall when he opened the Jasper Park Lodge course, as it was mounted on a silver base and presented to him before he sailed for England, and the Field Marshall accepting a pair of buffalo chaps from Major Fred Brewster, M.C., famous Rocky Mountain guide of Jasper. The two lower photographs show the Field Marshall riding along one of the Jasper Park trails and the group photographed on the first tee, immediately after the official opening of the Jasper Park Lodge golf course. The group from left to right shows: the Countess Haig; Earl Haig; Mr. Stanley Thompson of Toronto, famous Canadian golf architect of the Jasper course, and Mr. Walter Pratt, general manager of the hotel system of the Canadian National Railways.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robert Kirk

The death occurred on Saturday, August 1st, 1925, of Jane Watters, wife of Robert Kirk, aged 78 years. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk moved from their farm, near Tamworth, eight years ago to live beside their only daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Brown. Mrs. Kirk enjoyed good health till last winter. She was able to stay in her own home until the spring when she gradually grew worse, and they then moved with her daughter. Death came as a shock for she was able to be out of bed on Friday.

Mrs. Kirk was especially noted for her kindness in sickness. She had a welcome for all in her home, and in former years seldom a funeral without the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk.

She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, one son, Samuel, of Tamworth, and one daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Brown, of Marlbank. She was an Anglican in religion. Rev. J. A. Pointon conducted the service, and the body was interred in Christ Church cemetery. Much sympathy is extended to the family.

An amusing story is told by Mr. K. Les Guinness, the well-known racing motorist, concerning a salesman who was talking about the merits of his particular brand of car to a man who looked like a prospective buyer.

Said he:—"It runs so smoothly that you can't feel it; so quietly you can't hear it; and as for speed—why, sir, believe me, you can't see it."

"That so?" said the other. Then after a moment's pause he asked: "Then how do you know the blessed thing is there at all?"

A school board in the back blocks of America was visiting a school and the principal was putting his pupils through their paces.

"Who signed Magna Carta, Robert?" he asked, turning to one boy.

"Please, sir, 'twasn't me," was the reply.

The teacher, in disgust, told him to take his seat; but an old backwoodsman on the board was not satisfied and said: "Call that boy back. I don't like his manner. I believe he did do it."

POISON IVY CONTROL

IDENTIFICATION, SYMPTOMS OF INJURY, AND SOME REMEDIES.

Look Out for the Three Leafed Climber—Grub Out the Plants and Burn Them—Injuries Painful and Unpleasant to Sight—Remedies.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Many inquiries come to this Department regarding the identification of Poison Ivy, and the treatment of injury from the plant. The following is selected from "The Principal Poisonous Plants of Canada," by Faith Fyles, M.A., published by the Department of Agriculture, and from other sources:

Common Names.

Poison Ivy is also recognized under the names poison-oak, poison-vine and three leaved ivy.

Description.

Poison Ivy is a low shrub which is propagated by underground branches as well as seeds. It scrambles over stumps of trees or, as in the case of the variety radicans, it climbs by means of aerial rootlets to some height up fence posts and trunks of trees. The long stalked leaves are divided into three distinct leaflets which are mostly ovate, pointed, entire or with a few irregular coarse teeth, bright green above, paler and slightly hairy beneath, changing to rich autumnal colors.

The flowers are small, inconspicuous, greenish or whitish, loosely clustered in the axils of the leaves. As the flower cluster is surpassed by the long-stalked leaves it is seldom seen unless the foliage is moved aside. The berries are greenish white or cream colored, slightly shining, round, smooth, with longitudinal ridges at intervals. The flowers are in bloom from April to June.

Distribution.

It is a native of Canada and is commonly found in hedgerows, thickets and dry woods from Nova Scotia to British Columbia, where it passes into a thicker-leaved and smoother form (R. Rydbergii Small).

Poisonous Properties.

Poison Ivy is the worst vegetable skin poison in America, hundreds of people being poisoned each year. The poisonous constituents have not yet been satisfactorily determined. Cases of poisoning are often reported where the individual has passed the plant without coming in contact with it. This has been explained by the fact that pollen grains, minute hairs and even exhalations from the plant are sufficient to cause eruptions on the skin of susceptible persons. The poison may even be carried on the clothing or tools of someone who has been in contact with it, or it may be that, as the effect of the poison does not appear for some time, the occasion of coming in contact with it may have been quite forgotten. On the other hand, many people handle it frequently with no ill effect.

Cattle can eat it with impunity, but dogs are poisoned by it.

Symptoms.

Inflammation of the skin begins to appear from a few minutes hours to several days after contamination, and is characterized by intense irritation and burning, swelling and redness, followed by blisters and pain. Symptoms of internal poisoning are burning thirst, nausea, faintness, delirium and convulsions.

Remedy and Means of Control.

Many remedies have been suggested to allay the burning and irritation, one of the simplest being the immediate washing of the parts affected with good strong yellow laundry soap. On return from a day's outing where there was danger of contact with poison ivy, the liberal use of such a soap might prevent much suffering, a piece might even be carried in the pocket.

An application of absorbent cotton saturated with a solution of common baking soda is simple and efficacious. In the case of severe poisoning the aid of a physician should be obtained.

Eradicating the Pest.

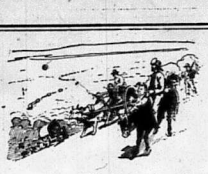
To properly eradicate this pest, the underground root stalks must be destroyed as well as the flowering tops. Grubbing out and burning it by someone who is immune to the poison is the surest means. Spraying with hot brine, or caustic soda will kill it. One pound of caustic soda to two gallons of water has been found most effective.

Bernarr MacFadden has this to say in Vol. 2262, Vol. IV. of his "Encyclopedia of Physical Culture":—

Poison Ivy and other poisonous plants named, common in America, owe their toxic powers to an odorless transparent oil that is found on the leaves, twigs and bark and is insoluble in water. It is classed among the irritant poisons. The person who comes in contact with the growth, suffers from cutaneous itching, swelling and vesicular eruption. In extreme cases there may be vomiting, colicky pains, fever and delirium. A portion or the whole body may be affected by the eruption.

Treatment.

A solution of acetate of lead applied to the itching skin, neutralizing the poison is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The patient should fast while the attack lasts. The free use of the enema, the daily doing of the ablutions of the Hospital, much improved in health. Mrs. N. Tallhurst and two children, of Rochester, N.Y., are visiting at D. Yorke's.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Ritchie, of Moscow, were recent visitors at Edward Jamest.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perrault, of Wilkinson, are at Tom Perrault's.—Some from here intend going to Bedford picnic.



They Had No Banks

IN pioneer days the general merchant often kept the money of his customers for them—there were no banks. Buying and selling were largely by barter only.

The coming of the branch bank filled an important need in every community, and today the wise farmer, business man or private individual keeps his money in the bank and makes full use of the many services it has to offer.

GRACE CHURCH RECITAL

A most enjoyable recital was given in Grace Church, on Monday evening last by Mrs. Robt. Telfer, nee Paul. It is some time since a Napanee audience has had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Telfer and old memories of Pinafore and other musical events were revived. Mrs. Telfer's numbers were varied and well selected, and her rich contralto voice appeared to particular advantage in the "Slumber Song" of Maude Valerie White, "The Night Wind" and Gounod's "Divine Redeemer". Mr. Reginald Wiseman was prevented by illness from appearing, and Mrs. Powell, at the last moment, kindly consented to give some numbers. Mrs. Powell is always enjoyed, and this occasion was no exception to the rule, her numbers by Alfred Noyes and Drummond, being given in her own best style. She also contributed two very effective encores. Mrs. B. M. Black was as usual an efficient accompanist, as well as contributing an organ solo, and appearing with Mrs. Seymour in a piano duet, which was much applauded. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent, and we feel much indebted to Mrs. Telfer and all those who so kindly assisted.

CONWAY MUSIC CLUB

The Conway Music Club was held at the home of Miss Grace Loyst, on Wednesday evening, August 26th, with a large attendance.

"Narcissus"—Peggy Ham.
"Merry Peasant"—Eileen Gallagher.
"First Sorrow"—Lillie Gallagher.
"Little Prince Waltz"—Margaret and Francis Wright.
"Elfins Dance"—Edith Box.
"Sonatina in G."—Very Whyte.
"Valse"—Marjorie Ham.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Clarinda Jane Hosey.

Died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Fanning, Fulton, N.Y., on Tuesday, August 18th, 1925, Mrs. Clarinda Jane Hosey, aged 85 years, after an illness of nine years, the past year suffering from a paralytic stroke. Deceased was the widow of William Nelson Hosey, of Napanee, who died in the year 1886, at Napanee.

Mrs. Hosey has been an invalid and patient sufferer for the past nine years of her life as the result of an affliction which caused her to be confined to her bed permanently. However, she bore her burden with true christian fortitude and maintained an abiding faith in the teachings and principles of Jesus Christ at all times.

She was a communist at the Methodist (Stone) Church, Napanee, for many years, and was widely known for her numerous kindly acts and loving disposition in helping others in misfortune.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Chas. W. Fanning, Fulton, N.Y., and Miss Ola Hosey, White Plains, N.Y., and three sons, Jas. A. Hosey, Mount Carmel, Pa.; Walter S. Hosey, Henrietta, Okla., and John S. Hosey, Ottawa, Ont.; also one sister, Mrs. W. H. Scott, Kingston, Ont.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Chas. M. Herrick, at Fulton, N.Y., on Thursday, August 20th, and a short burial service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Tanton, at the grave in Napanee, on Saturday.

Heaviest Tourist Travel to Parks in Their History

Our Scenic Playgrounds Attract Thousands. — Mid-Season Figures Show Large Increases in Visitors by Motor and Rail.

Never before in their history have the Canadian National Parks in the Rocky Mountains had such an influx of visitors, both by rail and by automobile, as this present season. The world is now "on wheels" and the foresight of the Parks' authorities in opening up motor roads through the parks to connect with the great lines of motor travel, both in Canada and from the United States, has resulted in an immense increase in the number of automobile touring parties entering the parks. Last year the number was twice that of 1923 and this year, from the returns already in, it is certain that the 1924 figures will be greatly exceeded. What this means will be seen when it is stated that last season there passed, both ways, through Kananaskis Gate, the eastern entrance to Rocky Mountains park, 15,448 cars carrying 61,222 passengers. Large as these figures are, they will be much exceeded this year since they have been practically equalled by the totals to the end of July, 1925. The figures for the western entrance and for the Banff-Windermere highway show a proportionate advance. The various motor camps in the different parks are recording a greater number of parties than ever before. At Mount Rundle camp, in Rocky Mountains park, the number of camping parties up 21st July was 1,950 as compared with 1,280 for the same period in 1924. On one day this year there were 458 parties totalling 2,061 persons under canvas in this camp.

The number of visitors arriving by rail shows a gratifying growth, and this, combined with the increase of visitors by motor car, is reflected in the increased demand upon hotel space and in the greater use of park facilities. At Jasper Park, where the hotel accommodation was recently doubled, the Lodge has been taxed to capacity many times this season.

The year 1924 was the record one for the number of bathers at the Upper Hot Springs and the Cave and Basin in Rocky Mountains Park but at the middle of July this year the number had gone over 20,000 which is several thousand in advance of the same period in 1924. The largest single day this season saw 1,078 bathers at the different pools, which was nearly fifty per cent more than the record day of last year.

Similarly the eighteen-hole golf course at Banff has been in almost constant use while the new course at Jasper, opened by Field Marshall Earl Haig on his recent visit, is well patronized and is receiving unstinted praise.

This state of affairs is encouraging from every standpoint. It shows that thousands of Canadians by "seeing Canada first" are keeping money circulating at home; it indicates that other thousands are coming from abroad to visit our great playgrounds and view our unsurpassed scenery, and are thus adding to our national income, by the "purchase" of the only exportable commodity which never diminishes; and, above all, it is a barometer which indicates the approach of better times for Canada and for the world.

LAST OF SAILING SHIPS COME INTO PORT TOGETHER

For a Few Minutes Old Scenes Were Brought Back at Harbor Entrance

Dozens of Oswegonians and visitors to the city, who thronged the bridge and the lake shores and river banks near the harbor last evening saw what may never be seen again on Lake Ontario, or, for that matter on any of the Great Lakes — three schooners coming into port under full sail. For the days of the sailing ship are gone, and the three schooners which came into port on the wings of a Northeast breeze from across the lake are three of the four remaining ships of any size on Lake Ontario. All the others, whose white sails a quarter of a century or more dotted the surface of the lake for miles, have gone, their bones lying in the graveyards of the lakes.

Twenty-five years ago one could count the sails of dozens of ships on the lakes; before that period the wharves and docks berthed as many more, and daily, into and out of the port the ships winged their way. But in recent years their numbers have been dwindling and the schooners now remaining for the most part represent ships that have been brought down from upper lakes to replace worn out old carriers from which Father Time took deathly toll. The day of the old-time sailor is passing also. Steam from a donkey boiler forward now hoists the patched sails and browned canvas of the present-day sailing ships. Their decks are smirched with coal dust, no longer do owners or crew take pride in bright work and varnished mantles. They serve a purpose still, but the days of fast passages are gone, as likewise are the days when skippers took their ships to sea regardless of the wind. Now the schooners that are left go to sea only with fair winds and rising glass, for hulls are weak and leaky, and caulking has a way of pulling out in a seaway and some they say, are kept afloat only by use of steam siphons.

So when three schooners, with started sheets, came into port last evening when it was not yet too dark to pick the details of sails and rigging, the hearts of old timers along the water front rejoiced. The Lyman M. Davis, of Napanee, a three masted affair, led the van in a three way race across the lake, and made her berth with little trouble in spite of the freshening breeze. A few minutes later the topsails of another showed and then another and a few minutes thereafter a few ship lengths apart, came in the Mary A. Daryau from Kingston and the Julia B. Merrill from the same port.

Incidentally, the ships are perhaps making their last trips to port this season, for they are carrying coal, and within a day or two the lake shipping trestles will have emptied pockets, with the cessation of coal shipments from the mines.—Oswego Palladium-Times, Aug. 27th, 1925.

OBITUARY

Charles McConnell.

Death again visited the vicinity of Roblin, on Friday, August 21st, and removed one of its most respected residents in the person of Chas. McConnell. Deceased had been in the village in the morning to obtain help for stacking grain, and while loading in the field, was seized with his muscular heart trouble. Though every assistance possible was given him and medical aid was also on the scene, he passed away within an hour of being stricken, at the age of fifty-four years.

He was born in the old Village of Roblin in 1871, where he resided for sixteen years, then locating on the farm where he died.

He was united in marriage in 1892 to Rhoda J. Harten, who with their four sons, John and Frank, of Point Anne, and Fred and Jimmie, at home, mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father. His only sister, Mattie, (Mrs. Clarence Durrant), of Marine City, Mich., predeceased him two years ago.

On Sunday afternoon an immense concourse of friends and acquaintances gathered at the Holmes Movement Church to pay their last respects to one so well liked. Rev. Mr. Jeffrey, assisted by Rev. J. W. Wilson, of the United Church, and Rev. Mr. Campbell, of the Standard Church, took charge of the service, preaching from Isaiah 64 :6, "And we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away". Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brooks, by request of the family, sang "Jesus Knows and Cares". His remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Roblin cemetery.

Mention must be made of the many beautiful wreaths from the family, the School Board, of which he was for years a faithful member, and from friends and neighbours, testifying to the high esteem in which he was held. He will be best remembered by his cheery manner, his helpfulness at all times to assist his neighbours; his generosity toward the needy, and his tender-hearted affection for his family. His boys will miss him for he was always a boy with them, and to his partner in life he was the kindest of husbands. Much sympathy is extended to them by the whole countryside in this their hour of bereavement.

The oldest inhabitant of the village had celebrated his hundredth birthday, and was being interviewed by a reporter.

"To what," inquired the reporter, "do you attribute your longevity?"

The centenarian, after a pause, replied, "I have never smoked, drank, nor ever-eaten, and I always rise at six o'clock."

"But," protested the reporter, "I had an uncle who acted precisely the same, yet he only lived to be 80. How do you account for that?"

"Well I can say is he didn't keep it up long enough."

WORK OF THE CRUISERS.

The cruiser in time of war has to perform perhaps more varied functions than any other class of warship in the fleet.

It is her business to stop and right when the circumstances are, from her point of view, favorable and also to possess a high speed to enable her to run away when the position is unfavorable.

The cruiser is admirably termed the policeman of the fleet, for her capacities of mobility and long passage making without replenishing her bunkers are her chief attributes.

Although the introduction of wireless telegraphy has somewhat lessened the responsibility placed upon the cruiser for scouting work, she is still regarded as the "eyes of the fleet."

For the object of scouting work there is a special type of scouting cruiser in existence.

The armored cruiser's advent has almost extended that class of ship to be considered to come within the scope of the battleship. Indeed, in some cases they are so perfectly equipped in all essentials as to be deemed competent enough to lie in the battle line with the "capital ships."—London Answers.

Jupiter Warmer Than the Earth.

"The gigantic orbs of Jupiter has a much larger warmth than that of the earth," says a scientific writer. "It is the result of the molecular movements produced by the compression of the strata and must be greater the more powerful the masses and hence the larger the pressure of the strata is. Jupiter surpasses the earth in point of mass 307 times, and for this reason the inner temperature or individual warmth of the planet is probably high enough to evaporate the water upon the surface quickly, so that water vapor forms the principal substance of the atmosphere of Jupiter. Water vapor is an excellent reductor and readily assumes for the latent radiation of light emitted by the planet."

Those Who Buy Them.

The man who can't afford to buy one; the man who prefers to own a good team of thoroughbreds; the man who doesn't mind the first cost, "but it's such an expense to run one;" the man who wouldn't have time to enjoy one; the man who would like one all right, "only I want to get my piece paid for first"—they are all buying cars so fast that the factories can't keep up with orders. Before long there will not be enough pedestrians left to furnish sport for the drivers.—Puck.

The Lucky 18 Egg Clutches.

We hatch a good many chicks in incubators, but we also use hens. Eggs of the larger breeds do not hatch so well in incubators as they do under hens; so we hatch a good many chicks of these breeds under hens, and use incubators for hatching Leghorns. We have found by many tests that we can put 12 eggs under one lot of hens and 15 under another, and, as a rule, get more chicks from the 12-egg clutches than we can from those where 15 eggs were put. There is probably a reason for this, but we have never felt any need of wasting time trying to discover it, so we now use 12 eggs for a setting.

A good liniment for all kinds of swellings on dairy cows, as well as on all other farm animals, is made by mixing equal parts of kerosene, sweet oil and spirits of camphor. Apply liberally and frequently to the swollen parts.

Corn stover only partially takes the place of legumes. It is good filling material, but it requires nearly 200 pounds of shredded corn to supply a cow with as much protein as contained in twenty pounds of alfalfa hay.

DOCTOR ADVISED AN OPERATION

Read Alberta Woman's Experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Provost, Alberta. — "Perhaps you will remember sending me some years back a booklet. I was in a bad condition and could suffer awful pains at times and do nothing. The doctor said I could not have children unless I had an operation. I read your booklet and decided to take it. After taking a few bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and am a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use my testimonial letter. — Mrs. A. A. Kane, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

Pains in Left Side

Lachine, Quebec. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I suffered with pains in my left side and back and with weakness and the trouble women so often have. I do this way about six months. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the Montreal Standard, and I have been fifty bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I will not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. M. W. Rose, 46 Notre Dame St., Lachine, Quebec.

PULP AND PAPER PRODUCTION IN CANADA IN 1924.

Output Slightly Lower Than in 1923. —Decrease in Pulp Exports Responsible — Manufacture and Export of Paper Substantially Increased.

The total production of the Pulp and Paper Industry in Canada, in the calendar year 1924 showed a slight falling off in value compared with 1923, but an increase compared with any year since the peak was reached in 1920. The figures are: 1924, $187,174,703; 1923, $188,642,109; 1922, $158,483,377; 1921, $134,641,077. This is according to the preliminary report of the industry recently completed by the Forest Products Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and is on the basis that the net value of production for the entire industry is to be considered as the sum of the values of pulpwood exported, pulp exported, and paper manufactured. The slight falling off in value in 1924 is due to a decrease in the exportation of pulp. The manufacture and exportation of paper both show substantial increases, in the case of pulpwood alone. The quantity exported in 1924 decreased by 3.9 per cent whereas the value increased less than a tenth of one per cent.

There were 115 mills in operation in Canada in 1924 as compared to 110 in 1923. Of these mills, 46 manufactured pulp only, 34 were combined pulp and paper-mills, and 35 manufactured paper only. The 80 mills manufacturing pulp produced 2,465,011 tons of this commodity valued at $90,323,972 as compared to 2,475,904 tons valued at $99,673,203 in 1923. The 69 mills producing paper in 1924 turned out 1,718,741 tons of paper, which with certain miscellaneous pulp products were valued at $133,-295,673 as compared to 1,589,203 tons valued at $125,689,609 in 1923.

Newsprint made up 80.8 per cent of the paper manufactured in 1924, amounting to 1,388,681 tons valued at $100,276,503 as compared to 1,-251,541 tons valued at $97,213,349 in 1923. The production of newsprint in the United States during approximately the same period was reported as 1,471,000 tons. Allowing for differences in classification and differences in the periods covered by individual reports this indicates that Canada's production of newsprint has approached to within a hundred thousand tons of that of the United States.

The apparent total production of pulpwood was 1,647,201 cords valued at $57,177,646 as compared to 1,734,-663 cords valued at $57,119,526 in 1923. Of this total in 1924 3,316,991 cords valued at $42,247,202 were manufactured into pulp in Canada while the remainder 1,329,250 cords valued at $15,356,658 were exported to the United States. Domestic consumption increased by 1.9 per cent in quantity and exportation decreased by 3.9 per cent.

The exports of paper and paper goods during the calendar year 1924 amounted in value to $99,248,497 as compared with $93,770,277 in the previous year. These exports were made up chiefly of newsprint paper of which 1,219,985 tons valued at $80,990,711 were exported, mostly to the United States. This represents an increase both in quantity and in value over 1923 when 1,157,062 tons were shipped out of Canada with a value of $85,611,258.

The exports of wood pulp amounted to 720,363 tons valued at $40,242,975 as compared to 875,353 tons valued at $42,627,496 in 1923.

Manitoba—Pulpwood, $22,071; Pulp, —; Paper, —.

British Columbia—Pulpwood, $3,-201,211; Pulp, $6,912,921; Paper $10,-967,207.

OUR NATIONAL PARKS AT WEMBLEY.

Canada's Tourist Attractions Are Featured at British Empire Exhibition — Display Awakens Keen Interest.

Speaking in Ottawa, recently, Mr. J. F. Lister, Chairman of the British Empire Service League, stated that one of the noticeable results of the Canadian Exhibition at Wembley had been the awakening of a keen interest in the scenic and recreational attractions of this country. As a result, he said, many people from Great Britain and the continent were planning to visit Canada in the near future.

In the past Canada's agricultural and industrial opportunities have been stressed and have pulled most largely in the public mind. At Wembley, however, both last year and this, Canada's scenery and climate, her big game and her National parks have been featured. One of the most attractive exhibits in the Canadian pavilion last year was a large composite model of the parks, depicting the snowclad mountains, glacial streams, and beautiful waterfalls characteristic of the district.

The scenic exhibit this year takes the form of a giant panorama covering practically the entire length of the northern wall of the main corridor and picturing typical scenery of Canada from coast to coast. The model shows the main water and rail routes, with miniature steamships and trains in motion, the principal fishing, big game, and wild fowl regions, culminating in the National parks in the Rockies. Some idea of the size of the piece may be gained from the fact that the main canvas forming the backdrop is 250 feet long by one piece with an area of 10,000 square feet. Two thousand powerful lamps illuminate the panorama and the lighting is so manipulated that the country is seen in turn at sunrise, noonday and sunset. The exhibit attracts throngs of visitors from early morning till night and the officials often have difficulty in keeping the crowds from blocking traffic. An official of the Canadian National Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior has been at Wembley during both exhibitions, distributing specially prepared literature, giving lectures and answering inquiries from interested visitors.

The extent and magnificence of Canada's scenic and big game areas have been a revelation to people of the Mother Country, and the fact that a new playground was open to them within the limits of the Empire, where a holiday could be enjoyed in more comfort and in not a great deal more time than is required by a trip to the Shetlands from the south of England, has undoubtedly made a strong appeal. Many visitors from Australia and New Zealand have also come to realize that they could avoid a long sea voyage by using the All-Red route either to or from the Pacific and at the same time, by which ever line they chose to travel, see some of the great national parks and the outstanding scenery of Canada.

An item published in the English press recently stated that 10,000 visitors would come to Canada this year. This would seem to indicate that a new stream of tourist travel had been diverted to Canadian shores. The beneficial results of the extension of the tourist industry are now too well recognized to need comment. It is an axiom that "trade follows the tourist" and the saying would be equally true, that settlement follows the tourist. The bookings indicate that these visitors are many of them from New Zealand, Australia, and the other Dominions, in addition to people from the British Isles. Their visits to Canada must tend to bring about increased mutual knowledge and sympathy between the different parts of the Empire, as well as an appreciation of Canada's rich possibilities as a place for investment and settlement. There are, too, more immediate benefits which cannot be overlooked. If these 10,000 visitors spend on an average of $500 each while here, the whole will mean an addition of $5,000,000 to the national income of Canada, a very satisfactory return in one year from the efforts spent to attract them.

Asthma Cannot Last when the greatest of all asthma specifics is used. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy assuredly deserves this accredited title. It has to its credit thousands of cases which other preparations had failed to benefit. It brings help to even the most severe cases and brings the patient to a condition of blessed relief. Surely suffering from asthma is needless when a remedy like this is so easily secured.

"Never had an accident, you say," answered the doctor to the man he was examining for life insurance. "What about the time a bull tossed you over the hedge?"

"That wasn't an accident," replied the other. "He did it on purpose."

OLD TIME PITCHERS

Some of the Former Stars Who Won Fame on the Diamond.

THEIR FEATS OF ENDURANCE.

Spalding All Alone Twirled the Old Boston Nationals to Victory Four Years in Succession — Radbourne's Great Record—Some Sad Finishes.

What becomes of all the great pitchers who thrill the baseball populace for a day? That depends upon the age in which they lived. If a man won his fame in the period from twenty to forty years ago he probably went back penniless to manual labor whence he came, or else he found an early grave. But if he was fortunate enough to make his baseball fame within the last score of years he may still be drawing a good salary from some club treasury. Or he may be enjoying prosperity as a successful business man.

A. G. Spalding was one of the few men who won nation wide fame on the diamond in the earlier period, was absolutely unapolled by it and then followed it up with even greater fame in the business world. Spalding jumped into the limelight as a seventeen-year-old boy with the Rockford (Ill.) club way back in 1867. Talk about the endurance of the modern baseball giants! Just consider what this original iron man did in the early seventies. During that period he was a member of the Boston Nationals, and he won the league championship for his team four years in succession. He was Boston's only pitcher, and he twirled every game the team played, though in those days games were scheduled only every other day and the season was shorter than it is now.

Old timers love to dwell on the prowess of Charles Radbourne, who shone with quite as much brilliance as Spalding until consumption cut short his career, about twenty-five years ago. Radbourne was a member of the Providence team, and when Charles Sweeney deserted that club in middlesex only Radbourne was left for slab work. But that didn't bother Radbourne, for he not only jumped right in and did all the pitching, but made a new world's record by winning eighteen straight games and the championship for Providence. This gamester, however, cost Radbourne his life, for his health broke under the strain, which was generally credited with having caused his consumption.

From day laborer to the world's premier pitcher and then to an early grave, is the history of Amos Rusie, who from 1889 to 1894 thrilled the baseball world. Rusie had a narrow escape from being cut into the ranks of baseball oblivion before he could get started. The first day he entered the big league he pitched to Al Buckenberger, the manager of the Cleveland team, and found wanting. After watching him pitch one game Buckenberger gave up on him. But Tim Brust, owner of the Cincinnati club, had faith in this youngster, gave him his chance, and suddenly the erratic Rusie developed into the greatest pitcher of his day. But prosperity and the applause of the unthinking crowd proved his undoing.

Then there were Tim Keefe and John Clarkson, about whose respective merits the fans are still divided. In 1888 Keefe won nineteen straight games for New York, while in 1886 Clarkson pitched seventy-two games for Boston, winning forty-six of them. These two men, whose exploits were heralded from one end of the country to the other, were radically different in temperament. Clarkson utterly ruined his health by not taking proper care of himself and died in a sanitarium, but Tim Keefe retired with money in the bank.

Probably more printers' ink was used to tell of the exploits of the eccentric Rube Waddell than any other baseball player that ever lived. Rube was always good for a story, no matter what he did. On the diamond this man was forever breaking records, first in jumping from one team to another and then by making new strikeout records. Probably his greatest feat was when he called in all the outfielders and then struck out the side in order. But consumption finished his broken down constitution.

Cy Young belongs to a different school of pitchers. He was a shining example of baseball longevity founded upon clean living. This marvelous man, who broke the major league baseball in 1890, pitched every season for twenty-two years, a record still unequaled.

The Fragonard Panels.

The celebrated Fragonard panels had their inception, it is said, in the lavish expenditures of the Countess du Barry. They were designed for her chateau, but never adorned it, owing to a dispute between the painter and the king's favorite. Mme. du Barry, meeting standing her lowly origin, was extremely critical in matters of art and was dissatisfied with these pictures, which are among the greatest prizes of the connoisseurs of today.

Color Blindness.

The ratio of color blind people to those of normal sight is about 65 to 1,154. This does not mean that all of the others are absolutely color blind, but that that is the ratio of those who are more or less affected. Color blindness is said to have been discovered by the famous Dr. Priestley in 1777.

Try to be happy in this present moment and put not off being so to a time to come.

Efficiency of Dairy Cows.

The efficiency of a dairy cow depends upon a properly developed udder and its maintenance in a normal condition. The most serious condition that occurs to the dairy cow is infection of the udder, and streptococci are the most frequent bacterial invading organism. Streptococcic infection can be readily transmitted from cow to cow by hand or machine milking and the entire herd may become infected. The disease is difficult to control because of the fact that an occasional cow is a carrier. The most successful treatment consists in increasing the resistance of the animal by the use of bacterins. In badly infected herds a bacteria prepared from cultures isolated from diseased cows is most efficient. With the destruction of the mammary gland profits vanish.

Gain Made by Early Fall Ploughing.

Weeds materially reduce the yields of grain. Early fall ploughing aids very much in holding weeds in check and eradicating them. Ploughing biennial and perennial weeds under early checks their growth, if when they show above ground these parts are destroyed, real progress in eradication may be made during the fall months.

Early fall ploughing will conserve the moisture already in the soil, and puts the fields in condition to take up readily any rain that occurs during the autumn. Various insect pests harmful to crops are largely controlled by early fall ploughing, due to disturbance in their more or less dormant stages or to actual exposure above ground.

In preparation for the seeding of fall grains, early ploughing has the advantage over ploughing just before sowing in that it provides a firm seed bed in which the seed should germinate immediately and the plants make a steady growth from the start.

The Event For Which You've Waited!

Robinson's Formal Display of New Millinery

Especially Stressing Popular Priced Styles

Early buyers will find all the newest modes of Smart Fashiondom on display in our Millinery show-rooms. "Originality" definitely describes our present assemblages, as no two are alike in style and color. The small head-moulding hat of Felt, Satin and Velvet, is portrayed in a beautiful range of Autumnal colors. The hat with a brim is the established mode. Brims come in a wide gamut of diversified shapes and sizes, each particular style portraying originality and exclusiveness.

TRIMMINGS come artistically applied,—Quills shoot out at unusual places and at unusual angles. Yards of thread traceries or soutache braids bedeck other smart crowns; ribbon pleatings and ribbon bows exploit skilful manipulation, while novelty ornaments add dash and life to hats of every description for every occasion.

We particularly stress popular priced Millinery. Our values from $3.50 to $7.50 cannot be even approached. We urge you to choose your requirements very, very early.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. J. N. McCreary, who was laid to rest on the 22nd of July, 1925.

My Sister.

Though others may have failed to see
A line of beauty there,
To me, my sister's patient face was wonderfully fair;
Those earnest eyes were wells of love
Truth which my soul drank deep,
And sweet and soothing is the voice I still hear in my sleep.

My heart would break did I not hope
And trust in God's Eternal Home of Love I'll see my sister's smile;
My heart would break did I not feel that she is near me still,
Assisting me to humbly bow to God's most holy will.

—Mrs. J. W. Stewart.

A lady one morning went to the priest to confess a sin.

Priest—"And what is it, Mrs. —?"

Lady—"Oh, father, this morning I looked in a glass and ventured to think I was pretty."

Priest—"Is that all?"

Lady—"Ye-e-e."

Priest (laying his hand on her shoulder)—"Daughter, go in peace, there is no harm in a mistake."

ORIGIN OF "BUNCOMBE."

How a Colonel's Name Came to Be a Term of Reproach.

Whenever I pick up a copy of the Congressional Record and numerous other publications and read the irrelevant speeches therein reported I sigh for the memory of Colonel Edward Buncombe, "Ginrd" writes in the Philadelphia Ledger.

Through no fault of the gallant gentleman himself, there clings to his name an unpleasant significance which many of our brave public men do naught to mitigate. Indeed, if there be such a thing as one shade's taking vengeance upon another in the future world Colonel Buncombe will at least pull out Felix Walker's tongue.

It was all Walker's fault that "buncombe" became a term of reproach, and the incident which made it so happened a century ago.

Walker represented in congress a district of North Carolina of which Buncombe county was a part. The county had been named away back in 1791 in honor of Colonel Buncombe.

Walker was one of those long distance orators who without half trying could empty the halls of congress and put them in a condition beside which the dead streets of Pompeii appear great white ways. When upbraided one day for talking about everything except the question at issue Walker used this immortal phrase:

"I am only talking for Buncombe," meaning his home county.

And so "buncombe" became a new word in our language, which has been conveniently shortened into the colloquial "bunk."

MAN'S DECREASING HEIGHT.

When Adam and Eve Walked Around They Were as Tall as Trees.

It was a French savant named Henrion who 200 years ago gave to the world authoritative statements as to the height of Adam and Eve. He said that the father of the race was 122 feet 9 inches high and Eve 118 feet 9 inches. He noted that from the creation of these enlarged editions of humanity degeneration had been rapid; that Noah was only twenty-seven, Abraham only twenty and Moses but thirteen feet in height.

According to this French authority, if the Christian dispensation had not arrested this decrease man by this time—200 years ago—would have been a mere microscopic object, and we may conclude that by our time he would not have been at all. M. Henrion did not give any explanation as to how he arrived at his estimate of the height of these ancients.

Perhaps the most gigantic story on record is that concerning an immense skeleton, said to have been in Sicily, which measured 200 feet in length. This story, however, carries its own refutation, as it is said that found beside this giant was his walking stick, which was thirty feet long and thick as a telegraph pole. A clever calculator made the estimate that a walking stick only thirty feet in length for a man who measured 300 feet would be as ridiculous as one of seven inches for a man of ordinary stature.

A Story of the Bastile.

In the year 1785 a haughty noble of the ancient regime of France fell in love with a beautiful girl, the daughter of a wealthy tradesman of Paris. The latter, refusing to encourage the nobleman's passion, was soon after thrown into the Lastile. The sweet heart of the girl, who was to have married her in a few days, dreading a like fate, made his escape to Constantinople to serve as a volunteer under the grand seigneur, leaving his intended bride secreted with a woman friend. On the outbreak of the revolution the young man returned to Paris and was the very grenadier who first mounted the breach made in the Bastile, from the dungeons of which he had the happiness of rescuing the father of his future bride.

Soap and Hard Water.

The hardness of water is measured by degrees. When a gallon contains one grain of lime it is said to have one degree of hardness. When soap is used with hard water about two and one-half ounces of it to each hundred gallons of water must be used for each degree of hardness just to overcome hardness. It combines with the lime, forming a mineral product, and not until enough soap has been dissolved to overcome all the hardness does the soap do any good for cleansing purposes.

AFRICAN ELEPHANTS.

They May Be In Captivity, but They Are Never In Subjection.

For many reasons the fate of the elephant stands at the apex of sport. As a man killer in open combat he ranks with the lion and the African buffalo. He is the only beast that fears no other. While he will almost invariably run from the scent of man he is as invariably ready to attack on the slightest provocation. Fear does not exist for him. His overwhelming bulk, power, speed and intelligence make him supreme beyond the range of rivalry.

As though this were not enough to establish his pre-eminence, he alone carries a trophy which is one of the staple products of the industrial world. The value of ivory rises. It never fluctuates. Nor is this all. In the mind of the best the elephant is intimately associated with dignity, pomp, pageantry and kingship. But in the mind of the native African he is king—a king in his own right.

In this regard let it be affirmed that no elephant born in Africa has ever decidely paced a hippodromed stage, trundled a circus wagon or taken children for a ride in the park. Those sleepy-walking cattle known to the American public as elephants come from India and are mere distant cousins to the king. You may have seen the African elephant in captivity, but never in subjection. Chain him to the floor behind iron bars, and after ten years he is still quick to throw muck in the face of the man that jeers at him.—George Agnew Chamberlin in Century.

CHLOROFORM IN SURGERY.

The Horrors That Were Stopped by Its Use as an Anaesthetic.

Sir James Simpson, who was connected with the medical department of Edinburgh university, if not actually the discoverer of chloroform, was at any rate the first to introduce its employment as an anaesthetic into surgical practice. This was in 1848.

Previously all operations were performed without anaesthetics, the patient being drugged with whisky and held down by strong men while the operation was performed. No medical discovery ever did more to alleviate human suffering.

Sir James is generally given credit for the actual discovery of chloroform, but it is stated in some works that it was discovered some years previous to his first experiments by an American doctor named Guthrie and by a French physician named Soubeiran. In any case, it was Dr. Simpson who proved its great value as an anaesthetic, and the room in which he made his first experiments still exists in Edinburgh.

The story goes that he tried the chloroform on himself and two medical friends. They proved its efficacy by simultaneously falling beneath the table. Sir James had considerable prejudice to overcome before chloroform was adopted generally by the medical profession, it being denounced at one time as dangerous to health, morals and religion. — Pearson's Weekly.

The Seal Ring.

The seal ring dates back to the days of the Old Testament, and products of the glyptic art, as gem engraving was called, were known in the most remote times. In Exodus xxviii, 17-20, mention is made of the following stones, upon which the names of the twelve children of Israel were engraved: The sardius, the topaz, the carbuncle, the emerald, the sapphire, the diamond, the ligure, the agate, the amethyst, beryl, onyx and jasper. In verse 2 of the same chapter we find mention of the engraving of signets upon the hardest stones. It is believed that the Egyptians instructed the Israelites in the art of stone engraving. The Egyptians used the lapidary's wheel and emery powder and knew the use of the diamond in engraving other hard stones. Among the Assyrian and Babylonian ruins were found rare specimens of signets on gems, many of them set in rings.

Dublin Castle.

Dublin castle has a history of over seven centuries, for it was King John who in 1204 ordered it to be built, "well fortified, with good fosses and thick walls strong enough to defend or control the people." Henry III., when about to visit Ireland in 1245, ordered the addition of a hall, "with sufficient windows and glass casements," and other improvements were made in succeeding reigns, particularly by the Duke of Clarence, son of Edward III., who as viceroy spent much money on the castle to make it convenient (as his father accomplished when called upon to pay "for his sports and other pleasures."—London Standard.

Realistic Play.

"Can't you children play without continually ringing the doorbell?" asked mother, who had been trying in vain to get an afternoon nap.

"No, mother," said Alice, "it's quite impossible. You see, Edith and I are playing house, and Freddie is the collector."

Long Time Between Showers.

In 1912 rain fell in the nitrate territory of Chile for the first time in nearly half a century, and for the first time in man's memory the coast towns were free from dust.

Enough Said.

"Thrifty, is she?"

"Thrifty! I won't go into a long discourse, I'll just tell you that she banks money in December."

Just as you are pleased at finding fault, you are displeased at finding perfection.—Lavater.

"Hoo is it, Jock, that ye mak sich an enormous profit on yer potatoes when ye dis'e a special price to each friend?"

"Well, I tak a half-crown off the price because he's a freend o' mine; then I tak ten pounds off the hundredweight because I'm a freend o' his."

He took a book of natural history from the bookshelf, placed Bobby on his knee, turned over the book, and showed him a picture of a giraffe.

"What's that, Bobby?"

Bobby said "Horsey," and Brown:

Next a tiger was exhibited, and Bobby said, "Pussy". Then a picture of a lion was shown, and Bobby said "Doggy".

FIRE BLIGHT CANKER

Appearance of Affected Trees—How the Disease Develops — Destroy Blighted Twigs—Insects Carry the Disease—How to Control Trouble.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

"Fire Blight," a most destructive bacterial disease of apple, pear and quince trees, is prevalent in many parts of Ontario, particularly in apple trees.

Appearance of Affected Trees.

Trees affected with this disease frequently present the appearance of having been scorched by fire, hence the common name, Fire Blight. The leaves will become a reddish brown and die and mummify. In some trees a few twigs only may be affected, in other cases practically every twig will be killed off.

Trees that are affected in this way in the early part of the season are either hold-over cases of the blight from the previous season or have been freshly inoculated through the blossom with the bacteria that cause the disease, by bees or other blossom visiting insects that have previously become contaminated by visiting trees that are hold-over cases from the previous season.

How the Disease Develops.

When a contaminated bee or other insect visits a blossom for nectar or pollen, it leaves behind it some of the bacteria that cause the disease, and these multiply in the nectaries and pass on down the blossom pedicel into the bark of the fruit spur, where they produce a canker and kill the spur with other blossoms on it, then continue their progress within the bark of the twig causing canker and death as they go. The leaves on the twig then shrivel up, turn brown, and die giving the characteristic fire-blighted appearance to the tree.

Destroy Blighted Twigs.

If the blighted twigs are allowed to stay on the tree throughout the season the disease will continue to work on down the twigs, sometimes rapidly and sometimes slowly, until eventually it reaches the bark of the larger limbs, or the trunk of the tree, where it becomes apparent as a canker. In cases where the disease does not reach the bark of the thicker branches or trunk before fall there is a tendency for the trouble to die out during the winter. But where it gets established as blight canker in the bark of the branches and trunk the probability is that it will live over the winter in a dormant condition and begin to extend itself the following spring when the sap flow commences. This in time brings about the death of the larger limbs and trunk as the blight canker spreads in the bark. We have known young trees to be killed out in one year with this disease, although older trees will sometimes live on for years with the canker slowly developing until finally the tree either dies or has to be removed for not giving a paying crop.

Insects Carry the Disease.

During mid-season other insects as aphids, hoppers and borers are common carriers of the disease from infected twigs to healthy twigs, either on the same or neighboring trees. In this way young suckers and watersprouts get infected, and, as in the case of the blossom-infected twig, the disease will pass on down the bark of the sucker or waterspout until it reaches the trunk or large limb where a canker is produced leading to death of the affected part.

Where the disease is active during the growing season there is frequently a gummy brown exudate oozing out from the cankers. This exudate contains the causal bacteria in immense numbers. During rain storms this exudate may be splashed to other parts of the tree, thus leading to fresh infections.

How to Control the Trouble.

To control and stamp out this disease it is essential to cut out all infected portions of the tree. In doing this, care should be taken to cut well below the visibly affected portion four to six inches, if possible, as the bacteria are usually well advanced beyond the visibly cankered area in the bark. The saw, knife or shears used should be swabbed after each cut with a good disinfectant, e.g., corrosive sublimate 1-1000, formalin, or five per cent. carbolic acid. If the canker is in the trunk or larger limbs the affected part should be removed by cutting well around the canker, two or three inches at least beyond the visible extent of the canker. The wound should then be swabbed with the disinfectant and then painted over.

The best time to cut out the disease is the first time it is seen, as each infection, so long as it is allowed to stay, is a centre for continued spreading of the trouble. All material cut away should be carefully gathered and burned.—Prof. "D. Jones, O. A. C., Guelph.

Shade Trees In Pasture.

A shade tree here, and a shade tree there,
Should be left in our pastures everywhere.
They comfort the cows in the heat of day—
And contented cows are the cows that pay.

If the prospective home orchardist prepares the soil where his fruits are to stand as thoroughly as he does his garden before planting vegetable seeds, the subsequent rapid growth of his fruit trees will amply repay him.

"Prisoner," said the judge, "you say your wife hit you on the head with a plate. Is that so?"

"Yes, sir," answered the prisoner. "But," said the judge, "your head doesn't show marks of any kind."

"No, sir," answered the man with pride, "but you should have seen that plate."

YES, SHE DID KNOW.

And Proved It to Her Critical Old Singing Master.

Many years ago, in an old French church in Berne, a great choir under the famous old leader, Father Reichel, was having its final rehearsal for the production of the "Messiah." The chorus had triumphantly sung through to the place where the soprano solo takes up the refrain. "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." The singer was a beautiful woman, whose voice had been faultlessly trained. As the tones came out high and clear the listeners were filled with wonder at her perfect technique. Her breathing was faultless, her note placing perfect, her enunciation beyond criticism.

After the final note there was a pause, and all eyes were turned toward the old conductor to catch his look of approval. Great was the surprise, however, when a sharp rap of the baton was heard, as a command for the orchestra to pause, and with a look of sorrow Father Reichel said to the singer, "My daughter, you do not really know that your Redeemer liveth, do you?"

With a flushed face she replied, "Why, yes, I think I do."

"Then sing it," he cried. "Sing it from your heart. Tell it to me so I and all who hear you will know and believe that you know the power of it." Then with an imperious gesture he motioned for the orchestra to go over it again.

This time the young woman sang with no thought of herself or of technique and applause from her hearers. She sang the words that she knew in her heart and experienced in her life and that she wished to send home to the hearts of the listeners. As the last notes died away there was no wonder at the craftsman's work, but there were quickened hearts that had been moved by the glorious message they had received. As the singer stood forgetful of applause, the old master stepped up and with tears in his eyes kissed her on the forehead and said, "Yes do know, for you have told me."—Exchange.

CHASING THE RAINBOW.

Curious Legends That Are Told In Different Countries.

We have all of us heard stories of the treasure at the end of the rainbow. There is a pot of gold there, you know. And if we could only walk far enough, run fast enough, we might find it and be ever-after happy.

That is what our nurses tell us when we are children, isn't it?

And sometimes we learn that the rainbow is a bridge, and the thunder is the roar of the heavy wheels going over it.

These are the stories that we hear in childhood about the rainbow. Children of other lands hear many other stories.

In Greece nurses tell the children that if any one by chance stumbles over the end of the rainbow his or her sex is changed. It is a story that to tell a child! The little Greeks must run away from the ends of the rainbow instead of seeking them to find out of pot of gold.

The little Turk hears from his nurse that if he can but touch the hand of orange that rests the heavens in the rainbow his head will turn to silver, with rubies for eyes and teeth of gold.

In many parts of Russia the rainbow is called a gesa, and in Hungary it is called "God's pump" and "Noah's pump."

In Russia, in some provinces, the wells are covered with strong platforms, so that the water cannot be drawn from them by the rainbow, and in other provinces it is said that three angels have charge of the rainbow—one to draw water through it from the earth, another to give water from it to the clouds and another to return the water to the earth in the form of rain.—Boston Herald.

Ypres In England.

We have the name of Ypres in England—in that of the Ypres tower at Rye, in Sussex. Though local this knows nothing of its proper pronunciation and broadly calls it the "Wipers tower." It is a twelfth century building, the oldest secular building of all the Cinque ports, and was at one time the only residence of the mayor, though later walls and gates were built. The reason for its name is to be found in the commonly accepted statement that it was built by William des Ypres, earl of Kent.—London Globe.

"Is It Possible?"

Prince George of Denmark was nicknamed Est-il-possible by James II. It is said that when the startling events of the revolution of 1688 succeeded one another with breathless rapidity the emotions of Prince George found vent in the repeated exclamation, "Est-il-possible?" King James, enumerating those who had forsaken him, said, "And Est-il-possible has gone too!"

A Lamblike Lion.

"Well, did you have that social lion at your reception that you were telling me about?"

"Oh, yes. He was there."

"And did he roar?"

"No. His wife was also present, and he could only bleat."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Meek Reproach.

Lady (who has given tramp a plate of scraps)—You must feel that humble-like at begging for food, Tramp—It's not that so much, mem. What hurts me is that I'm depriving the poor interest fowls of a feed.—London Telegraph.

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

A CURIOUS ORDEAL

Plight of a Man Who Almost Felt Death Touch Him.

IN A VAT OF BOILING WATER.

His Vivid Story of His Sensations at His Terrible Helpless on His Back on a Bale of Raw Silk in the Seething Liquid and His Tardy Rescue.

A man who is now at the head of one of the largest establishments for dyeing silks in this country tells a story of a strange and thrilling adventure that he passed through when he was still only the superintendent of the "boiling room."

"Silk," he says in telling the story, "has been the means of my living, and once it saved my life. Have you ever been in a room where they boil the raw silk? It's a hot, steaming place, with great bubbling vats that are sunk to a level with the floor. The raw silk, in bales, all fluffy and sticky, comes in on rolling trucks and is dumped into the vats. The mass has to be stirred about a good deal before it gets soaked though and goes under.

"Just before the noon hour one day a truck came in with two bales on it.

"'Dump them into No. 6 vat,' I told the men. 'I'll stir them if you fellows want to go to dinner.'

"When they had gone I began to look around for the stirring fork. I couldn't find it anywhere. 'Confound Bill!' I said to myself. 'He loses everything.'

"I had hardly got the words out of my mouth when my foot went off the edge of the vat. I felt myself falling, and I was seized with the full conviction of death.

"I had time to think over just how terribly hot the boiling water would feel and to wonder how much of me would be left when the men came back from dinner. Then I felt myself land flat on my back on the mass of floating silk.

"To this day I can see the very look of the old smoky roof as I lay on the island of silk with the boiling water on all sides. It was horribly hot there. The perspiration started out all over me, and I felt that I must move.

"First, however, I shouted as loudly as I could. When no one answered I cautiously tried to turn on my side. The bale of fiber began slowly to roll over. Nearly paralyzed with terror, I threw out one arm. It was just enough change in balance. I felt the rolling motion stop. Then I knew it wouldn't do to move. I lay on my back, poised on the middle of the bale, and wailed for help. After a minute or two I began to realize that the silk was slowly sinking into the vat.

"You could hardly notice the motion. At first I could look out of the corner of my eye and see the edge of vat No. 8. A little later, when I looked again, it was out of my line of vision. I couldn't move without having the bale roll over, and if I remained still I would go down inch by inch into the scalding water below.

"I can remember that I became a little hysterical. It's funny what tricks the mind plays.

"'This is dying with a vengeance,' I said aloud, and I even laughed as I said it.

"It was growing hotter. Steam had begun to percolate through the silk, and I was wet through with the stifling fumes that rose from the surface of the water. I had no idea of time. By and by, however, some one answered my shouts. The door opened and two men came running across the room.

"'Get a pole!' shouted one.

"'I knew that would be fatal; the slightest push and I would roll over into the steaming stew.

"'Boys,' cried I, 'don't touch me or it will be all over! One of you turn off the feed pipe.'

"I could hear the chug, chug of the steam being cut off from the vat. A moment later I could see the wet rim that brondened round the edges, and I knew the water was falling. It took half an hour to empty No. 6. For awhile the two men ran round like excited jumping-jacks. Then they got a rope and sat on the edge of the vat watching me with great staring eyes.

"As the water ran out the silk sank now on one side, now on the other. Once it started to roll. Both the men grunted and set up very straight. Suddenly one of them cried out:

"'There's the bottom!'

"I felt the mass of silk settle against something. I heard the last water gulp as it ran out. Then I fainted away."—Youth's Companion.

Her Royal Nibs.

"I hope so."

"And what are we to have?"

"I don't know as yet. The cook is to give me an audience at 4:30."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Keen's Mustard aids digestion

PRESENTATION AT ROBLIN

On Friday evening, August 21st, 1925, while the members of Robin Church Choir were assembling at the Parsonage for their weekly practice, representatives of the congregation kept dropping in until parlors and dining room contained a numerous and noisy throng. The hum of cheerful conversation, the merry laugh, and the evident intention to have a first class social time upset the plans of the choir for practice that evening. It was the birthday anniversary of the Pastor's wife and the Ladies' Aid were on hand with a very beautiful bouquet of Gladiolas for Mrs. Wilson with their hearty good wishes.

The Pastor then read the following addresses to Mrs. Geo. H. Brooks, Organist, and Mrs. Archie Cook, former Organist, and on behalf of the congregation presented them with comfortable rocking chairs of very choice design. The recipients were taken completely by surprise but managed to neatly express their appreciation of the useful and beautiful gifts. Refreshments were then partaken of and the social intercourse resumed. All present voted they had spent a very enjoyable evening.

Roblin, Ont.,
August 21st, 1925.

Mrs. Geo. H. Brooks,

Dear Mrs. Brooks,—This evening you are surrounded by representatives of the congregation of Robin United Church, charged with the pleasant duty of expressing their appreciation of your valuable services as organist of the church. Your fidelity in attendance at choir practice and Sunday services, frankly requiring self sacrificing efforts on your part, is worthy of particular mention.

Philip Schaff, the eminent theologian of the 19th century, said:—"Poetry, and its twin sister, Music, are the most sublime and spiritual arts, and are much more akin to the genius of Christianity, and minister far more copiously to the purposes of devotion and edification than architecture, painting and sculpture. They employ word and tone, and speak thereby more directly to the spirit than the plastic arts of stone and color, and are more adequate to expression to the whole wealth of thought and feeling."

We consider ourselves fortunate as a church in having an organist so well qualified to preside at the organ and add sympathetic to the spirit of true worship.

We sincerely hope that you will continue for years to come in your present relationship to the congregation and in the choir and give choice talents for vocal and instrumental music.

As a slight token of our esteem we beg of you to accept this chair. We can assure you that this present symbolizes the hearty good wishes of every member of the congregation.

Mrs. A. C. Cook.

Dear Mrs. Cook,—We are not unmindful of the fact that when we were without a church organist, you cheerfully consented to come to our aid and for a considerable time rendered excellent and highly appreciated service. Not only during your tenure of office, but many times before and since when circumstances prevented the regular organist from being present we have found you ever ready to come to our relief. We fully appreciate your kindness.

We desire also to mention the fact that in presiding at the organ and in the rendering of vocal selections your efforts have revealed true musical talent and the effectiveness of our services of worship have been greatly enhanced.

As a slight token of our esteem we beg of you to accept this chair, and our sincere prayer is that you may be spared for many years to assist in the musical part of the service in Roblin United Church.

AN APPLE A DAY

Eat more fruit and keep your skin clear would perhaps be an apt slogan for Canadian fruit growers to adopt. In this connection possibly no fruit would better fill the bill than apples, of which a bulletin issued by the Fruit Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, entitled "Canadian Grown Apples", says, "From a dietetic standpoint the most important function of the apple is that of furnishing mineral salts and organic acids; but it has an important nutritive value as well, furnished by the carbohydrates present. As the fruit ripens starch changes to sugar. The apple has a medicinal value also, especially if eaten at the beginning of a meal or between meals." The bulletin further remarks that no housewife should be without a box or barrel of Canadian grown apples and then proceeds to give a list of the varieties that should be used at different times as follows :—

September — Duchess, Alexander, Maiden's Blush, St. Lawrence, and similar varieties.

October, November, December — Gravenstein, Wealthy, Hubbardson, McIntosh Red, Fameuse, Blenheim, Ribston, and similar varieties.

January and February — Baldwin, King, Wagener, Greening, Seek, Peewaukee, Ontario, Jonathan, Yellow Newtown, and similar varieties.

March, April and May—Spy, Golden Russet, Bep Davis, Stark, Fallawater, Roxbury Russet, Spitzenberg, Rome Beauty, and similar varieties.

A gentleman met an "uncertain" acquaintance and the latter said, "I'm a little short, and should like to ask you a conundrum in mental arithmetic."

"Proceed", said the gentleman.

"Well," said the "short" man, "suppose you had ten pounds in your pocket and I should ask you for five pounds, how much would remain?"

"Ten pounds," was the prompt answer.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On Wednesday, August 26th, 1925, Mrs. F. H. York celebrated her 93rd birthday, at the home of her son, Mr. Monson York, of Tamworth. Although somewhat crippled with rheumatism, she is very independent, does her own mending, and insists on doing all she can. Her eyesight and hearing are good and her interest in the current events keen. Her welcome greetings and pleasant smile will ever be remembered. She is a great great grandmother. The fourth generation was represented in three of the families present. Among the guests from a distance were, Rev. A. A. Sturgeon and family, from Brookfield, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Albertson and family, from Hartington, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scouten, Wilton, Ont.

The large birthday cake, which graced the center of the table, was baked by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Manson York, and was decorated with 93 candles. After the bountiful dinner, of which twenty-two parlook, Rev. Arthur Sturgeon, assisted by the great grandchildren, viz., Hilda Evelyn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vrooman, and Homer Gordon, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scouten, "Grandma York" assisted in the ceremony by holding the baptismal bowl. It was a very pretty and impressive ceremony.

Gifts were presented, pictures taken and all departed, wishing "Grandma" many more happy returns of the day.

KALADAR

The lawn social and concert, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Kaladar United Church, on Friday, Sept. 4th, was a decided success in every way.

In the afternoon a baseball game was played between Flinton and Kaladar, the latter being victorious with a score of 11 to 5. After the ball game a delicious supper was served by the ladies (cafeteria style), opposite the church, to about 175 took supper. After all were served, the crowd gathered in Mr. Wesee's grain shed, which had been very fittingly prepared, and appropriately decorated for the occasion, and they listened to one of the best, if not the best, programmes ever listened to in this part of the country. The programme was rendered by talent from Grace Church, Napanee, which Rev. A. Terrill is Pastor. The Orchestra of nine pieces certainly delighted the audience with their numbers, so pleasingly rendered, while the mile quartette and elocutionist, delighted the ears of everyone present. The duets and solos were also greatly enjoyed, as well as the addresses by Rev. Mr. Mayor of Napanee. The chair was occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Coffey, the Kaladar Pastor couple, while they were also rendered by Rev. and Mrs. Coffey, which were much enjoyed.

One pleasing feature of the programme was the presentation of the $5.00 reward offered by the ladies to the winning ball team. This was presented to Mr. D. E. Weese, Captain of the team, who, after a few appreciative remarks, handed the reward back to the Ladies' Aid.

Mr. Ray Spencer spoke a few well chosen words of appreciation for the great kindness of our Napanee friends, in coming so far, and giving us all such a wonderful treat, in their excellent programme. He then gave a vote of thanks on behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society. This was seconded by Mrs. Weese, and a very hearty applause showed how well everyone present appreciated their programme.

The Kaladar ladies feel greatly indebted to Rev. A. C. Terrill and his friends for their kindness, and they also wish to thank those gentlemen who so kindly gave their cars to bring the people to Kaladar. We feel that these gentlemen are just as much a part of the success as those assisted in the programme, and we take this opportunity of extending to you, gentlemen, our sincere thanks once again. Total proceeds of the afternoon $112.00.

OBITUARY

Miss Jessie McBain.

Napanee lost one of its oldest residents on Friday last, by the death of Miss Jessie McBain, at the age of 90 years.

Born in New York, in the year 1835, she came with her parents to Canada, and to what is now Napanee, when she was two years old, and for eighty-eight years she lived in the same house on Dundas St.

Miss McBain possessed a keen mind, an attractive personality, and was interested in every good movement in the town.

She was a devoted member of Trinity Church, and had worked in almost every one of its departments. For a time she was organist and choir leader, while for many years she was the efficient leader of the Primary Department. She was a Charter member of the Woman's Missionary Society, and always took a great interest in the Missionary work of the church. She was an ardent prohibitionist, and delighted in telling of the great improvements that had come with the advance of the Temperance movement.

The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon, and was conducted by the Rector, Rev. Canon Ellis, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Wilson, the chief mourners being the Misses McLaren, of Melrose.

A memorial service was held in Trinity Church on Sunday morning, when the Pastor paid a tribute to her loving loyalty to the church, as well as to her splendid character and attractive personality.

REVIVAL OF INTEREST IN SPORT

Every one in a while some one deplores the present day decline of interest in sport, especially in the small towns, and attempts are made by means of subscriptions and contribution to stir the old bones. But invariably all such attempts fail. They fail because they are not the spontaneous expression of the sporting instinct on the part of the players themselves.

We have tried that in Napanee on occasions and it didn't work. But this year a close observer would see a real revival of interest in sport. The girls of the town and district have practised and produced some real good soft ball, to their own benefit and to the entertainment of those who were privileged to be spectators. And just now tennis is the order of the day. Over forty persons have signed up to play in a town tournament. The party spirit shown in drawing for players and the large number participating, particularly of the younger folk, speaks well for this branch of sport.

All that is needed when this is on a little more interest in local Rugby on the part of players themselves, and a little larger number playing hockey when the freeze up comes, and Napanee will be well away for a good start.

WEDDING BELLS.

Hodgson—Nickle.

A pretty autumn wedding was celebrated in the Manilla United Church on Monday evening, September 7th, 1925, at 7 o'clock, when Ada Fleming, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George Nickle, was united in marriage to Mr. Alden MacLaren Hodgson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Hodgson, of Brooklin, Ont. The bride was attractively attired in a white gown of Crepe LaBriar and wedding veil trimmed with pearls and silver, and carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses, lily of the valley and fern. She was given away by her father, who also performed the ceremony.

Mrs. J. E. Mahee, of Odessa, played the wedding music, the bridal party coming to us from Lobengrin, as the wedding party entered the church, and Mendelssohn's wedding march during the ceremony. Mrs. Mahee wore an imported gown of navy chiffon with mahogany cut velvet and black hat.

Miss Irmelle Nickle, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a Parisian French frock of lavender georgette with sequence trimming. Miss Willa Nickle, sister of the bride, and Miss Mildred Cooke, Toronto, were bridesmaids. They were prettily gowned in apricot georgette over satin, and of mauve crepe with an all-over trimming of silver sequence. They wore the bride's attendants wore black picture hats and silver shoes, and carried bouquets of asters.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Gordon B. Hodgson, of Toronto, and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Crews, Trenton, and Mr. Percy Wheatley, Toronto, under "Bobs" Mooney, Ottawa, carried the ring.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. F. C. Cross, Brooklin, who wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette and black hat, sang "Until."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Hodgson received with Mrs. Nickle. Mrs. Nickle wore a black georgette gown with silver trimming, and black hat. Mrs. Hodgson wore a gown of black crepe with lace trimming, and black hat, both wearing corsage bouquets of sunset roses.

After the buffet luncheon, Dr. Mahee, as toastmaster, proposed the toasts to the bride and groom, the party appropriately responded.

The bride and groom, having received the good wishes of their friends, left for a motor trip.

SOME ONTARIO SCENERY DESCRIBED

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers and daughter, Ella, spent a most enjoyable two weeks' holiday visiting the parental home, near Kingston, and later, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogers and little son, motored to the home of a sister at Denbigh. While there the party called at the pretty new (former Methodist) parsonage, recently mentioned in the Missionary Outlook. They inspected the flour mill owned by a cousin, though now all modernly equipped, has been in operation more than a century, and used to grind the flour for the pioneers and their usually large families with the old mill stones. Later they entered a boat and enjoyed trolling in the waters which turn the wheels of this mill.

After enjoying the many good things to eat, for which the north country is famous, the party regretfully began the homeward journey over hills and more hills, which nevertheless furnished most beautiful scenery, with little rivulets rushing along, and no doubt emptying into the numerous placid little lakes which nestle so peacefully at the foot of these great hills.

But the crowning lake of all is the marvellous Machenogz, with its miles and miles of variegated rocks rising 300 feet straight up from the water's edge. There has been erected a steel ladder to the summit, and at the top most luscious huckleberries grow in abundance. A narrow, but fairly good road runs within twenty feet of the opposite shore for a distance of about eighteen miles. The reflection cast in the water and the colorings resulting therefrom are such as to defy a painter's skill. At the head of this lake, needless to say, is located a summer resort, beautiful, picturesque and quiet. The grounds surrounding it are all that could be desired, and we would have wished for a much longer stay in that region. Its Bon Echo Inn is simply indescribable, a place wherein nature revels. The walls are entirely decorated with birch and maple bark. A massive maple log has been hewn out and fashioned into a bookcase, a number of fish of the bass and trout varieties, and game of all kind is everywhere. Even the imposing rocks are only waiting to be mined to yield large quantities of minerals of different kinds. The hay and grain crops in South Lennox and Addington as well as Frontenac Counties are excellent. And we return to our own beautiful County of Welland, and the Niagara Peninsula, with its wealth of fruit, as we drive along the beautiful Niagara Boulevard and watch the mighty Niagara as it rushes along its course, and think of the wonderful possibilities that lie within its power for our people, are we not constrained to stand at attention and reverently say "My Beloved Canada" while within a prayer must ascend from the heart to the Father of all good and perfect gifts, that her people may be rightly guided and nobly inspired to do the things and act the part so as to be counted worthy of so great a heritage.

MRS. ROY ROGERS.

Quick Relief for Rheumatics

Local Druggists Sell Rheuma on Money-Back Plan

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, swollen, twisted joints, or stiff muscles because your system is full of uric acid, that dangerous poison that makes thousands suffer and kills thousands years before their time, then you need Rheuma, and need it now.

Start taking it to-day. Rheuma acts at once on kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and you can sincerely exclaim: "Good riddance to bad rubbish."

Many people, the most skeptical of skeptics right in this town, and in the country hereabouts, bless the day when Wallace's Drug Store and other good druggists offered Rheuma to the afflicted at a small price and guaranteed money refunded if not satisfied. If you have rheumatism get a bottle of Rheuma to-day.

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Mr. A. O. Norton, the millionaire Jack Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets.

He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effect, he began recommending them to his family and friends.

In an unsolicited letter, Mr. Norton says in closing:

"My family use them when ever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

PUSHED TO THE POLLS

Premier King's most loyal supporters are becoming daily more disgusted with his inability of decision regarding an election. They recognize that it is having the effect of further discrediting the Government in the eyes of the public. For weeks his supporters have been waiting on a decision, concluding at intervals that his mind must at last be made up but as often finding that their faith was too great. Some one said months ago that there would not be an election this year for the reason that Mackenzie King could not achieve a decision. The author of that observation knew the character of the Premier. He has been unable to make up his mind on any matter of policy throughout his four years of office; it is even more difficult for him to decide a question involving his own political fate.

But the decision is very likely to be taken out of his hands. The country is demanding an election. Mr. King's colleagues and advisers know how emphatic and insistent is that demand. They realize that the longer it is ignored the worse it will be for the Government. The Prime Minister is being PUSHED TO THE POLLS. Not all his supporters are behind the push, of course. The Maritime contingent of his followers in the Commons who see themselves being retired to private life have been doing their utmost to encourage his vacillation. But his wiser advisers understand postponement of the evil day can only have the effect of increasing the inevitable catastrophe.

In his nerveless apology for indecision issued to the public this week Mr. King has but enhanced public impatience. After going back to ancient political history in search of means to disguise the significance of the sweeping sway of Liberalism in the Maritime provinces and offering transparent excuses for the inactivity of his own Government, the Prime Minister grandiloquently declared that he will not be stampeded by Mr. Meighen's demand for an election. He chooses for his own purposes to ignore the fact that Mr. Meighen's demand is the demand of the people from one end of the country to the other. The country wants from Mr. King not excuses for not having announced an election, but assurance that there is to be an election, that there will not be another session with a sick Government and a sick Parliament. Mr. King will not help himself for his party by withholding that assurance.

NEW REFUNDING LOAN

Announcement has just been made that the Dominion Government has concluded its financial plans for the year by disposing of a new issue of $75,000,000 fifteen year 4½% bonds through a strong Canadian syndicate, consisting of Wood, Gundy & Company, Dominion Securities Corporation, A. E. Ames & Company, Limited, and the National City Company, Limited. The bonds are being offered to the public through practically every bond dealer and stock broker in Canada, and through the chartered banks.

In arranging for its long term financing in Canada, rather than in another market, the Government has followed the policy that has been almost rigidly adhered to during the last several years, the Victory Loans of 1917, 1918 and 1919 having been planned entirely for the Canadian market and the Refunding Loans of 1922 and 1924 having been offered in the same manner. Short term financing—such as one year note issues—have been placed in United States, where the demand for such bonds is so strong that such borrowing is abnormally cheap. These short term notes, however, are of interest only to the large financial institutions.

It is understood that the proceeds of the new issue will be used for refunding purposes, including the retirement of $12,000,000 of tax-free bonds, which fall due on December 1st next. In this matter also, the strict policy of retiring tax-free bonds by the usual taxable issues is being followed.

The new issue should prove exceedingly attractive to Canadian investors. The maturity if fifteen years—in other words, these bonds run for the same number of years as did the 1934 maturity Victory bonds which were issued in 1919 and which have become so popular. At the price of 97¾ and interest, the bonds will yield the investor an interest return of over 4⅝%, which is considered attractive.

Because of the success of the 1923 and 1924 Refunding Loans, it is felt in financial circles that the present issue will be quickly snapped up. Investors who were fortunate enough to have purchased the 1923 issue of Refunding Loan bonds have had the satisfaction of watching their bonds rise in value by more than four points, while those who purchased last year have also witnessed an improvement upon the prices paid. It is a fact that all Dominion of Canada bond issues floated since the commencement of the war are now selling at a substantial premium over the original issue price.

In considering the new loan, another point upon which comment has been made is that new offerings of the highest grade of bonds have been comparatively scarce during the last few months and from all indications the volume of new bond issues will be unusually light during the remainder of the year. There will be no more Dominion Government financing, while most of the Provinces and Municipalities have already completed their requirements.

The best advice to prospective investors, therefore, is to enter their applications as quickly as possible. It is understood that this can be done through any bond dealer, stock exchange broker or through any branch of any chartered bank.

ECONOMY BY WOOD PRESERVATION

Forest Products Laboratories Engaged in Combating Losses Due to Decay of Timbers.

In Canada, the growing realization that the heavy drain on the nation's forests must be lessened is evidenced in the widespread interest taken in the work of the Department of the Interior in combating the losses caused by fire and insects, and also in assisting citizens in securing a closer utilization and lengthened life of the product. This latter part of the work is carried on by the Forest Products Laboratories of the Forestry Branch, which has for some years past been paying a great deal of attention to problems connected with the preservation of wood by treatment with various substances. This treatment consists in forcing into the wood certain chemicals which are poisonous to the low forms of plant life which cause decay in wood.

The importance of the work may be gauged by the fact that the yearly monetary loss in Canada due to decay in the case of railway ties, poles, bridges, culverts, etc., is estimated to be not less than thirty-five million dollars. The greater part of this loss is preventable, and the extension of the practice of preserving wood by the treatment just referred to would save much of this large amount of money. As an instance of such saving, it may be stated that of the thirteen million ties which Canadian railways now use annually, eight million could be saved if the wood were treated. This is the equivalent of 2?4,000,000 feet board measure of lumber.

Timber has usually been regarded as a short-lived material of construction; when treated, however, it is much changed in this regard. Highway bridges, for example, constructed of timber treated with creosote may be confidently expected to last for twenty-five years or more from the wearing surfaces, with a strong probability that they will last half as long again. Hence these may be regarded as permanent structures. In addition, the maintenance charges of such bridges are very low; no painting, for example, is necessary. They have the advantage that they may be more readily widened, strengthened for heavier traffic or taken down and set up elsewhere more than other types of construction.

Decay of timber is due to certain of the lower forms of plant life called fungi, and the growth of these is generally favored by heat and moisture. Hence a moist climate such as that of the Maritime Provinces or British Columbia (especially if characterized by periods of warm weather) is more conducive to the decay of wood than the colder and drier climates of northern Ontario and northern Quebec. Consequently, in climates of the latter type, it will be necessary to use the best protection from mechanical wear that can be secured as a reasonable expense and to adjust the preservative treatment to protect the timber from decay for the period of its mechanical life.

An experimental treating plant has been established at the laboratories and already considerable research work has been done at the instance of the Canadian railways, and other large consumers of wood. There are, it may be mentioned, ten wood-treating plants in operation in Canada, equipped to treat ties and structural timber, as well as poles, posts and construction. In response to many inquiries as to the suitability of Canadian woods for treatment the laboratories have selected twenty Canadian woods and are now investigating the relative suitability of these woods for treatment. Among other problems that are engaging attention are the seasoning of hardwood ties for creosote treatment, the value of various proprietary wood preservatives, and the use of crude oil in mixture with preservatives for the treatment of railway ties.

A Legend of the Upper Ottawa

There are spots one touches in life's little journeys, as there are people one meets, that are never forgotten, providing a lasting and indeed indestructible matrix for memory's library records and from which new and ever new de luxe editions are struck off to the nth unit of time. Such a spot is "Eagle's Crag," in Deep Water River, on the Upper Ottawa, and such a person was Father Filion. Baptised Onisème Filion in the church at St. Raymond, just north of Quebec, that ancient centre of culture and commerce for all this northland of ours; on that May day, 1856. His mother a DeJobinville, and his father's mother a sister of that gentleman and soldier of fortune, Gaspe de Valcourt, Sieur de Trois Maisons. So on his maternal side at least he came by his wanderings as honestly as he came by his piety and scholarly culture, and used both to the glory of God and the benefit of his fellowmen.

"No, my friend," Father Fili said emphatically, as we talked of those brave days of New France when the cross did not follow, but lead. "No! but I say it humbly, as one should, there can be no question of this fact. No single element in all the white annals of our glorious country's history can take the place from the heroic Jesuit missionary. Did he not welcome death itself in his hopes of glory! Did he not labor body and soul and spirit, his eyes on the cross, his body always under, his spirit always looking upward, his very soul shining through his martyr's eye, and always, ever always, did he harken, perchance God's voice should call him out again, yonder to the unknown, the unnamed, the goalless, trackless, homeless wanderings of a herald of the cross. To him always was it the cross of victory as of necessity the cross of suffering. A suppression of self and desire; a life of negation and of confessions, a life of fiery zeal and all-conquering destiny, a life thoroughly unintelligible to modern thought or concept. A giant soul, reading man and man's thoughts, with the same unerring sense with which he read the secrets of nature in all this trackless wilderness of forest, vast and unknown.

If salvation could be earned, the early Jesuit missionaries earned it in full measure.

"No, in the selfish service of the cross none can take a higher place than the self-crucifying Jesuit missionary."

Knowing I gladly granted it all, Father Fili granted me in return a half hour of his time, and spread for me a feast indeed. Of the years he searching antiquary, of fact for the historical archivist, and of sheer delight and joy for his grateful listener.

"Of the legend connecting Eagle's Crag with Point a Baptême, you wish me to talk? Well, you have climbed this crag, monsieur, it is to be hoped? Yes, well that is fine, and a joy to be remembered all your life, is it not so?

You admit it, and recall to him some of the incidents of that day of days when you climbed it, how that after a hard uphill climb through high arching leafy shade and over uncounted obstacles you finally left the sheltering shade of forest wealth at the crag's base to be faced with a precarious climb of some sixty feet over granite boulders of all sizes and contours and by virtue of your creeping hold on the cedar root or that blanched and rotting trunk or maybe some small clumps of blueberry scrub, you arrive at Bear's Cave, to gaze in something of questioning appreciation at its shadowy, forbidding depths, and how at last taking yourself in hand you screw up sufficient courage to advance, then you are all in a hurry to get through with the venture, and squeezing through barely admissable (barely is good) all angled crevices in the rock, where on your hands and knees you crawl onward, upward and forward you suddenly emerge from the darkness inside to broad and brilliant day and find a footing on a shelf overhanging the brown depths of the Ottawa hundreds of feet below. A sight heaven itself might wonder at.

Then, after a somewhat hazardous journey up through and over you pass between two mighty arching giants of granity providing mutual support, to a secluded balcony of rock, here no breeze suddenly on a vision to still the soul and hush all sound. Not all the gods on high Olympus dwelling were ever granted fairer vision than here meets the eye. Surrounded by immemorial rocks fashioned who can tell, or by what potency maintained in perpendicular, seemingly against all laws of nature, must remain a mystery unsolved. One gazes at the far flung stretches of noble river set here and there with jutting headland in amethyst and emerald shades, through age-old pines whose whorles in myriad clustered symmetry give tuneful melody to wandering wind, your vision flanked by mighty Bird Rock in all its sunlit grandeur of tone and line, and beneath, if one dares to drop the vision, the creamy white foam of the Ottawa as it breaks in an eternity of assault at the base of this sentinel of time. While above all, and dominating all is Eagle's Crag in all its suspended wonder of mighty lawlessness.

Father Filion comes to my rescue with the story, half legend, half fact, known as the Miracle of Eagle's Crag. A story of these early days of our country's infancy when redskin warrior, made savage by other's treason against all honesty and right, stalked human prey in roaming, unreasoning madness, when some lone sentinel from this very crag's jutting prominence flashed his signal to waiting hundreds in those menacing shadows below, when by curlinc and blanketed smoke he wireleased bloody and utter destruction to the dauntless pioneer; when forest, plain or river, all was menace, all spoke death. It was during one of those breathing spells between one period of this ever stalking bloody menace and the next, that our legend finds its setting.

Here Father Filion takes the reins well in hand and I wait in happy expectancy the delights of his carefully worded story while enjoying the soft cadence of his cultured voice.

"Point a Baptême is as you know an ancient interribal "pow-wow" ground; for there on the river shore opposite the rock they could camp in peace, with their silent sentinal in crescental, all-seeing vigilance perched on his rocky point ready to give instant warning of the approach of any unwelcome guest. So having posted their guardian of destiny they met in silence to smoke the pipe of peace and pass the wampum and in community of spirit and in solemn conclave to work out some league of mutual offensive and defensive warfare against some common enemy.

Naturally this point so marked out by ancient custom and in virtue of its vantage as portage route, was selected by Jesuit missionaries in their hopeful forward push for more conquest for the cross. Here was erected the first little crude log church of the district, and here the impossible miracle of dying yet undying love, of majestic humility was preached with eyes ablaze and hearts aflame, and listened to with crafty cunning as with humble faith.

The little Manitou, the loved one whom the Great Manitou loved not for a while because he would not leave his people unblessed, but who finally conquered all by his loving unselfishness and who now is with the Great Manitou and whose spirit speaks to his children in forest and lake and river, and who would be the friend of the humblest of all and help him and bless him and make him a mighty man, make his children many and his wigwam always full, his bow always successful and his heart always glad. They came and silently listened and as silently went their way until the seed bore fruit at last and many accepted the wondrous story of the babe who grew to be the Great Manitou and who loved all; and accepting came with humble offerings from hearts new won to this message of peace where there had been no peace and of a vital living love that was new indeed.

Then one day in this triumph of zeal they came bringing their babies to be christened by the holy man so that they might be saved the hell of damnation in unbelief which was the only alternative offered, and while in hushed silence of worship these free children of the forest waited while one and another babe received the sign of the cross and the sprinkled holy water of baptism that should make him loved of the Great Manitou and guarded by the great Spirit, a huge grey eagle from the crag opposite flew down and amid a rushing of mighty wings and of heart-broken mother's cry snatched the infant from the cradle font and with its cruel talons embedded in the tender baby's flesh soared to its eerie perch with its precious burden, mid the shrieks of the agonized mother heart and the deep-throated anathemas of the aunts.

The legend, continuing, relates how the chief's son, Black Bear, undertook to rescue the babe from its fearful resting place, and together with Owl Face the Wise made the perilous ascent, and when all but ten feet away saw the great bird lift free and glide out with the poor mite of humanity still in its claws and circling the rock twice glide in a wondrous spiral down right into the midst of the awestruck congregation and lay the babe on the lap of the weeping, wondering mother, and then up, up to be lost in the sun of heaven's majesty. And of how priest and people still awestruck and wondering gave praise to God for his mercy in returning the babe unharmed and scattered round the poor little scared mite as they noted the bleeding sign of the cross made by the cruel talons as they gripped the tender, yielding flesh, and accepting the portent as a direct sign from heaven that little Scar Chest should be given to the service of God, in a unique service of renunciation they there and then set aside the new mite to that purpose, with prayer and praise. The solemn "Te Deum laudamus" wafted across the river to the towering heights of Bird Rock and was by it flung back in turn in echoing, vibrant, sonorous tones, and of how little Scar Chest became Father de la Croix and the first real live Indian Missionary and lived a life to the glory of God and to the blessing of his followmen.

Eagle's Crag and Bird Rock, how fitting the names and very reverently will I gaze at this wonder of created things when next I pass that way, and think of little Scar Chest and his ride to glory on eagle's wings.

I tell the good father how grateful I am for his pretty story, and as I bid him "good-bye" I know him to be as noble of spirit as he is marvelous old, for has he not given up his life to the service and hardship unutterable. I shake his hand in parting and leave a little something for some of God's children who are not as fortunate as I and Father Fili knows them all, and will give it when it is most needed, and God's glory. Such a life to live, and yet it has its compensations for the cure of souls and truly life is wonderful for a man of God and for any man whose soul is not finally damned.

PAINS IN LEFT SIDE AND BACK

Other Troubles Women Often Have Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lachine, Quebec.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my left side and back, and with weakness and other troubles women so often have. I was this way about six months. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Montreal Standard' and I have taken four bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. Ross, 620 Notre Dame Street, Lachine, Quebec.

Doctor Said an Operation

Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and could suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. . . . I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. Adams, Box 64, Provost, Alberta. G

"Autumn Coats Depend Largely on Fur Trimmings For Chic Smartness"

Furs, lustrous, beautifully finished furs are very much a part of all outstandingly smart Autumn Coats. These come expertly tinted to match the shade of the materials, or in contrasting tones that are artistically authentic.

Collars, Cuffs, Bandings, Panels, yards of fur are being used in numerous original ways to create beauty, luxuriousness and warmth.

Linings, too, play an important part in Autumn Coats. These come in single and two-tone color effects. Invariably the predominating shade corresponds with the shade featured in the coat itself. Only durable linings will be found in Robinson's Coats.

Fabrics with a "Bloom" finish are particularly stressed. These, in the finest qualities come from European mills. Canadian and American Marvellas also register high in fashionable approval. All coatings come in rich beautiful colorings, many of which are being introduced for the first time this season. Inter-lining makes all garments delightfully warm.

Our stock is replete with a splendid range of sizes in the magnificently conceived garments. Your early inspection is cordially invited.

In loving memory of my dear husband, Alexander Howe, who passed away September 14th, 1920.

Missed by the one who loved him best.

And sweet tender fond and true;
There is not a day, dear Alexander,
That I do not think of you.
Sadly missed by his loving wife,

John Hubbs Expresses Appreciation

To the Electors of Prince Edward County:

The Fourteenth Parliament of Canada has been dissolved, and I wish to take this opportunity of thanking my many friends for the honor conferred on me by electing me as your representative for Prince Edward County in the House of Commons, and for your confidence for the last four years. During this time I have endeavoured to serve you to the best of my ability as your representative.

To the Electors of Prince Edward and Lennox:

I beg to say that should you decide you wish me to contest this Riding in the interest of the Liberal-Conservative cause I will gladly do so, as I have never stated I would refuse to run as is rumoured throughout the Riding.

Again thanking you, I am, very gratefully yours.

JOHN HUBBS.

MOTOR TRIP AROUND LAKE ONTARIO

Dear Editor:

Having just returned from a very pleasant motor trip, I thought perhaps your readers might find enough enthusiasm in our account of the trip to make a similar one.

Leaving our home, near Yarker, on Sunday, August 30th, we went to Gananoque, ferried from there to Clayton on 6.30 a.m. boat. The beauty of the St. Lawrence and its many islands cannot be surpassed. The weather was perfect and the roads almost so. From Clayton we went to Watertown, thence to Pulaski, Oswego, and many other small towns along the Roosevelt Highway, camping near Sodus that night. The fruit farms are very numerous from Pulaski through Oswego to Rochester, many having orchards of more than one thousand trees of pears, peaches and apples. Vineyards were not so abundant.

Monday we proceeded to Rochester, spending some time in this beautiful busy city of nearly 400,000 population. Leaving by the Million Dollar Highway we went on to Niagara Falls, arriving there early in the evening. Along this highway there are many lovely farm homes, the majority being dairying, fat cattle, grain and hay. The crops, many of which were still in field, showed the land to be fertile. Silos and corn crops were numerous. One peculiarity of this highway was that as far as the eye could see it stretched straight ahead, no curves and few inclines.

Tuesday was spent in viewing the Falls. Words cannot describe the vastness and beauty of this river as it falls 165 feet, rushing ahead, apparently to end,—just as nature formed it. And just here let me say that any visitors to this town should pay a visit to the Shredded Wheat factory.

Wednesday found us in Buffalo. This city has many beautiful parks and the streets are wide, consequently no congested traffic. That evening the colored lights thrown from the Canadian side on the falls was marvelous. The City of Niagara Falls itself is largely manufacturing.

Thursday we crossed the International Bridge to the "Land of the Maple," and in leaving the U. S. A. we decided we could not forget the hospitality of the people, the courtesy of the drivers and the beauty of each home along the highway.

Back on native soil, we were ready to enjoy the scenery at the Horseshoe Falls. These are more beautiful in every respect than those across the line. No one could imagine the roar and force with which the water plunges over these falls until you have the pleasure of going beneath them. You are provided with rubber boots, coat and cap, taken by elevator down one hundred feet, and allowed to walk out to a distance of about one thousand feet directly beneath the falls. We also visited the places of historic interest from Chippewa to Queenston. Just here let me say that the Chippewa Power Plant is nearing completion. It is a wonder! We see no reason why we may not be able to use some of the power generated at that place in the future. And may it be soon.

Continuing from Queenston we passed through a wonderful fruit section to St. Catharines, Grimsby and Winona. This portion of Ontario is equal to that already mentioned in New York State, but the vineyards are more numerous, as well as other fruit.

Early Friday morning we set out for Toronto Exhibition via Burlington Beach and Lake Shore Road. This drive cannot be beaten, for the roadway lies between Burlington Bay and Lake Ontario. This, together with the beautiful homes surrounded by flowers and fruit, caused many compliments from American tourists with whom we came in contact.

Canada has from the Falls to Bowmanville, via Toronto, a concrete roadway equal to any we passed over, and in the near future will reach Belleville and Napanee.

As those of you who have visited the Exhibition this year will say, we agree, too—that it is living up to its record, "Bigger and Better."

We reached home Sunday P.M., thoroughly convinced that travelling is educative; and would say to all who read this, "Go for a good motor trip and tell others what you've seen."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for all this space,

Yours truly,

E. W. BOYCE AND PARTY.

NEWS OF TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for next Sunday will be "Why Not Work for God?"

After a rather lengthy intermission the young people of the Tamworth congregation are called to meet in the Religious Educational Hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock to reorganize their work for the new school year. A special invitation is given to the pupils and teacher of our Consolidated School to attend.

Rev. J. T. Caswell, of Watson's Corners, who was the minister of the Presbyterian charge of Tamworth and Reidville just before they entered co-operation with the Methodists, and was spending part of his vacation in Tamworth, preached a timely and helpful sermon last Sunday night on "The Unity of the Church."

Miss Hattie Reid, who has endeared herself to the community as Public School teacher, Church and Sunday School worker, and leader of our Mission Band, on the eve of her departure for an extended visit with relatives had her home invaded by a number of her many friends last Wednesday evening, who, after an informal sing song, presented Miss Reid with a complementary address and purse.

Last Wednesday the ladies of Marlbank congregation held their annual harvest home dinner in Allen's grove. Sulphide boys and Enterprise girls defeated Marlbank in two interesting ball games. The ladies took in about $150.00.

Reidville W. M. S. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed. Hanna on Thursday afternoon last, with Rev. Mr. Caswell and the minister as visitors. A programme, in which nearly all present took part, subscribing for the new United Church Missionary Magazine, and refreshments served by Mrs. Hanna, were features of the occasion.

On last Tuesday night the Session met and revised the membership roll of the Tamworth congregation. Our total enrolment is 207 members in full communion.

OBITUARY

William E. Jones.

Another very highly respected citizen of Napanee, in the person of Mr. William E. Jones, passed away at his late residence on Wednesday. The deceased suffered a stroke some few years ago, but was able to be around as usual until two weeks ago, when he was again stricken, and owing to his advanced age little hope was held out for his recovery. The late Mr. Jones was a prosperous farmer of the Township of Richmond for many years, and on retiring from the farm some few years ago he came to Napanee to spend his declining years. He was well known by a wide circle of friends and was highly esteemed by everyone. During his residence in Napanee he was a faithful member and attendant of Grace Methodist (now United Church) and was always in his accustomed seat on the Sabbath Day. His brother, the late Mr. Manly Jones, who was treasurer of Grace Church for a number of years, predeceased him some few years ago. The funeral is to be held this (Friday) afternoon from his late residence to Grace Church.

TREATY PROVIDES FOR BOUNDARY ADJUSTMENTS

Agreement Between Canada and the United States Will Simplify Commission's Work

Slight adjustments in the International Boundary between Canada and the United States which will remove certain anomalies and otherwise simplify the work of the International Boundary Commission, are provided for in a treaty signed at Washington on 24th February, 1925. All matters concerning the boundary between the Dominion and the United States are handled by a joint commission composed of one commissioner from each country, Mr. J. J. D. Craig, Director General of Surveys, Department of the Interior, being His Britannic Majesty's Commissioner.

Maps of the vicinity of the northwestermost point of the lake of the Woods, based on notes of the surveys of 1872, showed that the meridian boundary intersected in five places the boundary passing through the lakes, and the treaty recently signed provides for the moving of the boundary point known as the "northwestermost point" of the Lake of the Woods 4,785 feet due south, and thereby transferring to Canada two small water areas of about two and a half acres in extent which were formerly part of the United States, but which were entirely surrounded by Canadian waters, a somewhat anomalous situation. The treaty also stipulates that the boundary south of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, shall consist of a series of straight lines joining adjacent boundary monuments, instead of the present series of curved lines which are difficult of determination. The straight lines never deviate from the curved ones more than a few inches, and the total area involved is only about 25 acres, along a boundary of 553 miles in length. In this case the United States is the gainer. A small zone of water in Grand Manan channel between the Provinces of New Brunswick and the state of Maine and formerly of controvertible jurisdiction, has been divided between the two countries by extending the boundary 2,283 metres from its former terminus, to the high seas. The treaty also provides for the permanent maintenance of the boundary line in a state of effective demarcation, by repair and renewal of boundary monuments and the re-opening of boundary vistas.

The adjustment of the boundary in the Lake of the Woods region is a matter of considerable satisfaction. The earliest reference to the point is contained in the description of the boundaries of the United States in the treaty of Paris of 1783. By the treaty of Ghent, 1814, commissioners were appointed to decide upon the boundary through the Great Lakes as far west as the northwestermost point of the Lake of the Woods. In 1818 the 49th parallel of latitude was decided on as the boundary from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky mountains; in 1824 the latitude and longitude of the northwestermost point in the Lake of the Woods was determined, and in 1872 a line was run south connecting this point and the 49th parallel.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Motto for young wives, "If at first you don't succeed, cry, cry again."

Cruelty was the vice of the ancient; vanity is that of the modern world.

Many a man who fell in love at first sight now wishes he had been born far-sighted.

A Glasgow man thinks if more wives were able to support husbands there would be more marriages.

Barbara (saying her prayers) — And bless daddy and mummy and make them happy—if they're not too old for that sort of thing.

Many mothers can testify to the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because they know from experience how useful it is.

"What! You're hard of hearing and you want a position in our telephone exchange?"

"Yes, sir. At least I'll have an excuse for not answering."

Jack—"How are you getting along at home since your wife went away?"

Tom—"Fine; I've reached the highest point of efficiency, I can stow put my socks on from either end."

Maiden Aunt—"And what brought you to town, Henry?"

Henry—"Oh, well, I jus' come to see the sights, and I thought that I'd call on you first."

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed; while for cuts, sores, and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

THE PITCHER'S BOX.

In Baseball's Early Days It Was Just a Line Twelve Feet Long.

Up to 1857, or for eighteen years after the first game of baseball was played, there was no limit to the number of innings, the first side scoring twenty-one runs, or "aces," as they were then called, being the winner. In 1857, however, the game was divided into nine innings. The pitcher had a line twelve feet long, kept behind it and could take a short run before his delivery, just the same as is permitted in cricket today.

In 1863 the old "line" for the pitcher to stand behind was done away with and the twirler limited to a "box" twelve feet long and four feet wide, but in this area he could roam at will and throw from whatever spot he pleased. A few years later the "box" was made six feet square, and in 1876 it was again reduced to four feet wide and six feet long. Ten years later it was made a foot longer and a foot wider and in 1887 cut down in length to five and one-half feet.

These "boxes" being always a source of much change and discussion, they were finally abolished altogether and a rubber slab 12 by 4 inches took their place, the pitcher being required to keep his back foot against the slab. This slab was enlarged to two feet by six inches in 1895 and has remained the same since.

GROW, BUT DON'T SWELL.

Save Exertion of Boasting and Use It in Doing Your Tasks.

It is well for you to have confidence in your ability, but when it reaches the stage of "swell headedness" your value to yourself or to any one else begins to dwindle.

"Some men grow with responsibility; others merely swell." The man who swells has ceased to grow.

He has reached a place where he thinks he has all the knowledge he needs, and naturally all growth is retarded.

The best way—the most convincing way—to prove one's capability is by actions, not words.

The fellow who is continually bragging about what he can do is seldom of much account.

Such a man will be found at the top because he deserves to be there.

All concerns want him, because he not only accomplishes much as the result of his concentrated endeavor, but his influence is good on the other employees.

Save the exertion it takes to tell what you can do and use it in performing your tasks. In this way you will get so much consideration eventually that you will not be tempted to brag.

The other fellow will do it for you.

Cheeky John Forster.

In "William Harrison Ainsworth and His Friends" the author, S. M. Ellis, tells a quaint story of Ainsworth and his friend John Forster. Ainsworth had discovered a fine set of Hogarth's engravings which was held at £5, a sum which, he said, "I could not just then spare or at least did not think I ought to spare. I took John Forster down to see the Hogarths, whereupon he actually said that he would and must have them himself and as he had not £5 of loose money at that moment I should lend that sum to him. I pointed out the absurdity of the position—that I wanted the engravings for myself and could not afford to lay out the money; how, then, could I lend it—to him? It was of no use. He overruled me, and the £5 of me and bought the Hogarths I was longing for."

A Narrow Escape.

"I near had a scrap this morning," confided a slender young lawyer whom you wouldn't suspect of being belligerent.

"Who with?" we asked with no regard for grammar.

"Jimmie Squiggs. I guess I spoke hastily to him. Anyhow, he got the idea that I wanted to lick him."

"Well, what did he do?"

"He took it on the run. Honest, he did three blocks in about twelve seconds before I could say a word."

"That's going some for a big man like Squiggs."

"Ain't it? And it didn't do him a bit of good. I was half a block ahead of him every step of the way."

Strategy.

"Nora has just dropped another plate," said Mrs. Twobble.

"Well, my dear," replied Mr. Twobble, "suppose you go into the kitchen and drop a hint to the effect that she must not break any more china?"

"Evidently you don't know how to manage Nora. If I lend her to believe that we rather enjoy having her break a plate occasionally I think she will be more careful."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Exempt.

"We've been playing school, mamma," said little Ethel.

"Indeed?" replied her mother. "I hope you behaved yourself."

"Oh, I didn't have to behave!" said Ethel. "I was the teacher."

It Was Coming.

Patient—Doctor, what I need is something to give me a tip—something to put me in fighting trim. Did you put anything like that in this prescription?

Doctor—No. You will find that in the bill.

Procrastination is one of the most expensive forms of haggling.—Ade.

HOME-BAKED BREAD IS BEST OF ALL

THERE is only one McCLARY'S Tor-Red (Protected) Element and it does each and every one of these things:

Heats Quickly—By building up and multiplying the heat, instead of dissipating it into the air.

Retains Heat—The Tor-Red (Protected) Element retains heat and once heated will cook on "low" or "off" with stored heat.

Toasts Perfectly—Without risk of short circuit by crumbs getting into or toaster coming in contact with the wiring.

Saves Current—Because of the stored heat.

Reduces Repairs—Because nothing can get into the Elements by pots boiling over or dust or crumbs dropping on to the wiring.

Lasts Longer—Being protected, McClary's Tor-Red Elements need no cleaning or brushing, avoiding burnouts.

TELEGRAPH WITH LIGHTS.

Battleships Can Send Signals Twelve Miles In Daylight.

Although searchlight signaling between battleships was a means of communication at sea long before the introduction of wireless telegraphy, it is still utilized.

The latest battleships of our navy are equipped with projectors designed especially for this purpose, while the older vessels use their regular searchlights, for which auxiliary shutters are supplied. Levers operate these latter members, flashing the lights on and off quickly so that messages may be spelled out in dots and dashes, either at day or night.

For day signaling the light shaft is directed squarely at the observer, and for enabling this a telescope is mounted with the projector. When atmospheric conditions are good the radius of communication is about twelve miles in any direction. At night this is obviously much increased, for light may be played on some prominent cloud and seen for a distance of forty or fifty miles.

When there are no clouds the searchlights may be directed skyward and their shafts of light seen at closer range. The feasibility of launching captive balloons as substitutes for cloud banks has been suggested.—Popular Mechanics.

EARLY TRADEMARKS.

When First Used They Were Without Any Protection In Law.

The recognition of trademarks by English law may be said to date only from the beginning of the nineteenth century, but the use of trademarks was, of course, of far earlier date.

So far back as the reign of James I. a certain clothier applied the mark of another clothier to his own inferior goods, but the reports of the lawsuit which ensued leave it doubtful whether the action was brought by the owner of the mark or by an indignant customer, in which latter case it would simply be an ordinary action for fraud.

In 1742 Lord Hardwicke declared that "every particular trader has some particular mark or stamp." At the same time his lordship refused to grant the protection of the law to the "Great Mogul" stamp on cards. He was apparently under the impression that the legal recognition of trademarks meant the creation of a new kind of monopoly, and he made up his mind to obviate such possibility.

Lord Eldon, on the other hand, repeatedly granted injunctions to restrain one trader from fraudulently "passing off" his goods as those of another and thus helped to lay a foundation on which the present trademark law has been built up in successive stages.—London Standard.

Shakespeare Plus Cervantes.

There is an old tradition which links Cervantes with Shakespeare in connection with the lost play "Cardenno," or "Cardenia," which was twice acted at court by Shakespeare's company in 1613 and was announced for publication some forty years later as The History of Cardenio, by Fletcher and Shakespeare." The publication never took place, and nothing is otherwise known of the piece with certainty, but Sir Sidney Lee believes it to have been a dramatic version of the adventures of the lovelorn Cardenio, related in the first part of "Don Quixote." Shelton's translation of which appeared in 1612.

Why Salt Causes Thirst.

Salt has been described as a natural element of the blood in about the same proportion as in the water of the ocean. Under general conditions we do not feel the existence of salt in our bodies because its effect is counteracted by a due proportion of water.

When we eat an excessive amount of salt thirst is created by the demand of nature that we also take a proportionate amount of water and dilute the salt to its proper relative amount. Any food that tends to absorb the moisture of the body will cause thirst for the same reason—that our physical welfare requires a balanced quantity of water.

Scared by the Elephant.

Tradition has it that Caesar brought elephants with him to Britain and that they contributed to his conquest of the Island. Having unsuccessfully attempted to cross the Thames, Caesar built a large turret on an elephant and, loading it with bowmen and slingers, ordered them to pass the stream, whereupon the Britons, terrified at the sight of the unknown monster, fled in confusion.—London Chronicle.

Tabby.

"Tabby" cat ought to be really "astable," being derived from "atab," the name of a famous street in Bagdad which used to be the great market for silks. A tabby cat's cont' was thought to be like the wavy markings of watered silk.

Questions and Answers.

The time elapsing between a question and an answer is almost as important as the answer itself. It may be wisely long or short, but the longer it is the wiser must be the answer.

Manipulating Bones.

"Pop, what's osteopathy?"

"The art of manipulating bones, my son."

"Then is an osteopath a minstrel end man?"

The Disappointing Movies.

"I've seen it—talk's no good."

"It gets 'em, don't 'e?"

"Yes, but they don't show yer that."—London Punch.

Fire at Sillsville.

A fire broke out at the home of Mr. Clarke Ferris, Sillsville, on Wednesday morning. The fire was first seen burning in the roof of the pig pen. A newly threshed straw stack standing very near soon was blazing. Mrs. Peters, who was alone, called help by the telephone, and very soon men arrived with a tank wagon and a load of cheese factory cans, with which they carried water from the bay, pouring it on the pig pen and barn roof. The fire was put out in the pig pen and entirely confined to the stack. It is not known how the fire started, the threshing machine having moved away before it was noticed.

Odessa Girl Died From Burns.

Miss Nellie Hilliard, of Odessa, who received most severe burns on Monday when her clothing caught fire from a small blaze which she was tending in the yard of her home, died as a result of this accident early on Tuesday morning, in spite of the efforts of Dr. Murro, and the loving hands which tended her. Death was attributed chiefly to shock as a result of the accident. The deceased girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hilliard, have been lifelong residents of Odessa, and are very well known and highly respected in the community, the sympathy of which goes out to them in their sad bereavement. The deceased girl is also survived by a small brother who lives at home and attends school. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to Wilton cemetery from the home of the deceased.

The Executive of the Kingston Presbyterial W. M. S. met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Corkill, Napanee.

Reports from the different secretaries were most encouraging. The report of the Supply Secretary, Miss S. E. Newman, Kingston, showed that the bales had been exceptionally good. Supplies were sent to the Verreville and "Cecilia Jeffrey" school homes, while four bales of quilts were sent to the new school just being opened at New Liskeard.

Arrangements for the Thankoffering meeting, for W. M. S. Sunday, and for the International Day of Prayer were also discussed, and the suggestion made that efforts be put forth to secure a returned missionary as speaker.

Those present were: Mrs. W. J. Paul, Kingston; Miss A. Hume, Stirling; Mrs. George A. Brown, Kingston; Mrs. John Matheson, Kingston; Mrs. A. Donnell, Stirling; Miss M. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Corkill and Mrs. Thomson.

SOFTBALL

Strathcona 8, Kingston 7.

The Kingston Y.W.C.A. girls lost to Strathcona girls at the Cricket Field in Kingston, Friday night, by the score of 8-7, before the largest crowd of the season. Then came the fifth and it was getting dark, and Strathcona came along and batted all the way round, scoring seven runs, which tied the game. Y. girls scored in this innings to be right in hard luck, although they should never have been beaten. Strathcona scored again in the sixth. Y. girls tried hard to even but it was too dark and they could not see the ball at all. The teams were as follows:

GALBRAITH'S GROVE, VARTY LAKE

This increasingly popular camping and picnic ground had a busy and happy season 1925.

Wilton's annual picnic was followed by the Yarker Union picnic, which was most successful; a large amount of money being raised for the re-decorating of the parsonage. Newburgh Sunday School picnic was largely attended and the usual sports for the children, supplemented by a game of baseball between Napanee Juniors and Newburgh High School. "Trinity", Napanee, had a largely attended picnic and unusually interesting sports.

The cottagers were: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carson, Kingston; Mrs. Card, Miss Card, Odessa; Mrs. Bray and children, Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Wagar, Miss Salisbury, Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. Mpp and son, Mr. Wilbur Armstrong, Toronto; the Misses Babcock, Hoffford; Miss Tummon, Plainfield; Miss Martin, Sydenham; Mrs. W. Ralston and sons, Kingston; Mrs. Dr. Fortune, Kingston; Rev. H. A. and Mrs. Bunt and family, Enterprise; Mrs. Winter and son, Claude, Selby; Mrs. Hudgin, Miss Hazel Winter, Newburgh; Rev. and Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Anderson and family, Newburgh; the Misses Paul, Mrs. Shier and family, Newburgh; and the pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. A. Connelly, Yarker, who so cheerily welcome all who come; and Rev. Enos Farnsworth, Mrs. Farnsworth and Miss Farnsworth, of Canifton, who have sent seventeen eumbers each to camp.

Other visitors who added greatly to the pleasure of camp life were: Mrs. Ewart and Miss Ewart, of Medta, Sask.; Miss Marion Freeman, Yarker; Dr. A. Bunting and Miss Cuff, of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Brenton, Miss Marie Brenton, Mrs. Pringle, Miss Calvary, Canifton; Mr. Franklin Farnsworth, Toronto; Mr. Ralph Tampney, Ottawa; Mr. Carroll Addelson, B.A., Toronto; Mr. L. G. Hudgin, Miss Beulah Hudgin, Miss Florence Abbott, Mr. Ralph Wynter, Selby; Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Winter, Miss Hill, Miss Millgan, Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thompson, Kingston; Mrs. (Dr.) Oldham, Mrs. J. F. Conroy, Yarker; Mr. and Mrs. Huffman, Napanee; Mrs. Davidson, Sask.

Much sadness was felt and sympathy expressed when Mrs. Freeman, Yarker, a dear and highly respected friend of many of the campers, passed away, Rev. Dr. Farnsworth officiated at the funeral services.

The cottages have all been freshly painted and furnished with new cane va curtains. Two new kitchens have been built and new floors put in the others. Much satisfaction was expressed with these improvements and in anticipation of next year.

As usual in this camp, the Sabbath was well kept, and the services of the morning, when Rev. Farnsworth, laid in services of song and prayer and addresses are appointed, and Rev. E. Farnsworth was, as usual, the "camp fisherman", having caught forty-eight pounds of pike the day previous, although the honors for capturing the "big fish" must go to Rev. A. H. Bunt, B.A. This one weighed 5½ lbs. and measured 31 inches.

Special mention must be made of the "camp fire" this year, which with the weiners, stunts, songs and "chats", were so enjoyable. Rev. K. Sato, Japan, told us of Japanese stories and games. The last camp fire was made the excavation for the "shower" for Miss Farnsworth, of Canifton. Two tiny girls, "Betty and Rene", carried a big white basket packed with white parcels, which, when unwrapped revealed many gifts with good wishes expressed in merry rhyme.

So the season's holiday drew to a close, but there lingers yet memories of "Just the Songs at Twilight", the dress parade from every cottage, the indescribable beauty of the lake at sunset, and the thoughtful kindness of Mrs. R. Galbraith and Mr. Percy Galbraith.

A HEARTY WELCOME TO FATHER O'CONNOR

ON HIS RETURN FROM ROME — FINE RECEPTION TENDERED TO A MOST POPULAR CITIZEN

A wonderful reception was tendered to Rev. Father O'Connor on Tuesday evening by the congregation of St. Patrick's Church to celebrate the return of their beloved pastor from his pilgrimage to the Holy City. The Parish Hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, flags and draperies.

Perhaps the words "wonderful reception" are not quite correct, for it would be wonderful, indeed, if a priest and man so thoroughly loved and revered by the whole community as Father O'Connor should be given other than the best welcome possible.

The reception opened with "God Save the King," followed by the presentation to the Reverend Father of an address of welcome, and the singing by the ladies' quartette of the beautiful song, "Home Again."

Rev. Father O'Connor, in reply to the address, in a few well chosen words expressed his high appreciation and thanks for the hearty welcome given to him on his return from his pilgrimage to the Holy City. The reception was not necessary as an evidence of their goodness of heart and devotion, for he knew them. He had spent, he said, nineteen years amongst them, which were years of great happiness. He had always prayed that the Peace of God would dwell in their hearts and he had received great encouragement from his devoted people in his work in the parish.

He left them a short time ago to go to the Holy City, so that he could get for them the graces and blessings of the Holy Father, and he was pleased to tell them that he had accomplished his purpose.

He gave a brief synopsis of his journey to Rome; the countries he had visited, also a few of his impressions, but it is hoped that a little later on he will extend these notes and impressions into a comprehensive lecture, which assuredly will be most interesting.

En route to Rome, after his arrival at Liverpool, he visited Ireland, and, he said, his hearers would be glad to know that Ireland was free herself at last. He said the country was doing well under the Free State Government. While in Ireland he visited the beauteous Lakes of Killarney.

When he got over to France he visited the Grotto of Lourdes, the most blessed and perhaps the most beautiful spot in the world. He told of many of the miraculous cures which took place there, due to the faith of the sufferers and of their friends.

After leaving Lourdes he visited Monte Carlo, the smallest principality in Europe, ruled by one man, noted for its beauty of situation and buildings, and for its gambling.

From there the Reverend Father went to Rome, where he spent ten happy days. He spoke of the magnificent monuments to the martyrs, works of art not equalled elsewhere in the world. He also spoke of the immense proportions of St. Peter's, which yet did not impress one with its immensity, although it was capable of containing fifty to sixty thousand people. The dome was wonderful, being 275 feet in diameter and the height was over 400 feet. This was the masterpiece of Michael Angelo. He also visited St. Paul's and many other famous churches in Rome, likewise the old walls of Rome and the tombs of the martyrs. He saw many of the excavations, which are bringing to view relics of a bygone age. Rome, he said the speaker, is unique in history.

Father O'Connor had the pleasure and privilege of a private interview with the Holy Father, and on two occasions had the great honor of assisting His Holiness at the Holy Mass.

A pilgrimage from a distant country, of three thousand people, were kept waiting while Father O'Connor had his audience. His Holiness gave him a medal with his own (the Pope's) likeness on one side and of St. Peter on the other.

All his requests were granted to him, including the right to bestow the Apostolic Benediction.

On leaving Rome to return home he visited Paris and other places in France. When in London he visited the Wembly Exhibition and said that Canada took first place there and Australia second.

The great trouble both in Britain and France at the present time is the labor problem, which, said the speaker, can only be solved on the principles of christianity. The power of God is what will bring justice and right for both capital and labor. Both parties are to blame.

Father O'Connor has been forty years in Holy Orders.

The charm of the evening's proceedings was greatly enhanced by the exquisite vocal solos rendered by Mrs. J. McGraw and Miss Mary McGrath.

NEWS OF TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for next Sunday will be "The Choice of Moses".

F. E. Hoffman, our Sunday School Superintendent, and the minister attended the first meeting of the Belleville Presbytery of The United Church as members of the court, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carscallen and Mrs. Thornley as visitors.

Rev. A. E. Wilson was given the honor of being the first Chairman of the new Presbytery, and discharged his duties with dignity and dispatch. Tamworth people take a special interest in Mr. Wilson, as he was interim moderator of the part of our congregation who were formerly Presbyterians during the five years of co-operation.

Our congregation at Tamworth have adopted the duplex envelope system of church finance, and a committee of stewards have undertaken an every person canvass for a budget including all the liabilities of the congregation.

The vision and task of The United Church of Canada as set forth by Rev. Mr. Lazenby, of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. McVicar, of Homin, China, at our meeting of Presbytery, is an almost irresistible challenge for our very best.

The officers of our Y. P. S. at Tamworth were nominated last Monday night, and will be elected next Monday night.

Rally Day services on the 27th of September, the W. M. S. District Convention to be held in Tamworth on October 8th, and the call of our United Church for two weeks of special prayer, Oct. 4th to 18th, are things to be kept in mind.

Wartman; Asst. Superintendent, Mrs. W. Wartman; Look Out, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Jay Yeomans. — Mrs. L. Winter has recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. — Mrs. M. Hill visited with Mrs. Gerow on Tuesday.—Mrs. Palmer, of Wilder, Vermont, is on a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. THE BELLEVILLE PRESBYTERY.

The first meeting of the Belleville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in St. Andrew's Church, Napanee, on Tuesday, and held three sessions. The first session convened at 9.30 a.m., and the first half hour was spent in devotional exercises. After the convener had called the roll and declared the court constituted, the election of officers was held. Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee, was elected chairman; Mr. McQuade, of Odessa, the secretary, and Mr. Martin, of Stirling, the treasurer.

The Presbytery, which consists of about sixty charges within the bounds of Lennox and Addington, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties, then proceeded to effect the new organization.

Standing Committees as follows were set up:

Nominations for the Settlement Committee of Conference were—Rev. D. C. Ramsay, Rev. H. E. Kenny, and Messrs. H. K. Denyes, C. E. Ackerhard, H. K. Denyes.

During the morning session, Dr. Baker, of Belleville, brought before the Presbytery the claims of Albert College, and the Presbytery passed a resolution commending its work to the members, and promising support when the matter comes before Conference.

Mr. Tucker, in a brief address, made a plea for more generous support of the Lord's Day Alliance.

After adjournment at noon the delegates were entertained to lunch in the Church School Room by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's.

In the afternoon the programme, to which the general council has committed itself, was presented by Mr. Lanford, of Toronto, and Dr. John McVicar, of China.

Mr. Lanford spoke on the maintenance and Educational campaign. He pointed out the task of the Church in the local and corporate, and that the United Church has undertaken 100 per cent of the work of the three uniting bodies.

During the period of readjustment it will be necessary to see to it that the church in its home and foreign enterprises is not in any way hampered. To this end a total budget of four million dollars was undertaken, the share of this to the Bay of Quinte Conference was three hundred and sixty thousand.

The Presbytery endorsed the plan of General Council and appointed a committee to carry out its policy.

Mr. McVicar was followed by Dr. McVicar, who spoke on the spiritual aim of the church. He pointed out that the first call of the new church was a call to prayer and devotion. In a very thrilling address he made his hearers, he showed how the whole world was watching the United Church, and only if it grappled its tasks in the spirit of humbly waiting on God could it succeed. The force (rm is forty-one years ago was planted by his long experience in China. He left there only three weeks ago, and made a strong plea for the work among the non-christian countries.

The session was carried on in the nature of a public meeting. After devotional exercises, Mr. Langford and Mr. McVicar were followed by the work of the church, and in powerful addresses brought the challenge of the General Council to the congregation.

It was a historic day and the Town Council recognizing the historic nature of the meeting, presented at the afternoon session an address of welcome. The Council was escorted to the platform by Mr. M. C. Bogart and Rev. W. R. Tanton, Mr. Bogart introducing them to the court. In the address which was read by Mr. Bogart, Dr. McVicar, the council welcomed the Presbytery to the town, and wished it success in its new undertakings.

The Presbytery was will attended, every minister on the roll and in the active work was present, fifty-eight in all, while forty-seven duly elected lay delegates were present.

The next meeting will be held in Belleville as soon after Conference, as is convenient. The Bay of Quinte Conference meets in Peterboro' on October 13th.

MAYOR NEWMAN MAY BE CANDIDATE

At a meeting of the Conservative Association in Picton last Friday, Mayor Newman consented to allow his name to be before the Convention next Monday.

He is serving his sixth year as Mayor and has several other municipal and provincial honors to his credit.

Mr. Newman is regarded as one of the most generous, active, public spirited and successful men in the county.

The first twenty-four years of his life was spent in Lennox and Addington, mostly on a farm about eighteen miles from Napanee, then two years as agent of the Bay of Quinte Railway, and agent of the Rathbun Co.

After moving to Picton he operated a branch grocery store in Napanee for several years under the firm name of Newman-Livingston Co.

Many consider Mr. Newman as the most logical man for a candidate to represent the county of his birth and the county of his adoption in their union for federal purposes.

TENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 1st, 1925, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Perry, Morven, was the scene of a festive assembly, when about seventy-five invited guests gathered to celebrate the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

On Wednesday, Sept. 1st, 1915, at Morven, Rev. Roger Allin united in marriage Miss Rita Smith and Mr. Ray F. Perry, both of Fredericksburg, where they have resided since. They have made a host of friends during that time, who were delighted to have the opportunity of offering their congratulations and best wishes for the future.

The house was prettily decorated with large bouquets of asters, dahlias, zinnias and gladioli. After congratulations the guests were entertained with music, cards and dancing. About eleven-thirty o'clock a dainty lunch of sandwiches, pickles, pie, lemonade, ice cream and cake, was served, a number of the intimate friends acting as waiters.

The gifts, the majority of which were aluminum, in keeping with the anniversary, were many and useful, and were attractively displayed in the reception hall. They were as follows:—

Bailey and Ida Smith; sauce pan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carl; pie tins and flour sifter, Mrs. W. R. Smith; layer cake tins, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cummings; pair of pans, Mr. and Mrs. James Mills and Vernon; agate saucepan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shetler; spice tins, Miss C. Balcanquel; half dozen silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brandon; sugar shell and butter knife, Messrs. Hill; tablespoons, Mrs. Fraser and Arthur; cake knife, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. The guests left after voting Mr. and Mrs. Perry an ideal host and hostess, and extending their very best wishes for many more years of happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry wish to take this opportunity of thanking their friends for the many useful gifts which they received.

BEST BULBS FOR FALL PLANTING

Flowers are, no doubt, enjoyed more in the spring than at any other period of the growing season. After a long winter the first flowers are eagerly sought for and if bulbs have been planted in the autumn one has not long to wait for flowers, for Snowdrops bloom as soon as the snow has gone. Then come in rapid succession, and some at the same time, the Scillas or Squills, Glory of the Snow or Chionodoxa, Crocus, Grape Hyacinth, Dutch Hyacinth, Narcissus in great variety, and early, cottage and Darwin Tulips. These give a succession of bloom from early in April, or earlier if the frost is out of the ground, until well on in June. While the bulbs are growing in Holland, the flowers for next year are being formed in the bulb. Later, the bulbs are dug, cured and shipped to Canada. Knowing that the flowers are already formed in the bulbs before planting, he who proposes either to grow them in the garden or pot them for the house will readily understand that large, well-developed bulbs are likely to give better flowers than small ones. In ordering this should be remembered. No amount of care can add more blooms to a Hyacinth, spike than were formed when the bulb was growing in Holland.

Unless the bulbs are well rooted in the soil outside or in the pots in the house, the results will not be satisfactory, hence the desirability of obtaining them as soon as they are offered for sale in the stores, which will be during the month of September. Tulips, Narcissus and Hyacinths should be planted from four to six inches deep to the bottom of the bulb, and about the same distance apart, while the smaller bulbs, such as Snowdrops, Crocuses, and Squills, may be planted about three inches apart and from two to three inches deep.

Narcissus — Emperor, Sir Watkin, Madame de Graaff, Madame Plemp, Poeticus.

BRAWNY NORWEGIANS.

They Are the Longest Lived People in the World Today.

The fine stature and unique physical qualities of the athletic Norsemen are thus described by Price Collier in an article on "Norway and the Norwegians, From an American Point of View," in Scribner's Magazine:

"The so called border, or agricultural peasantry, form the very backbone of the nation in Norway. Each is proprietor of his own farm, and they occupy the country from the shores of the sea to the foot of the hills and up every glen or valley as far as corn will grow. They are, as a rule, fine looking, athletic men, as their properties are not so large as to exempt them from work, but large enough to supply them and their families with wholesome food. In the old days they built their own houses, made their own furniture, plows, carts, harness, ironwork, woodwork and basketwork. Probably there are no communities anywhere else in the world so self efficient, so independent and so comfortable.

"Indeed, their size and wholesome aspect prove this, for they are the tallest, tallest, broadest chested and longest lived people in the world today.

"In the streets of the towns, at the farms, on the roads, one seldom sees a fat man or one who looks unwieldy. They are sturdily, sometimes heavily, built, but they are lean in the flank, broad of shoulder and thick through, and, though they do not always carry themselves lightly or gracefully, they look to have plenty of room for the working machinery of living, for heart and lungs and digestive apparatus. Wherever you go in Norway, from Christiansand to the North cape, you cannot go far without going up and down hill, nor can you go far without inhaling the champagne-like mountain air. It is not impossible that the plain food—a necessity in a poor country—the physical training in the schools, the obligatory military training, the sensible temperance legislation, the up and down hill exercise, the almost entire lack of luxury and the fact that they are not hard workers—not lazy, perhaps, but certainly leisurely in their toil, seldom making any undue demand upon their nervous energy—have produced what no artificial legislation can copy."

Napoleon and Rousseau.

Napoleon on visiting the tomb of Rousseau said:

"It would have been better for the repose of France that this man had never been born."

"Why so, Citizen Consul?"

"It is he who prepared the French revolution."

"I should have thought, Citizen Consul, that it was not for you to complain of the revolution."

"Well," replied Napoleon, "the future will discover whether it was not better for the repose of the world that neither Rousseau nor I had ever been born."

In these words we have the first clarion of advancing imperialism.—"The Personality of Napoleon," J. Holland Rose.

A GRATEFUL LETTER

From a Lady Made Well by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I wish from my heart I could persuade every person who is run down in health to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial." Thus writes Mrs. Louis Mitchell, Oak Point, Man., who further says:—"About a year ago I was a weak woman, suffering from a run down system and impoverished blood. Any little exertion would cause my legs to tremble and my heart to throb violently. I could not sweep a room or walk fifty feet without being exhausted. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking only six boxes I am well and strong as ever. I can walk and run without stopping every few seconds gasping for breath as previously. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be my stand-by in the future if ever my blood needs building up again, and I shall always find pleasure in recommending them to anyone needing a tonic.

There are many troubles due to weak, watery blood which can easily be overcome by a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The sole mission of this medicine is to enrich and purify the blood and when that is done all the varied symptoms of anaemia disappear, and good health returns. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"No – I've not boiled any garments since"

"A friend suggested that I stop boiling the clothes I washed and try Rinso, which I did, with such delightful results that I have not boiled any garments since then.

"I found that Rinso is excellent for removing finger print, from white paint and for washing all woodwork.

"It has cut my house cleaning troubles in half and consequently I felt that it was only your due to know that Rinso has a much bigger work to do in our house than just to clean the dirt from our laundry."

The makers of Rinso receive many such letters as this. For Rinso not only does the family wash merely by soaking—it is also excellent for many household duties, such as cleaning woodwork, scrubbing floors, etc. Order Rinso today.

Fall Fairs are bigger and better

See others as well as your own

The Fall Fairs are now more interesting and more instructive than ever. They offer an educational advantage as well as pleasure, and the good roads enable you to attend and return the same day.

Visit several Fall Fairs. Take the family with you. Ask the neighbors to come and bring their families, and you will enjoy your community party. Meet the people of the rural county and learn what's going on. You may pick up something about live stock or field crops which will be useful to you. When you travel over miles of good roads you will think of the advantage they have brought to you over those who lived in the last generation. They have widened your sphere of travel three or four times over.

Remember this, that the roads must be maintained, and that you and other users of them will pay the cost. Use them sanely. Don't exceed the speed limit of 25 miles, and if you use a truck don't over-load it.

Because overloaded trucks break down road foundations and fast driven passenger cars tear up road surfaces, the law provides these restrictions. It is in your interest to obey. If you do not obey, you are liable to a fine.

An advertisement issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists and truck drivers, municipalities, Good Roads Associations and all other public spirited bodies, in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

MANY MOTHERS RECOMMEND THEM

Baby's Own Tablets Are Fine for Nervous, Sleepless Children

From Canada the fame of Baby's Own Tablets is spreading over the world. Mothers recommend them to other mothers and wherever they are tried nothing but words of praise are heard for these pleasant tasting little tablets that promptly relieve the minor ailments of young children.

"Baby's Own Tablets are one of the best remedies for children's ailments I have ever used," says Mrs. Arthur T. Allard, of Auburn, Me. "My little girl was nervous and could not sleep. I dried the tablets and she was relieved at once. She was also troubled with constipation and nothing seemed to help her. I had used the tablets but a short time before her bowels were regular. All mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house for they are a valuable remedy."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of Baby in Health and Sickness," will be sent free to any mother on request.

BIRTHS

TOMKINS—At Bath, on Saturday, August 29th, 1925, to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Tomkins, nee Emma Fingland, a daughter.—Annie Mae.

JOYCE—At Strathcona, on Friday, Sept. 4th, 1925, to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Joyce, a daughter.—Elizabeth Jean.

WEDDING BELLS

Saylor—McIntosh

Another of the prettiest of September weddings was solemnized at high noon on Tuesday, 15th inst., when Miss Jean Asher McIntosh, daughter of Mrs. John McIntosh and the late John McIntosh, was united in marriage with Mr. Wesley Clarence Saylor, B.Com., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wesley Saylor, of Trenton Bay.

The happy ceremony was performed by Rev. Douglas C. Ramsay, M.A., Pastor of John Street United Church, at the bride's home, 52 Hillcrest avenue, in the presence of relatives of both contracting parties, many of whom were from out-of-town.

The family residence was a veritable flower garden for the occasion, the floral beauty of late summer and early autumn forming a bower of loveliness. The staircase was beautifully decorated with asparagus fern and asters and at the bottom of the staircase, a pretty arch of the same fern and bloom had been erected. Asters and other flowers decorated the interior of the home. The wedding ceremony was performed before the mantle, which was decorated with ferns and gladioli.

The bride looked very beautiful in her wedding dress of white georgette, beaded with crystal beads, and wearing a black picture hat. She carried a lovely bouquet which was a profusion of bloom—cream Ophelia roses, Lily of the Valley, Orchids and Baby Breath with streamers. She was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. John McIntosh, of Belleville.

Miss Harriet McIntosh, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Andy Starke, of Montreal, was groomsman. The bridesmaid also looked charming in an apple green ninon dress, patterned with large pink rose, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid wore a black picture hat also.

Mrs. John McIntosh, mother of the bride, wore a black canton dress embroidered in black with shoes and stockings to match.

Mrs. Saylor, mother of the groom, wore a black beaded georgette dress with corsage bouquet of roses and wore a picture hat.

Miss Mildred Roblin, of Napanee, played the wedding march to the strains of which the bride and groom marched to the altar. During the ceremony Mr. James Bankier sang "My World."

After the ceremony, the guests enjoyed a dainty buffet wedding luncheon in the dining room, where the table was beautifully decorated with the wedding cake, small favors of unique design adorning the table, and to which white streamers dropped from the chandelier.

The bride's travelling costume was a rust georgette dress with shoes and stockings to match, a coat of brick shade trimmed with squirrel and hat to match. The young couple left by motor car about 4 o'clock for Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Saylor will take up residence in Trenton.

Seldom does a bride receive so many beautiful and valuable gifts. Tables literally groan with beautiful presents, much silverware and expensive china being among the gifts.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Editor of the Beaver.

Sir,—Sometimes a word, a look, or even a gesture will indicate a person's character. But a habit scarcely ever fails to point to some characteristic of the individual who practises it. The habit of falsehood bears on its face the fact that the one practising that habit is unreliable and has nothing in his make up on which to found ones trust.

The habit of cursing and swearing indicates an absence of trust in his own simple unvarnished word on the part of him who resorts to that form of expression. The habit of speaking slightingly of our neighbours' success indicates an envious or jelous disposition.

But what will we say of the habit of loitering, of the habit that boys, and sometimes men, form of lining up in front of some store or convenient place and smoke and talk and spit and look generally silly as people pass by on their way to church or elsewhere on Sunday evenings.

Well, if we were to characterize that habit we would say that it indicates a want of aim, a want of mind, and general absence of good taste. Those who practise this habit may be inclined to say that this is their own business. But when we do things that interfer with the comfort of other people, either in body or mind, our act works itself into other people's business, and it may sometime work itself into the mind of some one who will take drastic means to have it stopped.

In Newburgh we have no regular police; we rely on the good sense and good behaviour of our citizens, both old and young, and there is as a rule little to complain of, but occasionally there are those who indicate a freshness and disregard for the properties that lead them into habits that are, to say the least, thoughtless and disagreeable. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Yours, etc.,
Newburgh Citizen.

Pleasing Event at Strathcona

On the evening of September 10th a very pleasing event took place at Strathcona, when Miss Marguerite McGuire gave a shower in honor of her girl friend, Miss Evelyne Toner, who left on the 15th October for Waukegan, Illinois, where she entered the Victoria Memorial Hospital as a nurse-in-training.

About eight o'clock the jolly group of young people gathered in the living room, where games of all kinds were played, among which were two very interesting contests which certainly caused some brain-racking, but the most efficient at this felt well repaid on receiving their prizes, while the boobies were also remembered.

After a few pleasant hours were spent in this way, all were invited to the dining room to a table spread with many delicacies, the guest of honour and her partner taking the specially arranged places at the head of the table.

After the many dainties had been partaken of, the table was then cleared, and to the enjoyment of some and embarrassment of others came the task of redeeming the forfeits which had been collected earlier in the evening.

Many amusing stunts were performed by the offenders regained their possessions, but none showed more surprise, and perhaps humility, as much as did Evelyn, when she was handed a beautiful basket filled with useful presents, while a little nurse stood in the midst seemingly ready to offer first aid.

On opening each she found a beautiful remembrance from her different friends she was leaving behind as she departed to her new line of duty.

Then in a few chosen words she thanked her many friends for their kind remembrances finishing by reminding them though absent from the jolly group in person she certainly would often be with them in thought.

As the clock then pointed to the early hours of morning, all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne", "She's a Jolly Good Fellow", and after three cheers for Evelyn, closed a very pleasant evening, and returned homeward, feeling that the evening had been very pleasantly spent, ordered by all in the days events.

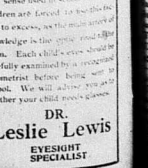
"IN THE PUBLIC EYE" by Leslie Lewis, O.C.



SIGHT is the most important sense used in school. Our children are forced to use it unduly to excess, as the many cases of near-sightedness in our schools testify. A knowledge is the only remedy for brain. Each child's eyes should be carefully examined by a reputable optometrist before being sent to school. We will advise you as to whether your child needs glasses.

Presentation and Address

On the eve of Miss Reid's departure for an extended visit among relatives, a large number of friends and neighbours gathered at her home, and after a jolly chat, presented her with a beautiful purse, well filled, and the following address:

Miss H. Reid.

Dear Miss Reid,—We regretfully learn that circumstances over which we have no control, have become the cause of your severing your connection with your home at Tamworth.

Words are not always sufficient to express our sorrow, yet we want to say in words how truly you will be missed from our neighbourhood. It is your native home, your life is woven into the place, you are a part of us. You have won your way into the hearts of your neighbors which can never be eradicated. As a teacher, you have left your impress on many little lives. They will go out into the world to thank God that Miss Hattie Reid was their teacher, and in this respect your work will never perish. Your home has been the home of the church. Your parents, and latterly your mother and yourself have made your home a veritable Bethany. You have been the ministers' friend, all of them who ever came to your church will subscribe to the fact that the most generous hospitality and christian charity have been bountifully expended upon them. In regard to the work of the church in general, and the community you have been a good citizen, always eagerly ready to do your part. Your home has always been thrown open to every institution of the church, and we cannot let you pass out of our midst without in some tangible way expressing how sincerely we have appreciated your work, and we want you to carry away with you something that will remind you how estimable and beloved a place you have found in our hearts.

In this small purse which we now subscribe to you, not for its monetary value but for the good wishes it embodies and carries with it, that we hope you will accept it in the spirit of the givers.

"We live in deeds not years, in feelings not in figures on a dial,
We should count time by heart throbs
He most lives who loves most, thinks noblest acts the best."

Signed on behalf of the community,

Mrs. W. B. Richardson.
Mrs. James McL. Wheeler,
Mrs. George Williams.
Mrs. S. McK. Gilmour.

Miss Reid replied in a few fitting remarks, after which a dainty lunch was served by the ladies, and all departed, after a very pleasant evening, wishing Miss Reid the best of success for the coming year.

A certain barrister named Jones who practised in Lord Brougham's time was in the habit of commencing the examination of a witness with these words, "Now, sir, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it."

Brougham, like many others, was growing tired of the monotonous formula, and one morning, meeting Jones near the temple, he addressed him thus: "Now, Jones, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it. How are you?"—London Express.

"The river of Parana," declares the prospectus of a real estate agent in Parana, Brazil, "is the most watery in the state, one of the most extended in the world, it is navigable until to this state for ships of great profoundness; it is also sufficiently fishful." The same cheerful chap it is who further asseverates that "the vegetable reign is excessfully represented in resinous, oily and gummous plants."

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ontario.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and kept on getting worse until I could not do my own house-work and was laid with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a whole year but believe I was able to do my washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as I should, but I do not complain. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. CHARLES CARSON, 27 Forsythe Street, Chatham, Ontario.

Mrs. Carson is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from female troubles.

Good Crops in West.

In a letter received from Mr. Robert Stark he says that his father, Mr. James Stark, of Mitchelton, Sask., a former Napaneean, has a good crop. They threshed the first week in September and had 3000 bushels of wheat and 800 bushels of oats. They had very little rain all summer, the first since June 23rd coming on Sept. 5th, and they were fortunate enough to finish threshing before the latter date.

Bridal Shower.

On Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Wellington Brown, East St., a delightful Bridge party was given by Miss Mildred Brown, in honor of Miss Jessie Dibb, whose marriage takes place the end of this month. Miss Dibb received with her hostesses wearing a charming hemstitched frock of grey flat crepe, with front panel of worsted embroidery and pleated sides.

The guests played Bridge until five when the bride-to-be was presented with a beautiful floral basket in pastel shades filled with lovely gifts from her many friends. Tea was afterwards served in the dining room at a dainty pink and white tea-table, presided over by a miniature bride and groom. The centre piece was a mass of old-fashioned nosegays in the same pretty shades of pink, mauve, yellow and blue, which were afterwards presented to the guests.

Pink roses, baskets of nuts and bon-bonts, pink ices and cakes, preserved the color scheme with wonderful effectiveness.

Mrs. W. C. Smith and Mrs. T. M. Galbraith poured tea, while the Misses Johnston, Betty Smith, Elizabeth Carmichael and Margaret Daly served.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES.

An interesting address was heard by those who met in the Town Hall, last Friday night, in response to the invitation which the local Committee of the Victorian Order of Nurses had issued to the people of the community. The speaker of the evening was Miss Smellie, Chief Superintendent of the V. O. N. in Canada. In a brief sketch of the history of public nursing the speaker traced to the present day the wonderful advance which has been made in this most important department of human welfare. The work of the V. O. N. in particular, has made steady progress, the organization being easily adapted to the special needs of the various communities in which it is established. The nurses of the Order have received special training, in addition to the ordinary nurses' course, to qualify them for work in homes of all kinds. The services of the Order are intended for the benefit of all classes, and all who can do so are expected to pay a small fee for the services which they receive. In addition to receipts from fees the expenses are met in various ways by different branches, but with increasing frequency substantial grants are made by municipal councils, being justified by the fact that the work of the V. O. N. frequently saves the municipality from heavier expenses in caring for unfortunates. Speaking of the work in Napanee, Miss Smellie commended the local committee on the fact that it was so thoroughly organized in the town, and that it was organized on a solid and permanent foundation. Miss Smellie's address, which was a very interesting account of her experiences in attending the World Congress of Nurses held recently in Finland. Musical numbers were kindly contributed to the evening's programme by Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Waite.

SOFT BALL.

Trinity 22, Grace 16.

A good crowd of spectators gathered in the Driving Park, on Friday last, to witness the game between the above soft ball teams. Both teams have been recently organized, and the game resulted in an exciting contest. There was not much to choose between the two teams, although Trinity girls were a little better at the plate. Marion Wales and Hazel O'Neil were the battery for Grace girls, while Trinity was represented by Christobel Taylor and Winnie Drake. A return match is to be played shortly.

St. Pats 14, N.C.I. 14.

A very evenly contested game, between the above teams was played on the Collegiate grounds on Monday evening last. Both teams played splendid ball, and the score indicated the even nature of a well played game.

Deseronto Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding.

At their home, Thomas Street West, Deseronto, on Tuesday of last week, a venerable Deseronto couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bradshaw, celebrated a happy event in their lives,—their golden wedding. The house was decorated with flowers and joy-ous was the reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw's six sons and three daughters and many grandchildren.

On Sept. 8th, 1875, Charles G. Bradshaw was married at Grieve's Corners, Township of Richmond, to Miss Georgina Grieve, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Bell Grieve. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Mr. Barrett, a Methodist minister on the Roblin Circuit. The bridesmaid was Miss Minto Grieve, sister of the bride, while the groomsman was Thomas Wood. Both have since passed away.

For many years Mr. Bradshaw farmed, then a few years ago he retired and came to Deseronto where he and his estimable helpmate might rest after many years of labour.

All the sons and daughters were present at last Tuesday's gala event in the livel of their parents. The sons are: William H., Sidney; Chas. G., Donald G., and Jas. H., Thurlow; Vivian S., Tyendinaga; John E., Belleville. The daughters are: Mrs. Margaret Crouse and Mrs. Percy Vanalstyne, Deseronto; Mrs. Myrtle Bell, Deseronto. A purse of gold from the six sons and many beautiful presents from the daughters were gratefully tendered the appreciative parents.

The Rev. Mr. Harrison, Pastor of the United Church, Deseronto, was a welcome guest and during the afternoon Mr. Harrison had the unusual pleasure of christening four of Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw's grandchildren.

CAMDEN EAST FAIR

Camden East School Fair was held on Wednesday under ideal weather conditions. A very large crowd witnessed the parade, which was won by School Section No. 22, Ernesttown. Miss F. As there a number of very young pupils attending this school it was a very creditable performance indeed. The exhibits, although fewer in number than in former years, were of a very high standard. After the parade, races were indulged in, sothe causing great amusement.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. provided meals at a very reasonable charge during the day.

JOHN HUBBS, M.P.

Mr. John Hubbs, M.P., of Picton, the Conservative candidate for the federal riding of Prince Edward-Lennox, is a descendant of Robert Hubbs, a Loyalist settler who landed in Picton Bay 4ofi first settled near Picton, and built his home on the land which later became the True Blue Orphanage.

John Hubbs was born on a farm at Hubb's Creek, in Hillier Township, Prince Edward County. He attended Public School and Picton High School. After leaving school he spent some time in Picton, and then went to Western Canada, where he engaged in farming for a number of years, at Indian Head and Cupar, Sask. After several years of successful farming he entered the insurance and loan business at Cupar, where he remained for a number of years and built up a large business.

In 1910 he sold out his business in the West and returned to his old home county,and directed his energies and financial resources with great success towards the canning business. He was actively engaged in that business until 1922, when he disposed of his interests, and the same year built a new dehydration plant in the Cherry Valley district, which is the only privately owned plant of its kind in Canada.

Mr. Hubbs has been a member of the Picton School Board for a number of years, and has served on the Picton Municipal Council. He has for many years been a member of the Official Board of the Picton Methodist Church. In 1921 he successfully contested Prince Edward County as a Conservative candidate and has since then creditably represented his constituency in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

John Hubbs Nominated for Prince Edward-Lennox

At the Liberal-Conservative Convention for the Prince Edward-Lennox Federal riding, held in Picton on Monday, John Hubbs, the former member for Prince Edward County, was selected as the Conservative candidate for the coming election on the first ballot. There were over three hundred delegates in attendance, nearly every polling division in the riding being fully represented.

The convention was held in the Parish Hall, J. DeC. Hepburn, President of the riding association, presiding. The following were nominated : John Hubbs, Picton; C. W. Hambly, M.P.P., Napanee; Brig.-Gen. R. R. Hepburn, C.M.G., Picton; R. A. Norman, ex-M.P.P., Picton; Fred Newman, Picton; Dr. Millsap, Napanee; M. P. Graham, Napanee, and T. W. Kinney, Picton. All of these candidates addressed the gatherings and all withdrew except Mr. Hubbs and Mr. Newman. The first ballot was practically unanimous for Mr. Hubbs, and on motion he was unanimously declared the choice of the convention for the Conservative Federal-banner for the Prince Edward-Lennox riding.

The only names mentioned prominently as probable candidates for the convention were John Hubbs, General Hepburn and Fred Newman. General Hepburn represented Prince Edward in the Dominion House from 1911 to 1921. During recess recently he has been resident in London, England, but intends coming back to Picton to make his home here. He arrived in Picton on Saturday last from overseas, but decided not to allow his name to go before the convention in opposition to the sitting member, Mr. Hubbs.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Hubbs emphasized the need of a higher protective tariff for Canada, the markets of the Dominion being open to other countries at a low tariff, while they pay practically what pay a high duty to enter their markets.

The Napanee and Lennox delegates over a hundred strong, went to Picton on the Steamer Brockville, accompanied by the Napanee Band. At Picton the boat was met by a number of prominent Prince Edward Conservatives, and a procession was formed, headed by the band, and marched up Main street.

WEDDING BELLS.

Button—Salisbury.

The United Presbyterian Church, Camaridge, N.Y., was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday, Sept. 22nd, at 1 o'clock, when Miss Mary M. Salisbury, youngest daughter of Mrs. Isabella Salisbury, Hemmingford, Quebec, became the bride of Mr. Clarence V. Button, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Button, of Granville, N.Y.

The ceremony, which was witnessed by a few friends and relatives, was solemnized by the Rev. John Lytel, Pastor of the church. The bride entered the church on the arm of her friend, Mr. John Kennedy, of Cohoes, N.Y., as Mr. Maxwell played the Wedding March. She wore a becoming gown of brown flat crepe, with small velvet hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink asters.

Mrs. Button is a graduate of the Lansdowne Hospital, Kingston, Ont., and came to Cambridge from Syracuse, in February. She spent several years there private duty and around Napanee, where she is well and favorably known.

Mr. Button attended Granville High School, is a graduate of Albany Business College, and at present engaged in Dairy Farming at Granville, N.Y., where the young couple will reside.

Guests at the wedding from out of town were Mrs. Isabella Salisbury, Hemmingford, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. John Button, Mr. and Mrs. James Button, and Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison, of Granville, N.Y.

Joyce—Hurst.

Howard Park United Church, Toronto, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, when Maude Rebecca Hurst, daughter of the late Mrs. Maude Hurst, Toronto, became the bride of James Elmer Joyce, son of the late Joseph T. Joyce and Mrs. Joyce, Toronto, Rev. Dr. E. B. Lanceley officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. R. T. Jeffrey, looked charming in a gown of ivory satin crepe with front of embroidery and shell pink picture hat, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lily of the valley, and wore a platinum wrist watch, the gift of the groom. The matron of honor, Mrs. Allen Bond, wore peach georgette, with black hat and carried a bouquet of pink asters. The groom was supported by Mr. J. K. Ingram, and the ushers were Messrs. Allen Bond and Bimeon Joyce, Mrs. Lawrence MacKay-Joyce played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Dorothy Stasey sang "Beloved, It Is Morn." Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, who received the guests in a French gown of mauve georgette with black hat, and corsage bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley. After many telegrams of congratulations were read the happy couple left on a motor trip to the Adirondacks, returning via Montreal, the bride travelling in a chic blue dress with blue velour coat and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Joyce will reside at 442 Glenlake avenue.

PROTECTION FOR THE FARMER

"The schedule which is the most unjust of the whole of the tariff schedules of Canada is that relating to farm products. The first tariff schedule that should be raised in this country is the farm products schedule. The farmer in this country today is competing with his fellow farmer in other countries under conditions of absolute unfairness. The goods that he produces are brought into this country under a relative low tariff or none at all, while he is forbidden access to other countries save over a tariff that he simply cannot escape."—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, in the House of Commons, June 23rd, 1925.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chambers,
Napanee, Sept. 21st, 1925.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Mine presiding.

Members present—Councillors Roy, Dinnar, Simpson, Jewell, MacGregor.

The minutes of the last regular and special sessions were read, and on motion were confirmed.

A communication was received from Roo Bickle, of Bickle Fire Engines Limited, Woodstock, thanking the Council for the courtesy shown him while in Napanee recently, and also for the order given him for a new fire truck. Mr. Bickle asked for information re hose coupling, which was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

A communication was received from Dr. G. H. Cowan, re business tax. Referred to the Finance Committee to investigate and report.

Councillor MacGregor, Chairman of Finance Committee, reported the taxes coming in fairly well, and that there was a balance of nearly $40,000.00 to the credit of the town in the bank. The committee will have a statement of the finances of the town ready for the next meeting. Report adopted.

Accounts of Geo. E. Vandewater, re repairs to Biscuit factory, were referred to the Town Property Committee with power to act and report at next meeting.

Councillor Jewell, Chairman of Town Property Committee, reported re heating of the Biscuit factory, saying that Messrs. Rose & Miller will require that the building be heated by steam, and the firm were willing to contribute towards the purchase of same. Referred to the committee, to report when tenders for heating were received.

On motion the matter of placing a light on West street, adjacent to the canning factory, was left in the hands of the Street Committee to report.

Sheriff Vandervoort was present and addressed the Council. He asked that the second light south on John street from the C.N.R. station be placed in the middle of the street intersection, which light would then give better service. He also spoke of the vacant lots on the east side of John street, near the station, being an eyesore, and giving strangers entering the town a very poor impression of Napanee. This property can be acquired at a very reasonable price and would make a pretty little park, tennis court, softball diamond, or children's playground. There are three 66-ft. lots and an additional 40 feet with house.

Upon being asked if he knew the amount at which the land could be purchased, Mr. Vandervoort said $2,000.00 for the property, and $1200.00 without the house. He concluded by saying he would give $100.00 towards the purchase.

Councillor MacGregor appreciated the fact that the Sheriff had brought this matter to the attention of the Council and thought a committee should be appointed to look into the matter, and asked Mayor Ming to appoint a committee.

On motion the Fire, Water and Light Committee were instructed to look after the light on Mr. Reid's corner on John street.

Mr. Archie McGuire appeared before the Council and asked that something be done with the drain near his residence, as his cellar becomes flooded at certain times. Referred to the Streets Committee to report.

Mr. Henry Creighton addressed the Council re the by-law governing traffic on our streets. Referred to the Streets Committee.

Mr. Roy Howie informed the Council that the pump at the Disposal Works needed repairing and also that new screens are required. Referred to the Town Property Committee.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

C. A. Anderson & Son	$ 7.60
H. M. Kelly	1.55
D. R. Wilson	2.05
E. J. Pollard	78.00

Accounts of F. E. VanLuven, $11.45, and H. W. Kelly, $2.25, were referred to the Streets Committee.

On motion the Council adjourned.

Nature's Warnings

Danger Signals That Everyone Should Take Seriously.

Pain is one of Nature's warnings that something is wrong with the body. Indigestion, for instance, is characterized by pains in the stomach, and often about the heart; rheumatism by sharp pains in the limbs and joints; headaches are a sign that the nerves or stomach are out-of order. In some ailments, such as anaemia, pain is not so prominent. In this case Nature's warning take the form of pallor, breathlessness after slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, and loss of appetite. Whatever form these warnings take, wise people will not ignore the fact that many diseases have their origin in poor blood, and that when the blood is enriched the trouble disappears. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most helpful in such cases because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. In this way it tones up the nerves, restores the appetite and gives perfect health. Miss Hazel Berndt, of Armprior, Ont., has proved the great value of this medicine and says:—"I am a young girl and have been working in a factory for the past four years. For two years I had been in such poor health that at times I could not work. I was thin and pale, and troubled with headaches and fainting spells. I doctored nearly all this time, but it did not help me. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for a while I could notice an improvement in my condition. I used nine boxes and can truthfully say that my health is restored. When I began taking the pills I weighed 97 pounds and now I weigh 114. I feel that I owe my good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope other ailing people will give them a fair trial."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

The Editor of "Napanee Beaver".
Napanee.

Dear Sir,—As the season of School Fairs is with us again, I have been interested once more in studying the prize list and decided to ask for space in your paper for a few remarks.

I see as last year that one of the classes reads "Twenty of the most harmful weeds mounted and named." I wonder just where the judges will place the emphasis this year. If I understand the purpose of this competition, it is to encourage the pupils of our Rural Schools to collect and learn twenty of the most harmful weeds in their locality.

Last year I was an interested spectator at one of the Rural School Fairs in this County, and was much surprised and disappointed in the judgments given in this class, as I felt the judges in making their decision appeared entirely to lose sight of the purpose of this collection. I was particularly interested in one collection of this class showing such weeds as sow-thistle, hawk-weed, blue-weed, rug-weed, etc., representative of the most harmful weeds of the particular locality in which this Fair was held. This collection was awarded only fourth prize, while the first prize went to one containing many more plants, which fell far short of being the most harmful weeds. This collection appeared to me also to be one of rather ancient date, and as it contained botanical names of many of the specimens I felt convinced that it was not entirely the work of the exhibitor.

My impressions were that the judgment was given entirely on the number of specimens exhibited, that the words "twenty" and "most harmful" were entirely ignored. If the decisions are to be made in this way, why not omit "twenty" and "most harmful" which are misleading and disappointing to the pupil who expends his energy in discovering "the twenty most harmful" and learns the ones most necessary to eradicate in his district. Besides such a decision discourages a pupil from following instructions carefully, an accomplishment our teachers labour so persistently to effect.

While I feel that the pupil who followed instructions carefully was greatly benefitted by his effort, I am satisfied that he will not be so keen another year to put time and effort into such a collection. Let us have definite rules and abide by them.

If my estimates of the purpose of this class is not correct, I would be pleased if someone would put me right.

Yours truly,
One Interested in Rural Schools.

Mud taxes or gas taxes?

Users of Ontario highways in years gone by paid a heavy tribute to mud roads. They paid in the form of damage to vehicles and waste of time and money in getting about the country.

The mud taxes were more burdensome than any conceivable gasoline tax ever will be. Not one automobile or truck owner would exchange Ontario road conditions, with a gas tax, for the conditions of ten years ago when there was no gas tax.

The gasoline-tax reminds you that as a user of the road you are expected to help pay construction and maintenance costs. As a practical measure, road building must have definite financial support.

In making this situation familiar to all motorists, the Government is requesting co-operation in maintaining the good condition of the roads by the sane and intelligent use of them.

Care of the roads falls into the hands of the public as well as of the road authorities. Repairs are made by the authorities, but the need for repairs can be deferred by reasonable loading and sane driving.

While the law provides penalties for those who overload or drive above the speed limit, voluntary co-operation of intelligent motorists and truck owners is being given in this matter. Those who persist in breaking the law, however, may expect rigorous enforcement of its provisions.

An advertisement issued by the Ontario Department of Highways, with the co-operation of motorists and truck drivers, Automobile Clubs, Good Roads Associations and all other public spirited bodies, in abating the abuse of the roads of the province.

The HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Royal Social Affairs Cost King $500,000 Private Money Yearly

Although King George and Queen Mary are not noted for lavish entertainments, the British monarchs have to foot a tremendous bill for ordinary entertainments during the London season; from the end of May until the end of August.

It is estimated that Their Majesties spend between $400,000 and $500,000 on such entertainments, not because they want to or because they can afford it, but because they must, in order to keep up appearance. The King and Queen have very close tab on their expenses, and in "big" years, when there are several royal visitors or such parties as the 5,000 American attorneys last year and the American and Canadian doctors this year, the totals of "absolutely necessary" expenditure cause dismay at Buckingham Palace.

The courts, where champagne flows lavishly, mark one of the biggest items in the annual expenditure. King George's champagne, by the way, is not served in the bottles but is poured out into glass jugs fitted with gold lids bearing the royal monogram.

A state banquet or a ball are even more financially distressing, and the annual garden parties at Buckingham Palace deep holes in the royal purse, for at the garden parties alone some 20,000 guests take tea or tea with the monarchs.

The $400,000 mentioned as expenditure on entertainments of course does not include personal expenses for clothing, etc., rendered essential for social entertainments. Queen Mary is not an extravagant dresser and by no means lives up to the pleasing fiction that she never wears a dress twice. Contrarily, she frequently wears the same dress two or three times in a week, but she has to keep a stock of nearly 300 gowns, suits and frocks in her wardrobe.

Neither the Queen nor her feminine relations think it necessary to don a new hat for every function. If they like a hat well enough they wear it quite often. The Duchess of York is perhaps one of the most economical of royal dressers and hat wearers. The other day she told some friends that she simply cannot afford to buy clothes. Lately she has been wearing very frequently a favorite hat.

HIGH YIELD OF WHEAT

The Big Yields in Oakville District—Barley Yields of 65 and 100 Bushels Reported—Threshing Now General on Portage Plains.

In driving about the country enquiring about the crops one hears many reports of what the farmers expect. Some are very optimistic while others are very pessimistic. For instance one farmer told a Grapevine representative that his wheat crop would not go better than 5 bushels to the acre, but a look at the wheat told a different story, but as a rule the farmers state that they expect 20 to 25 bushels. If this is the average there will be no reason to complain, especially when it is realized that much of the crop is badly rusted.

From reports already to hand the palm must be handed to the Oakville district. It would appear as if good crops are the rule and not the exception south of the river, and yields thus far reported are all the way from 20 to 50 bushels to the acre. The best thus far received is from H. Vankoughnet, at Dunn's Sound, who had completed the harvest of a 70 acre field of wheat. Of this fifty acres yielded an average of 45 bushels, some acres going as high as 56 bushels, and weighing 66 pounds to the bushel. The other twenty acres did not do so well, being slightly rusted and not going so high.

Also from the Oakville district are reports of 30 to 35 bushels at E. Morrow's, 22 at L. Ingram's, while at Page, also of Oakville, had barley giving 100 bushels to the acre, and A. V. Ives with 65 bushels.

Nearer to home, the Bowen Brothers, west of Bleh Bluff, got a wheat crop of 30 bushels, which graded No. 1 Northern, and weighed 63 pounds to the bushel, and Norman Graham, of Burnside, off one field threshed, also went 30 bushels.

From this it is safe to predict that the average yield is going to be much better than some of the farmers predict, and the yield will make up largely for the grading.—Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, Aug. 29th, 1925. — Mr. Vankoughnet was formerly of Napanee.

He accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormack to their new home there about August 1st.—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Card have returned from spending about a month with relatives and friends in Detroit, Flint, and other places of interest.—Mrs. Lizzie Venton has returned from spending two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Vernon Smith, Kingston.—Mrs. George Watts left Tuesday to visit her daughters in Kingston, Mrs. J. G. Ettinger and Mrs. Wm. Jenkins.—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith left Wednesday to visit relatives in Detroit and Wisconsin.—The Government Inspector of Schools called Monday and after inspecting the school, informed the Board that the school was in better condition than some of the city schools. The people of this community who are really interested feel that a great deal of credit is due the trustees of the board, the teaching staff and the caretaker for the improvements made this year. The school grounds have never been as picturesque and stand a credit to the village.—Friday afternoon, October 2nd, the Public School will hold their first Sport Day. Generous prizes have been donated by the business people of the village, and the teachers hope the parents may be present to encourage the children in their efforts.

An Oil That Is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Two film actresses met.
"I hear you're married again," said the first.
"I am."
"Who is it this time?"
"Er—I've got his card in my bag —half a minute."

Requisite on the Farm. — Every farmer and stock-raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. As a substitute for liniment oil for horses and cattle affected by colic it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

Finkelstein was a good customer of Abe and Mawruss. He was, however, getting lax with his payments, and Abe suggested that Mawruss write him a strong but diplomatic letter calling his attention to this shortcoming. Mawruss worked for several hours over the letter, then showed it to Abe for his approval. After reading it carefully, Abe said: "Dot's a wonderful letter. Strong and to der point. And not personal or insulting. But you got a couple of mistakes in it, Mawruss. 'Dirty' you should spell mit only vun 'r' and 'cockroach' begins mit a 'c.'"

Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable to all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.

No Better Medicine For Little Ones

Is What Thousands of Mothers Say of Baby's Own Tablets

A medicine for the baby, or growing child, one that the mother can feel assured is absolutely safe as well as efficient—is found in Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are praised by thousands of mothers throughout the country. These mothers have found by actual experience that there is no other medicine for little ones to equal them. One mother has used them for her children, she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Charles Bailey, Brook Island, N.S., writes: "I have ten children, the baby being just six months old. I have used Baby's Own Tablets for them for the past 20 years and can truthfully say that I know of no better medicine for little ones. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do so." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be mailed upon receipt of price, 25 cents a box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness," will be sent free to any mother on request.

The lights were low in the conservatory and from afar came the sound of a haunting waltz tune being played in the ball-room. The air was laden with the intoxicating scent of flowers, and the young man held tenderly over the exquisitely gowned young woman who reclined languidly in the chair at his side.

They were whispering sweet nothings to each other with only the big, full moon for witness to see them.

"Am I the first man who ever asked you for a kiss?" he said, in tones of adoration.

"Yes," she replied, in a matter-of-fact voice, "all the others took 'em."

Little Edward and his sister May had quarrelled. After an early supper, mother endeavoured to re-establish friendly relations, finally quoting to them the Bible verse, "Let not the sun go down upon thy wrath."

Turning to Edward, she said, "Now Edward, are you going to let the sun go down upon your wrath?"

Edward squirmed a little as he looked her in the face.

"Well, how can I stop it?" he asked.

A woman who tipped the scales at more than two hundred pounds slipped on a banana skin in a grocery store and then landed in a crate of eggs. The storekeeper hastened to assist her to arise.

"I hope I have not broken them," she said.

"Not at all, madam," the polite storekeeper replied: "they're only a little bent."

Preaching in one of the State capitals, an Australian Bishop noticed in his congregation a strange face, and following the same individual appeared, and later in the week the Bishop met him in the street. The Bishop stopped him, congratulated him upon his attendance at the cathedral, and added: "You don't live here, do you?"

"No," said the stranger. "I live way back——" mentioning the name of the place.

"Have you many Episcopalians there?" enquired the Bishop.

"No, sir," was the reply. "What we are mostly worried with is rabbits!"

"He did?" cried the lady. "Oh, I must send for a doctor."
"Oh, I assure you it isn't as bad as—"
"You're the third person he's bitten to-day," broke in the lady. "I just know he isn't feeling well."

Bloom Finished Woollens Are Fashion's Choice For Autumn Coats

Suppleness is one of the outstanding characteristics of Fall Coatings. The new flared silhouette demands it, as much of a garment's smartness rests in the graceful curves and artistic effects of its lines.

Plain Seude fabrics with lustrous bloom surfaces have the entire stage to themselves this season. The various weaves and cloths used in our present collection of Fall and Winter Coats come from best European, American and Canadian mills. Invariably they are of good weight, and when lined and interlined are warm enough for our Ontario winters.

The colorings are as new as the fashion, Queenbird, Tanger, Brown Dove, Soudanese, Pansy, Oxblood, Bokara and Black are headliners.

The new Fall and Winter Coats, in all their regal splendour are now on exhibition in our Women's and Misses' Ready-to-Wear. We invite you to see our exclusive novelty creations, our individual street coats, our sturdy street coats, our lower priced school and business coats.

ONE WOOL BED BLANKET THAT EQUALS A PAIR—KENWOOD PURE WOOL BLANKETS

One Kenwood equals in warmth two ordinary blankets. That is why only one Kenwood Blanket, 60x84 for single beds, or 72x84 for full sized beds, is needed. These sizes make Kenwoods easier to handle, easier to wash, less expensive to launder, better looking, longer wearing.

Selected lustrous, long-fibre wool, high, fleecy nap, warmth with lightness, beauty of color and pattern, satin binding are other reasons why Kenwood Blankets should be your blankets. A beautiful assortment awaits your choosing in our Bedding Department. Single bed size $9.25; double bed size $10.50.

How Indians Purified Water
The Indians had a way of purifying water from a pool or swamp in digging a hole about a foot across and down about six inches below the water level a few feet from the pond. After it was filled with water they pulled it out quickly, repeating the bailing process about three times. After the third bailing the hole would be filled with filtered water. Try it.—Boy Scout Handbook.

Why Corn Has Silk.
A Pointe Hill man who is sixty-one years old never knew until recently that for every grain on an ear of corn there is a silk running out to the end to light and moisture. These silks run back under the husk. One is attached to each grain on the cob and nourishes it. Everything in nature is more wonderful than any invented story.—Potato Hill Cor. in Actinson Globe.

Culture's Progress.
"Our daughter is studying French, German, music, dancing and painting," said the fond mother complacently.
"Well," replied Mr. Cumrox, "that's a good start. But has she yet learned not to use back number slang and chew gum?"—Washington Star.

No Longer Company.
"Familiarity breeds contempt."
"True! When I was first invited over their house to dinner they used to let the dishes go until morning; now they do them right after dinner and call me into the kitchen to help."—Detroit Free Press.

His Definition.
"Pa, what is a demagogue?"
"A demagogue, my son, is a person who gives voice to opinions that conflict with your own."—New York Herald.

Peace hath higher tests of manhood than battle ever knew.—Whittier.

OBITUARY

Charles Howarth.

Charles Howarth was born in Lancashire, England, in 1837. In early life he was converted to God, and was conscious of a call to preach in the ranks of the great army of trained Local Preachers identified with the Primitive Methodist Church. Having completed the required course of study and duly licensed his name was placed on the plan of the Rockdale Methodist Union Circuit. For many years he performed the arduous and self-sacrificing duties of his official position with credit to himself and meeting with good success. In 1874 he brought his family to Canada and located at Davis' Corners, in the Township of Richmond. The first sermon he preached in Canada was delivered in Westplain Church. After one year's residence at Westplain, he was appointed Pastor of the Parham Methodist Circuit. He also served his church on the Plevna, Vennachar, and other extensive fields. Retiring from exclusively ministerial duties he engaged in commercial pursuits at Westplain and other places. For many years he made his home at Verona. During this period he cheerfully assisted in the work of the church and was ever ready to help in any way. Since the death of his partner in life, three years ago, he has been in failing health and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. John W. Graham, formerly of Grieve's Corners, and more recently of Ivanhoe. He passed away very peacefully on Sunday evening, September 20th, at Ivanhoe, in his 88th year. An impressive funeral service was held in Westplain Church on September 22nd, conducted by his Pastor, Rev. C. J. Wilson. The text of the funeral discourse was Rev. 21:7. Favorite passages of Scripture were read, and a trio of young girls sang very impressively, "Lead Kindly Light". His mortal remains were interred in Wayte cemetery. The late Charles Howarth was of a gentle, lovable, unselfish disposition, upright, and always highly esteemed by the people among whom his lot was cast. He leaves to mourn his loss one son, Alfred, of Burks, New Ontario; two daughters, Mrs. Lorne Burnham, of Florida, and Mrs. John W. Graham, of Ivanhoe; five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Hudson.

On Saturday, August 22nd, 1925, a sad gloom was cast over the home of John Hudson, when Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Hudson passed away. Deceased resided with her son, John, on the old homestead. She was born at Hay Bay over eighty years ago. At the age of twenty she came to Richmond and was married to the late Mr. John Hudson, and here she had lived ever since.

She has left to mourn her loss five sons, Albert, on the Deseronto Road; Irvine, of Hamilton; Marshall, on the Newburgh Road; John, on the homestead, and Frank, at Mount Pleasant. Her brothers are Ela and Egerton McCabe. Leonard Barton, a brother of the deceased, died in 1923, on Jan. 8th.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. J. Terrill, who spoke very feelingly to the vast number of sorrowing friends and relatives. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Christie Kellar, Arthur Murphy, Byron Rose, Charles McGreer, Walter Cranston and James Thompson.

Some people take so much pleasure in telling what they know that it's a pity they know so little.

CORAL REEFS.

Nature's Methods in Building Those Seashell Monuments.

Coral reefs surround many of the islands in the Pacific. They protect the lowlands from the washing of the waves, and the still waters inclosed by them are the only harbors of refuge for ships. The reefs themselves furnish the greatest peril to navigation, and if there were no inlet through which a vessel could enter their protected circle they would be a danger and nothing else.

But almost every reef has such an inlet. It is a necessary result of the laws under which the forces of nature work. To understand this we must see how these reefs are formed.

Chemically the reef corals are almost pure carbonate of lime, the substance of ordinary limestone and marble. The reef grows as the shell of the oyster or any other shellfish grows. It is itself the common and undivided shell of innumerable polyps, or minute insects, that are being produced and are dying in successive generations.

These tiny beings get all their living from the waters of the sea. It is from this source also that they derive the salts of lime from which they secrete the bony structure that remains after the animal is dead.

The coral polypi cannot live in fresh water. Their food supply is brought to them by the waves and currents of the sea. As a result it is found that directly opposite the mouth of the stream from the island the reef dips not grow. There will be the inlet to the inclosed waters.

When Nature Was Timekeeper.

In the British museum is a large stone composed of carbonate of lime, which would serve perfectly as a day laborer's calendar, inasmuch as it would indicate to him every Sunday and every day of the year, though not the day of the month. Moreover, the stone is an actual time record of the work done for a long period in an English coal mine.

The "Sunday stone," as it is called, was "removed" from a colliery drain. When the miners were at work the water running through the drain left a deposit colored black by the coal dust, but when no work was being done the water ran down clear and left a white deposit. These deposits in the course of time built up the stone. Each day of work left a black streak, immediately followed by a white streak made during the night. Wide white streaks indicate the holidays and Sundays.

Women's Time Schedules.

Few women speak of a train starting slightly off the even hour, as the 3.02 train, for example, or the 2.12. "Three" will do. It bothers a man a heap to go hunting for a 3 o'clock train by feminine directions when it is a 2.12 train. For some women "3" will do for the 2.54 train; it's near enough. Then the man following feminine directions, unless he is on his guard against these pitfalls, is lost.

Probably if it were not for his business training, which teaches a man that 3.02 is not 3, not 2.01, not 3.01½, not 2.01½, but 3.02, he'd be better natured about women's time schedules.—Exchange.

Gifted Idiots.

Idiots have been known whose memory for names and words was so retentive that they could repeat verbatim and indicate where the preacher blew his nose and coughed in his sermon. Dr. Moffat, the distinguished African missionary and father-in-law of Dr. Livingstone, once preached a long sermon to a crowd of negroes. Shortly after he had finished he saw a number of negroes gather about a simple minded young savage. He went to them and discovered that the savage was preaching his sermon over again. Not only was he reproducing the precise words, but imitating the manner and gestures of the white preacher.—London Tit-Bits.

Unanimous Consent.

There was a wedding in a certain church the other day, and, as usual, the minister in the course of the ceremony said: "If any one has aught to say why this couple should not be joined in holy bonds of wedlock let him now speak or forever hold his peace." During the silence that followed a man who was accustomed to serving as a chairman of meetings arose and, rapping the top of the pew sharply with his knuckles, said, "There being no objection the motion is carried."

Modern Life.

"Was your courtship romantic?"

"A little bit. I met my wife on the seventy-eighth floor of an office building. We took the elevator together. At the fifty-seventh floor we became engaged. At the forty-ninth floor a minister got on. We enlisted him, eventually reached the ground floor, sent for a license and were married."

"The motorist has two types of pedestrians to contend with," declares a writer. Presumably, the quick and the dead.

Dissolves completely

Rinses out thoroughly — leaves clothes, white — no bits of soap left sticking to garments to turn yellow under the iron.

Rinso is the only soap you need on washday — it is perfect for soaking — for boiling — for washing-machines.

THE LEADING ELECTRIC RANGE

Sold by THE HYDRO SHOP

Cooking experts figure that the SMP Enameled Wire Roaster will save the average Canadian family fully $24.00 a year in meat bills. The secret is, it roasts the meat with very little shrinkage. Also it makes cheap cuts taste like the best ones.

You place the roast in the roaster, put on the cover; the roaster does the rest. No basting required. Every roast is perfectly cooked.

The cover fits close, so that roasts cannot escape and dry out, which means a saving of meat. Prices range from $10 to $15.00 each, depending on size and finish. Don't forget the saving of $24.00 yearly.

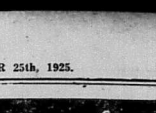
An important fact about CHEVROLET



Chevrolet closed models have body by Fisher

NEARLY two decades have elapsed since the first Fisher-built bodies established their reputation for unusual quality and artistry. Today the insignia, Body by Fisher, stands, not only for fine material and appearance, but for sturdy construction and craftsmanship that could only be acquired through years of experience.

Chevrolet is the only low-priced car that can claim the distinction of "Bodies by Fisher".

"My Wife Handles the Money"

The wife deposits —so a business man writes us. "She can do it better than I. Each pay day she always deposits our savings first. We never buy anything unless we have the cash to pay for it and each year our savings are growing."

In a joint account A Joint Account in the name of husband and wife allows the wife to deposit or withdraw money during her husband's absence or when he cannot get to the bank during business hours.

For the children, too A Savings Account for the children will teach them the value of keeping their money, thus helping them to form the habit of saving.

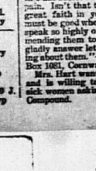
MRS. B. H. HART SICK FOR YEARS

Waits Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Cornwall, Ontario.—"I am now giving your medicine a fair trial and it surely is doing me good and I am going to keep on taking it. I used to feel so tired in the morning that I didn't want to get up, but that feeling is leaving me now. I also sleep better and feel more like working. For seven or eight years I have had headaches (tired feeling), pains in my back and across my body. I read letters in the newspapers saying what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done others. My husband says I quit too soon, but I am not going to stop taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine until I am better and haven't an ache or a pain. Isn't that the right way? I have great faith in your medicines. They must be good when those who take them speak so highly of them."—Mrs. Burt H. Hart, Box 1061, Cornwall, Ontario.

Mrs. Hart wants to help other women and is willing to answer letters from sick women asking about the Vegetable Compound.

FOOTBALL

On Wednesday afternoon, a soccer football team, representing "B" Company, Frontenac Regiment, drove to Kingston to open the new League Schedule. A league has been organized composed of teams representing City of Kingston, R. M. C. Riding School, Royal Canadian Artillery, Royal Military College, and "B" Company, Frontenac Regiment.

It was a hurriedly assembled team that represented the Napanee Company, who had never played together before, and their opponents were the well trained and heavy team of the Riding School. It is greatly to the credit of the local athletes therefore, that they held their more experienced opponents to a close game, and a 1-1 tie. Napanee now shares the top place in the league standing, and as the schedule is very much in their favor, there now being several consecutive home games to be played, we have little doubt that with a little local support, the local team will stay around the top all year. The next game, against City of Kingston, will be played next Saturday at the Driving Park.

Napanee was represented by J. Stewart, Goal; W. Perry and Cavanaugh, Full Backs; Bentley, Paul and Wade, Halves; Brett, Deshane, McGillivray, Killorin and Walker, Forwards. There were no weak spots on the team, and with a little more practice and condition, they should be practically unbeatable at home.

SOFTBALL

Trinity 16, Grace 15.

Before a large crowd of spectators, on Tuesday evening, the above teams met for the second time this season in a softball game, and the Trinity girls were again victorious. The game was very evenly contested and there was not much to choose between the teams, both sides showing good form in batting and fielding. The Batteries were: Trinity, Winnie Drake and Christobel Taylor; Grace, Marion Wales and Hazel O'Neil.

Mr. Murray umpired the game.

Grace 11, St. Pats 11.

A very evenly contested games between the above teams was played on the Collegiate Grounds on Thursday evening. The score indicates the nature of the game, which was finished almost in darkness. The Batteries were: St. Pats, Dorothy Johnson and Irene Embury; Grace, Hazel O'Neil and C. Stinson.

Mr. Naphin umpired the game.

WEDDING BELLS.

A beautiful double wedding took place on Monday, Sept. 21st, at the Miller farm, Arden, when Mr. J. E. Hughes and Miss Dell Miller and Mr. Harry Alexander and Georgia Jeffery were united in marriage. The brides were beautiful gowns, and each carried a bouquet of roses. After the ceremony a lovely wedding breakfast was served in a beautiful decorated dining room. The young couples left shortly after noon for a motor trip through the States and back to Napanee, where Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will visit the groom's sister, Mrs. Earl Loucks. Also a brother, Stanley Hughes, recently moved from Kingston.

Pulver—Price.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Selby Parsonage, on Wednesday, Sept. 16th, 1925, when Annie Alberta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Price, Selby, was united in marriage to Melvin George Pulver, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulver, Redneredville. Rev. James Batstone performed the ceremony in the presence of the parents of the contracting parties. The bridal party motored to the bride's home, where they received the congratulations and best wishes of their immediate friends, after which they entered the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers, and partook of the wedding dinner. The bride wore a suit of navy poiret twill, with blouse and hat to match, and fox choker.

Mr. and Mrs. Pulver left on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon trip to Ottawa. The bride received numerous gifts and cheques, including a cabinet of silver, the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside at Redneredville.

ROD AND GUN.

What promises to be one of the best and most interesting of wild life study series commences in the October issue of Rod and Gun, just published. The series is written by the well-known naturalist, Raymond Thompson, and the first article is a lengthy and very interesting account of the beaver. Judging by the material contained in this article, the rest of the series should prove valuable and interesting reading matter for the lover of wild life.

Appropriate to the season a number of hunting stories are included in this fall number. The regular articles and departments covering birds, dogs, outdoor life, shooting and fishing seem even better filled than usual. This is especially true of Fishing Notes, which contains in addition to the articles of Robert Page Lincoln stories by G. P. Sladen, of Toronto, goes to make a veritable feast for the angler. The open seasons for game birds in Ontario are included in the issue.

Rod and Gun is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

NAPANEE ATHLETES MAKE GOOD SHOWING

On Saturday last a track team from Napanee Collegiate Institute and Public School went to Kingston to compete in the School Boy Track and Field Meet of the St. Lawrence District. This district extends from Trenton on the west to Brockville on the east, and there was plenty of keen competition in all the events. There were five classes: Junior and Senior Public School, and Junior, Intermediate and Senior Collegiate was made during the summer months. Institute, and all the schools in the district were well represented.

Napanee was successful in winning first place in three events, and second place in three more events, a showing equal to that of Kingston City, and better than Deseronto, Picton or Gananoque.

The results in detail were as follows:

F. Ballard, first in the Intermediate Collegiate Pole Vault, with a height of 9 ft. 3 inches.

C. Harrington, first in the Senior Public School 220-yard race.

Relay team, consisting of C. Harrington, D. Conway, G. Herrington and J. Grange, also in the Senior Public School Relay Race.

D. Huyck, second in the Intermediate Collegiate Pole Vault.

J. Grange, second in the Senior Public School 220-yard race.

R. Wilson, second in the Senior Public School Pole Vault.

In addition to this, R. Black and H. Empey tied with two others for first place in the Intermediate Collegiate High Jump, but lost out in the extra trials to break the tie.

The greatest sensation of the day was the vaulting of Roy Wilson, the twelve-year-old competitor from Napanee Public School. As there was no Pole Vault in his class, the Junior Public School, he entered in the Senior Public School Vault and tied for first place. In the later extra trials to break the tie he succeeded in winning second place, but he completely won the hearts of all present from all the other schools, and the disappointment was general when he failed to win first place.

The winners of first places all over the Province went to Toronto and competed in the finals. The boys from Napanee were in charge of Mr. J. L. Hooper, but were unsuccessful in securing a place.

Odessa Fall Fair

The Odessa Fair got away to a good start on Thursday afternoon last. Although the weather was rather threatening and in fact there was rain for about twenty minutes, the attendance was very good.

This year a vast improvement has been made to the race track on the exhibition grounds. For years it was a third of a mile track, but it was thought wise to purchase some land and make the new track a half mile in length, one at the Kingston fair grounds. About one acre and a half was purchased and the extension

Undoubtedly one of the most interesting baseball games of the whole season was played Friday afternoon, when the Odessa team was able to win against the Adolphustown players in the eleventh inning, crossing the wire one run and making the score 8 to 7.

The game tied in the seventh inning and was closely matched from that time on. The playing was fairly good, some of the fielding, however, being a little loose.

The line-up was:

Odessa—C. Emmons rf, B. Smith lf, H. Lee 1b, C. Smith 2b, Heath ss, V. Killiannon p, Cairns c, B. Killigannon cf, Burley 3b.

Softball Game.

Enterprise girls defeated the girls' softball team from Wilton in a very close game, which attracted a great number of spectators. The final score was 16 to 15, the game only being decided in the last minutes of the eleventh inning. WEDDING BELLS

Hall—Dibb.

On Wednesday morning, at eleven o'clock, in the presence of the relatives and friends, there were united in marriage Miss Jessie Evelyn McGillivray, daughter of the late Rev. Frederick and Mrs. Dibb, and Duane Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hall, of Brockville. The wedding was solemnized at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, of which the father of the bride was Vicar for several years. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, asters, gladioli and other autumn flowers. The Reverend J. H. Coleman officiated. The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. J. Ernest Madden, who played the march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered. The bride was very lovely in a French gown of white crepe satin excellent, with long train falling from the shoulders, faced with pink crepe, and embroidered with orange blossoms. Her simple tulle veil was bound to her fair hair by a wreath of the orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of butterfly roses, mauve orchids and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her uncle, Mr. William C. Smith. Her bridesmaids were her cousin, Miss Betty Smith, who wore a charming frock of rose georgette crepe with gold lace, and gold slippers and stockings, and Miss Mildred Brown, who wore mauve georgette over pink with silver lace and silver slippers and stockings. Both maids wore becoming black lace and velvet hats with velvet scarf brought about the throat and caught with tiny flowers of blue and rose, while each carried an armful of Columbia roses tied with pink ribbon. Mr. Wm. A. Templeton was the best man, and Messrs. Gordon Miller, William Dibb and Everett Smith acted as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith on East St. In the spacious dining room where the wedding breakfast was served, the bride's table was prettily arranged with pink roses and baskets and tulle. The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. Mr. Coleman, who has known the bride since her infancy. Dr. Hall responded appropriately.

Before leaving, the bride threw her bouquet which was caught by Miss Mildred Brown. Many showers and smiles and showers of good wishes, Dr. and Mrs. Hall motored eastward for a ten days' trip, the bride wearing a smart gown of wood-brown crepe satin, a coat of the same with cuffs of brown fox trimming and a small hat to match.

Among the gowns noticed at the reception were Mrs. Smith in brown cut velvet, sable scarf and velvet hat; Mrs. Dibb in black crepe with embroidered panels and black hat; Mrs. D. R. Hall, in black canton crepe with lace panel, and scarf and velvet hat; Mrs. F. S. Miller, in blue printed crepe with fox fur and small hat; Miss Loretta Hall in floral georgette crepe with brown hat and fur; Mrs. Dibb, in brown crepe and fur, and with metal girdle and hat to match, and wee Peggy Dibb, in a ruffled organdy with white taffeta hat.

The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum wrist watch, to the bridesmaids platinum bar pins, and to the best man and ushers cuff links.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the reception and wedding breakfast, among whom were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dibb and little Miss Peggy Dibb, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Hall, Miss Loretta Hall, Mrs. F. S. Miller and Master Duane Miller, of Brockville; Mr. J. H. Hall, of Albany, N.Y.; Dr. H. Featherston, of Ottawa; Mrs. F. Finnemore, Miss Hanna and Mr. Kenneth Ham, Mrs. H. E. Smith and Mr. Goldwin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grange, the Rev. J. H. H. and Mrs. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington and Miss Mildred Brown, Miss Elizabeth Carmichael, Miss Edith Johnston, Mrs. J. J. Johnston and Miss Clara Johnston, Mrs. T. W. Simpson, Miss Marjorie Simpson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McGreer.

McGreer—Chambers.

The marriage of Miss Claire McGreer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McGreer, of Montreal, formerly of Napanee, to Mr. Percy Chambers, son of the Rev. Canon and Mrs. Chambers, took place at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, on Saturday afternoon, September 26th, 1925, at 3 o'clock.

The bride was given away by her father, and was simply gowned in ivory crepe de chene, made with a short train lined with pale pink georgette. Her tulle veil was held in place by a bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms, and her shower bouquet was composed of pale pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Marguerite McGreer was her sister's maid of honour, and wore old rose georgette over taffeta. Both attendants wore black velvet hats and carried deep pink roses. Mr. Allan Chambers acted as best man, and Dr. Whitehead, Organist of the Cathedral, played throughout the service.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Chambers, father of the bridegroom, assisted by Rev. Reverend Arthur Carlisle, Dean of Montreal, and the Rev. Dr. McGreer, Principal of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, cousin of the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride for immediate relatives and intimate friends.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Miss McGreer, Miss Claire McGreer, and Mr. Harold McGreer, of Napanee.

MR. HUBB'S RENOMINATION

The renominstion of Mr. John Hubbs for Prince Edward and Lennox is a deserved tribute to the worth and work of Mr. Hubbs. For the past four years he has worthily represented his old constituency and if the electors of the enlarged constituency are wise—as we believe they will be—they will send him back to Ottawa with an increased majority. He is a man of ability, energy and courage who has stood unswervingly behind his leader in upholding the National Policy under which Canada, when that policy has been enforced, has greatly prospered. He deserves to be re-elected.

Lady Electors Held Rousing Rally

A rousing meeting in the interest of Mr. John Hubbs, Conservative candidate for the new Electoral Riding of Prince Edward-Lennox was held in the Town Hall, on Saturday night, and was largely attended, the hall being filled to overflowing.

It was a ladies' meeting and the fair sex was out in full force, not only from town but also from the surrounding country.

Mrs. A. L. Harshaw, President of the Napanee Women's Conservative Association, occupied the chair and seated on the platform with her were several ladies of the executive of the Women's Association, and several who are holding office in Conservative Associations of the various townships in the county.

In her opening remarks Mrs. Harshaw briefly stated the purpose of holding the meeting and invited all Conservative women in the town to take an active interest in the coming election and urged them to devote some of their time when called upon to do so.

Mrs. Fallis' Address.

Mrs. Howard Fallis, of Peterboro', who is the Conservative Organizer of women for rural Ontario was the first speaker and gave one of the finest addresses ever given in Napanee by a lady. She explained the necessity of the women's organization in election and stated that 51 per cent. of the total voters in the country were women.

The speaker appealed to the women to take an active interest in politics if only from a patriotic standpoint. She also stated that it had been said that the tariff question was of little interest to women but she explained that the tariff policy of the King Government had been such as to cause unprecedented conditions of unemployment and when the man of the house was thrown out of work the wife and family felt the pinch.

A sane protective tariff as advocated by Hon. Mr. Meighen would assist both the manufacturer and the farmers to make a decent living and lessen the burden of unemployment which existed in the country at the present time.

Mrs. Fallis' address was received with great applause and created a deep impression upon the women present.

Mr. Hubbs' Address.

Mr. John Hubbs, the candidate, was then introduced and the reception which he received was most gratifying. This was his first appearance in Napanee in appealing to the electors, and he took this pleasure at being present to address the women electorate.

He dwelt at some length on the extravagance of the King Government, the Railway deficits, the Italian treaty which, as said, by the way, was all in favor of Australia and would be injurious to the Canadian farmers.

Mr. Hubbs is a very fine speaker, and his speech was received with ringing cheers by the large assemblage.

Hon. Dr. Ross' Address.

The last speaker of the evening Hon. Dr. A. E. Ross, of Kingston, paid a glowing tribute to the sterling character of the candidate, Mr. Hubbs, and said that during his past four years at Ottawa Mr. Hubbs had been a most worthy representative, and that the electors would make no mistake in electing him member for Prince Edward-Lennox on October 29th.

The meeting was then brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

ST. ANDREW'S YOUNG PEOPLE OFF TO GOOD START

On Monday night the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's met in the school room for the inaugural meeting of the season. The meeting was preceded by a supper engineered by the social caterer, Mr. Thomson. After supper, Mr. McKenzie, the President of the Society, who was at the head of the table, called the meeting to order, and then asked the chairman of each committee to outline the programme which they had prepared for the season.

The convener of the Devotional Committee plans a series of addresses dealing with the history of each of the three communities and churches from the time of their origin up to their emergence on this side of the Atlantic.

The Citizenship Committee plans a series of studies on different phases of citizenship, the farmer's movement, the tariff, and various social movements.

The Missionary Committee plans a study of the mission fields of the United Church, considering especially Canada's relation to world tasks.

The Social Committee will function on all occasions where supper and entertainment is planned.

In between these brief synopsis, musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Valkman, Billy Templeton, Katharine Henderson and Mr. Caldwell.

Over sixty young people were present and the evening was an enjoyable and profitable one.

THE RISING TIDE OF PUBLIC FEELING

During the past two weeks the county has had opportunity of comparing the character of the offering on which Premier King appeals for a return to power and the principles and policy of the Conservative Party as enunciated by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. Little room remains for doubt as to the conclusion at which it is arriving with steadily increasing conviction. The people were turning from the King Government before the Prime Minister opened his campaign. The tide of public impatience and indignation was visibly rising. Since Mr. King has taken the stump it has rapidly increased. The reaction from his opening campaign utterances has been clear and unmistakable. From east to west the people have been confirmed out of the Prime Minister's own mouth in their despair of any hope of courageous and capable leadership, of policy designed to lift the country out of its difficulties, from the Government of which he is head. The most disappointed are those who hitherto have been his supporters, who had clung to the belief that when he appealed for a mandate to continue in office he would have something to offer to revive their respect and confidence. They looked for bread and he has given them bubbles. These erstwhile supporters of Mr. King have abandoned their last hope. They acknowledge that without principles or policy for the solution of the nation's problems he should not be returned to power, that he has no claim on their confidence and allegiance. One of the most powerful factors behind the nation-wide wave of feeling against the Government that is everywhere evident is the indignation of Liberals themselves. The extent of their disaffection is in itself sufficient to ensure the defeat of the present Government and the return of Mr. Meighen and the Conservative Party to office.

The four great questions for the solution of which Mr. King asks to be returned to power with a mandate and a majority are those of transportation, immigration, fiscal policy and Senate reform. In all the speeches he has delivered and statements he has issued since he went on the stump in North York on September 5th, there is not a word in the way of solution for any one of them. Of the railways he says he favors some measure of co-operation between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific. What has kept him from bringing about such co-operation during the last two years? He doesn't say. Could he not have commanded the great majorities which he boasts for any sensible plan for dealing with the railway question? He had no plan to offer and he has none now. Instead of even attempting to deal with that problem he has added $234,000,000 to the debt of the country on account of the railways in the last two years and now asks for a majority to permit him to solve the problem they present. He would not solve that problem if he had a clear majority of fifty on the Government side of the House for the simple reason that he has no plan of solution.

The immigration question he claims to have put in the way of solution by the appointment of a Minister to devote all his time to the Department and by bringing about co-operation between the department and the colonization services of the railways. He could have appointed a Minister any time within the last two years and he could have brought about the same co-operation. Instead of doing either he increased the expenditure on the immigration department by $1,128,000 in one year and brought in 37,000 fewer immigrants for it, at the same time permitting the railways to continue duplicating the work of the department and at an increased cost of more than half a million dollars in the same year in the case of the Canadian National. The truth, as everybody knows, is that the Government has not had an immigration policy and has none now.

Were it not for the demand and need of the country for a definite, clean-cut fiscal policy the fact of Mr. King's placing this question among the four national issues on which he is appealing to the people would be amusing in view of his record of log-rolling and compromise and his undisguised intention to continue so in that course. As it is it is effrontery. Had he had the courage to stand by the platform of his party he would at least have commanded respect. He would also have had the unanimous support of the Progressives. But he hadn't the courage to defy the protectionists of his own party. He was content to hold on power and pacify the other by tinkering and trifling with the tariff. He has no more definite policy now. He proposes to continue his method of compromise despite the fact that he replaces the tariff question among the national issues of the day.

As to the Senate, he is still as vague as on every occasion during the last two years he has talked loudly about reforming the Upper House. He speaks largely about making the Senate amenable to the will of the people—demands a mandate for doing so—and Liberal newspapers whose support he invites to this end themselves request him to punctuate his rounded phrases with words that mean something. They call upon him to state the manner in which he proposes to reform the Senate. Even his own newspaper supporters refused to swallow empty eloquence, But he has no more plan now for reforming the Senate than he had when pressed on several occasions in Parliament on the subject.

The people are conquering Premier King's lack of plan and policy and the empty gestures by which he seeks to disguise it with the straight-forward, clean-cuts and definite policy and pronouncements of Mr. Meighen. On none is the comparison making a deeper impression than on straight-thinking Liberals themselves. Mr. Meighen tells the people frankly what he and his party believe to be the solution of the country's problems. He states openly and definitely what he will do if returned to power. Compromise has no place in his proposals. His tariff policy is clearly defined. It is a policy of adequate protection for the development of all the industries and all the natural resources of Canada—a Canada-First policy designed to build up the self-reliance of this country and to meet the world-wide movement in the direction of increased tariffs. With some sixty-five other countries having raised their tariffs since the war among them the United States, tariff protection is more vital to Canada now than ever. Mr. Meighen urges his policy, not in the half of particular sections of the country or of special interests, but in behalf of the entire country, of all interests. He offers it as the only means of providing employment and wages for the workers and of stopping the emigration of hundreds of thousands of the best of Canada's citizens to the United States and of enducing many of those who have gone in the last four years to return. He offers it as the only means of providing a sure market for the farmers and other producers of Canada and of supplying business for the railways. His Canada-First policy is not one of discrimination against the competition of foreign goods in the Canadian market, but as well protection against the diversion of our raw materials for the benefit of other countries. Where sections of Canada derive less benefit than others from this policy because of their geographical situation he proposes that they be compensated. The heavy transportation charges now borne by the Maritimes and the west are to be shared by the country as a whole. Equally unequivocal is his assertion that his first action in office will be the stopping with a firm hand of new capital investments on railway account.

The contrast between Mr. Meighen's plain speaking and the indefiniteness of Mr. King is having its effect in daily increasing the tide of public sentiment against the Government, in strengthening the determination of all parties that the present administration must go. Never in the history of the Dominion has popular feeling been so manifest on the eve of an election.

Light on Every Vehicle Is Definite Legislation Recommended by League

Question Before Legislature for Twenty Years Has Been Shunned For Political Reasons. — Future is Brighter.

Lawmakers at Queen's Park have decided that next year all drivers must be licensed, that motorists henceforth must pay millions annually in gas taxes; they have multiplied traffic regulations ever multiplying the minimum candle-power of bulbs in tail-lights and the maximum candle-power of bulbs in head-lights; they have voted tens of millions for road-building and given a great deal of time to the question of public safety and convenience on the highways, yet they have passed no statute practically all motorists and even the legislators themselves individually will admit is the most urgently needed addition to Provincial Traffic Laws—provision for the compulsory carrying of lights at night by horse-drawn vehicles.

Problem For Twenty Years.

This question has been before the Legislature for twenty years—a plain duty—easy to perform, but the hands which have confidently essayed gigantic undertakings in other directions have wavered on the compulsory carrying of lights by all vehicles. Why? Because it has become a tradition in the House that members on all sides of it are timorous politically; that the farmers would go to the polls in battalions to voice their indignation on the hapless members who would vote to compel them to put lights on their horse-drawn vehicles when using the highways at night.

Times are changing, however, and to-day there are owned on farms in Ontario over one hundred thousand motor vehicles. The farmer has grown accustomed to the idea of lights on vehicles and realizes their protective value. The old tradition is dying out—is nearly dead. This was evidenced last Fall at a meeting of the Wardens of the counties, at which a resolution was passed recommending that all vehicles be required to carry lights at night when in use on the Provincial Highways. The Wardens did not act without a knowledge that rural sentiment to-day would largely support such a measure.

Local Regulations.

Yet, even with this encouraging resolution, the Legislature, at its last session, felt that it could do no better than put on the statutes some enabling legislation whereby Councils of counties, cities and separated towns, might pass local by-laws requiring lights on all vehicles.

Future is Brighter.

Under the enabling legislation, it is probable that a number of counties will pass by-laws, requiring lights on horse-drawn vehicles, thus paving the way for a Province-wide law.

It was not until the cities were given power to pass local lighting by-laws several years ago that any tangible progress at all was made by the Ontario Motor League in its unceasing campaign for lights on all vehicles. In Toronto, the issue was bitterly contested, and the City Council decided to test public opinion on the subject by a vote of the people. The result of the balloting, the only one on this subject ever taken in Canada was a total of 21,469 votes in favor of requiring all vehicles to carry lights at night, and a total of 13,256 against — an overwhelming majority of 17,893. The City Council at once gave effect to the people's will. The opposition has since disappeared and the lighting law is now accepted as a matter of course, except by all who use horse-drawn vehicles at night.

Many Lives Lost.

So many lives are being lost in accidents occurring by reason of the lack of lights on horse-drawn vehicles that one may well ask the question, "Is life to be held cheaper than light?" Coroners' juries in a few weeks have placed the blame for accidents, in which motor vehicles and horse-drawn vehicles were in collision, on the lack of lights on horse-drawn vehicles, and have recommended legislation remedying this situation. Indeed the courts appear to be in advance of the Legislature, for recent decisions would indicate that Judges regard the carrying of lights on horse-drawn vehicles as a reasonable precaution and that those who go driving at nights without lights assume, in a large measure, legal responsibility for any accident which may happen.

The Provincial law requiring lights on all vehicles, so badly needed and so long delayed, cannot be written into the statutes any too soon from whatever standpoint, private or public, this vital question may be regarded.

OBITUARY

Mr. J. J. Clarke.

The death occurred on Saturday, September 26th, 1925, at his late residence, of one of Napanee's well known and highly respected citizens, in the person of Mr. J. J. Clarke, at the age of 80 years, 9 months and 18 days. The deceased suffered a severe stroke about two weeks ago, and owing to his advanced age little hope was held out for his recovery. The late Mr. Clarke, who was well known to a host of Napaneeans, spent the major part of his life in the Township of North Fredericksburgh, he having been a prosperous farmer near Hay Bay. Some few years ago he retired from the activities of the farm, and with his devoted wife, daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baird, moved to Napanee, where they have since resided. During their residence here they made many warm friends, and the sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved widow and daughter.

The funeral was held at his late residence, Bridge Street, Monday afternoon, and was one of the largest held in Napanee in some time. Not only was there a large concourse of citizens from town in attendance, but many were present from all parts of the Township of North Fredericksburgh, where the deceased had spent the major part of his life, and where he was highly honored and respected. The casket was banked with floral designs of all kinds, showing the esteem in which he was held.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Terrill, of Grace Church, of which the deceased was a member, and who in an appropriate address referred to the many fine personal qualities which the deceased possessed and also to the high respect in which he was held by the whole community. At the conclusion of the service the remains were borne to Riverside cemetery and laid to rest, to await the glad resurrection day. The pall-bearers were all close friends, being Messrs. Fred Gordinier, D. H. Preston, John Hambly, Luke Trumpour, F. L. Hooper and George Grieve.

Sidney Pringle.

A very sad death occurred at Selby, Ontario, when Sidney Pringle passed away Sunday evening. Although the deceased had been ill for several weeks, his death came as a shock to the whole community. The late Mr. Pringle had resided in Richmond nearly all the fifty-nine years of his life. He was a member of the United Church of Canada.

Besides his wife, who has been ill since early spring, he leaves four children to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father, Jennie and Charles, at home; Mrs. Jas. A. Henderson, Morven, and Mrs. W. H. Bell, Empey Hill.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon, from the United Church, Selby, and was conducted by Rev. Jas. Bolstone, and his former Pastor, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson. A large number of friends were present to pay their last tribute to one who was liked and respected by all. The interment took place at Riverview cemetery, Napanee.

Rheumatic People Can Now Find Relief

By Driving the Poisonous Acid From the System.

Rheumatism attacks people when the blood is thin and watery, or charged with impurities, thus setting up inflammation of the muscles and joints. Cold, wet weather or sharp winds may start the pains, but the cause is rooted in the blood and to get relief it must be treated through the blood. As a blood builder and nerve tonic Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed, and for that reason do not fail to give relief to rheumatic sufferers when given a fair trial. Among the rheumatic sufferers who have proved the great value of this medicine is Mrs. Simeon J. Tatton, Indian Head, Sask., who says:—"For over two years I was an intense sufferer from rheumatism and until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, no treatment that I took helped me any. The trouble grew so bad that I could not move around the house without help, and finally I had to give up and go to bed. Words cannot tell how much I suffered, and I could not bear to have anyone come near me. Finally one of my neighbors strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to do so. In the course of a few weeks I could feel an improvement, and I was able to get up. I kept on taking the pills until all trace of the trouble was gone, and I can now do my housework, feeling like a new person. Three years have passed since that time, and there has never been the slightest return of the trouble, so that I feel safe in saying that the use of this medicine is a permanent cure."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NARCISSUS IN WINTER

THEY WILL GIVE CHOICE BLOOM IN THAT SEASON.

Procure the Bulbs by October—Rich Loamy Soil Is Needed—Bury Boxes In the Cellar—Feeding Bees for Winter—Spray or Dust Potatoes?

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The narcisus varieties may be potted for winter bloom as soon as the bulbs are obtained in September or early October. If it is desired that the bulbs be grown in the home window, it is advisable to use either a six or eight inch flower pot, setting from five to ten bulbs, according to the size of the stock.

Good Deep Boxes for Cut Flowers.

If it is desired to grow the bulb bloom in quantity and use the cut flowers in vases, then plant the bulbs in boxes of any shape and not less than three inches in depth. A box twenty-four inches by twelve inches by three inches is very handy. The soil should be a rich garden loam to which add one-third of the bulk of leaf mould and sufficient sand to keep the soil from clinging. Suitable drainage provided by means of coarse cinders or broken pottery should first be placed in the bottom of the pots or boxes and then the prepared soil in quantity sufficient to reach within one-half inch from the top of the box or pot after firming. The bulbs should be pressed into the soil and covered firmly, just leaving the tip showing.

Bury the Boxes In the Cellar.

When all the boxes or pots are prepared such should be buried if possible in cold frame or in the basement watered well, and then covered with five inches of sand or screened cinders. This covering will insure the necessary cool condition and prevent drying out. Such treatment will develop a good vigorous root system, a condition which must precede the blooming. Eight weeks beneath the sand is usually sufficient. A pot may be examined then and if found to be full of roots it can be moved to the light and heat.

Some of the Best Varieties.

From four to six weeks of forcing are required to bring narcissi of the following listed varieties into flower: Von Sion, Glory of Leiden, Sir Watkin, Trumpet Major, Emperor, Empress, Golden Spur, Olympia, Sulphur Phoenix, Bi-color, Victoria, Barri Conspicua, Madame Plemp, Alba Stella, Cynosure, Poeticus ornatus, Poeticus grandiflora and the Polyanthus and Poetax types of all varieties.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

FEEDING BEES FOR WINTER.

See That They Are First Carefully Fed With Well Prepared Syrup —Carefully Replace Packing for Winter Stand.

At all times during summer and early autumn care should be taken to see that colonies do not starve. So long as they have enough of daily food winter feeding should be delayed until the first half of October. Each hive should then be given all the syrup it will take. This may be anywhere from 10 pounds to 40 or 50 pounds, depending on the strength of the colony and the amount of stores it already has. The syrup is made of two parts best granulated sugar to one of water. Boil the water, then add the sugar and stir till thoroughly dissolved. The only points to be observed are to avoid scorching the sugar and to see that no granules are left in the syrup to start crystallization after it has been stored in the combs.

When feeding time comes in the early part of October, the packing is removed from over the feeder-board and a number of filled pails or jars are inverted over the holes. If the days are warm this is done towards evening to prevent robbing, and if the nights are cool packing is put around the feeder-board to hold brood-chamber heat and help the bees take down the feed. As soon as feeders are emptied they should be refilled, until the bees signify that they have enough by ceasing all work on the feeders. The latter are then removed, the burlap, paper and packing are replaced, and the roof is adjusted for the winter. The feeding may take a week or more in cool weather, but should be gotten through with as rapidly as possible after it is once started.

To Spray or to Dust Potatoes?

The high efficiency of liquid Bordeaux mixture for the control of leaf spot and fungus enemies of potato foliage has been demonstrated in tests so often as to make its use general with potato-growers. Dusting has been used considerably, but carefully conducted tests over a period of four years show that the practice is not so efficient as the liquid form of application. Where water is difficult to obtain, and in small fields where it is necessary to use hand apparatus, dusting is advisable. For areas larger than one acre and with water and a power sprayer available, then spray.

Iodine In the Ration.

A small amount of iodine is needed in the ration of dairy cattle for the proper functioning of the thyroid gland. A deficiency of this element results in goitre or "big neck" in calves. Iodine is often lacking in soils distant from the sea coast. Animals locality goitre is more prevalent in such regions than near the sea coast.

Deficiency of Iodine Liberated.

This element which is carried by the wind over the land and taken up from the soil by the crops.

PROTECT FRUIT TREES

HOW TO RESIST ATTACKS OF MICE AND RABBITS IN WINTER.

Building Paper, Galvanized Mesh Wire and Poison Recommended— Potato Harvest — Marketing the Potato Crop.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Preventive treatment applied in November to the orchard trees, raspberry patch and ornamental shrubberies to offset the usually very destructive work of mice and rabbits during the winter months will save you disappointment, some labor and some money.

Building paper costing one cent, placed around the trunk of the tree for which you paid the nurseryman $1.50 will give protection at a cost that seems reasonable. If your tree is ten years old it is worth many times $1.50. The cost of protection is so low that no tree owner can afford to feed mice and rabbits.

How to Use Building Paper.

The building paper protector can be easily prepared from a roll of tar paper. With an ordinary saw cut the roll into ten inch lengths, handy to work with. Wrap once around the tree trunk and fasten securely. Then mound a little soil up around the lower end to hold it in place over winter. Remove when danger is over in the spring.

The expanded metal protector can be used; it will last for years if taken care of. These can be purchased from supply houses. They are easy to apply and cost about $7.00 per hundred for small sizes.

Galvanized Mesh Chicken Wire.

The galvanized mesh chicken wire is very efficient and durable. The wire can be purchased in rolls of a suitable width and cut into lengths to suit the trees. It is more expensive to buy than the expanded metal protector.

The tramping of the snow around the tree, so that it will create a hard area through which the mice cannot readily penetrate, is a means of giving some protection at a very low cost.

Use Poison Carefully.

Rodent poison applied to bread or grain and enclosed in a container of tin to which mice can enter is an effective way of protecting tree patches and shelterbelts. Poison placed for rabbits must be watched, or at least placed, where it is safe from farm animals. During periods of deep snow a close watch should be kept on all trees and shrubs, with the view of eliminating damage at the initial stage. At the O.A.C. we use the wire protectors, tramp the snow and use rabbit poison on rabbits when necessary.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O.A.C., Guelph.

Potato Harvest.

Late Blight.

Late Blight affects the tuber of the potato as well as the vine and the disease lives over from year to year in the seed. When harvesting the potato crop cull out all tubers with dark sunken areas on the surface and a brownish discoloration of the flesh.

Black Scurf.

This fungous develops small black specks on the surface of the tuber. Such should not be stored for seed.

Stem End Rot.

This trouble is evidence by a decayed and sunken area at the stem end of the tuber. When a cross section is made near the stem end a brownish ring is usually plainly visible.

Tuber Injury.

Care should be taken to avoid bruising the tubers while harvesting. Roughly handled potatoes usually have a high percentage of dry rot.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O.A.C., Guelph.

Marketing the Potato Crop.

The potato grower should cater to the wishes of the most particular and exacting customers. He should furnish a choice product in a most attractive form and should carefully study the demands of the market he wishes to serve. For the best prices potatoes should be uniform, sound, smooth and of good table quality, whether selected by the pound, the basket, the bushel, the bag, the barrel or carload. The commercial potato grower should not be confined to the local market, but should be in a position to put his potatoes on the best market available, either through his own efforts or through the medium of a co-operative association. It sometimes occurs that of the price paid by the consumer for a bushel of potatoes about two-thirds are required to defray the cost of transportation and of distribution, and one-third is left for the grower. This is not as it should be. Undoubtedly one of the best remedies for such a condition is co-operation on the part of the growers themselves.—Dept. of Extension, O.A.C., Guelph.

The Infoal Mare.

The brood mare that seems to have the least trouble and produces healthy sound colts and also has little trouble at foaling time is one which has been worked moderately, or has had regular daily exercise. Of course she should have plenty of nourishing feed, of good quality, especially during the latter part of the gestation period. It is also important that she should have clean drinking water, be groomed once a day and have a stable well supplied with fresh air.

Rickets In Chicks.

It is not recommended to keep birds that had rickets when young for breeding purposes.

"We girls have been comparing our records of summer engagements." "And who is the ring-leader?"

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Remover, and it can be used without danger or injury.

Dear Old Lady—How do you like school, my little man?
The Little Man—I like it closed, lady.

Worms feed upon the vitality of children and endanger their lives. A simple and effective remedy is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

He—Remember, sweetheart, the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world.
She—Then you come right in and rule the world for a while; I'm getting tired of it.

Asthma Doesn't Wear Off Alone. Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. While you are waiting the disease is surely gathering a stronger foothold and you live in danger of stronger and yet stronger attacks. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy taken early, will prevent incipient condition from becoming chronic and saves hours of awful suffering.

"My son has taken up Spanish, French, German, and Scotch," remarked Mrs. Jones, proudly.
"Goodness gracious," replied her friend, "Where does he study?"
"He doesn't study," the good lady explained. "He works a lift."

Useful in Camp. — Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

Some children were telling their father what they had at school. The eldest got reading, spelling, and arithmetic.
"And what did you get, Tommy?" asked the father of a rosy-cheeked little fellow.
"Oh, I dets readin', spellin', and spankin'."

Nation-wide Fame. — There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

The prisoner was before the court on a charge of murder. Many distinguished legal lights had assembled to hear the case.
The charge was read out, and the judge asked the man in the dock if he would like to be defended by counsel.
"No, my lord," came the reply; "this is too serious a matter."

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels, and so subsist. Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. No destructive parasite can live in contact with this medicine, which is not only a worm destroyer, but a health-giving medicine most beneficial to the young constitution.

The case of the American pastor who has just been "tried" for dancing recalls the case of the parson who was brought to book by his bishop for riding to hounds. The parson voiced his opinion that he was no more sinful than the bishop, who had just attended a county ball.
"But I was never in the same room as the dancers," expostulated the bishop.
"Nor I, my lord, in the same field as the hounds," replied the parson.

Automobile Accidents

Almost every newspaper you read has an account of one or more Auto accidents. People are killed or injured and property destroyed. In every case some person is held responsible and must pay the damages.

Many drivers say, "Oh, I am a careful driver, and I will never cause an accident". It may not be YOUR fault but it will be YOUR car and YOU will pay the damage.

Why take the risk? We can sell you a policy which indemnifies you against liability imposed by Law, defends you in every law-suit and pays all damage up to a very large amount. No inconvenience for you, no anxiety, and the cost, in most cases, is not more than $1.50 per month. Let us give you the exact cost for Policy on your Car.

PAINS ACROSS THE BACK

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. J. WASSMANN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are anxious for others to know.

Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Bridal Shower.

The last of a series of delightful parties given in honor of Wednesday's bride, Miss Jessie Dibb, was given at the apartment of Miss Gladys Miller, on Dundas St., on Monday afternoon. Five tables of Bridge-players spent an enjoyable afternoon until five, when a number of guests joined the party for tea. The tea-table was a pretty sight with its mauve and yellow candles, baskets, etc., flowers and favors, a mauve and yellow fortune-cake creating considerable interest and fun. Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. W. C. Smith poured tea, and the following ladies assisted the hostess in serving: Miss Nellie Herring, Miss Diana Miller, Mrs. W. J. Wiggins, Mrs. A. L. Dafoe, Mrs. W. A. Grange and Miss Constance Grange. Before leaving the guest of honor was presented with a flower-decked hamper filled with jars of preserved fruits, jams, marmalade and relishes, the handy-work of her many friends.

Received Bad Fall

A very sad accident occurred in Napanee on Saturday last, when Mrs. Peterson, of Adolphustown, suffered a bad fall resulting in a broken hip. Mrs. Peterson was spending the week end with her friend, Mrs. Peter Gould, and on Saturday afternoon she went down street to do a little shopping. She was coming out of the shop of Mr. D. Davis, on the Market, and in some way fell to the walk. A few young ladies who were near lent their assistance but were unable to get her to her feet, but Mr. Davis helped to carry her to his car and took her to Mrs. Gould's home, where she was visiting, and where she remained until Sunday morning, when Dr. Willoughby was called and found a broken hip bone the cause of her severe suffering. He immediately took her by motor to Kingston General Hospital, where she is resting as well as possible. Her friend, Mrs. M. J. Bates, also accompanied her to Kingston.

Death of Patrick McCann.

The death occurred at Syracuse, N.Y., on Tuesday, Sept. 22nd, 1925, of Patrick McCann, a well known and known resident of Richmond Township. The late Mr. McCann was born on the old homestead, near Lime Lake, sixty-six years ago, where he spent his early life. He later located in Deseronto, and from there he went to Syracuse, where he spent the past thirty-five years. He retired from active life a few years ago and spent his leisure time between the home of his son-in-law and the old homestead. His hobby was fishing, and many a pleasant hour the writer has spent with deceased on Lime Lake. Mr. McCann was of very kindly disposition and full of humor, which endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He will be sadly missed by his many friends in Richmond, as well as in Syracuse. Deceased leaves two brothers and five sisters to mourn his death. The remains were brought to Napanee on Friday and the funeral was held from the home of his niece, Mrs. J. Kenny, Thomas Street, to St. Patrick's Church on Sunday afternoon, interment taking place in the R. C. cemetery at Napanee.

Fatal Accident.

A message from Regina, Sask., on Sunday last to Mrs. Alma F. Moore, Belleville, advising her that her son, Douglas, who was visiting his uncles there, had been kicked by a horse and was in a serious condition, was followed by another yesterday that the injury had proved fatal. His body is being brought home for burial, but the date of arrival is uncertain. Readers will remember that this young man's father, Dr. Moore, of Shannonville, was killed at the Point Anne crossing five years ago this fall. This second tragic death in the family is paralyzing in its nature. Mrs. Moore is a sister of G. M. Neely of this town. The deceased is survived by a sister, Miss Edyth Moore, teaching at Point Anne.

Surprise Party.

A very pleasing event took place on Friday evening last, when a few friends paid a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. Will Coates, Bridge Street, it being the 22nd anniversary of their wedding. Mrs. Coates was the recipient of a bouquet of cut flowers and a cut glass jardiniere. The presentation was made by Mr. C. D. Black, the address being in the form of a few lines of poetry especially prepared for the occasion. Mrs. Coates, at the solicitation of her friends, appeared for a short time in her wedding dress of 22 years ago. A pleasant time was spent in progressive euchre, after which a dainty lunch was served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaSelle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Exley, Mr. and Mrs. Lake Trumpour, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Humphrey, Mrs. Susie Robinson, Mrs. Ernest Smith, Miss Gertrude Price, Mr. C. G. Murray, Mr. Malcolm Woodcock, Mr. Robt. Woodcock, Mr. Alex. Rose.

Wedding at Erinsville.

On Tuesday, Sept. 15th, 1925, the Church of the Assumption, Erinsville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Rev. Father O'Reilly united in marriage Stella, second eldest daughter of Mrs. Michael Kearns, and Joseph Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Byrnes, Erinsville. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Helen Yorke. The bride, who was dressed in powder blue flat crepe dress with sand coat trimmed with grey fox, and hat to match, was ably assisted by Miss Loretta Byrnes, cousin of the bride, who was becomingly attired in burnt orange, crepe dress with rust colored coat and hat to match. The groom was attended by Mr. Pat Byrnes, brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome cheque, to the bridesmaid pearl rosary, and to the groomsman a set of gold cuff links. The happy young couple, with a large number of their relatives, motored to the bride's home which was prettily decorated, and partook of a sumptuous dinner, also viewing the splendid array of useful and costly gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes, after spending a few days among friends, left for their future home in Flint, Michigan. All join in wishing them a long and prosperous wedded life.

MORVEN SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

The Circuit Sunday School Rally service as previously announced was held in the Brick Church, Morven, at 2 o'clock, and although the weather prospects were far from ideal, yet a large congregation gathered from Violet, Fourth Line, Switzerville and Morven Sunday Schools, to join in the exercise and gain the inspiration of the service.

The service this year had the unusual attraction and assistance of the St. Andrew's United Church Orchestra and Choir of Napanee, so splendidly led by Mr. MacGregor. The music rendered by them contributed very much to the service, by putting life and vigor into the service.

Mrs. R. Vaulkman's solo, "Nearer My God to Thee" was exceptional and greatly appreciated. Another special feature of the Rally was the Pageant, given by the members of the Morven S. S., entitled "World's Fellowship", which set forth the need for a real practical expression of the Saviour's spirit of Love among all nations and peoples.

But the climax of the service was reached by the address of Mrs. MacGregor, Secretary of the County Organization of the O. R. E. C. Her message relating to the B's led up to the great thought "Be loyal to Jesus". Then our Rally Service, the best yet, was brought to a successful close to look and work for another year.

MISSION IN ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The mission in St. Patrick's Church opened last Sunday by the Reverend James Fallon, O.M.I. At the morning exercise at 10 o'clock a he announced the hours of the religious devotions for the coming week. In the evening at 7.30 o'clock the Church of St. Patrick was filled to capacity, in fact fifty extra chairs had to be supplied from the hall to accommodate the people. Following the recitation of the Rosary and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament the Reverend Missionary delivered one of the most eloquent and impressive sermons on the subject of mortal sin, which he stated was the only evil in the world and the only thing God did not create. For near an hour the Rev. Father held the attention of the audience by his eloquence, fervor and zeal, and there is no doubt that the impression he left upon his immense congregation will have a beneficial and lasting effect.

The subject of Monday night's discourse was the sins against the virtue of modesty. This unmentionable subject was handled with a delicacy and an earnestness that only the spirit of religion and the gifts of eloquence and inspire. As the morning exercise he took up the subject of blasphemy, a generally prevalent habit, even among so-called Christian people. He appealed to the example of the Holy Name Society and urged the Catholic young men of the congregation to enroll themselves in this admirable society and be numbered among the hundreds of thousands of young men of Canada who, he thought, it well or should be a public demonstration and reparation to the Son of Man for the outrages, insults and indifferences that have been cast upon His Holy Name.

The immense number of people who filled the church early morning and evening is a truly public testimony of appreciation to the missionary and a sign of good-will on the part of the people. The zealous missionary will continue morning and evening his noble work for the increase of virtue and a love of God in the hearts of the people. It is to be hoped that the blessing of God will be brought to the community at large by the fervor of prayer and the eloquence of appeal to the mercy and the power of God.

The Reverend Pastor is to be congratulated on his happy choice in securing the Napanee the very zealous and eloquent missionary, the Rev. James Fallon.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Following an intermission during the summer months, the first Fall meeting of the Napanee Chamber of Commerce was largely attended by members from the town and surrounding district. As usual, the meeting opened at 6.30 with a dinner in the Paisley House, during which music was rendered by the Charlie Walters' Orchestra.

Following the reading of the minutes of the previous meetings, the President, Mr. J. W. Robinson, called for reports from the chairmen of the different committees. These reports covered activities during the summer months and suggestions regarding future advancements. A recommendation of the Mercantile Committee to have the merchants of Napanee observe Twin Dollar Days in the near future was adopted, and the matter of detail left in the hands of that committee. A recommendation from the same committee that the streets of the business section of Napanee again be decorated this year at Christmas time, as they were last year, was unanimously adopted. Mr. W. H. Milling, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, reported that he was aware of an abundance of poultry in the country this year, and that his committee would make early arrangements for Poultry Days, which will likely be held, as usual, towards the end of November.

A very interesting feature of this meeting was the presentation by Dr. C. M. Stratton and Mr. J. Laughland. Dr. Stratton presented a cup, which he had donated, to Messrs. P. Merritt, Leslie Merritt and Lewis Lloyd, winners for their Township in the competition of stock judging held at the Lennox Fair this Fall. Mr. Laughland presented individual medals to Percy Merritt for taking first place at this Fair as a judge of dairy cattle, to Leslie Merritt for being an expert as a judge of horses, and to Lewis Lloyd for being best in judging swine. Dan. Shaughnessy was first as a judge of beef cattle, in fact he obtained the highest individual marks of any boy in the contest, and Harold Lloyd was considered best as a judge of sheep.

Following the presentation, Mr. J. W. Robinson introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. A. F. Hanssuld, a representative of the Rose-Miller Biscuit Company, which recently located in Napanee. Mr. Hanssuld gave a very interesting and instructive talk, taking as his subject, "Prince Edward Island as an Industry." The speaker, in describing Prince Edward Island, compared the maximum and minimum temperatures and rainfall with those prevailing in Ontario, and showed that these averaged about the same. The soil on Prince Edward Island consists of a very large percentage of iron, which gives it a red coloration and also produces extremely vivid green in vegetation. The population of the Island is 90,000 and has grown from 145,000 to about 88,000 in the last three decades. The chief industries are potatoes and fishing. From this Mr. Hanssuld went on to particularly discuss the fox farming industry on the Island. Many ranches of the whole Dominion are located in Prince Edward Island. The talk was much appreciated, as was evidenced by the hearty vote of thanks which was tendered to him, following which the meeting adjourned with "God Save the King."

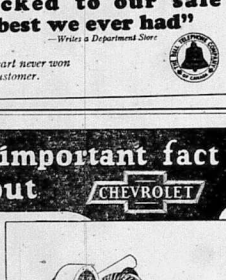
An important fact about CHEVROLET



A STURDY Banjo-Type Rear Axle is one of the many big car features to be found on the New Chevrolet—it is a husky axle that will handle all the famous power of the Chevrolet motor. Hills—mud—sand—every difficult road condition yields to the unfailing power transmitted through this rear axle.

TOWN COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday night.

Those present were Reeve Graham, Councillors Dunbar, Howitt, Jewell, MacGregor and Roy.

Mayor Ming presided.

Mr. T. Butcher complained by letter of his premises being flooded with water at different periods from the Harshaw property and from the street, causing damage to his garden crop. A motion was made that some action be taken.

The matter of the McGuire watercourse on the Newburgh Road, was referred to the Street Committee with power to act.

Coun. Jewell, Chairman Town Property, reported on the proposed heating of the biscuit factory. A system of hot air heating would cost $600.00; hot water (which Ross & Miller say they require) would cost $2000.00.

Moved by Coun. Jewell, seconded by Coun. Roy, that Ross & Miller be granted $750.00, and that they install any system of heating that in their opinion is the most satisfactory. Any cost in excess of the above amount to be borne by the company. Carried.

Mr. T. B. German interviewed the Council in behalf of a gentleman from Picton who desires to locate in Napanee and open a general store. Mr. German wanted to know what was the minimum tax the Council imposed on a non-resident starting a business in Napanee.

Women's Handicaps

Headaches and Backaches Often Make Life Miserable

A woman's health handicaps her almost always. She has pains and disabilities which do not afflict men. Nature does not give her a fair chance. Her blood is more often thin and poor than a man's, and she often neglects the first beginnings of ill-health. Many women who seemed destined to a life of frequent suffering have been freed entirely from their suffering through the wonderful blood-making qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Many a woman toils all day with a pain in her back and side, a burning headache, and a sense of having no spine left.

What a pity women will not listen to their friends whom Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved from their misery. Whenever a woman suffers they will help her—in youth, middle-age and afterlife. Mrs. John Mitchell, of Middleville, Ont., gives her experience for the benefit of other women sufferers. She says:—"Some years ago I was so badly run down I could hardly walk around the house. I tried to do a few chores but was able to do very little. My boys and husband had to do the rest. If I started up stairs I had to go very slow or I would fall, and I was just played out when I got at the top of the stairs. My head ached terribly, and my heart would beat violently. In this deplorable condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I had finished six boxes I felt much better. Then I got a further supply, and by the time I had taken these I could walk anywhere without being exhausted, the headaches had disappeared and I am now perfectly well. Any woman who is run-down should not hesitate to begin Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once, as I am sure from my own experience they will build her up."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROSPERITY FOR CANADA

The policy on which the Conservative Party is appealing to the country is a constructive policy in its every particular. Its application will bear directly and at once on the vital points of the nation's economic establishment. There is nothing speculative or experimental about it. The manner in which it will reset on conditions now obtaining may be readily visualized.

The development, progress and prosperity of Canada depends on our being to the greatest extent possible a producing and selling nation, instead of a nation consuming the production of other nations. Production and prosperity, in relation to the future of Canada, are synonymous terms. We are equipped with all the basic essentials for becoming a great producing nation; all that is necessary is that we avail ourselves of them. All the sources of wealth and more than make the United States the wealthiest nation on earth we possess. We have only to employ them to our advantage.

Look at our natural resources. What are we doing with them? We are turning them over to other countries for their enrichment. Our forests are a heritage in themselves but we are not drawing the dividends. Of the wood we export 64 per cent is sold in the raw and only 36 per cent manufactured or partly manufactured by Canadian labor in this country. We import wood—13 per cent of it raw, and the rest finished. Others are prospering on our consumption of our non-ferrous metals. We send out 77½ per cent in the raw, finishing or partly finishing only 22½ per cent. Of what we import 73 per cent is finished. The profit on the manufacture of our own resources is going to people in other lands—providing dividends on their capital, wages for their workers, building up their towns and cities, increasing their population, enlarging markets for their farmers and all other producers, giving traffic to their railways. It is helping to make another country great and wealthy and content.

Note what we are losing in the matter of pulpwood alone. Of our exports of this product a third goes out in the raw, a third as pulp, and the remaining third as paper. For the pulp we get $9,000,000 and for the paper $60,000,000. That is, we are allowing the people of other countries to make $90,000,000 on the pulp we export alone. Why do we not make that $90,000,000 ourselves—pay wages out of it, provide increased markets for our farmers, business for our merchants, traffic for our railways?

Canada possesses between eighty and eighty-five per cent of the asbestos supply of the world. We sell it almost wholly in the raw and receive seven or eight million dollars for it. It is manufactured in the United States and sold for seventy-five million. We are doing the same thing with our nickel. We receive as much for the thirty per cent of our nickel exports in manufactured form as we do for the seventy per cent that goes out in the raw.

And we have more than the raw materials, from our exports of which other people are making profits. We have a tremendous advantage in regard to their manufacture in our power resources. We have the facilities for manufacturing them economically.

The manufacture of Canada's raw materials in Canada means more work and more wages for own people, employment for newcomers, larger consuming markets for our farmers, increased trade for our merchants and all others who supply the needs of a prosperous people. It means traffic for our railways from which they will pay their fixed charges and dividends. It means a distribution of the burden of taxation over a larger population. Work and wages and the profits of industry will keep our own people in Canada and bring immigration.

The Canada-First protective policy of the Conservative Party is not alone a policy of tariff protection against imports. It proposes the conservation for Canadian development of our essential and irreplaceable resources in material and power. That part of the policy was prominently set forth in the resolution embodying the Conservative policy moved in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen on June 2nd last. Speaking on that phase of the policy Mr. Meighen declared: "I want to say that the time has come in Canada * * * it is brought home to us by an experience very, very bitter * * * that we must assert every advantage that we possess, and we must assert it in absolute fearlessness of retaliation or anything else."

By its tariff protection policy the Conservative Party means to give to home production similar advantage in the home market of Canada to that which the United States and other countries find it profitable to give in their domestic markets to their own production. It proposes that when other countries are maintaining tariff barriers against our products we should not further discourage our producers by altering the position of these other countries to rob them of the Canarian market. In that part of the protective policy as in the other the principle is that of the encouragement of production.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians have gone to the United States because the United States is steadily increasing its production and thereby advancing its prosperity—making it easier to live, making life more comfortable. Millions in other countries are trying to get into the United States because of conditions there. They would come here if we had similar conditions. The policy of the Conservative Party is designed to create such conditions. A United States magazine boasted the other day of the better conditions obtaining in that country than in others. It attributed these conditions to production, and properly. Here, in part, is its boast:

"American is a land of high wages and large production. * * * The large production of the United States makes large wages because there is large buying. The wage earner buys an automobile, a radio set, a phonograph. He spends.

"All America spends. A French peasant saves. He is the great example of thrift. His life is one of hard toil, soup, and an occasional fowl in the pot. Prosperity remains in families for hundreds of years. Life does not change or broaden.

"The American spends. His whole life is geared up to spending. Foreign markets are important, but the American spender makes the great domestic market for American industry. Americans are living by taking in each other's washing. It is not so bad a way. It is a conversion of work into things desired in life."

The means of prosperity and wealth and comfort are in our hands. We have only to avail ourselves of them. If we do our people will never look with envy on those of other lands.

Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N. S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonal."—Mrs. William Morse, Bloomington, Annapolis County, N. S.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes." This means that 96 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Mrs. Morse is simply another case of a woman receiving "great benefit." Women suffering from the troubles so common to their sex should listen to what other women say who have experienced the same sufferings and found relief. Give this dependable medicine a chance—and at once. It is sold at all drug stores. C

Two boys were selling lemonade for the same stand. In front of one bowl was a sign: "Five cents a glass". In front of a second bowl was a sign: "Two cents a glass". An old gentlemen stopped, looked at the signs, and bought a glass of lemonade at two cents. He smacked his lips and ordered another.

When he had finished he asked: "How do you expect to sell any lemonade at five cents when you offer such a good drink at two cents?"

"Well, mister, it's this way," said one of the boys: "The cat fell in that two-cent bowl about fifteen minutes ago, so we thought we'd better sell it out fast before the news spread too far."

Love Is Blind

A pretty London girl was spending the summer in a country village. The local postmaster was afraid she might damage the heart of his youthful postman, so he spoke seriously to the young miss.

"Now, Jones, don't take that summer boarder too seriously."

"I won't."

"She may mean no harm," continued the postmaster, "but she's a bit of a flirt. I know for a fact that she has love and kisses sent to her from three city fellows."

"That's all right," said the postman. "All I do is to deliver 'em."

The morning session opened with the President, Mrs. Richmond, in the chair. Rev. Mr. Stainton had charge of the opening Devotional Exercises. Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were then read and approved. The electing of a Press Reporter was the next item of business. Mrs. A. Earl Perry, of Wilton, being elected for same.

The re-arranging of Convention was next, and after a lengthy discussion, it was decided for the benefit of the Convention next year to call it "The Ladies' Aid Convention of Lennox and Addington", with an invitation extended to two charges outside our county, viz., Arden and Mountain Grove.

The reports of Ladies' Aids were then given, twenty-two Aids reporting. These reports were very interesting. These societies are doing an excellent work in their local communities. Special notice was taken of the large representations from Tamworth, Arden, Yarker and Wilton.

An excellent paper was then given by Miss L. Gandier, of Newburgh, on "Christian Stewardship", which was an inspiration to all present. Miss Gandier said this was a tremendous subject, and she could barely make a beginning in the 25 minutes allotted to her. She said a steward is one who has something to superintend for another, so Christian Stewardship is something we superintend for Christ. She also said we are so apt to take life for granted and that we are not only responsible for what our life is but what it might be. All have not the same natural talent, but they can use the power they possess. "Lay up for yourselves treasure in Heaven". Do we appreciate Christ's plan of saving money? God warns us that the day is coming when every man shall be tried. We are trading with the Lord's money. "Freely ye have received freely give." It is not the money God wants but the state of mind of the giver. The rule of systematic giving enables the poor to give much. Miss Gandier thinks tithes should be our minimum, "Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of their increase, and so shall thy barns be filled." The church needs one more revival, the revival of Christian Stewardship. If we will only work and pray Christ will open the windows of Heaven, and we will hear "Well done good and faithful servants, enter into the joys of thy Lord."

A few well chosen words of welcome was then given by Mrs. Philpen on behalf of the Adolphustown ladies.

The committees were then appointed and the delegates and visitors then adjourned to the church basement for the sumptuous chicken dinner provided by the Adolphustown ladies.

The afternoon session was opened by singing Hymn 120.

The Devotional Exercises were led by Rev. Mr. Tanton, of Napanee. The Scripture reading being 1st Corinthians, 12th chapter. This was followed by the round table discussion, which was very ably led by Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, of Newburgh.

There were very many helpful suggestions. Mrs. Anderson says, "We should organize a Ladies' Aid and have every woman a member. Some of the obligations of members are regularity in attendance, willingness to do our part and willingness to accept the views of others. The ladies decided that the Ladies' Aid Society and W. M. S. do not conflict in the least in our churches, but both are very necessary. Mrs. Anderson spoke of the good fellowship of the Aid, which makes it a powerful social factor. There is a social thirst and hunger as surely as a physical which if satisfied is creative of a personality larger and more wholesome. Many have enlisted in Church service as a result of interest in the Aid. Not every one has extensive social privileges, but the Ladies' Aid can help banish the cheap and harmful gossip. One of the duties of a Christian is to make Christ known, and make Him real in our own lives.

A solo was then given by Mrs. Stainton, which was enjoyed by all.

Rev. A. J. Wilson, of St. Andrew's Church, Napanee, then gave a very uplifting address, the thoughts being centered on the portion of Scripture read by Rev. Mr. Tanton. He gave a challenge to the Ladies' Aid Societies to help in every way possible, in the organization of the United Church, so that perfect harmony and greater work toward extending the Kingdom might be realized. We had need of the influences and powers that another church could bring, each of these churches which are uniting are bringing their own special contributions out of the ages. Let us not be deceived in thinking the union movement an attempt to save men and women, nay, rather we have accepted a much deeper responsibility, and on our missionary fields the "sun never sets". He again challenged the women to rally to the support of the work as a whole, and see that every last man and woman is in the church work and our needs will ultimately be met.

Hymn 334, "I Love to Tell the Story", was then sung, after which the offering was taken, which amounted to $17.17.

The Resolution Committee brought in the following resolutions:

1. That a letter of appreciation be sent to Rev. S. F. Dixon, Rednersville, original organizer of the Ladies' Aid Convention.

2. That a vote of thanks be extended to the ladies of Adolphustown for their hospitality.

3. That a vote of thanks be tendered the retiring President.

4. That we accept Yarker's invitation for the Convention next year and would recommend that it be held earlier in the season.

The report of the Nominating Committee was then given, the following officers being nominated for the coming year:—

Hon. Pres.—Rev. A. J. Wilson, Napanee.

Pres.—Mrs. G. Ruttan, Dorland.

1st Vice—Mrs. Smith Gilmour, Tamworth.

2nd Vice—Mrs. Addison Miller, Arden.

Secty.—Mrs. D. Smith, Yarker.

Treas.—Mrs. Alpine Woods, Napanee.

Executive—Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Enterprise; Mrs. G. Clark, Morven; Mrs. Joe Kellar, Bath.

The Convention was then dismissed by Rev. Mr. Merrick, of Morven.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 30th, 1925, a number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Walsh, Bethany, and presented them with a well filled purse, before their departure for Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Walsh, in a few well chosen words, thanked their friends, and invited them to come and see them.

Following is the address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Walsh,—We have met here to-night to spend one more social evening with you before your departure from our midst. It is with much regret that we have learned of you leaving us. During your short stay with us we have found you to be true neighbours, ever ready to lend a helping hand when need should arise. We shall miss you, and as a token of respect and esteem we shall ask you to accept this purse, not for its intrinsic value alone but that it may remind you occasionally of your friends here. Be assured that you will always have a warm place in our hearts.

May Heaven's richest blessings attend you and yours in your new home.

Signed on behalf of Bethany friends.

IN MEMORIAM

"Blessed, in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints", are sacred words, with a peculiar meaning and fitness, in relation to the happy and peaceful home going of the subject of this memoir. Elizabeth Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Tom, was born in the Village of Welcome on the 20th day of March, 1861. She removed with her parents to Exeter when she was still a child, was soundly converted to God in her early teens, and became a member of James Street Methodist, to which she belonged, and in which she served faithfully for a number of years.

On the 29th day of July, in the year 1885, she was united in marriage to Rev. J. Wesley Dawn, a member of the Bay of Quinte Conference, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. W. S. Pascoe, D.D., who still survives, and is in his 93rd year. For forty eventful years she lived and loved, she cared and served for others, on thirteen different charges, beginning at Cloyne and ending at Tyrone.

On the 10th day of August, 1924, she underwent a major operation in Bowmanville General Hospital, at which time the Specialist, Dr. Roscoe R. Graham, of Toronto, pronounced her case hopeless. For thirteen testing months she lingered and slowly faded away, like a lovely flower smitten by some untimely blast. Our sainted sister was a true and devoted wife, a loving and faithful mother, a sincere and noble friend, a zealous and active Christian, and above all a brave and patient sufferer.

On the 9th day of September, 1925, right in the midst of the golden autumn, when the ripe fruit was being gathered in, the universal reaper came and her emancipated spirit, like a ripe sheck of corn, was garnered for the Lord. The funeral took place on Friday, Sept. 11th, a memorial service being held in Tyrone United Church, conducted by Rev. J. W. Robins, Chairman of the Cobourg Presbytery, assisted by four of the ministers, eighteen of whom were present. This impressive service was very largely attended by kind and sympathetic friends from far and near. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, expressing love and sympathy in a language more potent than words. The interment took place at "Riverview cemetery", Napanee, and was in charge of Rev. A. J. Terrill, Chairman of the Napanee District, assisted by two of the ministers, nine of whom were present. A large number of old and true friends from Napanee, Bay Bay, Selby and Yarker, where the deceased had lived and labored in other days, were present to show their respect for the memory of their translated friend. She leaves to mourn her loss a sorrowing husband and five children, Mrs. (Rev.) Andrew McLauchlin, of Kent; Arthur W., of Ottawa; Mrs. Howard Holland, of Enterprise; Miss Florence A. and Theodore R., at home. There are also surviving two sisters and one brother, Mrs. W. D. Yeo, of Exeter; Mrs. (Dr.) Bowerman, of Menomonis, Wis., U.S.A., and J. C. Tom, of Lethbridge, Alberta.

THE FARMER'S HOME MARKET

PROBABLY no part of the business of farming is less understood and less appreciated than the value of the home market to the average Canadian farmer of to-day.

First and foremost, given a Government that is sympathetic with you, the home market is one that you can absolutely control, at all times, at least against the foreign farmer who would invade it. On the other hand, the foreign market is one that you may be legislated out of at any moment by the vote of a foreign government that has decided that it wants to give its own farmers an advantage over you!

Next, the market that is best worth cultivating is always the market that absorbs the largest part of your production. The fellow who year after year buys more than half your crop is worth more to you than the fellow who only buys 25% of it. That's fundamental! There's no getting away from it!

From the figures below we prove absolutely that the home market absorbs at the very least 63½% of the produce—not of the Ontario farmer—but of the average Canadian farmer, including the wheat farmer of the West. If we were to leave the Western wheat farmer out of it, it could be proved that over 80% of what the Ontario farmer produces is consumed by this home market.

The reason some people have an exaggerated idea of the importance of the export market for farm produce is that they have looked at it solely from the standpoint of wheat! It is true that we export in one form or another about 75 per cent of our entire wheat crop. But the wheat crop, important and all as it is, represents only about one-fourth of our total annual agricultural production, and it is only when we take into account what becomes of the other three-fourths that we can arrive at a true estimate of the value of the home market to the average Canadian farmer!

Here is our calculation. Check up our figures from the Canada Year Book, the official statistical publication issued by the Government. Subject our deductions to the most searching investigation and you will find that if we have erred at all, we have under-estimated, rather than over-estimated the importance of the farmer's home market.

TOTAL EXPORTS, FISCAL YEAR 1924, OF

Agricultural and Vegetable Products. including fresh dried and preserved fruits, grains, flour and milled products, bakery products and prepared foods, vegetable oils, tobacco, fresh and prepared vegetables, maple syrup, maple sugar and miscellaneous, but excluding sugar (other than maple), molasses and confectionery as products not of Canadian agricultural origin; also excluding alcoholic beverages whose export value is out of all relation to the value of the agricultural products used in their production.	$394,407,246
Animals and Animal Products. including live animals, hides and skins, leather, fresh meats, cured and canned meats, milk and its products, oils, fats, greases, eggs, honey and miscellaneous, but excluding fish oils, seal and whale oils, and furs other than black and silver fox skins, as products not of agricultural origin.	91,939,305
Fibres, Textiles and Textile Products. including all wool and woolens, also flax, jute and hemp products, but excluding binder twine, manufacturers of cotton and silk, manufacturers of mixed textiles, and certain kinds of wearing apparel, as products not of Canadian agricultural origin.	2,747,573
Grand total exports, all kinds of farm produce	$489,094,124

Now the gross agricultural revenue of Canada for crop year 1923 is given as $1,342,132,000. Deducting the grand total exports, as above of $489,094,124, leaves a balance of $853,037,876 to represent what must have been consumed by the home market. In other words, the export market took only 36½% of our farm production. The balance, 63½%, was consumed in Canada!

TWO THIRDS OF WHAT THE CANADIAN FARMER RAISES, HE SELLS IN CANADA

Export Prices that Fail to Govern Home Prices.

In attempts to belittle the home market, the argument has been used over and over again that the prices obtainable in the export market always govern the prices obtainable in the domestic market.

Statements of that kind constitute one of the meanest forms of dishonesty. It is probably true that, in the absence of an effective wheat pool, the Liverpool price pretty nearly fixes the domestic price of wheat. But the Liverpool price of hay, or of potatoes, is almost negligible in its effect upon the local prices obtainable for those commodities in Canada. And the reason for the difference is that wheat, besides being a commodity that can be stored indefinitely, has been provided with terminal facilities that enable it to be handled at a minimum of expense, and is carried at the lowest of all freight rates, whereas transportation costs on hay and potatoes substantially protect the producer against surpluses only a hundred miles away!

Hay and Potatoes for Instance.

In 1923, for instance, farmers in Norfolk County received an average of only 81⅓ cents a bushel for their potatoes, while farmers in Welland County, less than fifty miles away, received $1.00 for theirs. In that same year farmers in Perth County received an average of only $9.28 a ton for their hay, while farmers in the adjoining County of Middlesex received $11.05 for theirs.

Discount these illustrations as much as you like on the ground that differences of quality had something to do with the differences in price, yet do they not serve to shake your faith in the man who would have you believe that Liverpool prices always govern domestic prices? Did Thunder Bay farmers, for instance, get $19.64 for their hay in 1923 because it was of such superior quality, or did they get it because of the high cost of bringing $8.98 hay from Huron County, or $10.11 hay from Lambton County? If Liverpool prices governed hay in the way and for the same reasons that they do wheat, Ontario farmers would have to pay shippers a premium to take their hay away!

Belittlers of the home market assert that a tariff on farm products is of no benefit to our farmers. Is the United States tariff on farm products of no benefit to United States farmers? Is it no detriment to Canadian farmers? If a foreign tariff is a detriment to Canadian farmers, why should not a Canadian tariff be a detriment to foreign farmers and consequently a benefit to our own?

What a New Industry, in your Market Town, Means to You!

It increases the prosperity of the town, gives work to the unemployed, adds to the population, gets the empty houses rented and starts the building of new ones. The town immediately has more money to spend on the butter and eggs, the vegetables, fruit, milk and grain your farm produces.

The foreign market is admittedly an important market, but after all what does it consist of? Isn't it made up entirely of town and city dwellers—wage-earners—who cannot obtain from their own farmers as much food as they require so they must buy from you? Is the city dweller an asset to the Canadian farmer only when he happens to dwell in a foreign city? If we persuaded him, by the offer of a better job than he now has, to come and live in Canada, would he not be a bigger asset to our farmer than he is at present?

Those who scoff at the home market would encourage these dwellers in a foreign city to stay where they are, thus leaving our farmers in the position where they must take a chance on shipping their products long distances, and then selling them in competition with other producers from all over the world! Isn't the plan of those who would build up the home market a vastly better one?

A higher tariff will give more workers good jobs in this country. Canadian workmen with good jobs are the best customers the Canadian Farmer will ever have.

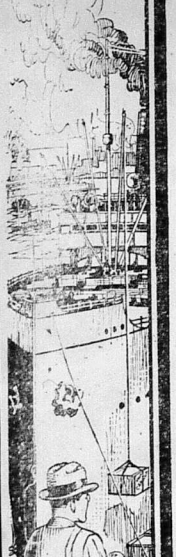
Quality

The most urgent requirement in Canada's Agricultural Products

CANADA produces every year large quantities of wheat, oats, barley, butter, cheese, bacon, beef, eggs, apples, potatoes, grass seed and clover seed that she cannot consume. Her natural outlet for these products is, of course, Great Britain—the one great consuming country of the world with an open market.

Unfortunately, nearly every other country with any surplus of food products seems to want to send its surplus to this same market.

The keenness of the competition on this, our only market, and the energy and resourcefulness of our competitors began to impress themselves upon the Department of Agriculture some time ago, but it is only within very recent years that the real and only way to grapple with this problem has been discovered, or at least put into effect. This Department now believes, as do also most of the farmers of this country, that the "grading" of our agricultural products is the policy and practice that is seeing us through the struggle and will assure us of our rightful place on the British market.



"Grading" means the classifying of products, whether they be hogs, butter, cheese, eggs or anything else, into what might be called in a general way "BEST", "GOOD", "FAIR" and "POOR" classes.

These exact words are not used in describing the grades, but that is what is meant. The purpose served in grading is threefold—

(1) Instructional. When the producer sees the relative quality of his product he is spurred on to maintain that quality if it is the "best" or to improve the quality where necessary.

(2) Fair Play. When products are not graded the inferior article for various reasons often brings as much as the superior article, and the credit and advantage of putting the superior product on the market is lost to the one who really deserves it.

(3) Facilitating Trade. The dealer learns to have confidence in the article he is buying and buys more freely, because it is guaranteed by grading, and gradually everybody gets to know what the "best" article really looks like or tastes like. In short, grading brings about standardization and ensures to the producer the best price.

Canada now grades her cereals, grass seeds, hay, potatoes, apples, eggs, butter, cheese, wool and bacon hogs. The results have been in every case beneficial and in some cases quite markedly so, even though the grading system has been in effect in some cases for only two or three years, thus:—

Cheese—Grading began April 1st, 1923. Canadian cheese the year before had fallen into such disfavour on the British market that New Zealand cheese was quite commonly preferred. Today Canadian cheese commands cents per pound higher than New Zealand.

Butter—Grading began same time as for cheese. The reputation of our butter was then indeed at low ebb. Canadian butter today, while not the best on the market, is rapidly improving in quality and gaining in reputation.

Hogs—Over two years ago the Department of Agriculture began to grade live hogs at the packing houses and stock yards. The 16% premium paid by the packers for "select" bacon hogs as against "thick smooths"as classed by departmental graders has done wonders to improve the quality of our hogs and develop the bacon market.

Best Canadian bacon, which ordinarily was quoted two years ago from 10 to 18 shillings a long hundredweight below Danish, has gradually grown in the estimation of the British wholesale buyer until it is now quoted at only from 1 or less to at most 5 or 6 shillings per long hundredweight below the best Danish.

This improvement in price is, of course, due to quality and has come about very gradually, the spread narrowing down by a shilling or two a month until now it is not at all a rare occurrence to see best Canadian selling on a par with the Danish article.

Eggs—Canada was the first country to grade and standardize eggs. These grades and standards apply not only to export, interprovincial and import shipments, but also to domestic trading.

Standardizing Canadian eggs has established confidence between producer and consumer and between exporter and British importer, and has resulted in a greatly-increased demand for the Canadian egg both at home and abroad.

Other products might be mentioned where grading has worked to the great advantage of the producer and to the advancement of Canadian agriculture.

Already Great Britain recognizes our store cattle, wheat, cheese, eggs, apples and oats as the best she can buy.

It is for us to so improve our other products, particularly our butter and bacon, as to bring them also into this list of "the best on the British market" and consequently the highest priced.

Grading enabled us to do this for cheese, wheat, eggs and apples.

Grading is helping us to do it for butter and bacon.

Quality Counts

Quality is thus the first objective for the Canadian export trade, and, then steady, regular supply. It is along these lines the Department of Agriculture is working by educational methods, and the result of this policy is seen in the growing volume of Canada's agricultural exports. Look at these figures:—

MOUNTAIN GROVE

It was with the deepest regret that the people of Mountain Grove heard of the passing of Mrs. Wm. Coulter, of Napanee. Before going to Napanee to reside Mr. and Mrs. Coulter were residents of this community for many years, and were very much respected and loved by all with whom they came in contact. Both were very earnest loyal helpers in the Methodist (now United Church) in this village, and we realized what a loss to our community was the help of this loyal couple when they moved away. On Sunday morning, at the church services, a resolution was passed by the Pastor and congregation conveying the deepest sympathies to Mr. Coulter and family who are left to mourn the loss of a faithful companion and a kind and loving mother. A large number of friends and neighbours of this place motored to Napanee on Sunday to attend the funeral.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Wednesday evening of last week a number of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell to bid them farewell and good luck prior to their removal to Napanee. After a pleasant social evening together, the following address and presentation was made:—

Mrs. John Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell.

Dear Friends,—We have gathered at your home to-night to try to express our high regard for you as friends and neighbours, and our appreciation of your worth in our community. Having lived so many years old homestead, you have made for yourselves many friends, all of whom sincerely regret your departure from amongst us.

Not only in our social intercourse as neighbours and friends shall we miss you, but more especially in the various activities of Empey Hill church. The hospitality of your home has ever been extended to the different pastors of this circuit to a marked degree, and your sympathies and co-operation have been given them in their efforts.

Mrs. Russell, through all the years, with their cares, ill-health and sorrows, you were always in your accustomed place for Sunday worship, when circumstances permitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, we are indebted to you for your generosity of service, particularly as capable and willing workers in our Sunday School, of which Mr. Russell is at present the Superintendent.

We feel confident that, with whatever church you next become identified, you will continue to interest yourselves in the various organizations, and will make your influence felt for good in your new surroundings. We are glad that you are not going far away, and we hope to see you frequently.

As a remembrance from your friends here, and as a token of our appreciation, please accept this chair, Mrs. Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell this electric lamp.

May your lives long be spared, and may life continue to open up for you fuller spheres of usefulness, that the lives of all may be enriched who come within the circle of your influence.

On behalf of Empey Hill community.

SPORTS OF THE GIRLS OF THE COLLEGIATE

Napanee vs. Deseronto.

Napanee girls played their first game of basketball in Deseronto on Friday, Oct. 2nd, at Deseronto's Field Day. Napanee girls realized that Deseronto had a strong team and Napanee played hard. The score at the end of the game was 15-13 in favor of Napanee. Mr. Murray and Mr. Perry refereed the game.

The girls also played a softball game, but Napanee girls were outclassed, and the score was 35 to 1, in Deseronto's favor.

After the games the Deseronto girls served lunch in Fraser's parlour after which there was an hour's dancing in the Assembly Hall.

Trenton vs. Napanee.

The first league game of the season was played in Trenton on Saturday afternoon, October 3rd. Napanee was faced this year with the task of developing new material for the teams. They were also handicapped by the fact that the gymnasium was not completed and the outside court was in bad condition owing to building operations. Both of Trenton's teams were taller than Napanee's, but our girls put up a big fight. The Senior score at the end of the first ten minute period was 12 to 6, in Trenton's favor. It was not until the last ten minute period that the Napanee girls began to pick up, but it was too late, and the game ended in a score of 24 to 22 in Trenton's favor. This was the first Senior game that the Napanee girls have lost from Trenton in a number of years.

We were not at all confident of the Junior team, as it was almost entirely new material this season. The forwards were short girls and only one had had any practice beforehand. The Junior girls played a wonderful game and the score was 12 to 4 in Napanee's favor at the end of the first ten minute period. The next score was 20 to 18, in Napanee's favor. Trenton Juniors came back strong in the last period, and the game ended in a score of 26 to 31, in Trenton's favor.

Miss Chown, of Kingston, refereed the game to the satisfaction of everyone. After the game the Trenton girls served lunch to the visitors.

DESERONTO

A highly respected and well known resident of Deseronto, Mrs. Nancy Harvey, passed away on Wednesday, Sept. 30th, after a few weeks' illness at her home, Dundas Street. Her daughter and her family were most attentive to her up to the last, everything being done that could possibly be done, but her hour had come. The funeral which was largely attended, took place on Friday, October 2nd, from the house, and was conducted by the Rev. E. Radcliffe, Rector of St. Mark's, Deseronto, assisted by Rev. A. H. Greenham, of Tyendinaga. The immediate relatives present were Mrs. Nellie Harvey, Mrs. W. H. Harvey and Miss Helen Harvey, Mrs. Malcolm Oliver and Miss Vivian Oliver; also her sons, Messrs. W. H. Harvey, Robert, David, James and Fred Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marvey, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Harvey and Mrs. Thomas Maddle and sister. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Miller, Metcalfe, Argue, Bogart, McCullough and G. Clement. Beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem the late Mrs. Harvey and family are held in by the community.

"That may be true," said Melford, "but the fact is that the only reason beautiful and young Louise accepted old but wealthy Biggers was because she was so very much interested in his faint heart."

Automobile Accidents

Almost every newspaper you read has an account of one or more Auto accidents. People are killed or injured and property destroyed. In every case some person is held responsible and must pay the damages.

Many drivers say, "Oh, I am a careful driver, and I will never cause an accident". It may not be YOUR fault but it will be YOUR car and YOU will pay the damage.

Why take the risk? We can sell you a policy which indemnifies you against liability imposed by Law, defends you in every law-suit and pays all damage up to a very large amount. No inconvenience for you, no anxiety, and the cost, in most cases, is not more than $1.50 per month. Let us give you the exact cost for Policy on your Car.

JOHN HUBBS, M.P., IN A MOTOR SMASH

John Hubbs, M.P., of Picton, was injured when his Studebaker touring car smashed a telegraph pole near the east entrance of the "death trap" near Shannonville, shortly after midnight on Monday night.

Mr. Hubbs was travelling from Napanee on his way to Picton. He was alone at the time. He was taken to Belleville about 2 o'clock by a passing motorist. After making arrangements to have his car towed in, he took a taxi to Picton.

He said that at the time of the crash he was thinking about the crossing tragedy at Toronto, which took six lives. In his preoccupation he neglected to turn in time to go under the bridge.

Mr. Hubbs' car was badly damaged on the right side, from bumper to tail light. The rear right wheel was torn off.

A young couple had just been married, and on arrival from the church the bridegroom was asked to make a speech, but he declined. After a bit of coaxing he stood up, placed his hand on his wife's shoulder, and remarked. "Ladies and gentlemen, am not very good at speech-making, but this time has been forced upon me."

MR. SEXSMITH AND TEMPERANCE

The Progressive candidate, Mr. Sexsmith, is trying to drag the temperance issue into the campaign. No doubt Mr. Sexsmith is sincere in his advocacy of temperance and he has a perfect right to express his opinions on the question in his campaign addresses. But since he is claiming the support of the electors on this ground it is only fair to examine his record in Parliament. During the last four years Mr. Sexsmith has been in a position to do something for the cause he advocates. What has he done? You can search the records of the House of Commons in vain to find anything. If Mr. Sexsmith and the Progressive party are as sincere as they claim to be on this issue, they certainly have missed a great opportunity to accomplish something worth while. The Progressives really held the balance of power in the last Federal Parliament, but they never used it to advance the interests of temperance. And they had every opportunity, for one of the great difficulties in enforcing the Ontario Temperance Act has been the lack of Federal assistance and co-operation. It is a well known fact that the Province has no authority to control the manufacture or export of liquor. They could not shut down the distilleries or prevent the export trade to Cuba and Mexico, that have made a farce of effective prohibition enforcement. In the face of the protests of the Ontario Government the King Government licensed several additional distilleries and breweries and refused any co-operation or assistance in preventing the illegal export traffic that has done so much to bring the O. T. A. in disrepute in this province. This is the temperance record of the Government that Mr. Sexsmith, although elected as a Progressive, has supported.

If Mr. Sexsmith is honest in his temperance principles he did not raise his voice in the house of Commons against the licensing of new distilleries and breweries in his own native prohibition province of Ontario. This would have been the very least he could have done, and he might have gone a great deal further and advocated a Dominion wide prohibition measure. The facts are that he did nothing. In view of his record it is difficult to see upon what grounds Mr. Sexsmith can claim the support of the temperance voters of the riding. Mr. Sexsmith has not even the excuse of party ties or party policy, for he is to be independent of party and if this is the case there was no possible excuse for Mr. Sexsmith not living up to his principles.

Mr. Sexsmith can only be judged on his question period and the strength of his past record. If he failed to attempt to do anything in the last house what grounds is there for supposing that he will adopt a different policy in the future? The chances that he will have the opportunity are indeed remote.—Picton Gazette.

YARKER

The recent snow storm makes people think of getting in their supply of winter coal.—Mr. and Mrs. R. Skinner and family, of Toronto, also Mrs. Harley Deare, of Toronto, motored home on Saturday last, after visiting friends in Yarker.—Mr. Winston Holland, of S. H. S., spent the week end under the parental roof.—Mr. Hicks, of the Bank staff, is on the sick list. He is now in Picton, and Mr. Young is taking his place.—Mr. C. Campsall and Mr. J. Edmunds spoke in the Town Hall on politics. The chief speaker was Capt. O'Brien, of Ottawa, who gave a clear view of the Meighen policy, and following Dr. Edwards gave a clear view of the tariff question, to a large number of people, who cheered him loudly. Mr. R. W. And they had every opportunity, for one of the great difficulties in enforcing the Ontario Temperance Act has been the lack of Federal assistance and co-operation. It is a well known fact that the Province has no authority to control the manufacture or export of liquor. They could not shut down the distilleries or prevent the export trade to Cuba and Mexico, that have made a farce of effective prohibition enforcement. In the face of the protests of the Ontario Government the King Government licensed several additional distilleries and breweries and refused any co-operation or assistance in preventing the illegal export traffic that has done so much to bring the O. T. A. in disrepute in this province. This is the temperance record of the Government that Mr. Sexsmith, although elected as a Progressive, has supported.

If Mr. Sexsmith is honest in his temperance principles he did not raise his voice in the house of Commons against the licensing of new distilleries and breweries in his own native prohibition province of Ontario. This would have been the very least he could have done, and he might have gone a great deal further and advocated a Dominion wide prohibition measure. The facts are that he did nothing. In view of his record it is difficult to see upon what grounds Mr. Sexsmith can claim the support of the temperance voters of the riding. Mr. Sexsmith has not even the excuse of party ties or party policy, for he is to be independent of party and if this is the case there was no possible excuse for Mr. Sexsmith not living up to his principles.

Mr. Sexsmith can only be judged on his question period and the strength of his past record. If he failed to attempt to do anything in the last house what grounds is there for supposing that he will adopt a different policy in the future? The chances that he will have the opportunity are indeed remote.—Picton Gazette.

Rousing Meeting For John Hubbs

Enthusiastic Rally at Forest Mills on Monday Night

The men and women voters of the Forest Mills section turned out en masse on Monday night at the Orange Hall to hear the issues of the day discussed from a Liberal-Conservative standpoint by able, logical and convincing speakers. The mass meeting was held primarily in the interests of John Hubbs, the Conservative candidate for parliament from the Prince Edward and Lennox riding, and developed in interest and enthusiasm to the point of raising the hair as point after point was driven home with an eloquence seldom heard in this part of the riding.

Alfred McCutcheon was made the chairman by the unanimous voice of the assembly and no time was lost in presenting the speakers.

J. M. Simpson was introduced to fire the opening gun. He fired directly at the mark and made a bull's eye in replying to E. J. Sexsmith, the Progressive candidate on his sermons on Senate reform, temperance and the exodus of Canadian boys and girls to the United States. Mr. Simpson maintained that Mr. Sexsmith was orating right into the mitts of the Conservatives when he says the Canadian boys and girls are leaving the farm for the city and not finding any employment in the city they go on to the United States where they find plenty of work and money to satisfy their desires. What we wanted, Mr. Simpson said, was a government with a policy that would create home industries, that would give these thousands of boys and girls employment at home and thus build up our own country instead of a foreign country.

Mr. Hubbs followed with a complete and concise argument in favor of protection. He pointed out that in a protective tariff for farm implements, fertilizer, automobiles, woollen and knitted goods, that these industries would thrive in Canada and hold our artisans at home instead of sending them to the United States to manufacture the very same goods and sell them back to Canadians at a high price. The speaker made it very plain that if these thousands of artisans were employed at home it would mean millions of dollars to the Canadian tradesmen and farmers that now is enjoyed by the United States dealers. Mr. Simpson and Mr. Hubbs both spoke well and were listened to with rapt attention.

Mr. Hubbs also showed up the King Government in allowing eggs, cheese and butter to come into Canada free from Australia and thus compete with the Canadian products.

It remained for Major S. J. Robins of Ottawa to produce that tirade of conviction and approval in his plea for Canada for Canadians. Mr. Robins is a powerful speaker of experience in many campaigns in this country and in England. He carried his audience to the highest pinnacle of enthusiasm and approval. Major Robins said he remained to-day the same as he was during the reciprocity campaign: That it was his conviction that the vast natural resources of Canada should be developed to the finished product by Canadian labor; that the $400,000,000 a year that poured into the pockets of the United States because of the ruinous policy of the King Government should pour into the pockets of 1,500,000 Canadians, thus building up Canada for Canadians and holding the boys and girls to their native soil. The Major grew eloquent when he showed convincingly that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and the Conservative party stood for a policy that would without doubt develop all these great resources at home, thus build up Canada and create a home market for the Canadian farmer that would astonish the world. The Major addressed the audience in the whole support to John Hubbs who would be Mr. Meighen in the great work of building up Canada.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

At the meeting of Mr. Sexsmith, the Progressive, in the Parish House, Picton, I was loitering in town last Wednesday so I looked in at this meeting in the Parish House hoping, as a citizen, to get his point of view. I lingered there when at last the candidate and a pal, entered and quite by themselves, approached the platform (the only one they presented), and stood upon it. Some slight delay followed, whereupon a chairman was suggested and the chair was taken by Mr. A. P. Hyatt, who, described himself as a man of independent thought and action, a once-upon-a-time farmer and now a canning factory man. He had the courage of his convictions and announced, as a general principle that it mattered not what a man's profession or calling was, he should attach himself to some political party and there stay though his personal interests be changed. He then abruptly, introduced the Speaker, Mr. Sexsmith.

Mr. Sexsmith has a comely appearance and is not unpleasing in his address.

Mr. Sexsmith was very particular in his opening remarks, to make clear to his meagre audience that he claimed no party to which he swore allegiance. The two parties, the Liberal party and the Conservative party, were moving along similar lines and, so far as he was concerned, he attached himself to neither but proposed to cut his own swath in any direction he chose. The Progressives were not a party but rather an organization for the purpose of taking care of those parties, already in existence which were asking the electors for an opinion upon a well defined policy which each had laid before the enfranchised population of the new riding of Prince Edward-Lennox.

Mr. Sexsmith then proceeded to discuss the financial condition of the Dominion and took, as his source of information, the Budget Statement of the Finance Minister which was presented to Parliament last session. This statement was prepared under the minister's promptings and was severely criticised and torn into shreds by Sir Henry Drayton, the former Finance Minister and the present financial critic of the opposition as well as exposed to the Parliament of Canada by the Hon. Arthur Meighen on the floor of the House of Commons as the most stupendous deception ever presented Mr. Sexsmith did allude to the fact that the figures he had quoted had been questioned in the House. Mr. Sexsmith seem to have some superstition about giving both sides of any question. We shall leave that form of tactics to him and his conscience.

He then addressed himself to the Railway Problem and attributed to that vital question an insurmountable difficulty of solution accusing both parties of shortcomings on the general principle of Railway Construction.

He did not have time to mention that the Liberal Conservatives under Sir John A. Macdonald, constructed the Canadian Pacific Railway which was not now piling up deficits to the extent of hundreds of millions such as was the case with the Canadian National Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific portion of which was constructed by the Liberals, under Sir Wilfred Laurier and so extravagantly as to render the present problem unsolvable. Mr. Sexsmith, though pretending to deny party affiliation, seemed to court the votes of the Reform party which he had just removed from an active participation in this riding. It seemed to me a pity that this section of Canada should be solicited to send a man to parliament who boldly declared that he would not presume to form Government even though his Organization should be sent there in a majority. This might readily be left to the good judgment of the electors of this old riding and the temper of the meeting implied by its lack of enthusiasm, that it did not approve.

A Mr. Roebuck followed and he was a fluent talker. Very little was said as to his reason for being there but from his tone it would seem that his interests in the public questions of the day were those of a lawyer and his presentation of the questions were given in a speech which showed him to be an orator worthy of his hire. He has a great admiration for the Republic to the south of us and his American accent would be quite sufficient to elude the Immigration Agents of the United States, when he is compelled to that exodus from this country which the Progressive Government of Mr. King is so conspicuous for the present time. The meeting closed with that decorum which Picton audiences invariably exhibit. Courtesy is the dominating factor in this cultured centre and I rather regretted that Mr. Sexsmith, a stranger here, did not go out with just a slight taste of our appreciation of his efforts to beckoud us. Not a cheer, not an encouraging applause greeted his ears and that showed that the educated audience was content to allow such one sided talks to pass in silence.

I came away satisfied that John Hubbs would be our worthy representative at the next session and such was a consolation enjoyed by some Liberals who were there.

Citizen.

P.S.—Mr. Sexsmith in rather a dramatic manner brought in the Temperance question. It was quite apparent that she hoped to get the thoughtless support of those enthusiastic upon that question but the fact that John Hubbs in this contest is as ardent a temperance man, both in theory and in practice, rendered nugatory any such advantage to him. —The Picton Gazette, Thursday, October 8th, 1925.

A would-be M.P. was vainly trying to capture the interest of his audience for a whole hour. At last he made a desperate bid for it.

"What are you so-called patriots in the house", he roared, "but a lot of parry bumpers. I pledge myself to do nothing. Rather would I write across my forehead the words easily read, 'To let'".

Magistrate—I thought you said that it was a wedding—not a funeral.

OBITUARY

A. W. Abbott.

On the homestead in Tyendinaga, where Mr. Ralph Abbott now resides, the late Asa W. Abbott was born fifty-nine years ago. In his early manhood he learned the trade of harnessmaking. For a number of years he conducted a harness shop at Lonsdale. During this time in the late eighties, a great religious revival with its centre at Shannonville and radiating for out in the surrounding country, moved mightily many persons to live the Christian life, who united with the Methodist Church. The glow and fervor of this religious movement was kept burning by the visit at the several country appointments of a band of young men known as "The Saved Army". Among these Enos Farnsworth, a young convert, was the leading spirit. It was during one of these visits at Lonsdale that Mr. Abbott became soundly converted to God. To the end of his life he remained steadfast and loyal to his Lord and to his Church.

Some thirty-four years ago he married Lillian Sweet, daughter of Geo. Sweet, of Richmond. He has resided in this community ever since. To the Methodist Church at Selby he gave his loyal and devoted service. Always present at the church and Sunday School services, he greatly enjoyed the fellowship of the church.

He had the confidence of his brethern and was elected to the Official Boards and served for several years in the office of Recording Steward until, owing to ill health, he felt compelled to resign. Last spring he suffered a severe illness which was a warning of the impending end. But recovering somewhat, his friends hoped that rest would give him yet years of life. But all unexpected on Thursday, October 1st, the end came. In the morning he had been working; in the afternoon he had been down to the village at Selby. Shortly after five o'clock that afternoon "he was not, for God took him".

His funeral service was held in the United Church at Selby, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3rd. His Pastor, the Rev. Jas. Batstere, conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, who had recently been his Pastor. The Rev. Mr. Farnsworth would have been present also but could not owing to a funeral on his own charge at Carrollton. The very large gathering in the church testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew him. It was also an expression of their sympathy with his widow and daughter, Miss Florence, who survive him, and with the brothers, Mr. Ralph Abbott, of Tyendinaga; Mr. Hiram Abbott, of Selby; and two brothers, Wm. H. Abbott, of Traverse City, Mich., and George, of Flint, Mich., and one sister, Mrs. Davis, of Saginaw City. The late Mr. Abbott was unable to be at the funeral. Mr. Abbott was of a quiet, kindly disposition, true and dependable, a lover of all that was good and commanded the respect of all who knew him as a sincere Christian gentleman.

Captain Henry Saunders.

Early on Sunday morning, September 27th, 1925, Captain Henry Saunders, a respected citizen of Amherst Island, entered into rest, in his 79th year. During the past few years his strength had been failing, but until two weeks before the end came peacefully, he was able to be about his home. His father, James Saunders, came from the north of Ireland, in the early part of the last century, and was employed for some time in the navy yard at Kingston. He assisted the Naval Officer in preparing the first chart of the Bay of Quinte, and afterwards acted as pilot on the Queen Charlotte, the first steamer that sailed on the Bay of Quinte. She was built at Finkle's Point, above Bath, and launched in 1818. Pilot Saunders took her from the Carrying Place to Kingston on the creek of for some time. It was quite natural, therefore, for young Henry at the age of eighteen, to become a sailor. In 1865 he began his apprenticeship with Captain John Savage in his three-masted schooner. In due time he qualified as mate, then as captain, and afterwards held the renowned "MacGregor" and then as captain of the steamboats "Hackett" and "Accelerate". After thirty-five years of success on the water, he retired to the farm adjoining the old Saunders homestead, situated near the eastern end of Amherst Island, where he had spent his boyhood days. Here he had built a commodious dwelling house, modern barns and other buildings.

On February, 1886, he married Sarah, youngest daughter of the late Edward Allen, who proved an excellent wife and most competent helpmate in managing and carrying on the work of the farm during the Captain's absence in the summer months, until he retired twenty-five years ago. After seven or eight years of active life on his farm, he bought a pleasantly situated cottage with large garden in the village of Stella. Here he spent the remainder of his days, cultivating his flowers and vegetables or sailing his yacht on the bay. Many a cruise he took with his friends down to "The Brothers" or up to the bar off Kerr's Point, and nothing pleased him more than to give them "a good day's fishing".

Captain Saunders was above medium height, with dark complexion, intelligent expression, retiring but firm in manner, of few words but always well chosen; in short, a man of ability commanding confidence and esteem. In politics he was a consistent Reformer; in religion, an adherent of the Presbyterian Church. He took an active interest in the building and maintaining St. Paul's Church, and was a liberal contributor to the hospital and every worthy cause.

His funeral took place on Monday, the 28th, at 2 p.m., from his home to Glenwood cemetery, and was largely attended. The Rev. R. J. Craig, M.A., Clerk of Kingston Presbytery, officiated. His four nephews, A. P. Allen, A. E. Saunders, H. K. Filson, Edward and D. Caughey, all of Kilmastrick, near relatives, acted as pallbearers. He leaves one brother, William, and his widow to mourn his loss; also a large circle of friends and neighbours to cherish the memory of a good citizen and worthy man.

PHEASANTS AT YARKER

Sportsmen in the Yarker district are being treated these days to the unusual sight of convoys of pheasants flying about close to the village in enjoyment and security, and apparently thriving under the protection which is given them by the provincial game laws.

The birds are those which were liberated some time ago by Messrs. Russell Smith and James Warner, and it is expected that with continued protection, they will multiply rapidly and will take the place of the partridges which were once so plentiful in that and other districts in this section, but which are now thinned out. The idea is to induce the birds to become native to the locality, and in later years provide sport for the gamesters, in fact, to fill the place once held by the partridges.

CANADA PROMINENT AT ASTRONOMICAL UNION

Our Observatories Will Co-operate in Research Work With Other Countries

Canada's position in the realms of astronomical research is indicated by the leading part taken by the Canadian delegates at the second triennial meeting of the International Astronomical Union held at Cambridge, England, from the 14th to the 22nd of July, 1925. The Union, which was formed in 1919, is now composed of twenty-two countries; Canada has been a member since 1920. General meetings of delegates are held every third year for consultation and the arrangement of international co-operation in astronomy. In the intervals between meetings international co-operation is looked after by twenty-eight standing committees covering the various fields of astronomical research. Canada is represented at present on nine of these committees and, considering the Dominion's population, this is perhaps the largest representation enjoyed by any country.

Canada's membership in the Union is on behalf of the Government, through the Department of the Interior. The Department has also caused to be organized a Canadian National Committee of fifteen members to carry on the business of the Union as it affects Canada.

Five Canadian delegates attended the recent meeting in Cambridge. Two of these, Mr. R. Meldrum Stewart, Director of the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, and Dr. J. S. Plaskett, Director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory Victoria, British Columbia, were officially designated as Government delegates; the others were Prof. C. A. Chant, and Prof. J. C. McLennan of Toronto University and Dr. F. Henroteau of the Dominion Observatory. The total number of delegates and invited guests was nearly two hundred.

The formal business of the Union was carried on largely in the meetings of the various committees, which were, naturally, largely of a technical character. Even more useful than these formal meetings were the opportunities for discussion of common problems and for arrangements for co-operation afforded by so large a gathering of astronomers. An example of this is the informal arrangement, on the initiative of the Dominion Observatory, for the cooperation of some twelve or fifteen observatories in attacking a particular problem in connection with available stars of short period.

One of the most interesting developments was the announcement of the success of a difficult observational experiment to test the Einstein theory of relativity, which was carried through with the 100-inch telescope at the Mt. Wilson Observatory in California. One of the predictions of Einstein, that of the change in wave-length of light emitted from the star of great density, was definitely verified in the case of the close companion of the star Sirius, which on account of peculiar conditions was particularly well suited for the test. This forms the most definite proof yet adduced for the Einstein theory. Incidentally the star was found to have a density some four thousand times greater than that of iron.

It was decided that in the fall of 1925 a number of nations would cooperate to observe a girdle of longitude stations encircling the earth, in order, among other things, to provide data for an ultimate decision on Wegener's hypothesis of an extremely slow but progressive drift of the continents relative to one another. In this undertaking it is expected that the Dominion Observatory will take part; the connection of the various stations will be effected by the use of wireless telegraphy.

In the discussions on spectral classification of the stars, as well as in other committees on astrophysics, the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, which has done intensive work along these lines, took an important part.

The question of the admission of former enemy nations into the Union aroused considerable discussion and somewhat divergent views found expression. No definite decision was arrived at, but it was the consensus of opinion that the time was at hand, if not already here, for steps in that direction.

The next meeting of the Union, on the invitation of the Dutch Government, is to be held in Lieden, Holland, in 1928.

No Asthma Remedy Like It. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is distinctly different from other so-called remedies. Were this not so it would not have continued its great work of relief until known from ocean to ocean for its wonderful value. Kellogg's, the foremost and best of all asthma remedies, stands unequalled, founded on the hearts of thousands who have known its benefit.

Tenement Tenant in East London —There are so many quarrels between tenants on this particular landing that we call it "Gallipoli Heights".

Cuts and Bruises Disappear. — When suffering from cuts, scratches, bruises, sprains, sore throat or chest colds, any similar ailment, use Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil. Its healing power is well-known in every section of the community. A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil should be in every medicine chest ready for the emergencies that may always be anticipated.

Man in Surrey—He gave me two black eyes, and when I got home my wife threw a pail of water over me for not defending myself. It was a perfect day.

IT WILL RELIEVE A COLD — Colds are the commonest ailments of mankind and if neglected may lead to serious conditions. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve the bronchial passages of inflammation speedily and thoroughly and will strengthen them against subsequent attack. And as it eases the inflammation it will usually stop the cough because it allays the irritation in the throat. Try it and prove it.

Harassed Husband—"I've no objection, I'm not going to worry about the troubles of a fellow I shall never know."

Miller's Worm Powders are the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomach conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and, at the same time, they are tonical in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

Wife—Oh dear! The cook says she is going to leave, and she has been here only two days."

Husband—It's all your own fault, Maria. You never will learn how to manage servants. Why, my mother once kept a cook nearly a month.

Captain—"What is strategy in war?"

Sergeant—"Well, strategy is when you don't let the enemy discover you are out of ammunition, but keep on firing."

Nervous Passenger (to chauffeur) "Supposing you were going 50 miles an hour down hill, with a stone wall at the bottom of it, and your brakes failed, what would you do?"

PERSISTENT BEAVERS.

When the Grand Trunk railway ran the line across a swamp in a game preserve on the line of the Alberta Railroad they was a wonderfully constructed beaver dam holding the water back to flood the swamp.

This in the eyes of the game warden was pure waste, and he ordered the engineers to prevent it without harming the beavers. Of course the dam could have been blown up with dynamite, but that would have meant the death of most of the little animals and death very likely in great pain at that.

So the engineers cut an opening in the dam. The mud had become almost as hard as concrete, and it took the men three days to get the water running out steadily. Then, thinking their troubles with the industrious little fellows over, they started work on the railway through the swamp.

Soon the water began to rise, and the work was stopped in a few hours. The engineers made all haste to the dam and found the animals had repaired the cut and made it tight again.

A fresh cut was made, but after the men had gone the beavers busied themselves and made it stronger than ever. Work was again stopped on the railroad within a few hours.

Then a deep hole was made in the earth far under the dam. The beavers were much puzzled. Never before had they seen water go down into the ground and come up far away. But they lost their whole attention to the problem, and the work on the railroad was again stopped as a consequence and the foundations soaked with water.

Then followed an engagement of wits between the beavers and the engineers. But every time the men found a way to cut the dam in a new place the beavers found a way to stop it.

The road was finally constructed by working a few hours at a time, and the loss to the contractors amounted to more than $5,000.—Detroit Free Press.

Nervous Depression

Why People Are Low Spirited and Depressed

Nearly all women and most men suffer at times from this of depression and low spirits. Everything seems a burden; then come periods of nervous irritability, headaches and weariness. People who suffer this way lack vitality because their blood is poor and nerves are starved in consequence.

The only way the nerves can be reached is through the blood. By enriching the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the starved nerves are supplied with just the elements they need. This is proved by the experience of Mrs. J. E. Dadson, 12th Ave., East, Vancouver, B.C., who says:—"About three years ago I became very weak and nervous. I had pains in my side and back, and also suffered from frequent pains in the back of my head and neck. I was hardly able to do anything about the house. I would wake with a start in the night and my heart would flutter so that it almost choked me. I tried much doctor's medicine but it did me no permanent good. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial. These pills proved such a beneficial change in a short time that I kept taking them until I had used a dozen boxes. By this time there was such an improvement in my condition that friends would ask me what I was taking, and of course I was only too pleased to tell them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am now feeling like a new person and am doing my own housework. We would not now be without a Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house."

You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
